Attend Regional Conference Here

Farm prices probably have passed their peak, unless 1948 crop yields fall far below average, W. T. Steele, Jr., Richmond, Va., director of Wholesale Services at Southern States Cooperative, told the local board and farm home committee members attending an annual mid-winter regional conference Monday, March 15, at the William James Hotel, Oakland.

Calling attention to the recent break in grain and livestock prices, Steele stated that no serious shortage of feed is likely before 1948 grain crops become available. Fertilizer is most critically scarce among the major farm production supplies, he said. Seeds, except for red mammoth and ladino clover, probably will be plentiful. A number of items made of steel, particularly fencing, roofing, barbed wire, nails and galvanized roofing, still are generally short.

Attending the conference were local representatives from Oakland, Terra Alta, Davis, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Accident, Friendsville and Aurora. Some members from Grantsville attended the Cumberland meeting on Tuesday.

Roy C. F. Weagly, of Hagerstown, presided at the session.

Steele, in delivering a report by his company's management to local board members for the first half of the 1947-48 fiscal year, pointed out that service volume was up 47 per cent over that of the same period last year.

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MARCH 25, 1948. NUMBER 4.

The Cross Transformed . .

Passing centuries have surrounded the cross on which Jesus died with sentiment and loveliness. We put in on the altars of our churches. We wear it as jewelry. We use its pattern to build our churches. The dead of many nations lie under white crosses. The Red Cross is a symbol for a ministry of mercy.

We are likely to forget the real nature of the Good Friday cross. Actually in ancient times the cross was a thing unspeakably shameful and degrading. "Cursed is everyone that hangeth on a tree," said St. Paul, quoting from Deuteronomy. Roman sentiment was the same. This was a death of utter ignominy reserved by Romans for slaves and criminals.

Small wonder then, that when the Apostles went out to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ they ran into prejudice about the cross.

What happened to transfrom that revolting instrument of death into a blessed symbol of life? The clue is to be found in the transforming personality of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

What transformed His cross and lifted it above the ages, and made it the focus of our devotion was the superlative quality of the one who died on that particular tree on that particular day. Men found in him and in his sacrifice something so astonishingly transforming and creative, they concluded—almost reluctantly—that here was the everlasting God.

In Him, they realized, the holy Father of whom he spoke so often had reached down into human life to conquer man's stubborn pride with an overwhelming love.

That put Calvary and Good Friday in a class apart. It made all the difference in the world. It explains the transformation of the cross. Even more it explains the transformation of men and women who have knelt before that cross and found life, forgiveness, and God.

Cancer Committee Plans Drive for $600

A campaign to reach a quota of $600.00 in the cancer control drive, will begin in this county on April 1, it was announced by the committee from the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club which is sponsoring the campaign here.

The drive will continue until the first of May and during that time moving pictures on the work of the American Cancer society will be shown to various organizations.

Money contributed to the cancer fund is used for research projects designed to finding a cure for the disease which takes a life every three minutes, and around 188,000 a year in the United States alone. The fund also provides a service program designed to provide a source of public information concerning cancer and facilities available for prevention and treatment of cancer.

Pamphlets on this drive indicate that cancer is curable in its early stages and that learning to recognize the danger signs is one of the best ways to prevent deaths from cancer.

Miss Nelle A. Shaffer has returned home after visiting in McKees Rocks, Pa., and Clarksburg, W. Va.

Second Artificial Breeding Curcuit Will Be Organized

The second artificial breeding circuit in Garrett county will be organized at a meeting at Grantsville the first part of April, it was announced by John H. Carter, county agricultural agent.

He said dairymen in the county were taking advantage of many of the latest improved practices in dairy, with two full time dairy herd improvement associations and one artificial breeding circuit.

The report of the five high herds in the Grantsville DHIA showed Raymond Tice the leader with average production of butterfat per cow 31.3. Sherman Beachy, Ada P. Maust, Crist Yoder and Raymond Loechel.

No Traffic Mishaps Reported in February

Garrett county had an accident free month in February, the only one in the state with such a record, according to a report of the Maryland Traffic Safety commission. There were no collisions, no deaths and no injuries, according to the records.

Fifteen counties experienced a fatality-free month. During February there were 1,308 traffic accidents in Maryland, with 10 deaths and 586 persons injured. Twenty-nine deaths were reported February of a year ago.

AS NEW STYLES WERE EXHIBITED

The school auditorium was filled with over two hundred persons for the style show and bazaar, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club.

Mrs. Graser wore a grey twill suit with red hat and purse, from Sincell's store. Mrs. Baumgartner modeled a bronze crepe print from Sincell's. Mrs. Stanton had on a gray suit with black accessories, from Rudy's Department store; Mrs. Zepp wore a grey suit, and a plaid topper, from Sincell's. Mrs. Snyder was attired in a grey sharkskin suit with black hat and green doeskin bag, from Harvey's, while Mrs. Gonder wore a brown gabardine suit with pink hat and scarf and a brown bag, also from Harvey's. Other models showed garments from the Princess Shoppe, Treacy's and the Half Price Store, showing a wide variety of styles, which many people were unaware could be obtained in Oakland.

The Women's club realized around $100 from the benefit, and those attending were of the opinion that a similar exhibit should be held this fall when the new styles appear on the market.

CHURCHES PLAN GOOD FRIDAY AND EASTER SERVICES

Other Ministers of Community To Participate in Gathering at Lutheran Church Friday, 12 to 3

"The Seven Last Words from the Cross", will again be the theme of the Good Friday Union Service to be conducted by the Protestant churches of Oakland on Good Friday, March 26, from 12 o'clock noon until 3 p. m., in the Lutheran church.

Besides the ministers of the three churches sponsoring this three-hour service, other ministers of the community and county who are assisting are Rev. Robert Johns, Accident; Rev. George H. Coker, Deep Creek; Rev. George W. Simpson, Rev. R. E. Hiller, Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will preside, Dr. Denver C. Pickens, Methodist minister, and Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, Episcopal rector, will also take part.

Appropriate musical selections will be presented by members of St. Mark's choir. Union Holy Week services were concluded last night at the Episcopal church with Rev. Hare preaching. This evening each of the congregations will meet in its own church for Holy Thursday communion services.

"The institution of The Lord's Supper" will be dramatized at the Holy Thursday service at 7:30 in the Lutheran church. Adapted especially for such an occasion, all the drama and pathos of the institution of the Lord's supper are portrayed by means of 22 slides. Natural color makes these scenes impressive. The choir will sing "Gethsemane."

St. Peter's Catholic Services

A special program has been prepared by the choir for Easter Sunday. Pietro's mass will be sung at 8 o'clock. Solos will be rendered by Mrs. Russell Brown, Jack Treacy, Francis Connolly and Maurice Treacy. The choir is under the direction of Russell H. Brown. There will also be a low mass at 10 a. m.

Rev. Fr. Thomas B. Zinkand has announced other services as follows: Thursday evening, 7:30, Holy Hour, with sermon.

Good Friday, high mass at 8:15 a. m.; stations of the cross at 7:30 p. m., with sermon on the Crucifixion

Saturday, high mass at 8:15 a. m.; confessions 4 to 6 and 7:30 to 9. There will be an assistant from Holy Cross college on Saturday. Other services will be in charge of Rev. Fr. Zinkand.

The Episcopal, Methodist and Lutheran churches are having special Easter services which are announced in the usual church column.

Named Commander of Friendsville VFW

John Devine was elected commander of Post No. 8409, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Friendsville on March 16.

Others elected include Wade Schroyer, senior vice-commander; Lawrence Selby, junior vice-commander; Albert Wayne Frazee, quartermaster; Thomas Sines, chaplain; Charles White, trustee; Dr. Milton Tepfer, surgeon; C. O. Ross, Jr., judge advocate; Howard Frantz, post adjutant.

Refreshments were served to a large group. The post is open for new members, according to Mr. Devine.

Get California Trip

The Rev. and Mrs. Felix G. Robinson, and daughter Heather, of Arthurdale, W. Va., were among twelve recently commissioned by Governor Clarence Meadows of West Virginia to visit the new home of Moral Rearmament in Los Angeles, Cal. They left Charleston, W. Va., by train March 6th, and returned March 16th, spending a day at the Grand Canyon on the return trip. They were routed in a special pullman via C. and O. and the Sante Fe Railroad. While in Los Angeles they stayed at the Club at 833 S. Flower street and were dinner guests of George Eastman and Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of Moral Rearmament.

Rev. Robinson is a son of Mrs. J. G. Robinson, of Oakland.

Chest Clinic Scheduled

The regular monthly chest clinic sponsored by the Maryland Tuberculosis association, will be held in the health department office in the Court House, Oakland, on Wednesday morning, April 14, beginning at 9 p. m.

Body of Pvt. Bernard Bachtel Among Those From Pacific

The body of Pvt. Bernard K. Bachtel, Marines, son of Mrs. Lena C. Bachtel, of Red House, is among the 35 Marylanders scheduled to arrive at San Francisco, Calif., on Sunday evening aboard the U. S. Army transport Walter W. Schwenk.

It will be several days before the body will arrive in this area, but at the time the veterans' organizations will assist in arranging military funeral rites for the family of the deceased.

LEWIS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER BY AUTOMOBILE

Leroy Swauger, 34, Avilton, Acquitted on Charge of Statutory Rape—Court Adjourns

George W. Lewis, 65, Vindex, was found guilty of manslaughter by automobile, and Leroy Swauger, 34, Avilton man, was acquitted on a charge of statutory rape in the two outstanding cases to come before the March Term of the Garrett Circuit court.

The criminal trials came to an end on Wednesday afternoon, but there are still some civil cases to be tried, according to Dwight Stover, State's Attorney.

Lewis was the driver of the automobile which plunged into the Potomac River at Bloomington last October 30, which resulted in the drowning of Leona Pearl Mayle, 17, of Deer Park. Mrs. Fern Hott, Hampshire, W. Va., also an occupant of the car and Lewis escaped injury.

Testimony brought out the fact that Lewis had been drinking. Lewis and Mrs. Hott testified that the Mayle girl had grabbed the steering wheel just before they reached the bridge across the river, causing the car to swerve and go over the embankment.

The jury, in bringing in the verdict, made a recommendation for mercy, and Judge Henderson passed a sentence of 60 days in the Garrett county jail, but sentence was suspended and the man was placed on parole for three years.

The charge against Swauger was brought by Delores Ellen McKenzie, 13, of near Avilton, daughter of Minnie Mae McKenzie. After deliberation the jury returned a "not guilty" verdict.

Five men entered pleas of guilty when they were arrainged before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Henderson on Monday.

They were Joseph B. Hughes and Robert Rizer, charged with burglary of the Dusic Wholesale Produce company; Edison Durr, accused of stealing a car; Max Liller, charged with stealing $35 from Emerson Sebold; and James Peck, charged with three false pretense cases.

Hughes and Rizer were ordered to repay $189.38 to Dusic and pay court costs and were given a suspended sentence of one year. Durr was given a two-year suspended sentence and was paroled for three years. Liller was given a three-year parole, while Peck was given a suspended sentence of a year and paroled for three years.

Other cases: Arley Michael, assault with intent to murder; case continued.

Ernest Chaney, charged with sodomy, pleaded guilty, sentenced withheld.

Harvey C. Warnick, bastardy; plea of guilty; ordered to pay $6.00 per month and $73.00 expenses.

Carl Lytle, desertion and non-support; plea of guilty; given a suspended sentence of three years in House of Correction, ordered to seek employment and to pay $50.00 a month for support of wife and children.

Edward Wisserman—false pretense; plea of guilty; ordered to pay $102 and costs of case.

Lee M. Ellifritz, charged with assault and battery in two separate indictments. Cases dismissed.

Irvin Sharpless, bastardy, plea of guilty; ordered to pay $8.00 a month until child is 16, and $60 confinement expenses.

A number of other cases, carried over from previous terms of court were either ordered continued or marked "stet" or at a standstill.

State's Attorney Stover stated that all who were placed on parole were put in charge of the state division of parole and probation.

Barns Unroofed and Destroyed; Cattle Killed in Hard Storm Friday Evening

Storm Cuts Path Through County From Selbysport to Finzel, Causing Untold Damage

A severe rain and wind storm that lasted less than 15 minutes last Friday night about 8:30 o'clock unroofed a large number of barns and houses, killed a number of cattle and caused widespread damage in a path that led from Selbysport to Finzel, in the northern end of the county.

Residents of the area said a high wind, described by several as a twister, uprooted trees, toppled telephone and electric poles, and scattered debris for a distance of 20 miles or more. No injuries to persons were reported.

The mighty wind partially destroyed the barn of Ray M. Yoder, at Keyser Ridge, shown in the photograph, and also took part of his house while moving it on its foundations enough to crack the plaster and causing permanent damage. Damage to the barn was partially covered by insurance. The cattle were not injured.

Garage Windows Broken

The windstorm completely destroyed a balloon barn at Finzel containing nine tons of hay and a large quantity of oats and dairy feed. One valuable horse and three Guernsey cows also perished.

Clarence M. Fazenbaker, owner, estimated damages at around $11,000. Two horses, 11 head of cattle, three calves and four hogs were in the barn when the barn was leveled. One cow gave birth to a calf after the building collapsed. The mother cow died later from injuries. The calf was uninjured.

Barns Down at Selbysport

At least two barns were competely ruined in the Selbysport section while some cattle were lost.

Alvin Lytle's barn and that of Donald Frazee were completely ruined. Some cattle in the latter were killed. The barn of Bruce Frantz was damaged. A number of houses were also damaged in that area, on both sides of the river, according to residents from that section.

Throughout the week there has been a variety of weather with a high reading of 73 degrees, and thunder and lightning on both Monday and Tuesday evenings. A total of 1.82 inches of rain was recorded on one of those evenings with more than 2 inches reported for this week.

Purchase of Corner Lot For Library Site Is Announced

Purchase of the corner lot, Second and Center streets, as the site for the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett county, was announced this week by F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the County Board of Library Trustees. The price was $10,000.

An option on the property was taken several weeks ago when E. E. Enlow, of Sebastopol, Calif., who already had contributed $10,000 for the erection of the library as a memorial to his daughter, on the adjoining property site, declared he would add $15,000 more to his total if arrangements could be made to acquire the corner lot.

The deed was made out last Friday to the Board of Library Trustees and the Board of County Commissioners, from James Canty and his wife. Mr. Rathbun said he did not know whether or not the dwelling on the site would be moved to the north end of the property.

The Board previously had acquired the Warnick lot adjacent to the corner for $3,000 and the site now extends along Second street for 165 feet, and 126 feet along Center street. Cal Crim, Cincinnati, contributed the money for the purchase of the Warnick lot.

Mr. Rathbun said funds for the purchase came as follows: $2,000 as appropriated from the County Commissioners, $1,000 contributed from Charles E. Hoye; $2,000 borrowed, and through consent of Mr. Enlow transfer of $5,000 of his gift. However, Mr. Rathbun said there would be local solicitation of funds to raise the $5,000 to replace the loan from the building fund, so that the full amount of $25,000 could be used for construction purposes. He said a Maryland architect would be employed to get definite plans underway.

Mr. Rathbun said the Library board had also asked for a hearing before the City Council in April to ask for a fund of $500 from the town of Oakland for the advancement of the library project.

County Contributes $962.10 For Seals

In raising the largest amount ever reported in Maryland for the sale of Christmas seals in 1947, Garrett county contributed $962.10, in comparison to $886.54 last year.

The county's increase was $75.56, or 8.5 percent. The seals were sent to 3.3. percent of the population and the average return per letter was $1.25.

The total in the state was $267,778.23, according to Philip S. Morgan, president of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. The goal was $250,000. The counties had a larger sale than Baltimore city and showed an increase of 28.3 percent, raising a totla of $144,210.18.

To Operate Hotel

Mrs. Victoria Ingram, proprietor of the Green Palm Restaurant which will remain closed during the summer during construction of the new building, corner of Third and Oak streets, has announced that she would manage the Mt. Lake Hotel this summer.

The hotel will be open for business about the middle of May. Mrs. June Grimes, owner of Mt. Lake Hotel will continue to operate Pickwick Inn, in town.

Power Employe Breaks Leg in Handcar Mishap

Ralph Smouse, truck driver for the Monongahela Power company sustained a broken left leg and painful injuries to his back last Saturday about noon when a handcar on the Preston railroad jumped the track, pinning him underneath.

According to other workmen, they had replaced a transformer in an area which is accessible only by the railroad, and a handcar was being used to transport the old transformer to Hutton when the accident occurred. Both bones of the leg were broken between the knee and ankle.

He was taken to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, in the Bolden ambulance, and he was expecting to be brought to his home on Center street later this week.

Bicycle Rider Hurt When Struck By Car

Robert Schell, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schell, Water street, is resting comfortably at Memorial hospital, Cumberland, after a bicycle-automobile mishap Monday evening at the corner of Third and Alder streets.

Young Schell was traveling west on Alder street, descending the Court House hill, when he collided with an automoible driven by Douglas Dawson, and occupied also by Miss Wanda Whitaker.

The victim sustained fractures of the left leg and right arm and he was placed in a body cast. The impact threw Schell up on the hood of the car, smashing the windshield. Miss Whitaker was cut by flying glass.

The bicycle was a complete wreck and the car was damaged to the extent of about $100.

To Hold Hearing

To provide control measures for crop damage by deer will be one of the questions to be discussed at a hearing of the state Game and Inland Fish Commission, to be held in Upper Marlboro on Friday, April 9.

Amvets To Begin Practice

All former members and new members wishing to try out for the Oakland Amvets baseball team, are being asked to report for practice on the Oakland High school athletic field at Fike's, on Tuesday evening, March 30.

There will be steady practice on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays until the season starts, it was announced

Teachers' Meeting Called

Edwin Elias, Jr., president of the Garrett County Teachers' association, has called a meeting of the group for Saturday, April 3, at 10 a. m., in the Accident High school building.

He is urging that all members be present.

Brookhart Named Chairman of Farming For Better Living Program In County

Maurice Brookhart, Oakland, was elected permanent chairman of the Farming for Better Living Program, which was launched in the county last week by a group of persons interested in bringing about closer relationships between farm and town residents.

Other officers named included Mrs. Walter E. Dawson, secretary; and Howard C. Riggs, treasurer.

Nineteen attended the meeting last Friday evening which was the second conference of the group which had temporarily organized the week previous.

The group decided on a goal of 70 farm families enrolled in the program, with application for membership closing on May 1st. It was emphasized that there was no cost to joining, but that at the end of November, those who had shown the most marked improvement with the means at their disposal, would be honored by the Farming for Better Living Council. Premiums are to be awarded and a prize committee was named by chairman Brookhart to include H. C. Riggs, Lowell Loomis, Oakland; Harold Miller, C. O. Keller, Grantsville; O. P. Fike, Marvin Callis, Accident; Dorsey Guard, Charley Miller, Friendsville.

A registration committee included George H. Hanst, Dr. F. D. Custer and Miss Jessie Guard.

An enrollment blank may be clipped from this newspaper or obtained from any council member. Some of these members were named last week and additional ones include those named on the above committees, Clyde McCurdy, Dr. D. C. Pickens, Rev. George H. Coker, Mrs. Britten Martin, and Herbert Leighton.

Those who enroll are given a booklet in which various simplified records are kept. The booklet carries recommendations for a progressive farm program and embodies the same principles and practices recommended by agricultural experiment stations for many years. The value of a well balanced farm plan is emphasized.

Enrollment blanks are to be returned to the office of John H. Carter, county agent.

A third meeting of the group has been set for Thursday, May 6, at Accident, at 8 p. m., just after the enrollment period closes. Farm families are being urged to join in the program which is designed to assist them in obtaining increased benefits from farming, and which will be found interesting through friendly competition.

Terms European Recovery Plan A "Blank Check"

Warning that the European recovery plan is a "legislative blank check," Rep. J. Glenn Beall said Sunday in a radio broadcast that the United States should do all it can "prudently" to help other countries but should take care that its own economic stability is not wrecked.

Beall's address followed by less than 24 hours the Senate's approval of a history-making 85 billion, 300 million bill for aid to Europe.

Pointing out that economic recovery requires some degree of confidence in the future by the people of any country, Beall said American assistance "would be a very minor part of the total needs of Europe."

Beall declared the "ruthless threat of naked force" was the deciding factor in the easy conquest of present Communist satellite countries by Russia rather than economic factors.

GRANTSVILLE

Mr. C. O. Bender, president of the Band Booster-P.-T.A. of the Grantsville school, announces the last regular meeting of the organization at the school on Friday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. The program committee has arranged for R. Bowen Hardesty, newly appointed assistant superintendent of schools, to talk about the school building survey now being conducted. W. C. Grimm will talk about Driver-Education program which has recently been introduced in the Grantsville High school. The band and a choral group will render several musical selections. Refreshments will be served. All patrons and friends of the school are invited.

Word was received here by friends that Mrs. Mamie Grothaus Wallace had died Sunday, March 21st, at her home in Baltimore. Mrs. Wallace has a large circle of friends in Grantsville and community and had been spending a month or six weeks here during the summer, for the past 40 years.

Today's biggest power bargain

Pay as you drive if you wish

It's a Complete New Buick Engine and We'll put it in Your Car at a Price You'll hardly Believe

YES sir, here's a big bargain for Buick owners—a brand-new straight-from-the-production-line Fireball engine. We'll put it in any Buick from 1937 models on up.

We'll take out your old mile-weary engine, put this one in, and make your car brand-new again as far as power is concerned.

Pep and snap come back—right up to 1948 standards. You get new-engine mileage from every gallon of gas. Oil consumption drops. And you enjoy the thrill of the liveliest, most responsive engine on the road today—the same engine that makes Buick the snappiest car on the highways.

Think what this will mean to you—in comfort of driving—in new dependability—in sheer fun. Think of the extra worth of your car when it comes time to turn it in.

As to cost—it's so moderate it makes this change-over today's best power buy. Installation cost varies somewhat with car model. But we'll be glad to give you the figure down to the dollar if you'll drive around.

Don't put it off. Make up your mind to drive a 1948-powered car now. Come in and talk it over.

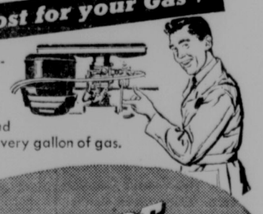
WHY WE CAN MAKE THIS OFFER

Out at the Buick plant, engine production is going great guns. It's stepping along faster than complete car output. So we have these brand-new engines ready to put in your car right now.

Quick Starts and Driving Zip

This 1948 ignition system with centrifugal and vacuum automatic control puts snap and go into starting and get-away.

Most for your Gas $



An up-to-the-minute, efficient carburetor and air cleaner give new smooth power and most miles from every gallon of gas.

A Delight to Handle

A "smoothie" if there ever was one! This new clutch with its easy, toe-touch response makes driving more fun than ever.

MORE EDUCATION ON DEMOCRACY NEEDED IN JAPAN

Final Forum Speaker Gives Fund of Information on Far East

Failure to provide a sufficient quanty of educational material and the ck of progress on the economic ront, were the two main criticisms the management of post-war Jan, by Ardath Burks, the concluding peaker on the Rotary forum proram, (whose topic was) "MacArur's Japan—Is It Democratic."

Mr. Burks, political science expert specially on Chinese and Japanese olitics and government, now a candidate for the degree of Doctor of hilosophy at the School of Advanced nternational Studies in Washington, ave a fund of information on the inernational internal and economic picure of Japan of today, and how the overnment was being operated.

He was of the opinion that the ructural set-up was democratic but hat down underneath it had not oved as rapidly. A more thorough stribution of the proper educational aterials, he felt, would do much in roviding this lower level with the eals of democracy.

He asserted that the Russians were roviding more information and text ooks than the Americans, and that ne of the main difficulties there was distinguish what democracy means, the Russians had an entirely different slant, in comparison to the merican interpretation.

He explained that the existing Japnese government at time of surrener was still being used, as the result the Potsdam agreement, but that e economic system had been anged, with the business men havg been stripped of their wealth and wer.

He urged the adoption of some definite economic policy to put the county on its feet. "Being on its feet ecoomically does not guarantee that pan will be a democracy, but it has better chance if it is on its feet ecoomically," he declared.

Mr. Burks discussed the possibilis of Christianity in Japan, with all issionaries being on an equal level ere in the case of all religions.

He felt that in the eyes of the orld the far eastern area is of "secid priority" and one of the questions left unsolved was, "would we leave apan democratic internally if the American occupation forces and controls were withdrawn?"

He was of the opinion that the scarcity of information coming from that area was because the job of a military commander first of all is security, and that the army in general was sensitive to criticism. But he pointed out that the 11-nation commission in Washington which issued the directives, still gave General MacArthur much latitude in interpretation of orders and that the American authority would prevail there.

He was bombarded with a number of questions at the conclusion of his talk.

He was introduced by Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, and prior to adjournment Dr. Denver C. Pickens, Rotary president, gave a few words of thanks to various ones who worked in connection with the four forum programs which were concluded on Monday night.

Local Farm Credit Agencies Coordinated

Messrs. Paul C. Williams, president of The National Farm Loan Association and T. J. Grove, president of The Romney Production Credit Association, have announced that Joseph W. Wimer of Petersburg, West Virginia, has recently been appointed joint Secretary-Treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association and Production Credit Association.

Mr. Wimer will succeed Mr. E. L. Mason, of the Production Credit Association, who resigned January 1, and W. C. Bailey of the National Farm Loan Association who resigned March 31 to enter into private business.

Garrett county is included in this area.

More Trout To Be Planted

A total of 14,000 adult brook, rainbow and brown trout have been recommended for planting in streams of the county, according to Lloyd Cook, game warden.

Up to date, he said, 9,800 have been stocked in Bear Creek, Savage River, Salt Block, Puzzley Run, Mill Run, Laurel Run, near Schell; Laurel Run, near Kempton; Upper Youghiogheny River, Cherry Creek, Piney Run, near Finzel. The remainder will be stocked or placed before the season is opened. Additional fish are planned for mid-season stocking.

Pickets Arrested After Fight At Mine

Three men were arrested at Kingwood after roving pickets and a strip mine operator clashed.

Sheriff Hobart Spindler stated that "feeling is running pretty high here against the visit of roving pickets to Preston County."

About 200 pickets visited the Hartman mine near Kingwood. Six of them entered the mine office to attack the owner, Raymond Hartman, and an employe, Dick Titchenall, and beat them badly.

No trouble in this county has been reported.

Easter Designated As Victory Day by Lutherans

Easter has been designated as Victory day in two respects, in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland by Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor.

He named the first as the victory of Christ over the grave and death, and the second as the anticipated victory in reaching the Easter offering goal of $800, to meet the congregation's quota toward Lutheran World Action and for parish printing equipment for the pastor's office.

L.W.A. money is to be used to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, minister to the sick and provide spiritual life to those in Europe and elsewhere. This is part of a national effort to raise $4 million in 1948 by Lutherans in America. A film, "The March of Faith," describing L.W.A. work, will be shown later, Rev. Hare said.

Recommends Sidewalk

Chief Engineer Childs, of the State Roads commission, has recommended the sidewalk on the B. and O. bridge on Oak street, Senator L. M. Fraley was informed this week. The approximate cost will be $10,000.

Mr. Fraley said G. Bates Chaires, district roads engineer, also informed him that the construction on route 219, north of Oakland, would begin about April 1st.

HOW MUCH DOES 10 MILLION MEAN?

Ten Million Dollars in benefit payments made by the Woodmen of the World last year mean MUCH.

It means families kept together . . . food, clothing and other needs provided widows and children who were paid more than $7,500,000.

It means comfort and independence for the aged who received over a million dollars retirement income.

It means freedom from worry about expenses and loss of income for the disabled who were paid more than $35,000 in disability benefits.

It means reduced life insurance protection costs for many thousand Woodmen who shared in $1,600,000 in refunds paid to our members.

Call the local Woodmen representative. Let him give you the facts about Woodmen insurance protection and Woodcraft's fraternal benefits.

There's a great Career for You in Aviation

How did they get to be specialists? Like many other men who have gone to the top in aviation, they enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. No other organization offers wider opportunities to men who want careers in this spectacular field. For example:

If you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an equivalent examination), you're eligible for appointment to the Aviation Cadets. After winning your wings, you're commissioned 2nd Lieutenant and assigned to active pilot duty with the Air Force. This training has long been recognized as the finest available anywhere.

If you're a high school graduate, between 17 and 34, you can take advantage of the Aviation Career Plan. You can select the special training you prefer from a group of more than 40 excellent courses and qualify for it before you enlist. Good pay from the start, plus the chance to move up as you gain experience, make this another outstanding way to get going in the work you choose.

You can fit into this picture. If you want action, adventure, and training that paves the way for a sound career in aviation, ask for full details on these and other programs now! Your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or Air Force Base, will be glad to discuss them with you.

MRS. LAURA H. WALTERS

Mrs. Laura Hamstead Walters, youngest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hamstead, born near the Greenland Gap, Grant County, W. Va., April 19, 1877, passed away at her home in Steubenville, Ohio, after having been ill for a long time with a heart condition, March 9, 1948, age 70 years 10 months and 18 days.

Her mother, Mrs. Martha Evans Hamstead, died when she was only 9 years old, she was then cared for in the home for a few years by older sisters, later staying in the home of Mrs. Mattie Miller (widow) and children, supporting herself by working wherever she could. Later she was employed in Wheeling, where she met and married William Walters. They had two sons, the oldest, William, Jr., died with flu during World war I, at the age of 12 years; Charles, the younger, survives with his father.

She became a member of the Church of the Brethren early in life, however no Church of the Brethren being near, they attended the closest Protestant Church, until she became ill and unable to attend anywhere.

She was the youngest of a family of nine children. Surviving are G. B. Hamstead, Eglon, W. Va., and Rev. Obed Hamstead, Morgantown, W. Va.

A number of Scottish Rite Masons plan to go to Cumberland to attend the Maundy Thursday dinner and ceremonies which follow.

Independents Win

Oakland Independents won over Friendsville 41 to 30 in last night's elimination contest at Grantsville. Bruceton beat the Dixon Motor team 60 to 48 in the other game.

Oakland and Bruceton will play Friday night for the championship of the Mountain League, while Friendsville and Dixon Motor will play for the consolation.

Rev. Luther L. Hare will have a Holy Communion service at St. Paul's church in Aurora, W. Va., on Sunday evening.

Miss Donna Littman, student at Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, is here to spend the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius B. Littman.

The new electric pump for the well at the golf course which was ordered over a year ago by the Mayor and Council, arrived on Tuesday, and will be set up soon. The cost will run approximately $1,600.

The Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers will meet on April 6 at 7:45 o'clock in Oakland High school. R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, and Rev. George Coker, will be the speakers. Members of the school board are being invited to attend.

DIED

W. R. LILLER

W. R. Liller, former resident of Oakland, died last night at his home in Keyser, W. Va. He was aged 69.

Surviving are his wife, who was Blanche McRobie, and three children, Oliver Liller and Mrs. Naomi McBride, Keyser, and Mrs. Betty Kolkhorst, of Baltimore.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

JOHN A. GUSTAFSON

John Augustus Gustafson, youngest son of Mrs. Lephia Werner Gustafson, and the late S. A. Gustafson, born August 8th, 1915, at Albright, W. Va., age 27 years, 4 months and 22 days.

He was a graduate of the Kingwood high school with the class of 1933. He entered the Navy in 1934.

He was united in marriage to Miss Dorris Galloway, of Kingwood, September 17th, 1941. He was on the U.S.S. New Orleans, she traveled as passenger, meeting him, and they were in Pearl Harbor at the time the Japanese attack on December 7, 1941.

He was killed in battle when the New Orleans was struck by a torpedo December 30, 1942, after which his widow returned to her home in Kingwood, later she assumed employment in Los Angeles, Calif. until her marriage to Duncan Eader of that city.

His remains were brought from Guadalcanal, to Arlington, Va., National cemetery, where final rites were held and interment was made on March 18, 1948, in the presence of his mother, Mrs. Lephia Gustafson, of Eglon, W. Va.; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Galloway, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Rudasill, of Kingwood, and other relatives from Washington, D. C.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Kingwood.

Immediate survivor other than his mother, is one brother, Karl Gustafson with the U. S. Navy, and at present is stationed in China.

STORM VICTIMS - - The photographs above show some of the loss incurred by Clarence M. Fazenbaker when a windstorm Friday night struck his farm, located about a mile north of Route 40 on the Finzel Road. The lower photo shows what remains of Fazenbaker's balloon barn, valued at $10,000. In the top photograph, a calf (right), born soon after the storm, is pictured. It was unhurt. Its mother, lying behind a beam in the background, died later of storm injuries. The cow in the foreground was killed by a falling beam, and the cow at left was injured so badly it had to be killed. —Photo Courtesy Cumberland News.

AURORA-EGLON

Rev. D. B. Spaid, Eglon, was called to Parsons Saturday to conduct last rites for Joseph Holler, 79.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday for Lemuel Wotring, 94 years, 1 month and 18 days, who died Saturday evening at the home of his unmarried son, Roy, at Horse Shoe Run. Considering his age Mr. Wotring was in very good health other than a mental disturbance. He had fallen Friday morning and dislocated a hip. Burial was in the Texas cemetery.

Dr. John Law, who was recovering from an attack of pneumonia at Rock Inn, Aurora, was taken to his home at Weston Saturday, because of an acute illness of his wife who is caring for her aged mother in the home.

Alice Hardesty, daughter of Bliss and the late Mrs. Hardesty, of Mt. Top and Milton Wotring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Wotring, of Aurora and Tennessee, were married March 13. Mr. Wotring returned this week to Tennessee where he has employment and Mrs. Wotring is remaining at her parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fike purchased the former Sarah Scese property at Eglon, recently purchased by David Wilhelm. They are erecting an addition and remodeling the original building.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winters moved their personal property recently from the Charles Winters farm near Gnegy Church to the home of Mrs. Winters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilt, of Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wiles, newlyweds, of Aurora, spent several days this week at Shepherdstown. Mrss. Wiles is the former Miss Grace Donham.

Rev. Ezra Fike returned Tuesday to his home at Eglon after spending a little more than a week with his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Terry and family in Lakeland, Florida.

Mrs. Cora Bittinger, of Brookside, spent several days recently visiting relatives in and near Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth, of Morgantown, are the parents of a son, Jerry Bill, born February 28. This is their third child and second son. The mother was former Miss Marie Harsh, daughter of Lester and the late Mrs. Isa Harsh formerly of near Eglon. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth also of near Eglon.

Mrs. Laura Calhoun is visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Helmick, Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth and family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roth and family, all of Morgantown were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roth and family

Chapter 382, Section 108 of the Acts of 1947, passed by the Legislature, provides a new law for the collection of delinquent taxes as follows:

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to enforce the payment of all taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of April in the year succeeding that in which the same shall have been levied provided the notice required by the preceding section shall have been given if the taxes be due and owing upon real property or upon real and personal property, the said taxes shall be a lien on said real property, and said real property shall be liable for the payment thereof in whatsoever manner or to whomsoever the same may be assessed until paid, and the Treasurer shall be authorized to enforce the payment thereof in the manner hereinafter prescribed by a sale of either real or personalty: etc.

As you will note, this law makes it mandatory upon me, as the Treasurer of Garrett County to collect all delinquent taxes of 1947 during April, 1948.

If there is any reason why you believe this collection should not be enforced on your property during April please contact me at the Court House.

Failure to contact me or to pay the taxes, past due, will constitute a desire on your part for such enforced collection through sale as outlined in the law.

ARTHUR H. GREEN, Treasurer,
Garrett County, Maryland.

Free State Forestry

J. E. Faulhamus

Although red pine has been recommended as one of the best all around trees for general planting purposes, it is by no means the only species which will give satisfactory results in this county. Other species which have done well here are shortleof pine, scrub or Virginia pine, Norway Spruce, Scotch pine and larch. It should be remembered that many of these trees have been planted only a comparatively short time and the present indications may not hold out over a longer period of time; nevertheless, results obtained from present planting indicate that the above species will do well in this county where the site is suited to the particular tree species in question. Tree growth and nature will also tend to change with a change in the age of the tree regardless of th sit.

The purpose for which planting is made and the future product desired should be given important consideration as one species may suit a special purpose far better than another one. If short time product such as pulpwood is desired the species chosen may have a high hinitial growth rate which will tend to taper off after 40 or more years. Such a change would seldom affect this type of product as much of the material should be harvested before that age is reached. If lumber is final product desired, the tree to be used may have a slower but more uniform growth rate over a longer period of time which will, in the long run, produce more wood suitable for use as lumber.

One of the above species which has been tried with good results so far here in the county is larch. Larch is one conifer which, unlike the pines, loses its needles in the winter. It is normally suited to a cool climate and although its natural range is reported to include extreme western Maryland and adjacent West Virginia it is more abundant from northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio northward to the northern limit of tree growth. It is described as "a small to medium-sized tree 40 to 80 feet high and 1 to 2 feet in diameter with a long clear, cylindrical bole, open pyramidial crown and a shallow wide-spreading root system. In the southern part of its range it is usually restricted to cool swamps, or spragnum bogs, but farther north it makes best growth on moist beaches. Growth of young trees is on favorable sites is rapid, but decreases after 40 to 50 years, years."

Another reference gives the desired site as well drained with sun. This species is susceptible to attacks of the larch sawfly which will severely damage plantings of this species. It may also be subject to windthrow inasmuch as the root system is shallow.

The early rapid growth of this species would make it desirable for pulpwood purposes where maximum size is not the important item.

This species has been more or less widely used in reforestation plantings throughout the eastern United States. One of the best local plantings is located on the Wampler Place along the eastern side of Elk Lick near the New Germany churches. Trees on this area have attained a height of about 22 feet and a diameter of 4 to 5 inches at breast height (4½ feet above the ground) in years time. The average tree is somewhat smaller than the above figures. What the result may be in twenty years is not apparent now; however the early indication may warrant additional work with this species in this county.

DIED

CARTER B. FORMAN

Carter Bruce Forman, 41, of Keyser, W. Va., died on Saturday, March 20, at Potomac Valley hospital, where he was admitted the previous evening.

Beall Officially Files Candidacy For Re-election

Calling for the election of a Republican President as the "only hope" of removing the Communist and "so called pinks" from the federal payroll, Representative J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for a fourth term in Congress from Maryland's Sixth Congressional District.

Representative Beall has filed with the Secretary of State his certificate of candidacy and a check in the amount required by law.

Pulling no punches in dealing with the problem of communists in the federal government, Representative Beall pointed out that Republicans in Congress have succeeded in having five employees removed from the State Department because of questionable fidelity to the United States, only to have them absorbed by other departments of the Truman administration.

While Republicans in the 80th Congress have exerted pressure on the Truman administration to rid the government of employees who are "friendly" to a Communist government or persons connected with that kind of government, Representative Beall said, these efforts have been "disappointing."

These disappointing efforts he laid to the Truman administration which he said has not given the support which was to be expected to attempts to rid the government of persons known to be friendly to a Communistic regime.

Although the efforts of Beall and those with whom he has been collaborating to clean up the government have not been successful, he said they have "refused to become discouraged in this undertaking" and will continue their attempt to bring about the removal of the "so called pinks" during the remaining portion of this Congress.

This will be done, Representative Beall added, with the hope in mind that the American people will realize that their only hope of removing such persons will be through the election of a Republican President and the setting up of a cabinet which will give this program sincere support.

Congressman Beall is a member of the Public Works Committee of the House and the Sub-Committee on Roads of that Committee. He is Chairman of the Public Service Sub-Committee of the District Committee which has jurisdiction over the Police, Fire and Streets and Traffic Departments of the District of Columbia. As member of the Roads Committee Mr. Beall helped draft the Roads Bill for 1949. The money providing for primary, secondary and urban road repair and construction will be divided among the states and Maryland will receive a proportionate share. Mr. Beall is also a member of the Special Committee on Stream Pollution and Beach Erosion.

During the 80th Congress, Mr. Beall has been most helpful to the people of his District. Through his efforts the House approved the $400,000 appropriation for the completion of the Savage River Dam and $500,000 for flood control for the City of Cumberland. He was largely responsible for keeping the Newton D. Baker hospital open as a veterans facility. At one time the War Department was going to abandon this hospital and Mr. Beall had the veterans administration take it over to be used for a Veterans Hospital.

Congressman Beall has consistently voted for a reduced budget and believes in the theory of less government in business and business in government. He feels that there is much duplication of effort in the various departments of the government and believes that too much money is spent for same work. He has also on several occasions supported legislation to reduce income taxes. Mr. Beall feels that with a reduced budget the taxpayer should be given some relief.

Congressman Beall objects to the government usurping the authority of the states and will continue to oppose any legislation which would take away states' rights.

Seeks Re-election

REP. J. GLENN BEALL

Regarding the European Recovery Program—Congressman Beall said, "I favor legislation which would provide funds for such a program but feel that the success of this program will depend on the proper administration of the funds. In looking for the cause of the critical situation today, I think it is agreed that the mismanagement of our foreign affairs by President Truman and his administration has contributed greatly to this dilemma as apparently we move from one crisis to another."

During the 80th Congress Representative Beall has introduced 30 bills. H.R. 5046, before the Ways and Means Committee would grant an exemption from income tax in the case of retirement pensions and annuities. R.R. 5155 would authorize the Secretary of the Interior to have the Public Roads Administration and National Park Service make a survey of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal between Great Falls and Cumberland and report on the advisability of constructing a parkway along the Canal.

He also voted for the terminal leave cash payment for veterans and for 20 percent increase in pensions to Spanish and Civil War Veterans. In his desire to see that the veteran receives full value for his dollar, the Congressman asked for a Congressional investigation of the Viers Mill Village Housing project in Montgomery County.

As to National Defense—Mr. Beall said, "In this chaotic period, I realize the necessity of an adequate defense program and will vote for such measures which will accomplish this purpose when necessary legislation is submitted."

ROTARIANS HEAR LANE OUTLINE STATE PROGRAM

Increased Appropriations For Education and Roads in County Are Reviewed By Governor

The increased program for education, improved system of highways and better care of the state's less fortunate citizens, was presented to the Rotary club members and wives at the annual Ladies' night program last Thursday night, by Governor W. Preston Lane, Jr.

The state's annual contribution for educational purposes has been jumped from $331,000 to $591,000 in Garrett county, Governor Lane pointed out and declared that throughout the state and in Baltimore school buildings representing an investment of $48 million dollars are or soon will be under construction.

In pointing out the need for a modern system of roads he said there were hopes of getting upward of $40 million worth of highway work under contract within the year as part of the $200 million program that has been authorized and planned.

He told that a contract was recently awarded for the new road out of Oakland toward Deep Creek Lake, for 4 1/10th miles at an estimated cost of $741,000; that the State Roads commission expected, at a cost of $250,000, to improve the national pike for 3 4/10 miles between Keyser Ridge and the Pennsylvania line, eliminating the reverse curve near the approach to Pennsylvania; and told plans for the resurfacing of route 50, from the West Virginia line, to Gorman, over 9 miles, at a cost of $150,000, during 1949, and the completion of its widening.

Other resurfacing projects he included were route 219 from Red House to Gortner, and route 219, from Accident to Flatwoods, at a combined cost of $126,000. Next year the plans call for resurfacing of route 40 east from Grantsville, 2 miles, and west from Frostburg, 5 miles.

"The importance of Garrett county's secondary roads has not been overlooked. There is, for example, the Swanton-Bittinger road, on which $116,000 was expended, and bids have just been taken on the two and a half mile Loch Lynn to Gorman road which has been estimated to cost around $275,000. The County Commissioners, however, have asked the State Roads commission to reject all bids on this project and not to award a contract at this time.

"In the general program of conservation and the increased appropriation for forestry and for parks, a program of improvement for the recreation facilities of Garrett county's forest areas and a stepping up of the production of nursery stock are in immediate prospect. With increased funds that have been provided, two full-time technical advisers are at the service of Garrett county landowners for timbering advice."

Governor Lane also mentioned the funds coming into the county under the Sherbor recommendations. He pictured the state as just about flat broke when the present state administration took over.

In reviewing other programs the governor outlined the work that had been done at the mental institutions, and the development of the medical care for the indigent.

About 90 persons attended the dinner. They were welcomed by Dr. Denver C. Pickens, president, and there were vocal selections by Marden C. Wilson, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

Hervey Smouse Named Editor of School Paper

HERVEY SMOUSE — BARBARA WINTERS

Hervey R. Smouse was named editor-in-chief of The Acorn, official publication of Oakland High school, as the result of a recent election in the school. Barbara Winters, a close second in the contest, automatically became assistant editor. Both will work on this year's final edition and will have the summer to selct the staff and plan for next term.

Secret ballots were used in the election over a two-day period. Election speeches were given February 24 and 26 during assemblies. Smouse was one of those who attended the meeting of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York.

HOYES

The Hoyes Homemakers club met last Tuesday with Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle at her home with 13 members present. Mrs. Randall Wilburn presided. Plans were made to hold a bazaar and bake sale. A report on "Trends In Education" was given by Mrs. W. W. DeWitt. A demonstration on "Cooking in Pressure Pans" was presented by Mrs. Robert Friend, assisted by Mrs. Randall Wilburn. The club recalled that this meeting was their 18th anniversary and the minutes of the first meeting were read. Four of the charter members were present. Refreshments were served. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Vitez.

The Farm Bureau discussion group met with Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Wilburn at their home on Thursday evening. The discussion was led by Hobart Bishoff and was on "Services Rendered by the Farm Bureau." Refreshments were served. The April meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speicher.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Paugh visited Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Friend and Mrs. Asa B. Friend Sunday.

Miss Mary Bond returned to her home here after spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey in Charleroi, Pa.

Selected Soldier of the Month

Pfc. James H. Weeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Weeks, who is now stationed at Tokyo, Japan, received a letter of commendation from his commanding officer for being selected soldier of the month of the guard company of the far east command headquarters.

The selection was based on soldierly appearance, attention to duty, ability to perform duties and attitude toward the army in general of all the privates and privates first class.

The commendation was signed by R. E. Starr, brigadier general.

Newspaper Not To Carry Bingo Ads

An inquiry to the local postoffice officials here has brought out the fact that there has been a regulation against advertisements of games of chance, lotteries, etc., which include bingo games, it was stated this week by Joseph Stanton, assistant postmaster.

As the result of the inquiry, Mr. Stanton said he wrote to Frank J. Delany, solicitor for the postoffice department, and received the following reply:

"Advertisements of bingo games in newspapers render such papers non mailable under Section 601, Postal Laws and Regulations, regardless of whether they are conducted for the benefit of fraternal or religious organizations."

Therefore The Republican will not carry any advertisements in regard to bingo parties, as long as such regulation is in effect.

Dr. Nat T. Frame Dies

Dr. Nat T. Frame, who had a long career devoted largely to the development of rural community life, died at his home in Martinsburg, W. Va., on Monday, of a heart attack.

He retired a little more than a year ago. From 1919 until 1933 he was director of agricultural extension at West Virginia University, and was one of the originators of the Alleghany Tableland movement. He had spoken in this county to 4-H club groups and had been one of the early promoters of the 4-H club movement. He was a former president of the American Country Life Conference.

The pastor of the two visiting congregations, Rev. James MacLeod will join the host pastor in observing the Lord's Supper by candlelight, the program being conducted around a theme "Echoes From The Upper Room." All incidents of that last Holy night will be brought back to heart and mind by the reading of all scripture pertaining to the Upper Chamber. Members of the three participating churches will read the scripture in chronological order of the events of that last evening of Fellowship of our Lord with His Disciples.

OHS Plans Spring Athletics; May Be County-wide Meet

Plans for spring athletics for the student body are in progress. The games played will be the same as last year with an added variety for the boys. There is a possibility of a county-wide track meet this year according to the County Athletic Committee, but if there is no track meet it was decided by the Student Council that OHS should have a meet of her own at the close of the season.

Each Student Council representative was requested at the meeting last Wednesday to get a list of names and activities that the students from his home room want so that these activities can be considered and teachers selected.

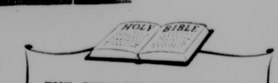
"Truly, This Man was the Son of God"

There was a darkness over the whole earth. It was the darkness of humanity's despair. It was the darkness of God's sorrow. A man had lived for others . . . and loved them to the end. A man had died for others . . . and now was dead.

And then the Sun broke through again! A voice rent the blackness as a sentinel torch. It was a human voice . . . a soldier's voice . . . the voice which had given the order to strike the nails that crucified the man.

"Truly," came the Roman's cry, "Truly, this Man was the Son of God." And others echoed the words . . . across the land . . . across the centuries.

From our churches the cry still rings forth. And in the churches the darkness of humanity's despair is lifted . . . the memory of God's sorrow gives place to divine joy. In the churches we worship and learn to serve the One who truly was the Son of God.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: John 21:1-14; Colossians 3: 1-4, 12-17; I John 5:11-12.
DEVOTIONAL READING: John 14:2-6.

Eternal Life

Lesson for March 28, 1948

"THE Lord has risen indeed," and because he lives, we too shall live. Easter is the day that reminds us of this blessed truth—the truth of eternal life. Well has Henry Burton expressed it in these lines:

"There's a light upon the mountains,
And the day is at the spring,
When our eyes shall see the beauty
And the glory of the King;
Weary was our heart with waiting,
And the night watch seemed so long,
But his triumph day is breaking,
And we hail it with a song.

"He is breaking down the barriers;
He is casting up the way;
He is calling for his angels
To build up the gates of day;
But his angels here are human,
Not the shining hosts above;
And the drumbeats of his army
Are the heartbeats of our love."

BREAKFAST BY THE LAKE

READ John 21:1-14 for the exquisite account of Jesus appearing to his disciples in the early morning at the sea of Tiberias. They had been toiling all night, and had taken nothing. Bringing their boats near to the shore, they saw one standing there, "but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus."

Dr. Newton

Jesus told them to cast their net on the right side of the ship, which they did, and they caught 153 "great fishes." Jesus then summoned them to breakfast. He had prepared the bread and fish on coals of fire. And they did eat.

BLESSED ASSURANCE

BEFORE his death, Jesus had said to his disciples, "Because I live, you will live also." John 14:19, but they did not fully grasp the meaning of the great words. But that morning on the sea shore, they understood. They remembered that he had died on the cross, and now they were assured that he was really alive, for this was the third time he had appeared unto the disciples after the resurrection.

How happy they must have been! How happy we should be on this recurring Easter season, assured that he is alive evermore. And because he lives, we too shall live.

WHAT IS ETERNAL LIFE?

SUNDAY'S lesson leads us on to the answer to the question, What is eternal life? In Colossians 3:1-4 and 12-17, we have the declaration, "Your life is hid with Christ in God. . . " If we have believed on him — cast ourselves in implicit trust into his keeping — we have eternal life, which is his gift to every believing heart.

Paul goes on to admonish those who have "entered into life eternal," through faith in the riven, risen, reigning Saviour, to put on the garments of his presence and power and peace — kindness, humility, meekness, long-suffering, forbearance, forgiveness.

The evidence of eternal life is to be found in the fruits of the Spirit in our daily lives.

CERTAINTY OF ETERNAL LIFE

WE READ in John 17:3 this word of further assurance, "This is eternal life, that they know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent." And in I John 5:11-12, we read, "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

In another passage John tells that we know that we have passed from death unto life because we love the brethren.

Easter is the day of eternal hope. It lifts above the fog of earthiness the glory of the blessed hope that fadeth not away. We have God's own testimony that we shall live with him forever, through Jesus Christ, our risen, reigning, returning Lord.

Our Richest Treasure

The Bible walks the ways of all the world with familiar feet and enters land after land to find its own everywhere. Children listen to its stories with wonder and delight, and wise men ponder them as parables of life. The wicked and the proud tremble at its warnings, but to the wounded and the penitent it has a mother's voice. It has woven itself in our dearest dreams; so that love, friendship, sympathy, devotion, memory, hope, put on the beautiful garments of its treasured speech. No man is poor or desolate who has this treasure for his own. —Henry Van Dyke.

Mounting talk of Sen Vandenberg of Michigan as a dark horse presidential nominee may remove him from the ranks of possible Republican convention keynoters.

Twenty Cows Above 400 Lbs. Butterfat Content Within Year

A letter to the editor this week from Joseph A. Lewis, supervisor of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1, reveals that there were twenty cows in the association that last year produced more than 400 lbs. of butterfat compared to the statement in The Republican last week that the Holstein dam's record of 364.1 was the highest in the county.

The letter commends the paper for the picture and write up of the first registered Holstein calf from artificial breeding in the county, and the need for cooperation in this service to improve the dairy industry here.

The DHIA is conducted officially by the State Dairy Extension Service and the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Washington, D. C., whose records are above reproach. Mr. Lewis declared there were many more than 20 cows which produced more than 364.1 lbs. of butterfat last year.

Mr. Lewis listed twenty with average butterfat content of more than 400 lbs., the highest being a cow owned by Raymond J. Tice, with, 470.2. Some of the cows produced as much as 16,026 pounds of milk, some as little as 5,788. Other cows above the 400 butterfat content are owned by Crist H. Yoder, Jonas D. Tice, J. A. Beachy, Ada P. Maust, I. J. Maust, Daniel J. Folk and Leslie J. Stanton.

DIED

CHARLES S. ANDERSON

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Charles Shaw Anderson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Anderson, of Oakland. Dr. Denver C. Pickens, Methodist minister, officiated at the services at 4 o'clock at the Leighton Funeral Home. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Anderson died at his home in Washington, D. C., last Thursday evening, March 18, after an illness of six years. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Anna Anderson and Mrs. Maude Swoger, of Washington; one niece, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Smith and one great-niece, Mrs. Ethel E. (Susy) Smith, of Oakland.

DR WILLIAM B. SCHERR

Dr. William B. Scherr, a former practicing physican at Morgantown, W. Va., died Sunday in the Naval hospital at Bethesda.

As a lieutenant colonel in the Navy's Medical Corps, he had served on the U.S.S. Ticonderoga during the recent World War.

He was a graduate of West Virginia University and of the Medical School at the University of Cincinnati.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Beulah Davis Scherr; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Bell, Washington, D. C.; and Miss Barbara Scherr, Morgantown; two sisters, Mrs. Julius Renninger, Oakland and Silver Spring; and Miss Alma Scherr, Silver Spring; three brothers, Henry and Milton Scherr, of Silver Spring; and E. G. Scherr, Charleston, W. Va.

A service was held Tuesday afternoon in Washington, D. C. with burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

DR. EDWIN T. MOWBRAY

Dr. Edwin T. Mowbray, 85, died at his winter home in St. Petersburg, Fla., last Friday afternoon, March 19. He was spending his eleventh winter season at his home there.

Dr. Mowbray was a retired Methodist minister of Baltimore. For twenty-five years he was a summer resident at Mountain Lake Park, and was for a time a director of the old Mt. Lake Park association.

Surviving are his wife, Caroline S.; two sons, John McC. and Edwin R., Baltimore; three daughters, Mrs. Ray Mowbray Farner, Tallahassee, Mrs. Dean Warren, Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Richard M. Haywood, Lakeville, Conn.; a brother, Alpheus Mowbray, Washington, D. C., and two sisters, Mrs. O. G. Smith, Columbia, S. C., and Maude Mowbray, Washington.

Services were held Saturday at 4 p. m., from Rhodes Chapel, in St. Petersburg, and the funeral party left Sunday for Baltimore where interment took place.

LEONARD WOTRING

Leonard Wesley Wotring, 94, son of the late Daniel and Elizabeth Hopkins Wotring, was born February 2, 1854 and died Saturday evening at the home of his son, Roy, of Horse Shoe Run, W. Va. He is the last of 8 children.

He married Lucy Calcamp and to this union were born 8 children. Three sons preceded him in death, along with his wife.

He is survived by five children, Mrs. Ethel Gaver, Morgantown; Mrs. Carrie Wolfe, Mrs. Ina Evans, Will and Roy Wotring, of Horse Shoe Run, W. Va.; 18 grandchildren, 31 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Court of Appeals Affirms Decision

Refuses Return of Strip Mine Machinery Worth $4,632

The Court of Appeals at Annapolis last Friday affirmed a Garrett County Court decision refusing the return of $4,632 worth of strip mine machinery to the Beckwith Machinery Corporation.

The high court held that when the Burnwell Coal Company of Grantsville obtained the machinery from Beckwith, the firms entered into a "conditional sale agreement."

The agreement was not recorded in accordance with law. Only in this way could it be enforced.

The Burnwell Company became insolvent and receivers were appointed by the Garrett County Court. The receivers refused to return the machinery to the Beckwith Corporation and the suit arose.

The high court held that there was no lease involved in the transaction. It pointed out that the agreement was made because Burnwell on July 23, 1946 did not have the 20 percent down payment required by Federal law to buy the machinery.

The tribunal observed that the so-called rent—$579 a month—was "greatly disproportionate to the value of the machinery, for in eight months 56 percent of the value of this machinery was charged as so-called rent x x x."

"No solvent operator would take such a loss and the only alternative was to buy x x x."

"When the intention of parties becomes clear, it is immaterial what the instrument is called, nor how skillfully the real intention of the parties is disguised. What the parties tried to disguise was the evasion of Federal regulation in regard to a down payment.

"In transacting business in our modern day, some people desire not to know what the law is, but how to evade the law. However clever the form of such evasion may take, when discovered it is denounced by the law."

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 1, 1948. NUMBER 5.

Investment to Save Lives .

Throughout the year there are periods set aside to campaign for funds for this and that. Most of such campaigns are for worthy causes.

Right now there are two worthy campaigns in progress, to raise funds for the American Red Cross and for the American Cancer Society.

Funds for the Red Cross are mainly to assist in the rehabilitation of those who have been hit by sudden disaster—to feed and clothe them during times of flood, tornadoes and the like. Funds for the Cancer society are used in research and education, in an effort to find the cause and cure of the disease that causes a death every three minutes.

Both should be supported by the people of this county. There isn't any doubt about the good that is done by both organizations.

The price of cancer to this nation runs as high as $2 billion a year, which does not include the full value of the wage-earner to his family, the damage done a home by the loss of a wife and mother, the future worth of a child to his family, community and nation. The dollar yardstick cannot measure the pain of cancer patients.

Each year 188,000 people die of cancer. During World War II we are told cancer killed more than twice as many Americans as were killed in combat.

But there is good reason to believe that some day there will be a cure for cancer, providing funds are available for continued research. In the meantime it can be controlled to some extent by education of the people to the fact that if discovered in its early stages, it can be cured.

All of us are given the opportunity to assist in this work.

Associated Women Plan Film Showing

The Associated Women of the Garrett County Farm Bureau will show the film, "America The Beautiful" in the Accident High School on Thursday evening, April 8th, at 8 o'clock. This film was shown at the National Convention of Farm Bureau at Chicago, and was highly recommended, according to Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, chairman. It is in technicolor, and with sound. Another educational film and a short comedy will be shown also. There will be no admission charge.

In connection with the evening's entertainment, the Associated Women will hold a sale of home-made candy, aprons, feed bags, etc. All women belonging to Farm Bureau are asked to make a contribution of some salable article.

The public is invited.

To Give 4-H Award

The Associated Women will again award $25 to a 4-H Club girl in the county whose project work has been outstanding. Miss Jessie Guard, temporary Home Demonstration Agent, and local 4-H Club leaders will be the judges of the girls' work.

Complete details of the standards for judging will be given all 4-H Club local leaders by Miss Guard.

Independents Win Basketball Trophy

The Oakland Independent basketball team won the Mountain league championship in the tournament playoff last week, defeating Bruceton in the finals at Grantsville last Friday night 59 to 49.

It was Oakland's second annual championship and gave the team permanent possession of the trophy which is now in the hands of Willard Ryan, manager.

In defeating Bruceton the points were scored by Lyons, 15; Marucci, 13; Kahl, 9; Gibson, 10; and Stewart, 12. Non-scoring players were Dawson, Johnson, Ryan and Bolden. Guthrie led the Bruceton scorers with 24 points. Metheny, high scorer of two previous tournament games, was held to two field goals by the close guarding of the Oakland team.

The Independents won 17 games and lost 6 throughout the season.

Two Cross Country Cowboys To Appear Here Next Thursday

Two Cross Country Cowboys, Cecil Cary and Uncle Ned Kennedy, will appear in person in the Oakland High School auditorium next Thursday evening, April 8, at 8 o'clock.

A color film, "Easy Ridin," showing the travels of these two men from their ranch home in Washington State to Washington, D. C., will be shown.

The program is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Oakland High school. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Wins Tournament

Hervey Smouse won the ping pong tournament which has been under way in the Teen Age club at the Park for the past several weeks. The finals were played last Friday evening between Smouse and Towny Tibbetts. Smouse won three to nothing.

Around twenty-five participated in the tourney. The winner was presented with a gold cup as a trophy.

Schedule Planned For Pre-School Clinics

A schedule of pre-school clinics, at which time all children entering school this fall will be examined, vaccinated against smallpox and protected against diphtheria if so desired, is being arranged by the Board of Education, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools.

The clinics are to be held only in the larger schools and parents are being asked to bring children to the nearest school on the dates specified.

The schedule follows:

Tuesday, May 11, Mt. Lake Park, 9:30; Loch Lynn, 11; Deer Park, 1:30 p.m.

Friday, May 14, Accident, 10; Friendsville, 1:30 p.m.

Car Overturns

Mr. and Mrs. John DeWitt and the former's brother, Frank DeWitt, of Oakland, escaped injury on Monday morning while enroute to Keyser Ridge when the automobile in which they were riding left the highway and turned over, at a point just beyond Sebold's turn.

The car was badly damaged.

Council Hopes 70 Farm Families Would Enroll In Program

A few enrollment blanks in the Farming for Better Living Program have been returned to the office of John H. Carter, county agent, thus far, it was reported this week.

The Council was hopeful that at least 70 farm families would enroll before the closing date of May 1st.

Easter Snowy and Cold

Low temperatures and about one-half inch of snow greeted the people of Garrett County on Easter Sunday morning, a sharp change over the previous week's springlike weather.

The mercury dropped to 19 degrees above zero on Sunday morning, while on Monday morning it dropped one more degree.

The high reading of the week was on the 26th, at 69 degrees.

Police Seek Man On Stolen Car Charge

One Man Held Following Auto Wreck in Frostburg Sunday Night

One man was under arrest in Miners hospital, Frostburg, while police were searching for a second believed injured in an automobile accident involving a stolen car last Sunday morning at 4:30 on the main street of Frostburg.

Police identified the patient as Alvin McKenzie, Frostburg, and indicated they were searcing for Edison Durr, Cresaptown, who recently completed an 18-month sentence in a Georgia prison on a stolen car charge and at present is on a two-year parole from the Garrett County Circuit Court on a similar charge.

According to Maryland State Police, who are searching for Durr, the two men are charged with stealing a car owned by Z. A. Teeter, Cumberland, from the Celanese plant parking lot early Sunday morning.

Officers received the first report of the accident from Miners hospital when Durr and McKenzie appeared for treatment. Before police arrived Durr departed. McKenzie was quoted by police as saying he and Durr planned to use the car to make a trip to Georgia but first drove to Frostburg. McKenzie's condition is described as "fair."

The car, believed driven by Durr, collided with a parked auto owned by Harry Frushour, Unionville, Md. Both cars were badly damaged.

Durr was returned to Garrett County recently from Georgia after completing an 18-month sentence. Authorities here said a detainer was placed against the man at the time he was sentenced in Georgia. He was given a two-year parole on a stolen car charge in the Circuit Court here last week.

Local officials said they had heard no further word about the case.

Committee Begins Cancer Campaign

The local committee of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club began its drive today to raise $600.00 in the cancer control campaign.

Elza Bray, chairman, announced this morning that a number of cans already had been distributed and that additional ones would be placed.

The local club is sponsoring the campaign which will be conducted during the entire month of April. The name of Bruce Jenkins was added to the committee which was named last week, and Daniel P. Smouse was named treasurer of the fund.

The goal in Maryland is to raise $230,000. The seven-point program outlined by the state president, includes the operation of free cancer detection center, public educational program, sponsorship of tumor clinics, contributing to the national research program, providing free laboratory diagnostic services, providing funds for medical care for cancer sufferers financially unable to defray the costs themselves, and providing medical equipment to institutions and individuals for use in research, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Has Contract For House Construction

Edgar Hardesty, local contractor, was awarded the job of constructing the nine houses for Joseph W. Hinebaugh, it was announced by the latter this week.

Work was expected to get under way this week. The houses are to be joined, with fire walls between each home, and will be located on that part of his property fronting on Fourth street. The rest of the block will be reserved for the future construction of his proposed hotel.

Three Enlist In Army

Three men enlisted in the army and were sent to Cumberland Wednesday by Sgt. Blair Robinett, of the recruiting office.

Edward L. Martin, route 2, Oakland, enlisted for three years with the corps of engineers in Alaska.

Patsy C. Perry, Deer Park, enlisted for three years, in the European theatre.

Robert F. Hauser, route 2, Oakland, enlisted for three years, unassigned, and will attend the wheeled vehicle maintenance and repair school at Atlanta, Ga., following 13 weeks' basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Deer Park Man Admits Shotgun Slaying Of Step-Father After Heated Argument

Shown above is Golden Kirk, 23, of near Deer Park, between Trooper Robert Henline (left) and Sheriff J. S. Teats (right), just after they emerged from a room in the basement of the county jail where Henline had taken fingerprint records and photographs for the State Police barracks at LaVale. Authorities said he confessed to the shotgun slaying or his step-father, and is held without bond for the action of the September Grand Jury. —Republican Staff Photo.

At Preliminary Hearing Before Magistrate Loraditch He is Held Without Bond for Grand Jury Action

Golden Kirk, 23, unemployed woodsman of near Deer Park, is being held without bond in the county jail on a charge of fatally shooting his step-father, Walter Messenger, 35, late last Thursday night.

Kirk, according to authorites, admitted the shooting, and walked to Deer Park to telephone authorities of the tragedy, waiting there for officers to come and arrest him.

The shooting occurred at Kirk's home, west of the site of the old Deer Park Hotel on the Eb Landis property, about 11 p. m., authorities said, during an altercation that flared up after Messenger came from Borgman, W. Va., at 8 p. m., to visit the family.

Sheriff J. S. Teats, Oakland, said he was told that Messenger and his wife, Mrs. Mildred Messenger, separated about a year ago because of domestic difficulties and the latter moved to Deer Park six months ago to live with her son and daughter, Ruth, 13. Messenger continued to live at Borgman.

Members of the household said Messenger had been drinking when he arrived and brought some whisky and gin. Kirk reportedly drank a small amount of gin. Later the two men engaged in an argument and Kirk went to the home of a neighbor, Eston Carr, and borrowed a shotgun. State Police who assisted in the investigation, said Kirk rode a bicycle over the dark country road for about eight-tenths of a mile to borrow the gun, a single barrel .12 gauge shotgun.

When Kirk returned home he ordered Messenger to leave. Police were told Messenger had a poker in his hand. Kirk then fired at his step-father and the charge lodged in the older man's face and jaw, knocking him to the floor. Kirk reloaded the gun, police said, and fired a second shot striking him in the back. Kirk reloaded and fired a third shot which went into the man's head. After the shooting authorities said Mrs. Messenger and Kirk went to the home of Clarence Marley in Deer Park and called Sheriff Teats.

Found Body on Floor

Sheriff Teats, accompanied by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy state medical examiner, and W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney, went to the Marley home and then to the Kirk home and found Messenger's body lying on the living room floor in a pool of blood. State Trooper Robert Henline arrived a few minutes later.

Kirk was questioned Friday and Saturday by local authorities and State Police took fingerprints and photographs for their records and assisted in the technical phases of the investigation.

Kirk was ordered held without bond when arraigned Friday before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, and will face action of the September Term Grand Jury.

Kirk told officials he shot his step-father because "I was afraid of him and he always abused me." He said he wanted to get out on bond so he could "go to work and get money enough to hire a lawyer."

Prior to coming to this county he was a miner in Preston county. He was described as a small man, about five feet four, with blond hair and blue eyes, weighing about 125 pounds.

Kirk admitted shooting Messenger once before about a year ago, near Reedsville, W. Va., the bullet entering his arm. He was charged with assaulting Messenger with a deadly weapon but at a trial in Kingwood he was found not guilty and was released.

Mrs. Messenger, who was held as a material witness, was released without bond by Magistrate Loraditch but warned to be available when needed.

Messenger's body was brought to the Bolden Funeral Home in Oakland, and was then taken to the Spindler Funeral Home in Kingwood where services were conducted Monday afternoon. Interment was in Shay's Chapel cemetery, between Tunnelton and Fellowsville. He is survived by his parents, Franklin and Bessie Messenger, Uffington, W. Va.; a brother Ray Messenger, Reedsville, and a sister.

Road To Be Built

J. Edward Helbig, president of the Board of County Commissioners, who conferred with members of the State Roads commission in Baltimore on Tuesday, announced this morning that the commission would re-advertise for bids for construction of the Loch Lynn-Gorman road, and that it would be built this summer.

Mr. Helbig said people of that area had gotten the wrong impression from remarks made by Governor Lane last week. Mr. Helbig said that around $60,000 might be saved by having the project re-advertised for bids.

Petit Jury Recalled

The petit jury has been recalled to hear a number of civil cases. Two cases are set for trial on Friday, one Kremer vs. Coffey, and the other Daulbaugh vs. Liberty Hardware company, a case transferred from Washington county. The first case involves the drawing of a set of plans by Kremer, architect, for Robert Coffey.

The jurors are also ordered to report on Tuesday for two cases transferred from Washington county concerning compensation claims. The cases are Goodwin vs Celanese and Bonner vs. Celanese.

On Monday the court will hear Robert F. Taylor vs. Owen Lester Bender, the case concerning an automobile collision.

May Resume Post

Joseph F. Kaylor, who was granted leave of absence from his position as state forester of Maryland a year ago, may resume his post early in April, according to an unofficial source.

Kaylor has been serving as assistant executive secretary to the American Forestry Association, working on an educational program, and it was learned that he hopes to resume his duties in this state. During his leave of absence, H. C. Buckingham, assistant state forester, and for 11 years district forester of this area, has been acting state forester.

Mrs. Charles Cole, vice president of Mountain District American Legion Auxiliary of Maryland, and a delegation of 20 members of the unit from Frostburg, went to Grantsville last night to initiate and install newly elected officers of Grantsville Unit No. 214 which was instituted January 28. Mrs. Earl Smith, Lonaconing, secretary of the Mt. District, assisted Mrs. Cole.

The Grantsville unit will receive its charter in April from Mrs. F. Frank Lynch, departmental president, of Baltimore.

Remains of Sgt. Showe Returned to States

The body of Staff Sergeant Eugene V. (Jimmy) Showe, of 1227 Sycamore street, Connellsville, Pa., and formerly of Oakland and Friendsville, has been returned to the United States aboard the army transport Walter W. Schwenk.

Sgt. Showe, an only child, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett V. Showe, of Connellsville. He enlisted in the U. S. Marines April 21, 1942, took training in the Marines in the states and was sent to the Pacific area on January 3, 1945. He was located on the island of Guam at the time of his death on July 20, 1945.

Sergeant Showe attended Oakland High school while living here and was graduated from Friendsville High school. While at Oakland he was a member of the local boy scout troop.

The body will be taken to the W. W. Savage Funeral home in Friendsville upon its arrival in that town. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Brooder House Burns

One chicken brooder house was completely destroyed by fire and another damaged last Thursday evening about 5:45 at the home of Blair Simmons, in Mt. Lake Park.

The damage was estimated at $100. There were no baby chicks in the buildings at the time, a shipment arriving the following day.

The Oakland firemen answered two other alarms. They extinguished a grass fire on the former Helbig property, at the north edge of town last Friday morning just before noon, and were called to the former Reed and Canan farm in Loch Lynn last Sunday morning as the result of a flue fire. There was no damage.

VETERANS! You may be able to choose your Army School before you enlist!

The Army Technical School Plan is one of today's great opportunities for the Veteran—and non-Veteran, too—who wants to choose his education and be paid well while learning.

Any high school graduate can select two fields of interest, and two courses in each field of interest. If there is an opening in one of the courses, you will be accepted for it before enlisting for 3 years in the Army.

Along with a fine education, you get good Army pay, good steady work, and do a job that's important to your country. Get the facts at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

It's NO. 1 on the "It" Parade

It's much the same way with cars as with people.

Some "have it" – some don't.

Some you go for, all out – without quite being able to lay a finger on why. And those – well, they usually become your firmest friends.

What is it that makes so many good folks say this trim honey's "got it"? Good looks? One has to admit it's nice to ride in a car that is unmistakably itself and not just a slightly modified version of something else.

Size, weight? Well, the polls tell us it's a pretty important factor since, if you like an automobile that does things, there just is no substitute for brawn and solid substance.

Power? Naturally. You can't sit long behind this big Fireball straight-eight without falling for it plenty hard.

Handling? Ride? Room? They all have their avid fans among Buick owners. Especially now with a completely new kind of engine mounting ironing out vibration build-up as never before, and in this Convertible model, with automatic top, door-window and front-seat adjustment.

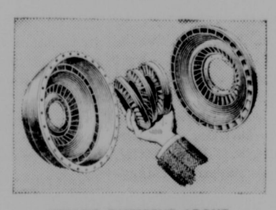
Is it the wonderful new Dynaflow Drive* that's causing so much talk?

In ROADMASTER models that is certainly a big factor. You'll never know how silky smooth a drive can be – what fluent new ease there is to all your going – till you drive the car where liquid replaces both the clutch and first, second and high gears.

But as nearly as we can find out – and we talk to a lot of people – it isn't any one thing that puts Buick at the top of the "it" parade. It's the over-all richness of this honey in all the things you've dreamed of finding wrapped in an automobile.

Ask any friend who drives a Buick – then see your dealer and get a firm order in, with or without a car to trade.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Egg Outlook Favorable Says U. of M. Poultryman

High feed prices and one of the most severe winters in years have combined to produce the lowest February demand for chicks for laying flock replacements in many years, reports Wade Rice, poultryman at the University of Maryland.

He adds that hatchery reports show a reduction in hatchings and bookings for future delivery in practically all sections of the country. Laying hens in flocks have been greatly reduced in response to the government request for saving grain, and because of high feed prices. Many farm flocks supplying family and local needs have been entirely sold, so that some areas are largely dependent upon distant sources for table eggs.

Likewise, breeding flocks have been drastically culled to reduce costs, so that hatching egg supplies are likely to be lower this spring than for many years.

Recent drops in feed prices are an encouragement to farmers and poultrymen but it is evident now, that early hatched pullets this year will be below normal numbers. This indicates a supply of market eggs considerably below trade outlet needs this coming summer and fall, and prices at favorable levels for producers, even though feed prices may remain relatively high.

Should further drops in grain and feed prices occur, it seems probable that hatcheries will experience a good demand for late spring and summer chicks. However, pullets raised from such late hatched chicks will not mature and produce eggs before December or January, when egg prices usually drop considerably.

Since market egg prices are usually highest from August to December, and 5 to 6 months are necessary to grow a laying pullett from a chick, it is necessary that chicks be hatched not later than April 1 if the high egg price season is to be taken advantage of.

Good chicks are available now, and the poultry producer with a flock of good pullets producing 50% or more next September seems certain to be well rewarded for his foresight and efforts.

At the same time, the laying flock should be continuously culled. When production falls below 50-60%, it is time to cull.

Church Reception For New Members Is Planned

Thirty members will be welcomed into St. Mark's Lutheran Church at a buffet supper and reception Sunday night at 6 o'clock. The Pastor's Aid Society is making all arrangements in anticipation of a large crowd in the Sunday School room. This is a congregational supper and provision will be made for the children so that whole families may come. Eight members united with St. Mark's the first of February and 22 on Palm Sunday.

Immediately following the reception, at 7:30, the excellent sound motion picture will be shown in the Church. It is entitled "The March of Faith" and takes about 45 minutes for the showing. This stirring film was done for LWA by special camera crews taking pictures in eight countries including Palestine, Germany, and Scandinavia. Lutheran congregations across the nation are seeing "The March of Faith."

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1948

COMPLETELY MISSED

Sometimes we are much surprised at the way a story actually appears in The Republican, compared to the way it started on its journey from the typewriter. Sometimes a word here or there omitted, a comma or period added or missing, a line or two transposed, may change the entire meaning.

It isn's often that a paragraph or two are omitted, but that was the case last week, and as a result all the notoriety that Grantsville received on its most severe windstorm was a subheading "Garage Windows Broken."

We can imagine that Grantsville would have been quite pleased had the storm itself passed them up, like it appeared this newspaper did.

We had written of the damage to the Motor Service company, the John Hershberger barn, Mark Peachy silos, barn on the Hanft farm at Keyser Ridge with the killing of several cattle, barns of Galen Beachy, Melchoir Georg and on the Loechel farm unroofed, but all this went for naught as the eyes of the linotype operator missed those paragraphs entirely.

The only reason we mention this at all is to assure the readers in that section of our sincere desire to give them the best news coverage possible; and also to admit that sometimes, if that same linotype operator didn't "catch" a few of our mistakes there might be some unusual statements from time to time.

Farmer Speaks Out Against Daylight Time For Oakland

To The Editor:

I read in your paper the recent vote on whether or not to turn the time ahead one hour, which was very close.

I think the county people should have some say about this. It is a headaches to the farmers, and to the parents who must send their children to school by bus.

The farmers need all the real sun time, to get their work done. We can't make hay till the dew dries which is plenty late by sun time. We can't quit work in the middle of the afternoon when we want to go to a public meeting or anything held by this crazy time. Since the food is furnished by the farmers let them have the real sun time God intended for them. Take the farmers' produce from the store shelves and what have you left?

Let's not have a mess of time like we had last year. Let the town people put themselves in the place of the country people for a while. They would soon change their minds about twisting time ahead. Let us rural people speak for our rights about the time. We have no say about prices on what we produce, or what we buy. We get the last raise and the first cut on what we produce.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

He Has The Nerve

Probably the odds are against Senator Robert A. Taft becoming the Republican presidential nominee. Certainly, he runs poorly the popularity polls. He is the favorite target for the self-styled journalistic and political "liberals." There are plenty of things about him to criticize. He makes mistakes and flaws can be picked in his voting record. It is easy enough to disagree with him.

—o—

Nevertheless, even if he loses in the convention, it is altogether likely that Bob Taft will have gained more than any other—perhaps more than all the other aspirants combined. For, what he will have gained is increased admiration for his ability and respect for his character. Those gains he will have made because of what he so clearly is as a man. He will have made them not among the prejudiced and ignorant but among the thoughtful and intelligent men and women in both parties all over the country. Perhaps the highest tribute to him is that neither the poorest of his opponents nor the shoddiest of his critics even remotely reflects upon his intellectual integrity and complete sincerity.

—o—

This column is not intended as a eulogy of Senator Taft. He has been criticized here in the past and easily may be in the future. But, as a matter of fairness to a high-minded and truth-telling man, there seems an obligation to report more fully upon his unparalleled political courage. If, under similar circumstances, there has been any public man in American political history who has equaled the Taft demonstration in this respect, it would be interesting to know his name and see the evidence. So far as Mr. Taft is concerned, the facts are clear, recent and indisputable.

—o—

Undeniably, the four most powerful groups of voters in the country—and the four most influential lobbies in Washington—are those representing labor, the farmers, the Negroes and the veterans. To these four all presidential aspirants, except Mr. Taft, truckle and cater, often in a humiliating way. Mr. Taft is friendly to all four—but not subservient; anxious to treat them justly, but completely independent, the one man mentioned for the presidency who has had the fortitude to oppose all four when he thought they were wrong.

—o—

Here is his record in this Congress: On Labor—He put through the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, despite violent denunciation from every labor boss of every labor faction, and a grand chorus of threats to his political life. On Veterans—He was the one man in Congress who voted and spoke against the terminal leave pay bill which added approximately two and a half billion dollars to the cost of the war after it was over. Mr. Taft could have refrained from voting, need not have said a word. He did both—and though most of his collegues agreed with him that it was an indefensible bill, no other voice was raised against it in either House or Senate.

—o—

On Negroes—Last month in the Labor Committee he voted against the fair employment practices bill. He did the same thing three years ago. It is a matter of principle with him. He does not believe compulsory Federal legislation with penalties is the way to deal with racial discrimination. He believes the pending bill would do more harm than good; that the right to work, play and associate with whom one choses is one of our basic liberties under the Constitution. Curiously, the simple honesty of Mr. Taft's position is not resented by Negro leaders. They say they understand his views and that he has kept his word with them by not trying to hold the bill in committee.

—o—

On Farmers—On February 13, in agricultural Nebraska, Mr. Taft declared that the Government's 90 per cent of parity price floor is too high, advocated immediate lowering thereof. No other public man has taken a similar stand on farm prices, though many agree with Mr. Taft. They well know that the main reasons for high food prices are the farm price policies.

—o—

Add all this us and it makes a remarkable total. Here is a man seeking the presidency who, because he does not agree with them, has taken issue with all four of the great organized voter groups. No other presidential aspirant in either party has taken issue with any one of them on anything. Some have been hypocritically silent; others have gone far out of their way in the effort to placate; still others have tried to be on both sides. Not one—except Mr. Taft—has taken a forthright position against anything these groups favor, or favors anything these groups oppose.

Contrast the Taft attitude with that of the other aspirants and the contrast is to his advantage—at least in the view of those who admire courage and respect character. He has been neither belligerent nor boisterous about his differences with these groups and not even the most hostile leaders ascribe to him any sinister or selfish motive. They concede that he speaks and acts solely from conviction; that he does not straddle; that he can neither be cowed nor cajoled. He wants to be President, but he has made it extremely clear that he does not want it badly enough to stultify himself or sacrifice his self-respect. He may not realize his ambition, but his gain in public esteem will be sufficiently great to compensate for that. Perhaps he lacks "charm" and "glamor," which is too bad. But there also is about him no trace of that oily smugness and acterizes so many who run for high office.

Chill winds kept Easter fashions under wraps in most of the Eastern section of the U. S. on Sunday.

Prices Cut on Products

Price reductions on more than 350 products of Esso Standard Oil company will be made immediately, according to an announcement by M. J. Rathbone, president, through H. S. Rich, district representative here.

Products affected are farm tractor fuel, bottled gas, roofing asphalts and a variety of lubricating oils and greases used principally in industry and farming.

In addition there is offered a summer "fill-up" discount of seven-tenths of a cent per gallon on Kerosene, to encourage persons to buy during the off season to fill their storage tanks and provide more for winter.

To the Taxpayers of Garrett County Who Have Not Paid Their 1947 Taxes:

Chapter 382, Section 108 of the Acts of 1947, passed by the Legislature, provides a new law for the collection of delinquent taxes as follows:

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to enforce the payment of all taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of April in the year succeeding that in which the same shall have been levied provided the notice required by the preceding section shall have been given if the taxes be due and owing upon real property or upon real and personal property, the said taxes shall be a lien on said real property, and said real property shall be liable for the payment thereof in whatsoever manner or to whomsoever the same may be assessed until paid, and the Treasurer shall be authorized to enforce the payment thereof in the manner hereinafter prescribed by a sale of either real or personaity: etc.

As you will note, this law makes it mandatory upon me, as the Treasurer of Garrett County to collect all delinquent taxes of 1947 during April, 1948.

If there is any reason why you believe this collection should not be enforced on your property during April please contact me at the Court House.

Failure to contact me or to pay the taxes, past due, will constitute a desire on your part for such enforced collection through sale as outlined in the law.

ARTHUR H. GREEN, Treasurer,
Garrett County, Maryland.

We're Spending One Thousand Million Dollars...

to meet your growing needs for oil

THE JOB AHEAD is a big job, calling for big plans and big performance.

Right now Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and its affiliates are modernizing and expanding production and facilities at the greatest rate in their history. Expenditures for 1947 and 1948 alone come to one billion dollars. That's a thousand million dollars!

It is reported that the oil industry as a whole will spend 13 billion dollars over the next few years to do this job.

Why? What's going on?

Last year, this country used more oil than the whole world did in 1939—before World War II.

You're getting 61% more oil products now than pre-war. You're getting 12% more than even the biggest war-time output.

3 million more cars on the road than pre-war—buses and trucks up 25 and 30%! And the average car is using 50 more gallons of gasoline a year than pre-war!

1,500,000 more homes are oil-heated than in 1939!

Farmers have doubled their use of time-saving, work-saving tractors, trucks, and other equipment since pre-war!

And this is all to the good. It spells progress. It's part of America's better and better living standards.

It's part of the amazing fact that oil has supplied 62% of this country's whole vast increase in use of fuel over the past 20 years—for industry, agriculture, homes, and transportation.

But it also means close figuring between present needs and present capacity. Even today's record output doesn't give the extra reserve of available supply we've always had in the American oil business. This will be true until the full effect of the new, expanded facilities is felt.

But the big new supply for your new need is on its way right now. Wells being drilled. Refineries, pipelines, storage tanks built. Billions of dollars working as fast and as hard as skill and resourcefulness and experience can make them work.

The better you live the more oil you need. And the oil for your needs is on the way!

Improvements Made At Vindex Mine

Generally good safety conditions at the Manor No. 3 mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company at Vindex, and a few recent improvements are commended in a reinspection report released by the Bureau of Mines. The Garrett County mine employed 243 men and produced 1,100 tons of coal a day when P. M. Shay examined it in February.

The report also proposes a few additional safeguards.

Between inspections, ventilation had been brought into full conformance with the Federal Mine Safety Code by providing more air in one section and driving crosscuts at 80-foot intervals.

Inspector Shay commended a start on scaling down loose roof and retimbering in the main air course, and said that all broken or defective timbers should be replaced.

Noting with approval that coal and rock blasted with permissible explosives fired with permissible blasting units, the inspector advised using only incombustible stemming and firing all on-shift shots or series immediately after charging.

Coal-dust accumulations had been cleaned up, and the 8 right section was completely rock-dusted during the inspection, Inspector Shay reported. He proposed rock-dusting a conveyor section which had become dry.

Noting that maintaining more than 18 inches of clearance along the conveyor belts had brought haulage into full accord with the Code, the inspector said that frame-grounding three shortwall mining machines and extending telephone service to one working area would also bring the mine into conformance with the electrical provisions of the Code.

Inspector Shay recommended posting more escapeway direction signs and wearing goggles for eye-hazardous work, and said that the few employees who still smoked underground should refrain from doing so.

A British atomic research scientist said he believed it would be five to ten years before Russia develops formidable atomic weapons.

A U. S. military court sentenced 11 Jap navy men to the gallows for executing three American fliers on a Pacific island.

Technical Paper On Coal Is Available

A copy of technical paper 701, "Preparation Characteristics of Maryland Coals," by W. L. Crentz, coal technologist, and Thomas Fraser, supervising engineer, both with the coal preparation section, Bureau of Mines, U. S. Department of the Interior, Washington, is now available.

It may be obtained only from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., zone 25, for 15 cents, according to J. J. Rutledge, chief mine engineer.

To aid the coal mining industry in Maryland, the Federal Bureau of Mines studied the suitability for commercial use of the lower beds underlying the Pittsburgh (Big Vein) bed, one of the most productive in the State, but now nearing exhaustion. The future of the region as a coal producer, according to the report, depends almost entirely upon exploitation of other beds, which are thinner, more irregular, and contain impurities. Mining these beds would be difficult and would require intensive preparatory treatment to produce a marketable grade, the report states. Tests were conducted on the Franklin, Barton, Harlem, Upper Bakerstown, Lower Bakerstown, Upper Freeport, Upper Kittanning, Lower Kittanning and Mount Savage beds. Maryland coal mining is confined to Allegany and Garrett Counties in the westernmost part of the State.

Minstrel Presented Again By Request

The Dark Town Jamboree Minstrel, sponsored by the Accident Volunteer Fire department, with the aid of other community participants, which was presented during the early part of February at Accident, is being presented again by request, this time at the Friendsville school auditorium.

The time is Tuesday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, and will be for the benefit of the Friendsville fire company. The same cast will also go to Midland on April 9 for a showing there.

The show offers a variety of entertainment, including harmonica, banjo, violin and accordion music, a girls' sextette, the Accident Band, a mixed quartet, duets, a trio and the Fat Girl Polka, besides amusing conversation and jokes between the end men and the interlocutor.

The above picture was taken of most of the characters when they appeared at Accident. The cast includes Charles Strauss, William Harmon, Francis Spoerlein, Clayton Speicher, Elmer Kolb, Orlando Hetrick, Charles R. Bowser, Lloyd Alexander, Ramsey Fazenbaker, Webster Hoover, Leslie Deal, Melvin Kesner, Lutner Bowser, Eleanor Schlossnagle, Carol Dauphin, Barbara Aiken, Margaret Seese, Arline Georg, Gladys Hoover, Hazel Fazenbaker, Emma McOlvin, Irene Miller, Mabel Kahl, Harold Kahl, John Shoemaker.

Margaret Georg, Mary Zinkan, Louise Richter, Guy Broadwater, Sherman Frazee, Guerney Kolb, Clark Kolb, Ray Georg, Arthur Butler, Junior Butler, Clayton Rush, Harry Collier, Charles Wilt, Olonzo Fike, Ross Speicher, Lena Miller and Mary Blackburn.

The show was coached and directed by B. O. Aiken, principal of the Accident School.

MARRIED

Arnold - Beckman—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Beckman, of Terra Alta, W. Va., announce the marriage of their daughter, Vonda Gean Beckman, to Paxton G. Arnold, Deer Park, son of E. C. Arnold of Terra Alta, W. Va.

The ceremony was solemnized on the evening of March 26 in the Methodist Parsonage at Oakland with the Rev. Denver C. Pickens officiating.

For her marriage the bride wore a light blue gabardine suit with white accessories, completed with a corsage of red rosebuds.

Miss Helen Hauger of Terra Alta served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a light green gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Gilbert E. Arnold, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Arnold was graduated from the Terra Alta High school with the class of 1947 and is presently employed as a teller in The Terra Alta Bank. Mr. Arnold is the owner and operator of Arnold's Service Station and Garage at Deer Park.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at Pickwick Inn, in Oakland, to the following relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Beckman and daughter, Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Arnold and son, Stephen, Miss Helen R. Hauger, Mr. W. Glenn McCarty, Mrs. Glenda S. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Taylor, all of Terra Alta; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Filsinger, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Sebold, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shrout, Mrs. Mary DeBerry and son, Everett, Mr. O. J. Harvey, and Mr. Owen Keegan, Jr., all of Deer Park.

After returning from their honeymoon the couple will reside at Deer Park.

Humberson-Friend—Miss Geraldine Audrey Friend, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Friend, and Bruce Franklin Humberson, son of Fred Humberson, both of Friendsville, were united in marriage at a single ring ceremony on Saturday evening at 7:00, March 27, in the Methodist Parsonage with Rev. W. E. Wade officiating.

The bride was attired in a light blue suit with navy accessories. The bride's sister, Miss Doris Friend, was bridesmaid, while William McLaughlin, of Uniontown, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Friendsville high school and is employed in the R. O. McCullough store.

The groom also attended Friendsville high school and served in the U. S. Army for 3 years, in the Pacific area.

Holler-Cannon—Miss Naomi Ruth Cannon became the bride of Clifford Holler in a ceremony in the Crellin Union church last Sunday, March 28. The officiating minister was Rev. George W. Simpson, of Mt. Lake Park, pastor of the United Brethren church.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Pearle Tasker, of Cumberland, was attired in a dark blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds completed her costume. She was graduated from Oakland High school in 1947, and has been employed in the Jackson Store in Oakland.

Mrs. Harold Lewis, Jr., served as matron of honor and she also was attired in a blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Harold Lewis, Jr., served as best man.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Burlin Holler, of near Oakland, and was graduated from Oakland High school in 1946.

Among the guests who attended were Rev. and Mrs. Melvin George, Lancaster, Ohio; Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Simpson, Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wiles, Rowlesburg, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Holler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Summers Holler, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Pearle Tasker, Cumberland; Miss Betty Lou Hinebaugh, Oakland; Miss Delores Evans and Willard Hayden, Mt. Lake Park.

The couple left Sunday night for Akron, O., where they plan to reside.

Lawton-Lawrence—Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Lawrence, State Road, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Ann, to Mr. Kenneth L. Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawton, Pennington street, which took place at Winchester, Va., last Thursday, March 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hawkins.

The bride is a graduate of Oakland High school and the Maryland Institute of Art, Baltimore, in 1946, and has been residing at her home here since that time.

Mr. Lawton is studying business administration at West Virginia Wesleyan college, Buckhannon. He served with the army air force during World War II, and was stationed in North Africa. Following his graduation from Oakland High school he was in aircraft work in California until his enlistment. He was an eagle scout.

The couple returned to Oakland on Monday and Mr. Lawton has resumed his studies.

Bittinger - Beckman—Miss Helen Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beckman, of North Glade, became the bride of Harland Bittinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bittinger, at a quiet ceremony performed last Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, at the Lutheran parsonage in Oakland. Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor, officiated. There were no attendants.

The bride was graduated from Oakland High school in 1945 and had been employed with the Dusic Wholesale company. The groom, a graduate of Oakland High school in 1941, was in the U. S. Coast Guard for three and one-half years during World War II, receiving his honorable discharge in 1946. He is now employed as a telegraph operator for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The couple will reside in Oakland.

DIED

MRS. MAUDE A. SWOGER

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Maude Anderson Swoger, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Anderson, of Oakland. The Rev. J. C. Johnson officiated at the services at 4 o'clock at the Leighton Funeral Home. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Swoger died at her home in Washington, D. C., Sunday, March 28. She was preceded in death by just ten days by her brother, Charles S. Anderson, whose funeral services were held here Monday, March 22.

She is survived by her sister, Miss Anna Anderson, of Washington; her niece, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Smith, and her great niece, Mrs. Ethel E. (Susy) Smith, of Oakland.

Well Known Dentist Of Grantsville Is Buried On Monday

Funeral services for Dr. Thomas Olin Broadwater, 56, well known Grantsville dentist, who died last Friday morning in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his sisters, Misses Ethel and Viola Broadwater, Grantsville.

The services were in charge of Mountain Lodge No. 99, A., F. and A. Masons, Frostburg, with Rev. D. J. Combs, pastor of Grantsville Methodist church, and Rev. George Ely, Evangelical Reformed minister, officiating. Burial was in the cemetery at Salisbury, Pa.

Dr. Broadwater, who had been ill for some time, was born in Grantsville April 3, 1891, a son of the late James S. and Marian Frost Broadwater, and was a great-grandson of Meshach Frost who founded the city of Frostburg.

After attending Allegany County high school and St. John's college at Annapolis, he was graduated from the dental school of the University of Maryland in 1916. He had practiced dentistry in Grantsville since 1916 and operated a branch office in Friendsville.

During World War I he served in the United States Dental Corps for six months.

Dr. Broadwater was a member of Ali Ghan Shrine, Cumberland Consistory, and of Mountain Lodge No. 99, Frostburg. He was a member of the American Legion Post No. 214, of Grantsville, and served as financial secretary of Woodmen of the World Camp No. 41, Grantsville, from 1931 to 1947. He also had served as a member of the Grantsville town council.

Dr. Broadwater was an active member of the Grantsville Methodist church and of the Rotary club there. He was a member of the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society and of the American Dental association. He played varsity football at St. John's college.

He married Miss Esther Bender, Grantsville, November 17, 1924. Surviving besides his widow are two sisters, Misses Ethel and Maria Viola Broadwater, Grantsville; and a brother, Dr. Melvin Broadwater, Frederick dentist.

Safeguards Prevent Brooder House Fire

Chick brooding by any of the four common heating methods involves possible fire hazard, and the too-frequent news paragraph reporting brooder house fire losses seldom tells the whole story.

The house, chicks and equipment losses can be seen, points out A. V. Krewatch, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, but the years of careful breeding and selection represented in many of these broods cannot be measured in dollars.

Carelessness almost always is the cause of these fires, according to Krewatch. Wiring for electric brooders must be heavy enough to carry the load without heating, and all connections must be tight. Flexible leads connecting directly to gas brooder units are worth checking, too, and burners usually can stand a good going over.

Some attention should be given to the burners of oil brooders, too, he adds. Oil lines must be tight, and the oil flow mechanism cleaned for smooth, easy action. Repair at once any cracks or loose joints in the coal brooder, the engineer advises, and be sure it is placed on an insulated metal mat or concrete slab as a safeguard against ashes, sparks or live coals dropping through. Finally, make certain that vent pipes are securely fastened at each joint, and intersections with the roof or side wall are shielded with an insulating thimble.

NORTH GLADE

Surprise Dinner

A surprise birthday dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beckman on Sunday, March 21, honoring Mr. Beckman on his 69th birthday, and his four grandsons, Bennie and James Beckman, James and Wilmer Friend, who celebrated their birthdays during the week. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Friend and children, James, Wilmer, Mary, Marlene and Ralph; Mr. and Mrs. William Sears and children, Billy and Dorthea; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Beckman and children, John, Bennie and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beckman, Jr., and children, Ronnie, James, Carolyn and Stevey; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miller and children, Bobby, Barbara and Curtis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beckman and daughters, Patricia and Sandra, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beckman, all of Swanton; Mr. and Mrs. William Woullard and sons, John and Jimmy, of Meyersdale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Harland Bowman and children, Donald, Marie, and Susie, of McHenry.

An ice cream social will be held at the North Glade school on April 2, beginning at 8 o'clock. Food and other items will be on sale. This is being sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church and proceeds will be for the benefit of the local church there.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Ezekiel 1—4; 33:1-9.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 137: 1-6.

Prophet Among Exiles

Lesson for April 4, 1948

THIS quarter we study the Captivity and Return of the Jews, using the Books of Ezekiel, Daniel, Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi. Sunday's lesson is found in Ezekiel 1-4 and 33:1-9.

Dr. Newton

It would be well for us to read again the history of this most interesting man, Ezekiel—how he came to be among the captives by the river Chebar. He is one of the most attractive personalities in the Old Testament — a man of surpassing culture and charm—and yet enabled to "sit where they sat."

A MESSENGER OF GOD

EZEKIEL could never have adapted himself to the role of ministering to the captive slaves apart from the knowledge that he was the messenger of God — the messenger of God's hope to broken, beaten souls.

God spoke to his people through Ezekiel. He speaks to his people today through chosen messengers —parents, teachers, the Bible, the Holy Spirit. God may be speaking to you today.

HEAR YE THE WORD

EZEKIEL'S approach to the Jews in captivity was by the authority of God's direct message to them through him. Ezekiel was faithful to God's appointment and mission. He knew that what he had to say to the Jews meant their hope of release and return.

He studied their plight. He studied their mood. And then he spoke to them. But not only did he speak to them, telling them what God wanted them to know, but he moved among them. He loved them.

He had God's message, and he went in God's mood of compassion. We cannot help people until we understand them and love them.

GOD'S WATCHMAN

EZEKIEL reminded the people that he had been sent from God as a watchman, and he told them what terrible responsibility was upon him in warning them to repent and return unto God. Read Ezekiel 33:1-9.

If the watchman faithfully warns the people, and they refuse to heed the warning, their blood will not be on his hands; but if he fail to warn the people, their blood will be on his hands. Here is a lesson for every teacher and preacher and parent today.

And in this same 33rd chapter, Ezekiel goes on to declare God's attitude toward all sinners. "Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live —turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die?"

A WATCHMAN UNTO EXILES

"SON of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel," Ezekiel 3:17.

This was the explicit commission of God to Ezekiel. And grandly did Ezekiel accept and execute to the limit of his ability that commission.

The Jews were far from their beloved home. They were driven by hard masters. They could not sing the song of the Lord in a strange land. They had hanged their harps on the willow trees.

With a sensitive soul, Ezekiel comes to them with the word of hope. He reminds them of the goodness and mercy of Jehovah to their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. He lifts their drooping spirits with clear and ringing words of promise. He pleads with them to confess their sins and claim the pardoning mercy of a loving God.

He used numerous means of gaining their attention — symbols of their former communion with God. Patiently he traced the dealings of God with them and their fathers before them.

They listened, and all who heeded the pleas of the faithful watchman were saved and restored to faith in the goodness and mercy of God.

We, too, are watchmen among exiles. Let us learn the high art of Ezekiel in our ministry as watchman.

The churches will fail if the lessons of Sunday are forgotten on Monday and are laid aside for special observance on only one day of the week. — Wayne Morse, U. S. senator from Oregon.

Danger Signals For Cancer Are Indicated

"Many people are alive and healthy today because they discovered cancer in its early stages", Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, reminds the public. "If cancer is diagnosed early enough it can be eradicated and its spred prevented by modern methods of treatment—including x-ray, radium and surgery.

"Periodic physical examinations to detect possible unsuspected cancer are strongly recommended, especially after the age of thrty-five. Certain danger signals point to the need for immediate examination by a physician, regardless of patient's age or date of last physical examination.

"Seven danger signs that may indicate the presence of cancer should be known to everybody. They are:

1. Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
3. Irregular bleeding or discharge from the nipple or any natural body opening.
4. Progressive change in color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
5. Persisten indigestion.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

It is important to remember these danger signals that may mean cancer and to seek medical advice immediately should any of these signs appear.

"The mortality rate from cancer could be reduced by 25 per cent if all the facts now known concerning diagnosis and treatment could be put to full use. Fifteen Detection Centers have been established in Maryland as part of the Cancer Control Program carried on by the State Department of Health in cooperation with the Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society."

Free State Forestry

J. E. Paulhamus

With the spring planting season just around the corner, a little information on actual planting methods may not be out of place. Anyone who has worked with plants or has planted other trees may have no questions; however the following material is presented for those who are not familiar with tree planting operations.

Where a considerable number of trees are to be planted, the system used should be such that the maximum amount of trees may be planted at a minimum cost, while still obtaining satisfactory results.

In many places a two man crew has proved to be quite efficient; one working ahead with a planting bar or a mattock opening the planting holes and the other man following him up, planting the trees and closing the holes. In opening the hole, the bar or mattock may be rocked back and forth and an opening left in the ground which will usually stay open as the ground should be moist at this time of the year. The tree should then be held along one side of the hole and the dirt well firmed around the roots with the foot.

The trees should be planted at the original depth or from one quarter to one half inch deeper than they were in the nursery. The original ground line is usually rather easily determined on the tree stem. Care should be taken that the roots are not doubled up, cramped or turned up when the dirt is put back into the opening.

Where sod is present on the field or area to be planted, it should be skinned back from the tree to reduce competition for soil moisture and light. Frost heaving may also be more prevalent in sod. Where the ground is suited to it, the sod or other competing growth may be removed by plowing shallow furrows and then planting the trees in these furrows. These furrows should run with the contour of the land rather than across them. If the furrows run across the contour they may provide an excellent waterway and a heavy rain may wash the trees out; if along the contour, these furrows will aid in reducing water runoff.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Second-Place Problem

The idea of magnifying the so-called "revolt" against Mr. Truman of a few lesser machine politicians of New York and a couple of third-grade ones in Chicago would be easier to understand if they or anyone else had an alternative. Talk about drafting General Eisenhower as head of the Democratic ticket, of course, is too stupid to waste time refuting.

Neither the bleating of the two Roosevelt brothers, Elliott and Franklin, nor the attitude of the A.D.A. (an association composed of extreme New Dealers, largely without influence or following), is likely to affect the situation so far as the General is concerned. Their purpose is too transparent.

This sort of attack from this kind of politician should do Mr. Truman more good than harm. It differs from the real revolt in the South in that there is neither conviction nor principle behind it but only a peculiarly sordid and selfish species of big-city politics. It will not change the basic fact that, though defeat is threatened, Mr. Truman will make a better Democratic showing than any other available man. If he should be scared out by raucous publicity and cheap threats, in the language of the precinct boys, it would, indeed, be "Kitty, Bar the Door." Not much heed is given to this idea by the Administration "strategists," but from some a lament is heard that the concededly dim chances of Democratic success make it more difficult to fill the second place on the ticket. Perhaps, they are right about this; but it does not matter whether they are or not.

For the whole discussion of the vice presidential nominee is based on two totally unsound assumptions. The first is that it is essential to "balance" the ticket geographically. That is to say the vice presidential candidate must not come from the same section of the country as the head of the ticket. The second is that the essential quality for the vice presidential candidate is ability to carry his own. Neither theory is worth anything at all.

The plain fact is that it makes little difference who has the second place. Of course, it would be disadvantageous to name a grossly unfit man. After all, seven Vice Presidents have succeeded to the presidency through the death of the President and at least surface qualifications to meet that contingency are required. Also, it would seem absurd to nominate for second place a man whose record and views were not in accord with those of the head of the ticket on the main issues of the campaign. That would tend to make the ticket ridiculous. For example, it would be silly to nominate with Mr. Truman, whom the organized labor bosses support because he vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill, a man who either voted for that bill or believes Mr. Truman made a mistake in vetoing it. Five members of the Truman Cabinet hold that belief and a clear majority of Democratic members of Congress not only voted for the bill but voted to override the Truman veto. Without them, of course, it could never have become a law.

The labor bosses, who are Mr. Truman's main group reliance, have all these men on their black lists as "enemies of labor." Their avowed purpose is to drive them out of public life. The selection of one of them as the Truman running mate seems a clear absurdity. Yet, by some Administration "strategists" the names of certain men on these lists apparently continue to be "seriously considered." It ought to be clear that Mr. Truman cannot have it both ways. Certainly he cannot get the labor-boss support because of his veto of the bill and then, by making one of them his running mate, gain the support of those who thought that veto a great mistake. At once the bosses would begin to bellow that they had been "betrayed"—and they would have reason to.

When the late Mr. Roosevelt supported Mr. Truman for second place in 1944 he insisted he first be "cleared with Sidney." Obviously, no one who voted for or approved the Taft-Hartley bill could be "cleared" this time without complete stultification. Mr. Truman could not get any first-grade man to do that. Of course, the only running mate who makes sense this time is one who either voted against or was known definitely to disapprove the Taft-Hartley bill. Under the circumstances, the logical running mate is some Democratic senator, or governor, or Cabinet member who has the same views on domestic issues. Among the governors is his friend, Governor Walgren of Washington. In the Cabinet there are Secretaries Schwellenbach, Clark and Krug. In the Senate there is Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, who is eager for the honor, and Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, who is being currently boomed.

It is useless to talk of General Marshall, Mr. Forrestal or Chief Justice Vinson. Not one of them is available. Neither is Justice Douglas, though obviously he loves publicity on the subject. Considering them all, Senator Pepper seems the logical selection. He not only voted against the Taft-Hartley bill and to sustain the veto but screamed his denunciation from its inception. He is also the only Southern Senator who lines up with Mr. Truman on his "civil-rights" program which has put the South in revolt. Besides, he is the No. 1 hero of the CIO, a Senator who never fails to vote and speak as it wishes. Though so "liberal" as to be more red than pink, Mr. Truman need not fear that by picking Mr. Pepper he would lose any State he otherwise might carry. And, at least, the ticket would be consistent.

Terra Alta Order Observes Anniversary

Members of Rose Temple No. 7 Pythian Sisters of Terra Alta celebrated their thirty-ninth anniversary last Thursday evening. A special feature was the awarding of Past Chieftess pins to a class of twenty-two past officers. Mrs. Jessie Beavers, a past chief of Vesta Temple, Kingwood, made the presentation to Mrs. Marguerite Metheny, Mrs. Bessie Glotfelty, Mrs. Daisie Hinebaugh, Mrs. Jessie Metheny, Mrs. Maude Harriman, Mrs. Pearl Feather, Mrs. Marjorie Trembly, Mrs. Ethel Gauer, Mrs. Naomi Feather, Mrs. Maude Six, Mrs. Bina Watson, Mrs. Ophie Bennett, Mrs. Lillian Pyles, Mrs. Hazel Frankhouser, Miss Tressie Wolfe, Mrs. Mary Virginia Johnson, Mrs. Opal Beeghley and Miss Ada Nine. Unable to attend the celebration but receiving awards were Mrs. Bertha Sanders of Clearwater, Fla.; Mrs. Carrie Meese of Lewisburg; Mrs. Ida Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Mrs. Mollie C. Crane of Terra Alta.

Formal acceptance of the jewels was acknowledged by Mrs. C. E. Trembly. C. E. Trembly in his talk, outlined the history of local Pythianism from the erection of the first K. of P. building in 1890.

Refreshments included a huge anniversary cake decorated with Temple colors and centered with a replica of the Temple's insignia and special molded ice cream in Temple colors.

TIDE OF LIFE

All day long—and often far into the night—the tide of human life moves along the thoroughfares of the world.

Each life in this moving throng is a little world within itself, with its varied interests, activities, emotions, aspirations and outlook. Yet there are common interests shared by high and low, weak and strong, rich and poor alike.

Humanity and religion are the common denominators of the human race. We may differ greatly as individuals, but we share a common human heritage and worship the same God. On these two great fundamentals we must build the brotherhood of man.

Religion teaches men that narrow selfishness, prejudice and hate are not conducive to human happiness; that the way of God is the way of peace and good will toward men; that the Church and the Bible are man's best aids to rich, full and successful living.

Religion and humanity are the common heritage of all men. They bind us in the great brotherhood of the Children of God.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 8, 1948. NUMBER 6.

Spread the Good Word . . .

With the approach of another summer Garrett County residents can look forward to an influx of thousands of visitors. The manner in which they are received and welcomed, and the way they are treated during their stay, will determine to a large extent whether or not they will return or next year seek some other section for a vacation land.

A story a few weeks ago revealed that the Savage river forest attracted 81,528 persons, Swallow Falls 52,160, Potomac Forest 21,610. In some of these areas there are cabins and swimming facilities, but in all there are camping, hiking, fishing and hunting opportunities. The visitors around Deep Creek Lake would be difficult to count but they could be safely numberad above the number visiting any other areas.

This county has plenty of natural beauty, its climate is unexcelled, and its list of wholesome activities is increasing.

We can make some additions to this natural beauty by keeping our own premises neat and clean. Our towns could show some responsibility too in seeing that streets and sidewalks are presentable. Mayor Hinebaugh already has put a plan into action to clean up Oakland's streets.

This week-end the Rotary club delegates to a district conference will spread abroad the word about Oakland and Garrett county as the ideal vacation land.

Once the people arrive, however, it will be the responsibility of the permanent residents as to what their reactions will be when they leave.

Treated in a friendly manner, they will have a desire to return. Not only will it be better for business if they have a desire to return, but they will spread the word themselves among their friends and serve as an advertising media for Garrett county.

We can be indifferent or we can be helpful. We can be cold or we can radiate warmth. The difference can easily be noticed by our visitors.

Spoerlein Confirmed As Local Postmaster

William E. Spoerlein was confirmed as postmaster of the Oakland office last Friday, April 2, it was officially announced. Mr. Spoerlein was one of eight Maryland postmasters confirmed through the Senate Postoffice and Civil Service committee.

Confirmation of postmaster appointments was held up by the committee all through the last session of Congress and the first three months of the present one. Mr. Spoerlein had been acting postmaster since April 1st, 1945.

He took examination for postmaster on March 9, 1946, along with several other persons. Returns from the examination were received January 11, 1947, and on April 7 President Truman sent to the Senate a number of postmaster nominations including that of Mr. Spoerlein. The Senate decided to hold up the confirmation of quite a few nominations from all over the United States for a special investigation which was subsequently made.

On January 27, 1948, President Truman again sent a list of several postmaster nominations to the Senate, Mr. Spoerlein's name being included again. On April 1 Senator Herbert O'Conor obtained approval of the Senate committee of the eight postmasters in Maryland, and Mr. Spoerlein had his appointment confirmed on April 2.

Mr. Spoerlein is a member of the National Association of Postmasters and recently was appointed a member of the legislative committee of the Maryland chapter of that organization.

Beall Unopposed For Nomination

Rep. J. Glenn Beall was unopposed for the Republican nomination for election to the House of Representatives from Maryland's Sixth Congressional district when the midnight deadline was reached last Thursday night. Beall is seeking his fourth term.

There will be a fight among the Democrats, however, with four candidates filing their certificates with the Secretary of State. They are: Will Allen, Bethesda; F. Byrne Austin, Takoma Park; Dawson J. Horne, Myersville; and Thomas O'Connell, Silver Spring.

Studying School Conditions Here

A study of the physical conditions of the schools of the county was begun this week.

In the county are Dr. Clarence Newell, University of Maryland, instructor in the field of school surveys; Wilbur Devilbiss, of the State Department of Education, Baltimore; and two students from the University, who are visiting the various schools and collecting data for a report which will be prepared and made available to the specialists who are to make an intensive study of it.

They will remain in the office to complete a report of their findings. Next Tuesday Edgar Morphet, of the State Department of Education in Florida will be in the county to make his study.

Donald Shaffer is Found Dead At Home of Grandparents

Donald Lester Wentz Shaffer, aged 14, was discovered dead last Wednesday evening about 6:45 in his play room or workshop in the basement of the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Wentz, in Manchester.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Shaffer, Alder street, Oakland.

The Carroll county medical examiner who was notified, pronounced death due to strangulation. His neck was caught between a belt stretched across the top of the door to the workshop and the door itself.

The youth was a pupil in the Manchester High school. He had remained with his grandparents when Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer moved to this community two years ago where his father operates the Mt. Lake Canning company. He stayed in Manchester in order to be able to finish his public school education there. He was active in school affairs and bright in his studies.

Besides his maternal grandparents and parents he is survived by two brothers, Hugh and Barry Lee, of Oakland, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hilda Shaffer, Baltimore.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with all rites at the Wentz home. Rev. I. H. Rehmeyer, pastor of Immanael Lutheran church, officiated. Burial was in the Lutheran cemetery at Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer and children, who left Oakland immediately upon learning of the tragedy, were driven to Manchester by Joseph Welch. The family expects to return to Oakland early next week.

Library Board To Discuss Problems

A meeting of the members of the Board of directors of the Garrett County Library has been called for three o'clock this afternoon to confer with a representative of the Remington Rand company of Baltimore, and to discuss other business matters, it was announced by F. E. Rathbun, chairman.

The Remington Rand company is represented by William H. Blohm, Jr.

Mr. Rathbun said it was also expected that an architect would be employed to draw up plans for the proposed memorial library and that a decision would be made as to the disposition of the building on the library site.

Physio Therapists to Speak

At the next regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary on Tuesday, April 13, two guests, physio-therapists, will answer questions regarding children's cases in the county. Mrs. James Nordeck is chairman of the Child Welfare committee of the local auxiliary.

At a special meeting at the Legion Home on Sunday, April 11, at 1:30, Mrs. Alvenia Cole, district vice-president, American Legion Auxiliary, will be guest of the local unit. All members and prospective members are being urged to attend.

Commissioners Not Favorable To Any Change in Time

The County Commissioners went on record at their meeting this week as not being favorable to any change of time throughout the county.

Mayor Joseph W. Hinebaugh and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, president of the Oakland city council, appeared before the board with reference to the possible adoption of daylight time for the county.

The Commissioners declared that quite a few farmers had expressed themselves as opposing the change in time and the Board stated it was "not in favor of a change." No definite decision was made for the records, the board requesting that the Oakland council find out what was the attitude of other incorporated towns in the county.

Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector for the town of Oakland, said the council had requested him to write to Kitzmiller, Friendsville, Grantsville, Accident, Deer Park, Mt. Lake and Loch Lynn Heights.

Recommend Dusic

The Commissioners, at their meeting this week, recommended to the State Department of Public Welfare that Emeric Dusic be named to fill the vacancy on the County Welfare board, caused by the resignation recently of Stuart F. Hamill, Jr.

The Board received a bill from the Board of Education for a planer for Oakland High school agriculture department, amounting to $255. The Board agreed to contribute $200 of this amount from the capital outlay levy.

To Collect Dog Tax

The Board met with Dwight Stover, State's Attorney; J. S. Teats, sheriff; and Neil C. Fraley, attorney to the Board relative to the question of collection of dog license taxes in the county. Clerk J. J. Ashby was ordered to secure 2,500 dog tags.

Several road delegations were before the board relative to improvement of roads in their particular localities.

Services For Marine Planned Sunday

The body of Bernard Keith Bachtel, U. S. Marine corps, which was returned recently to the States from the Pacific area, will arrive in Oakland on Friday evening, and services are being planned for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Red House Lutheran church.

Bachtel was with the marine corps reserve, L-3, 244 marine division. He entered service June 1, 1944, at Fort Meade and was transferred to Parris Island, S. C., for basic training. He was also at Camp LeJeune, N. C., and at Camp Pendleton, Cal., prior to being sent to Hawaii. He went from there to Iwo Jima where he was killed on February 21, 1945.

Deceased was born in this county February 16, 1926, a son of John L. and Lena Shaffer Bachtel, and was aged 19 years. He attended the Red House school and was graduated from Oakland High school in 1943. He received the purple heart citation.

Services Sunday afternoon will be in charge of Rev. A. K. Jones, pastor, and interment will be in the church cemetery. The American Legion post of Oakland will have charge of the final rites at the grave.

Surviving are his parents, five brothers and sisters, Helen, Harold, John, Jr., Pattie, Grace, all at home.

The body will remain at the Leighton Funeral Home until shortly before time of service.

Plan Fire House

Further discussion relative to construction of a new fire house was held at the regular meeting of the Oakland firemen last night.

A committee which went to Rosedale, near Pittsburgh, last Sunday made a report of the new fire house there and returned with pictures of the new building. Making the trip were Charles Davis, Percy Thayer, Frank Biser and Ralph Fauber.

The same building committee will visit in the vicinity of Washington, D. C. this Sunday to study some of the new buildings there.

A member of the fire company said this morning it was almost a certainty that the organization would construct a building this year.

Several committees were appointed last night in connection with the carnival and celebration around the Fourth of July. A carnival has been scheduled from Monday, June 28, to Monday, July 5.

Conservation Is Topic At A.A.U.W. Meeting

Mrs. E. Z. Tower, chairman of the committee on legislation, was in charge of the monthly meeting of the Garrett branch of the A. A. U. W., which was held Monday evening, April 5, in the Home Economics building.

The subject discussed was conservation of natural resources and preservation of natural beauty of the county.

Mrs. William Warfield and Mrs. Leo Helbig, chairmen for subject matter pertaining to legislation, presented up to date material in their fields. Plans were made to continue the discussion at the May meeting which will be in charge of Mrs. Jas. Smart, social studies chairman.

F. C. Kisner Named Sanitary Engineer

At a special meeting on March 22, by the Board of County Commissioners and the Deep Creek Lake Association, the appointment of F. C. Kisner as Sanitary engineer was approved.

The salary was placed at $2,100 per year with $50 per month for expenses.

Mr. Kisner began work on April 1 in the newly created post, and will have charge of sanitation work in the sanitary district around Deep Creek Lake. He will have an office in the Court House and will also be available at the residence of Thurl Tower, at the Lake.

Kisner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kisner, of near Deer Park. He was graduated from Oakland High school and spent five years in the army being a second lieutenant during part of that time.

He took a course in sanitary engineering with the Department of Agriculture in Washington, was sanitary officer at the Syracuse army air base, sanitary engineer at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and was instructor in the Medical Field Service at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. He will reside in Oakland.

Fishing Season To Open Next Thursday

The open season on brook, brown and rainbow trout will begin next Thursday, April 15, and will remain in effect until July 15.

Hours for taking of trout in all trout waters will be 5:30 a. m. to 8 p. m., standard time.

In preparation for the opening of the season around 400 anglers already have obtained licenses from the office of the clerk of the Circuit court.

Copies of regulations are available at the time the license is obtained. A number of Garrett county streams are closed for a period of three years.

The open season for all species in Deep Creek Lake is July 1st to November 30, except that trout may not be taken after July 15.

County Mostly Free From Roving Pickets

Some picketing by union soft coal miners was in evidence Tuesday along the Western Maryland railroad area, but otherwise Garrett county has been comparatively free from these roving bands.

Two truck loads of pickets visited several strip mines and a few deep mines in the Elk Garden area, but no trouble or violence was reported.

West Virginia state police expressed the opinion as did several other officials, that the pickets were from Kitzmiller, Shallmar and Vindex areas, but contacts there denied that any miners in that vicinity had participated in any picketing activities.

No mines in Kitzmiller, Shallmar or Vindex are operating.

To Represent Teachers

Two Grantsville teachers were elected to represent the Garrett County Teachers' Association at the NEA meeting in Cleveland, O., this summer, July 5 to 9.

Edwin Elias, Jr., and Miss Kathryn Speicher were the two named as delegates at the spring meeting of the association held in Accident last Saturday. They will go by train, joining the Maryland delegation in Cumberland, on July 4. The annual meeting of the National Education association is considered an outstanding event for teachers all over the nation.

Harold E. Stassen won a smashing victory in the Wisconsin primary defeating MacArthur and Dewey.

Washington Elm Descendant Gets New Location--Is Moved to Hospital Site

Oakland's rather famous Elm Tree, descendant of the George Washington Elm, which had been located in the Episcopal Parish House property since 1932, was moved last week to its new home—on the site near where the Memorial hospital will be located, at the north edge of town.

Planted by the Civic club in memory of George Washington's 200th birthday anniversary, and in memory of the late Miss Lottie Loar, Oakland Civic club president for many years, who gave the tree, its move was necessitated by plans for a six-room house as the Episcopal rectory, at the corner of Second and Center streets.

The tree is a great grandchild of the elm under which George Washington took command of the American army in the Revolutionary war at Cambridge, Mass. Its complete story is related this week in an article from Mrs. Edward M. Weeks, summer resident here, now in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Washington Elm

"Under the shade of this historic tree in 1775 George Washington took command of America's first army. From that time the tree at Cambridge, Massachusetts became a town and nation meeting place.

"In 1875 the Centennial anniversary of the great day was celebrated. A fence was built to protect the tree and a memorial tablet described it. In 1923 the tree succumbed to old age, falling against the protecting fence. Cambridge sent pieces of the tree to every state capital, and erected a monument on the site as a symbol of liberty. The Washington elm tree was honored by the government in 1925 on the Lexington and Concord Commemorative stamps.

"In 1926 Mrs. Alice Paret Dorsey, a descendant of Gov. Bradford, the first governor of Massachusetts, was inspired to carry on the memory of the Washington elm by growing trees from the seeds and root shoots, the grandchildren of the famous tree.

"These young trees have grown since 1888 and have been sent to Mt. Vernon, Annapolis, Yorktown, and to Sulgrave, England, where all have a place of honor.

"About 1930 when Miss Lottie Loar was president of the Civic club of Oakland, the club had been allowed the use of the Oakland Hotel grounds for a park and many trees were being planted by the organizations of the town. Mrs. Dorsey sent several trees to Oakland to be planted in the Park. Miss Loar was most careful of the tiny trees and placed them in their garden to establish growth.

"In 1932, in order to be sure of a protected place, one of the trees was planted in the Episcopal Parish house grounds by Miss Loar, assisted by Mrs. Edward H. Sincell and Mrs. Milton Sincell and the Rev. David C. Trimble.

"Oakland is honored to have this tree and it is a privilege for the Civic club to share in its preservation."

The article by Mrs. Weeks was sent to Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, president of the Civic club, along with a contribution to help in the expenses of moving it. In her letter she also stated she would help toward a memorial marker, in its present location.

The tree was moved under the supervision of the H. Weber and Sons company. The Civic club committee in charge included Mrs. E. H. Sincell, Mrs. W. W. Grant and Mrs. Homer L. Bennett.

Farmer Dies After Horse Kicks Him

Ephraim McKinley Kuhn, farmer of near Bayard, W. Va., but residing is this county, died while he was being taken to the office of Dr. Harold C. Miller, Eglon, W. Va., after being kicked in the head by a horse last Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred while Mr. Kuhn was fixing some harness on the animal. The main blow fell on his temple, causing a fractured skull.

Deceased was born at Schell, W. Va., September 7, 1896, a son of Mrs. Agnes Shillingburg Kuhn and the late William Summers Kuhn, and was aged 51 years.

He was a member of the Dunkard church at Fairview.

Surviving are his mother, two brothers, Walter Kuhn, Scherr, W. Va.; Grant Kuhn, Baltimore; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Morgan, Mt. Lake Park; and Mrs. Cecelia Silfies, Fredericktown, Pa.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the Fairview church, with Rev. Wesley Harvey officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Two Are Sentenced to House of Correction

Two young men were given sentences of twelve months in the House of Correction at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Tuesday, on charges of unauthorized use of an automobile.

Junior Gilbert Bowman, 19, and William Leroy Werdebaugh, 20, were charged with obtaining a 1947 Dodge dump truck from the Ralph Pritts parking lot the night of April 2nd. The truck had just been unloaded and was not in shape to use, there being no water in the radiator. The motor was completely ruined.

The young men were arrested by Trooper Robert Henline. Following their conviction and sentence they were taken down to Baltimore yesterday by Sheriff J. S. Teats. Magistrate Loraditch said Bowman was a previous offender and had served a term in the House of Correction.

Thomas Moon, 14, Deer Park, will be given a hearing today on a charge of incorrigibility, Mr. Loraditch said.

Issue 3,216 Auto Tags

County Treasurer Arthur H. Green issued 3,216 auto license tags up to and including March 31, it was learned this week. Licenses still are being issued but the number per day is greatly reduced.

It was necessary for car owners to have their tags by March 31, if they expected to operate them upon the public highways.

Oakland Country Club To Be Opened Sunday

I. J. Bosley, Local Manager, Said Course Would Be In Good Shape by Opening Day

Announcement of the official opening of the Oakland Country club golf course for Sunday, April 11, was made this week by I. J. Bosley, manager.

A few golfers took advantage of the several warm days of the past two weeks, but the course was not in the best of shape.

However, in the past ten days, Mr. Bosley said the course had been rolled and that the greens would be mowed prior to the official opening. Fences have been repaired, the club house has been made available for parties, dances, dinners, etc.

Greens fees are the same as last year with $1.00 on week-days; $1.50 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Season rates have been raised slightly with golf for a family in town costing $29; out of town, $23; single man in town, $23; lady in town, $17; single man or woman, out of town, $17.

Mr. Boseley said he had given some thought to laying out several tennis courts near the club house, in an effort to make it a meeting place for all sports enthusiasts.

To Complete Survey

Three members of the U. S. Geological Survey have arrived in Oakland and will be engaged this summer in completing a topographic map of the area.

The purpose of the survey is for purposes of flood control and dam sites, aviation, highway construction and mineral deposits. The map will contain the names of every feature in the county, roads, schools, churches, correct elevations, etc. The work was begun last year by a group of men, and is expected to be completed this year.

F. B. Neary is in charge of the survey, and assisting him are Gordon Chute and Ray Whittemore. They hope to bring their families to Oakland if suitable living quarters can be obtained.

Firemen Get Two Alarms

Oakland firemen received two alarms during the past week. They were called last Saturday about 1 p. m. to the home of Earl Wolfe, at the Weber crossroads, as the result of a flue fire. There was no damage.

Another call came about 9:30 p. m., from Mt. Lake Park where an automobile was on fire, but before the firemen left the fire house the call was cancelled.

City Council Names Baumgartner as Head; Appointments Made

Rate Changes to be Effective—Council Decides to Adopt New Fiscal Year

The City Council of Oakland reorganized on Monday evening by naming Dr. E. I. Baumgartner again as president of Council and making all necessary appointments.

The oath of office was administered to councilmen Ralph Pritts, Earl Shartzer, and Harry L. Stemple, by Joseph Hinebaugh, recently elected mayor, who had been sworn in previously by the clerk of the Circuit Court.

Arthur Lawton was named clerk-collector and other appointments included the following: John J. Sweeney, day police; Leslie J. Baker, night police; James Compton, water superintendent; H. A. Loraditch, police magistrate; Lee R. Mason, weighmaster; Lewis R. Jones, city attorney.

Committees: Water and Street, Dr. Baumgartner, chairman; Harry L. Stemple, Earl Shartzer, Edward G. Schmidt, and Mayor Hinebaugh, ex-officio; Golf committee, Ralph Pritts, chairman, E. G. Schmidt and Prentice DeBerry; Finance committee, Prentice DeBerry, chairman, Dr. Baumgartner, Harry Stemple, Ralph Pritts.

Mayor Hinebaugh brought to the attention of the council that the water and street departments should be separated with all water accounts in separate account. Money from this account would be used for the water department, while funds from taxes and the general account would supply funds for streets and general expenses. It was also announced that back water bills and back taxes must be paid by May 1st, or water would be discontinued and properties sold for taxes.

To Change Rates

Council ruled that the ordinance on the water rates would be changed effective at the June quarter. The minimum would be $4.50 instead of $3.00 for those residing within the corporate limits, and the minimum for those outside the corporation would be $6.00 instead of $4.50.

Price of taps also were increased, sewer taps now being listed at $25, and water taps from $25 for a 3/4-inch tap to $60.00 for a 2-inch tap.

Adopts New Fiscal Year

The Council decided to adopt the new fiscal year as the calendar year to conform to the new state regulation. The levy this year will be for a 10 months' period. The rate will not be set until the May meeting, it was stated.

The audit of the books of the clerk-collector and treasurer, made by Harland L. Jones, were accepted.

Four permits were granted:

To Charles Nair, to erect a 4-room stone bungalow, 27 by 26, between 4th and 5th streets, on Martin's alley.

To A. D. Naylor and company, for an addition, in rear of the present building, 11 by 21, three stories in height, with fireproof furnace room in basement, office rooms on first floor, and storage rooms above.

To Leslie J. Baker, to erect a dence, 22 by 28, 1½ story six-rooms, on Seventh street.

To Wilbert R. Ridder, to erect a sign over the entrance to the Music Shop and Insurance agency on Second street.

Other Business

Collections amounted to $1,216.02 for the month, which included $517.77 from water, $57.60 from taxes and $638.65 from miscellaneous. The miscellaneous included two items from gasoline tax for both January and February amounting to $253.57 and $261.27.

Bills amounted to $2,887.96. Sunday movie tax amounted to $89.50.

The council read a letter from the Library Board requesting that $500 be appropriated towards the construction of the library in Oakland. No action was taken at this meeting.

The report of the health department showed the water to be O.K.

Olen Bittinger was before the council about construction of a bridge at East End, but action was deferred until after an inspection by council members.

To Confer Rank of Knight

The rank of Knight will be conferred upon a class of seven candidates at the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge in Oakland tomorrow evening.

TABLELAND FARMING

A weekly discussion devoted to the Land and Farms of Garrett County, edited by John Carter, County Agent, and W. W. Nace, Soil Conservationist.

The Soil Conservation District has just finished distributing 37 thousand trees and shrub seedlings to cooperating farmers. These seedlings are furnished free of charge to help farmers get their conservation programs under way. They are used to plant steep areas, odd corners that do not fit into pasture or cropland, and for windbreaks. A good conservation plan calls for full use of every acre.

Thirty-seven thousand is not a startling number of trees, when you consider that, spaced 6 feet by 6 feet, it takes twelve hundred for one acre. It does mean something, however, when that number is divided among 66 farmers. And almost all of them would like to have more trees than they received. Some conservation farmers who wanted to plant trees this year received none at all, will have to wait until next year. A few purchased seedlings from the State Nursery in addition to those they received from the District.

All this is quite a change within the last few years. Three or four years ago most farmers could find no time for tree planting. The change is likely due to the fact that the labor situation has eased a little, and because farmers are giving more thought to all conservation practices. Recent high winds have made a lot of people think about windbreaks, too.

The District Supervisors hope to have a greater number of trees available by next spring. But if the demand increases as rapidly as it has during the past year there will still not be enough to satisfy the need. Production of trees in the nurseries was low during the war years, due to scarcity of labor and seed. It takes two to three years to grow seedlings to planting size.

One good way to be sure of having trees to plant next year would be to order them right now from the State Department of Forests and Parks, for delivery during the spring of '49. Prices cover just the cost of production and are very reasonable. The Farm Forester or Soil Conservationist can advise you on the best kinds to get for a particular planting site.

Another soil conservation practice popular at this time of year, and increasing in popularity, is contour strip cropping. As you travel over the county you will see many fields being contour farmed this year for the first time. Some of them are in parts of the county where little or no strip cropping has been done before.

It is too late to get more tree seedlings this year, but it isn't too late to start contour farming, unless your plowing is done. A call or card to the County Agent or Soil Conservationist will get you help to lay out the contours.

McManus Named Captain

Ray "Red" McManus, catcher for the Oakland Amvets baseball team, was elected captain for the 1948 season by his teammates at a recent meeting.

Practice sessions are being held regularly. The Amvets will open the season with a double header on May 2, playing against Klondike on the Oakland High school field.

Work has been started on the diamond and it was predicted that the team and field would be in excellent condition by the opening day.

Named Soldier of the Month

Corp. Charles W. Frazee was selected as the soldier of the month among the quartermaster depot troops at Kobe, Japan, it was announced this week. The honor is for March, 1948. The citation was issued by Col. James B. Clearwater, commanding officer.

Frazee is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazee, Friendsvile, and has been in the service since August, 1947.

Auxiliary Officers of Grantsville Installed

Mrs. Audrey Edwards was installed as president of the auxiliary of the Grantsville American Legion Post in ceremonies last Wednesday night. Others installed were Mrs. Myra Keller, first vice-president; Mrs. Ercell Jenkins, second vice-president; Mrs. Mary Lou Bender, secretary; Mrs. Anna Wengard, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Bender, historian; Juanita Stahl, chaplain; Mrs. Pearl McKenzie, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Helen Durst and Mrs. Anna Marie Huff, color bearers. Installing officer was Mrs. Charles Cole, Mt. District vice-president, Frostburg. She presented a gavel and flags to the unit.

Mrs. Jesse Smith, district secretary, Lonaconing, spoke on the need of universal military training for national defense. Other guests were members of James Love Unit, Lonaconing, and Farrady unit, of Frostburg.

A number of committees were appointed. Miss Viola Broadwater was appointed song leader and publicity chairman. The executive committee includes Mrs. Betty Bender, chairman; Mrs. Harvey Gortner, Mrs. Myra Keller, Mrs. Mary Bender, Mrs. Mary Lou Bender, Mrs. Anna Huff, Mrs. Helen Durst, Mrs. Pearl McKenzie, Mrs. Ercell Jenkins and Mrs. Audrey Edwards. The next meeting will be April 28.

Will Keep Streets Clean

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh announced yesterday that William B. Sheets had been employed by the town to keep the streets in a clean and orderly condition, and he requested the cooperation of the merchants and business men.

Mayor Hinebaugh said Mr. Sheets would keep at the job continuously, and that if the merchants would sweep the sidewalks in front of the places of business and put the refuse in the gutters, that it would be taken care of.

There have been numerous complaints about the wast paper and dirt on the town's streets, and Mr. Hinebaugh said he would endeavor to have this situation remedied.

IS THIS THE
"Sweetest riding story ever told"?

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

SOMETIMES we get just a bit upset over our engineers.

A cautious bunch, their tendency toward understatement now and then lets us overlook some mighty good bets.

About all they wanted to say about their new Hi-Poised power was that it went much further than anything else they knew toward controlling engine vibration frequencies.

They let us say it would make engine sensation "practically imperceptible."

That it would do away with a lot of shudder that often passes for clutch chatter. That it would "have an effect" on riding softness and quiet.

Well! Folks have now had a chance to try out our '48 beauties with Hi-Poised power—and you should hear what they say!

"Sweetest ride of any car," they tell us.

"Such smoothness—it's unbelievable!" "What have you done?—It's wonderful!"

What we did was apply a wholly new system of engine mounting.

It's a system that suspends the engine, much as in a cradle. This leaves it free to rock, bob or "wag its tail" (as every engine must)—yet maintains firm control of such movement at all times and speeds.

Add this to other things—big, soft tires on extra wide Safety-Ride rims; gentle coil springs on all four wheels; ample size and weight to master jounce and jitter—and what do you get?

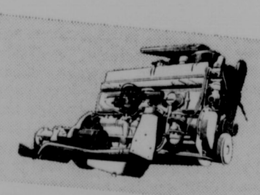
A definitely "sweeter" feel to the whole car. Soft, level going—with firm, sure footing. Lightness—with positive and dependable control.

In a phrase—"the sweetest riding story ever told," as it has been put.

Naturally, we'd like to have you size up our new Vibra-Shielded ride too.

After all, there's more to any car than meets the eye, even in this eye-winning beauty. And maybe this sweet and lovely ride is just what you've been waiting for.

Better see your Buick dealer, whether or not you have a car to trade—and get your order in.



SECRET OF THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE
Two fat cushions of special composition, and placed with scientific accuracy, suspend the Buick engine at the points where vibration is most readily controlled. A third new mounting at the rear completes a precise system of controlling engine vibration frequencies. The result is to shield the entire car against vibration build-up and make a noticeably smoother ride.

Rotary Delegation To Attend Meeting

Quite a delegation of Rotarians and their wives will attend a conference of the 178th district at Bedford, Pa., from Sunday to Tuesday, and will spread the news about Garrett county as a vacationland through an unusual display in the convention headquarters at Bedford Inn.

The club is having a number of circulars prepared for distribution which will give a number of interesting facts about Oakland, the lake, and the recreation areas of the county. The display will feature the recreation facilities available, and a number of Garrett county products such as maple syrup, etc. Pictures of the beauty spots of the area will also be conspicuous.

Those expecting to make the trip include Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, Logan Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Yutzy, Reaford Purbaugh, Frank Kley, William Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zepp, and possibly others.

Under a program of "Citizens of Tomorrow," William Lambert and Robert Dodge, students, will accompany the group with expenses paid. These two students are to attend the regular club meetings at Oakland for a month, after which they will address the group on their impressions of the club and its members.

Those attending the convention will hear Walter Judd, Minnesota congressman, and other prominent persons deliver addresses.

MARRIED

Currance-Kooken—The marriage of Catherine Kooken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abernathy, of Eglon, W. Va., to Mr. Charles Currance, son of the late A. T. Currance, of Parsons, W. Va., took place at 3 o'clock on April 3rd, at Glade View church. The Rev. Daniel Spaid performed the ring ceremony in the presence of Miss Reva Fike and Mrs. Daniel Spaid, and the attendants of the couple, who were Mr. and Mrs. Otis E. Sell, of Pierce.

For her marriage the bride wore a navy blue gabardine suit with white accessories. Her costume was accentuated with a corsage of red rosebuds worn at the shoulder.

Mrs. Otis Sell, her sister, as matron of honor, wore a light green wool suit, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mr. Sell was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Aurora High school, 1926, and taught in Preston county schools. The groom attended Parsons High school.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Sell residence in Pierce. Mr. Currance is an employe of the Armour Leather company of Parsons, in which city the couple will reside.

WSCS Circles Meet

The four circles of the WSCS of the Methodist church met yesterday as follows:

Circle 2, at the home of Mrs. Irvin Rudy, with Mrs. Gregory Bleakley and Mrs. Lucy Lyon as co-hostesses.

Circle 3, at the home of Mrs. S. T. Naylor, with Mrs. Olivia Mitchell and Mrs. Phillip Whitaker as co-hostesses.

Circle 4, at the home of Mrs. Willard Elliott, with Mrs. Hazel Walter and Mrs. E. H. Sincell as co-hostesses.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son, Paul, who passed away three years ago, April 2, 1945:
The flowers we place upon his grave
may wither and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath will never fade away.
We think of him in silence,
His name we oft recall,
But there's nothing left to answer
But a picture to recall.
Gone, dear Paul, gone forever,
Away from sorrow, care and pain.
May you rest in peace, dear Paul,
Until we meet again.

P.-T.A. Council Meets

Progress being made in regard to the new school building program in the county was reported Tuesday evening by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, at a meeting of the Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers, in the Oakland High school auditorium.

Mr. Hardesty also pointed out some of the needs that must be embodied in the new school buildings in order to adequately take care of the enrollment in future years.

Rev. George H. Coker also made a report of the 32nd annual conference of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, held in Baltimore several weeks ago. Under the theme, "Assignment for Tomorrow," Rev. Coker brought a report on parent education, sex education in the schools, and the outlook of the future for all schools in Maryland.

A committee was named to study the advisability of having a publication prepared for general distribution through the Parent-Teacher associations, to acquaint parents with the work and ideals of the group.

$30,000 Damages Asked

A suit for $30,000 has been filed in Circuit Court in Uniontown, Pa., asking damages as the result of an automobile accident.

Paul B. Heisey and Paul B. Heisey, Jr., Ben Avon Heights, trading as P. B. Heisey and Son, seek damages from Foster Frazee and Ward Sisler, Friendsville.

The suit sets forth that a truck operated by William Emerson Thomas, Jr., and owned by Frazee and Sisler collided with the Heisey car June 18, 1947, nine miles north of Uniontown.

The nation's air force leaders won a new hearing before Congress as demands mounted for an expanded airmada to help guard this country—and world peace.

Rural Women's Short Course Is June 14 - 19

The 1948 Rural Women's Short Course is scheduled for June 14 to 19 at the University of Maryland, according to Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of extension service. This will be the 22nd in the series of annual courses which during recent years has enrolled approximately 1000 women.

Classes start on Tuesday morning and run through Friday. Afternoons and evenings are given over to special programs, tours and other activities.

Subject matter classes, as in the past, will include the fields of food and nutrition, home furnishing, clothing, public speaking, music, parliamentary law, journalism, family life, personality development, and many other topics of interest to homemakers.

The theme for the week's program is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World," which is also the theme for National Home Demonstration Week on May 2 to 7. The purpose of this "College Week for Women" as Miss Kellar describes it "is to offer the women of Maryland educational, inspirational, cultural, and recreational opportunities."

How Thick Is Your Farm — ?

"What is your farm's third dimension? It may be a big farm a mile and a half long by a mile wide or it may be just a small farm several rods long by a few rods wide but more significant than the length and the width is the third dimension—the depth."

The depth of the topsoil is being termed the most valuable dimension of the farm.

Some large farms—200, 300 or 500 acres—may be so thin that little can be produced either to give the farmer an income or to supply more food or fiber for consumers. Other farms, although small in acres are "large" in the crops produced—their soil is deep and rich. Not all large farms are "thin" and all small farms "thick", but the productive size of a farm depends on the depth of the topsoil.

Many farms have been lost because this third dimension was neglected, making the other two dimensions worthless.

Work On 219 Begins

Work on the relocation of route 219, north of Oakland got under way last week by the George F. Hazelwood company of Cumberland. Machinery is being moved onto the job and workmen are engaged in clearing the right of way of trees and brush.

The Maryland National Guard reached a strength of 3,100 men, only 700 less than the record peak in 1939.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Ditching The President

It is an ironical fact that outside of the South, where there is a special reason, the current clamor within the Democratic party against Mr. Truman comes not from the elements that logically might be expected to oppose his nomination but from those which by every rule of reason should support him.

—o—

Certainly, he deeply distressed conservative and anti-New Deal Democrats when he vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill; when he came out strongly for the so-called "civil rights," including that Fair Employment Practices Act which has so enraged the South; when he delivered his "State of the Union" message in which he went far to the left on social and spending legislation; when he failed to give encouragement to the effort to reduce the size and cost of the Federal bureaucracy.

—o—

However, it is difficult to see in any of this—or in anything else Mr. Truman has done—an excuse for the vicious and vociferous attempt to murder him now being made by the worshipful followers of the late Mr. Roosevelt. On the contrary, the course Mr. Truman has followed should have especially endeared him to these. For, without exception, every policy he has is a Roosevelt policy. Not one is original with him. Undoubtedly, most of them, such as the civil-rights proposals and his support of the CIO bosses, are unsound economically, demagogic politically and doubtful constitutionally. None the less, they are Roosevelt policies and as such were enthusiastically advocated by the very New Deal politicians, columnists and commentators who today are trying to cut his throat, hyprocritically alleging that he has "abandoned the Roosevelt policies.

—o—

This is so transparently false that one wonders at the effrontery of those who charge it. Actually, the only two things alleged by these screeching anti-Trumanites which can be even measurably sustained are (1) that he has failed to keep in his Administration certain notorious New Dealers, notably Mr. James M. Landis; (2) that he reversed himself on the Palestine issue. So far as the first is concerned, it is true Mr. Truman made no effort to retain a number of these self-advertised statesmen, but in most cases there were adequate reasons for not doing so. In the case of Mr. Landis, it was a kindness to him that Mr. Truman "took the rap" without publicly proclaiming them. As to the second, Mr. Truman's original advocacy of Palestine partition was politically inspired by a desire to hold the big New York Jewish vote upon which the machine politicians count so heavily. That was not an admirable action. But later, when he realized his mistake and was convinced by the State Department and the Secretary of Defense that the national security was imperiled, he reversed himself. And that was an admirable action—nonpolitical and courageous.

—o—

Whatever Mr. Truman's deficiencies, it seems plain he is getting very shabby treatment from a group with a very poor case against him. Particularly mean is the yapping of the Roosevelt brothers, Franklin, Jr., and Elliott. The first, trading on his father's name, is ambitious to become governor of New York. He always plays close to the machine bosses locally and the CIO bosses nationally. The other is an unsavory specimen whose money-raising activities, promoted by his father, have done more to besmirch the latter's reputation than any other single thing. As for Mrs. Roosevelt, when she left for England she was "neutral."

—o—

It seems exceedingly unlikely that this drum-beating, anti-Truman drive will alter the conviction of General Eisenhower that a presidential nomination is something he distinctly does not want—especially from a party not his own and engineered by individuals whom he does not highly esteem. Clearly, the sort of "draft" now suggested is one in which he would have to connive. Few believe that after his unequivocal statement he could be induced to do anything remotely savoring of stultification. It is incredible that he would permit himself to be used by persons whose motives are completely transparent and so wholly selfish. In brief, it is unlikely General Eisenhower can be played for a sap.

—o—

Of course, it is possible Mr. Truman may be frightened by the kind of publicity the people behind this "drive" are able to command. But those who know him best do not think so. One reason is that he is not the sort of man to be scared out of a fight just because the odds are against him. Another is that certainly he will lose more self-respect and go down in history as a more shoddy character if he quits under this kind of fire than if he stands up and takes his licking no matter how bad it may be. Hoover, Landon and William H. Taft all gained in public esteem through defeat.

Still another reason is that there may be a change of political scenery before next November. In 1946 Mr. Truman's prestige was so low that a demand was made that he resign. In six months he was running ahead in the popularity polls. This is not to say Mr. Truman can duplicate that performance. Things look worse for him now than they did then. But it is possible. In any event, under existing circumstances, his stupidity in allowing this gang to ditch him would be exactly equal to the stupidity of the Democratic party in doing the ditching. Their fortunes are inseparably linked. In tearing down Mr. Truman all these snorting "liberals" can do is to make a bad situation worse.

Civil Court Cases Are Completed Here

Civil court suits, tried during the past week, have been completed and the petit jurors excused.

Most of the cases tried involved persons either in Washington or Allegany county and had been transferred from the courts of those counties.

William Daulbaugh, plaintiff, was given a verdict of $150.00 damages in his case against Orion V. Wilson, trading as Liberty Hardware company. The case involved an elevator accident in which the former was injured. This case was tried Friday.

The case of J. Walter Kremer, architect, versus Margaret Nally Coffey and Bernard Nally, was settled out of court. Kremer claimed to have had an agreement to draw up plans for a building for the two defendants, and he asked for $1,050.

Robert F. Taylor was allowed $556.98 by the court on Monday, in a case against Owen Lester Bender, involving a car accident.

On Tuesday Mabel W. Bonner was declared permanently disabled, with 100 percent disability, in a case against the American Motorists Insurance company, the State Industrial Accident Commission and the Celanese Corporation of America. E. J. Ryan and W. W. Dawson were attorneys for the plaintiff. Fey and Traver, attorneys for the defense, filed a motion for a new trial. The trial was by jury.

In a similar case of John C. Goodwin versus the same defendants, settlement was made out of court.

DIED

MRS. ATHA JOHNSON

Mrs. Virgie Olive Metheny Johnson was born May 7, 1874, a daughter of the late Alpheus and Nancy Metheny, of Valley Point, W. Va. She died Sunday, April 4, at 1:15 o'clock, at the home of her son, Artie Johnson, at Howesville, W. Va. She was aged 70 years, 10 months and 27 days. She was married to Atha Johnson, now deceased.

Surviving children are five sons and one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Mersing, Terra Alta, W. Va.; Edward and Darius Johnson, Tunnelton, W. Va.; Jess and Artie Johnson, Howesville, W. Va. and Russell Johnson, of Crellin; also 35 grandchildren, one great grandchild; three brothers and two sisters, Dolph Metheny, Tunnelton; Homer Metheny, Albright, W. Va.; Harvey, Valley Point, W. Va.; Mrs. Tish Heiskel, Crellin; and Mrs. Pearl Lowe, of Indiana.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Crellin church, with Rev. George W. Simpson, United Brethren minister, of the Park, officiating. Interment was in the Ashby cemetery near Crellin.

MRS. WILLIAM F. RODEHEAVER

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Almeda Rodeheaver, 77, who died Sunday night at the home of her son, D. H. Rodeheaver, Eagle Rock, after a lingering illness, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence. Burial was in the family cemetery at Bethlehem.

Mrs. Rodeheaver was born February 2, 1871, in this county, a daughter of the late Joshua A. and Jane Harvey Lipscomb. She belonged to the Bethlehem United Brethren church.

Also surviving are her husband, William Frances Rodeheaver, Listonburg, Pa., two other sons, Harry R. Rodeheaver, Eagle Rock; and Joshua Arthur Rodeheaver, Mt. Lake Park; two sisters, Mrs. Huldah Schooley and Mrs. Hettie Beckman, Sand Flat. A brother, P. T. Lipscomb, Mt. Lake Park, died a short time after his sister had succumbed.

PHILO T. LIPSCOMB

Philo T. Lipscomb, aged 85, died at his home in Loch Lynn on Monday morning after a brief illness.

He was a son of the late Joshua and Jane Harvey Lipscomb and was born in this county October 14, 1862. He had resided in this county all his life and in Loch Lynn for some 50 years.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Josiah Beckman, Oakland; Mrs. William Schooley, Deer Park. A sister, Mrs. Sarah Rodeheaver, of Eagle Rock, died on Sunday evening, just a few hours preceding his death. His wife died last November.

Funeral services for Mr. Lipscomb are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the U. B. church in Loch Lynn, in charge of Rev. George W. Simpson. On Friday the body will be taken to Calvin, Pa., where services will be concluded. Interment will be in the Baptist cemetery there. Pallbearers at the service in Loch Lynn are M. E. Lee, E. O. Liller, Harry Baker, Charles Baker, J. E. Callis and Roy Lee.

MRS. JULIA E. COLLINS

Mrs. Julia Elzara Collins died at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Arch Holland, in Loch Lynn, on Sunday evening, April 4.

She was a daughter of the late Silas and Martha Walters and was born in this county December 19, 1853. She was aged 94 years.

Surviving are two children, Robert Collins, and Mrs. Bert Paugh, both of Deer Park; also 17 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, 5 great-great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Grace Harvey, Cumberland; Mrs. Emma Rhodes, Deer Park; and Mrs. Sadie Rhodes, Swanton.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the U. B. church at Loch Lynn, with Rev. George W. Simpson, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Short Run cemetery.

AVILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Garletz are the parents of a daughter born in Miners hospital, Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weimer are the parents of a baby girl born in Allegany hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. Mollie F. Turner was a recent visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guy S. Stanton and Mrs. Byard A. McKenzie.

The new Colonial Service Station on Route 40 is now open for business, operated by Joseph Turner and Glenn Crowe.

Many children of this community are absent from school with mumps and measles.

Daniel Spiker is visiting his brother Feanis Spiker in "Pine Hollow," Avilton.

There will be a square dance in the hall, near St. Ann's Catholic church, Saturday night April 10. The public is invited. Dancing will begin at 7:30 and continue until midnight.

ACCIDENT

A group gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Deal Monday night to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. Those present were Mr. Merrill Wilburn and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wilburn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haenftling and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ledig and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Deal and son, Mr. and Mrs. Darius Fike, Mr. Earl Deal and family and Miss Agnes Sines. GRANTSVILLE

To Open Legion Home

Harvey Gortner, post commander of the Grantsville Legion Post No. 214, has announced the grand opening of the newly completed $25,000 American Legion home at Grantsville on the evenings of April 15, 16 and 17, at 8 o'clock. The building was begun last fall.

On Thursday, April 15, all mountain district post members are invited. Talks will be given by James E. Kenney, district vice-commander; Mrs. Charles Cole, district vice-president of the Legion auxiliary of the Mt. district; and others. The drum and bugle corps of Farrady Post, of Frostbur, will play.

On Friday, April 16, there will be games and dancing. On Saturday, April 17, there will be dancing with orchestra.

The Grantsville Post was organized a year ago. Legionnaires raised sufficient money to cover initial expenses of acquiring the building and financed the balance. Mr. Gortner donated the land.

The one-story concrete block building is 50 by 100 feet, facing Miller street, on a lot 160 by 132. It contains a large dance hall in the front part, with 20 tables, 80 chairs and a "juke" box. In the rear are offices, rest rooms and post meeting rooms.

Golden Wedding Event Observed at Gortner

Fifty years ago at the Glade View church, Lorenza H. Fike and Laura Meyers were married by the former's brother, Pastor Emra Fike.

On Sunday, April 4, in this church the couple celebrated their golden anniversary with Pastor Emra Fike in charge, and the following guests who were present fifty years ago: Mrs. Ada Martin, Mrs. Sadie Roth, Harvey Fike, Cyrus Wolfe, Mrs. Raymond Martin, Grant Judy, Elza Biser, Saul Snyder.

The following children were present: Mrs. Ray Arnold, Sunnyside; Mrs. Velma Holsopple, Baltimore; Mrs. Charles McFarland, Frostburg; Mrs. Harold Barnes, Oakland; Mrs. Anthony Sours, Mrs. Charlie Kramer, Fairmont; Mrs. Lester Martin, Oakland; Mrs. David Snader, Baltimore. Twelve of their seventeen grandchildren were present also.

The church was decorated with a floral arrangement of yellow roses in yellow vases and baskets of narcissus with a huge cake and miniature bride and groom.

During the afternoon period of reminiscing it was brought out that there were seventy ministers in the Fike clan, one reason for this being attributed to the fact that a forefather, while hoeing corn would call the boys for a rest in the shade and tell them Bible stories. One person attending remarked it was "so refreshing to meet this couple, blest with a tie that binds in Christian love, in our day of loose marriage, divorce, broken homes and warped childhood."

Each person present was given a piece of the wedding cake on napkins with "Laura and Lorenza" stamped in gold.

The couple now resides at Knobly, W. Va., where the former is pastor of the Brethren church.

Bus Operators to Meet

Members of the Garrett County School Bus Operators' association have been called to Accident on Friday evening, for the regular business meeting, and also a reception in honor of R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant county superintendent of schools.

A Buffet supper will be served by the Missionary society of the Accident Lutheran church. The meeting will be held in the Accident school building beginning at 7:15.

To Conduct Revival

DR. JOHN McNEIL

Revival services have been scheduled in the Mt. Lake Park Baptist church, Loch Lynn, with ev. John McNeill, D.D., of Glasgow, Scotland, as the evangelist.

The services will begin April 18 and will continue through May 2nd. Services will be at 7:45 p. m., every night.

According to Rev. James MacLeod, pastor of the church, Doctor McNeill is a young man who has received unusual educational advantages, and in recognition of his scholarly attainments, several honorary degrees have been conferred upon him, one being the degree of Doctor of Music.

He is known as a noted Bible teacher, evangelist, gifted musician and world traveler. He plays his Scotch concertina, sings old gospel songs and some of his musical compositions.

Rev. MacLeod declared "The Bible will become a new and throbbingly interesting book to you, once you have heard him preach." The pastor extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

While in this area he will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wonderly, at their home in Pleasant Valley.

Report Given On March of Dimes

Receipts Total $2,147.56 from Campaign in January

The complete report of the March of Dimes campaign shows a total of $2,147.46 received, it was announced this week by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county chairman. This is the largest total of any year's contributions, it was pointed out, but the expenses of having two hospital cases of infantile paralysis have just about used up Garrett county's share.

Organization expenses were $130.09, and half of the balance, of $1008.73, has been forwarded to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Baumgartner stated. A total of $1008.74 was retained by the county chapter.

Expenditures were listed as follows: $479.00 for expenses of Marvin Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Arnold, Gorman, at Kernan hospital; $303.01 for expenses of Dan Friend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Friend, Friendsville, in Children's hospital, Baltimore; leg brace for Laverna Shaffer, $18; shoes for Homer Wilt, $9.15. The expenses for the Arnold child were over a three-months period, while the expenses for the Friend child were over a two-months period.

Dr. Baumgartner outlined receipts as follows. Bloomington, Mrs. Charlotte Bernard, chairman, $27.51; Kitzmiller, T. V. Baucom, chairman, $174.59; Shallmar, Jesse Walker, chairman, $52.17; Vindex, Harold Adams, chairman, $28.85; Deer Park, Mrs. E. C. Clatterbuck, chairman, $76.55; Swanton, Mrs. Mary Jane Harvey, chairman, $54.92; Mt. Lake-Loch Lynn, A. Humbertson and Mrs. L. Smith, chairmen, $55.75; Crellin, Miss Josie Iden, $81.03; Accident, B. O. Aiken, $76.01; Friendsville, W. J. Glenn, $120.48; Grantsville, Marshall Brown, $206.48; Kempton, Mrs. Veleria Burdock, $99.74; Oakland, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, $1,093.48.

Many of the contributions came through the various schools of the county. Some of the other items, already listed in the total included 4-H girls bake and rummage sale at Deer Park $20; benefit 500 party at Mrs. Clatterbuck's, $15.75; Grand theatre at Friendsville, $23.55; Maryland theatre collection at Kitzmiller, $58.84, Maryland theatre collection, Oakland, $178.62. Coin collectors in nine communities brought in $413.68.

Dr. Baumgartner said there was a total of $263 in the county chapter funds, but that additional bills would be coming in for the two paralysis cases still in the hospital.

MORE OIL...

...and still more is on the way!

1. Last year, this country used more oil than the whole world did in 1939 – before World War II.

2. There are 3,000,000 more cars on the road than there were before the war. And the average motorist is using 50 more gallons of gasoline per year in his car.

3. 25% more buses – 30% more trucks – serve you now than before the war.

4. Farmers have doubled their use of time-saving, work-saving tractors, trucks, and other equipment since pre-war!

5. 1,500,000 more home owners heat their homes with oil than in 1939.

6. Today, production of petroleum products has reached an all-time record high – 61% greater than before the war and 12% greater than the peak year of war-time production!

7. But you still need lots more oil. And that means new, expanded facilities for finding, producing, transporting, refining, and delivering more oil. And that's the job America's oil industry is working on right now – around the clock and with sleeves rolled up!

THE JOB AHEAD is a big job, calling for big plans and big performance.

ONE BILLION DOLLARS ... that's one thousand million dollars ... is what this one company and its affiliates are spending in 1947 and 1948 to modernize and expand production and facilities at the greatest rate in our history.

And that's only part of the story. During the next few years, reports indicate, the oil industry—as a whole—is planning to spend 13 BILLION DOLLARS to do this job.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

By a vote of 329 to 74 the House last week reluctantly approved the "one package" foreign aid bill, which had been reported by its Foreign Affairs Committee. It was the type of measure on which no legislator could vote "right". Only a few Members were satisfied with the measure, but most Members of Congress, like most citizens, believed something had to be done in the international field to help bring about world peace and stop the spread of Communism. Yet few have been satisfied with our foreign policy, or the way our foreign relief programs have been administered. Our foreign policy is made by the President and his State Department. The Congress can only support or reject legislation to make an Administration's foreign policy effective, but can not itself make foreign policy. With Europe in an especially critical condition, due to Communistic aggression and the threats of war, the great majority of the House Members believed that to reject the Administration's foreign aid bill would mean for the United States to "lose face", and would result in giving greater encouragement to the Communistic forces at work in many nations. As a result the Congress approved a foreign bill with which it is not at all satisfied. There is no assurance that the measure will be of any actual benefit in stopping the spread of Communism, in bringing peace to the world, or in making friends for the United States. On the other hand failure to do anything—and it was this bill or nothing—might possibly mean the triumph of Communism abroad and the endangering of our own national security at home. Up to date our American foreign policy has not been successful. Probably it never will be until there is new leadership in the White House and the State Department.

The new foreign aid law enacted by Congress authorizes expenditures of six billion and ninety-eight million dollars during the twelve months, subject, of course, to Congress appropriating the full amount. In this total is included five billion three hundred million dollars for the European Recovery Program affecting the sixteen nations of Western Europe; two hundred and seventy-five million dollars for military aid to Greece and Turkey; three hundred and thirty-eight million dollars for economic aid, and one hundred and twenty-three million dollars for military aid to China; and sixty million dollars for the United Nations Children's Fund to care for the homeless and displaced children of Europe. The State Department will no longer have control of our foreign relief and aid activities. Instead the new law sets up an administrator to be named by the President, subject to confirmation by the Senate, who shall have authority to give or withhold aid and relief, according to conditions which may develop. If the right administrator is named, and a business-like, efficient administration is given the program will be beneficial. If the usual New Deal type of an international "do-gooder" is selected for the post, inefficiency and waste, as existed under the State Department's handling of relief funds, will continue, and but little good will come from this vast expenditure of American money.

The Congress is expected to take up this week legislation modernizing and strengthening our national defense system. The President has requested additional appropriations of approximately three billion three hundred million dollars for use of the Armed Services. He has also requested early consideration of Universal Military Training and Selective Service legislation. It now seems doubtful that the UMT Bill will be enacted, but it is entirely possible—unless the international situation improves rapidly—that selective service registration will be required, with registrants not being subject to draft and induction unless Congress so orders by further legislative enactment.

Under The Dome

The open hearings on the Viers Mill Village Veterans Housing project will start on Tuesday, April 6, and I will be the first to appear. The Sub-Committee conducting the hearings is composed of Representative Snyder of West Virginia, the Chairman, Representatives Harvey of Indiana, Lanham of Georgia, and Muhlenberg of Pennsylvania. An architect will serve as professional and technical adviser on engineering problems.

I received a large number of letters from school children in the District relative to help for the Navajo Indians. I am happy to say that the House passed in the Deficiency Appropriation Bill funds in the amount of $1,000,000 for an emergency work program designed to improve the circumstances of Navajo Indians.

The Public Works Committee of which I am a member is conducting hearings on H. R. 5710—the Housing Bill—which would provide for the transfer of temporary housing under the Lanham Act to educational institutions.

We were advised by the Department of the Interior National Park Service that they are trying to work out a satisfactory arrangement for the operation and maintenance of a city dump at Hancock.

Indentical Twin Calves Wanted At University of Md.

Wanted: Several sets of identical twin calves, either male or female, from a few weeks to a few months of age.

This is the advertisement the University of Maryland dairy department might well be running these days in its search for identical twin calves to be used for research studies. Any farmers having such calves are invited to write the dairy department.

Dr. Joseph Shaw explains that identical twins are always the same sex, having identical color markings, have the same size and the same shape of body—in other words, they are alike in every respect. These animals are to be used in research studies investigating the vitamin A requirement of calves, in ration studies for dry and freshening cows and in testing the protein level requirements in dairy rations.

Identical twins are wanted because the data obtained by studying their reactions is equal to the information gained by studying 20 ordinary calves.

"For example, if we are studying dairy rations, we know that if the identical twins are given exactly the same rations and treatment, their production of milk and butter fat would be the same," states Dr. Shaw. "Then all we have to do is vary the ration or make the change which we are studying on one calf and observe the differences that occur."

The search for identical twin calves is not quite as bad as looking for a needle in the hay stack because statistically there should be about 40 or 50 pairs born in Maryland each year. The problem is to locate them.

The Union Sunday School contributed $17 last Sunday to the Moody Bible Institute.

Bishop Lewis Beachy and Noah Lichty attended the funeral of Clarence Yoder, 3-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Yoder, of near Springs.

Mrs. Simon Swartzentruber returned home on Monday evening from a Cumberland hospital and is reported as improving.

Mrs. Henry Swartzentruber and son are spending a couple of days with home folk at Meyersdale.

Sunday visitors at Joel Slabach's were Dan Petersheim, Noah Lichty and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swartzentruber and son and Mrs. Lewis Beachy.

There are times when young people in our schools and colleges find it difficult to concentrate on their studies. Their minds wander from the textbook as they sit with pencil poised and notebook handy. They seem to be living in another world, remote from their surroundings.

Everyone has such mental aberrations at times, when they live in dream-worlds and build air castles. Sometimes these dreams are an inspiration for achievement. Sometimes they merely serve to distract us from the task at hand.

Young people should avoid the type of thinking which leads nowhere, or which tends to turn their minds from the main purposes and objectives of life. The scope of one's thoughts should always embrace truth, honesty, duty, religion and clean and wholesome living.

A firm faith in God and right can turn even our momentary distractions into constructive channels and make our day-dreams fruitful of good results. This is one of the chief objectives of the Church—to teach people to think right as a basis for right living.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Ezekiel 18; 34; 36:22-38; 37:1-14.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Ezekiel 34; 25-31.

His Message to Exiles

Lesson for April 11, 1948

CONTINUING the theme of last Sunday's lesson, we go further into the ministry of Ezekiel as God's messenger to a people in exile. For this Sunday we have chapters 18 and 34, and portions of the 36th and 37th chapters.

Dr. Newton

The 18th chapter opens with a revealing rebuke to Ezekiel. God tells him expressly that he is not to say any more to the Jews that "the fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Isreal. Behold, all souls are mine." And then God adds, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

GOD'S LOVE AND CARE

ALL through these chapters in Sunday's lesson, two solemn truths appear—God's love for his people, manifest in unwearied care; and the responsibility of each soul for the sin which such commits against God.

This truth, or these truths, I should say, are equally applicable for us today. As Ezekiel was sent to remind the people of God's love and care, so must we, early in our youth, accept the responsibility of accepting his love or rejecting his love.

We cannot claim his care if we despise his will. That is the message of Ezekiel for us.

WHAT GOD IS LIKE

NOWHERE in the Old Testament is the love of God more manifest and compelling than in Ezekiel 34:11-27. I hope that you will open your Bible to this passage. Here the Bible speaks in words that burn with the compassionate love of God for sinful souls.

"I will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day . . . And I will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers."

One is reminded here of Jesus, when he said, "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

A NEW HEART

"A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you," Ezekiel 36:26.

Here we have, perhaps, the sublimest sentence in the prophecy of Ezekiel. God is speaking. Ezekiel is merely the messenger — the voice, as John the Baptist delighted to describe himself.

Ezekiel has faithfully declared that each individual is responsible unto God, and just as faithfully he has proclaimed God's love and care, and now he adds the third great truth, namely, that God waits to bestow the new heart and the new spirit to every repentant soul.

A new heart and a new spirit. That is what the Jews needed. That is what the world needs today—a new heart and a new spirit. Only God could give a new heart then, and only God can make such gift today.

EZEKIEL'S MESSAGE FOR US

WOULD we listen to Ezekiel today? He has the message we need above all other words that may be spoken. He called the Jews to repentance of sin. That is what America needs today. Boys and girls need it. Men and women need it. And just as God waited patiently to bestow the new heart and spirit to Israel in the long ago, so does he wait to grant us today a new heart and a new spirit.

"Our God, our help, in ages past,
Our Hope for years to come:
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home."

There's No Substitute

"I thoroughly believe in a university education for both men and women, but I believe that a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible. Every one who has a thorough knowledge of the Bible may be truly called educated, and no other learning, or culture — no matter how extensive and elegant—can be a proper substitute."

Both Kaylor And Buckingham To Have Forestry Positions

Joseph F. Kaylor returned to the post of director of the State Department of Forests and Parks, effective April 1, John M. Nelson, chairman of the State Commission of Forests and Parks, announced Monday.

At the same time, Nelson announced that H. C. Buckingham, who has acted as head of the department for the past year, was appointed as state forester. His appointment likewise is effective April 1.

Kaylor will be the administrative head of the department and will devote most of his time to parks, recreation and public relations, Nelson said.

Buckingham will be in charge of state forests and personnel and will also do administrative work. Mr. Nelson termed the two appointments "a team" and said "morale has never been better."

Buckingham, who was district forester in this area for 11 years, was appointed acting head of the department when Kaylor was granted a year's leave of absence last April to become assistant executive secretary of the American Forestry Association.

MARRIED

Hostetler - Gnagey—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gnagey, Baltimore, former proprietors of the National hotel, Grantsville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Helen Gnagey, R. N., supervisor of the surgical wing of Suburban hospital, Bethesda, to Alexander G. Hostetler, son of Mrs. Florence Hostetler and the late James B. Hostetler of Meyersdale, Pa., student at the school of Dental Prosthetics, Washington, D. C.

The marriage took place Thursday March 25th at 5 p. m., at Grace Reformed church, Washington, with Rev. J. W. Schauer, officiating. The attendants were Miss Joyce Baker, R. N., and Mr. William Sigler a cousin.

The bride wore a navy blue gabardine suit with pink and blue accessories and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Miss Baker wore a black wool crepe suit with accessories to match, and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Due to the critical illness of the bride's uncle, Dr. Thomas Olin Broadwater, of Grantsville, plans for a reception and wedding trip were cancelled.

Miss Gnagey was graduated from Grantsville High school class of 1938, attended Frostburg State Teachers College for two years. She was graduated from the Memorial hospital school of nursing, Cumberland with the class of 1944, and has been employed at Bethesda since then.

Mr. Hostetler was graduated from the Meyersdale High school, class of 1939, and served in the armed forces for four years with two and one half years in the South Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Hostetler spent the past week with Mrs. Florence Hostetler, Meyersdale, and Mrs. T. O. Broadwater, an aunt, of Grantsville.

They returned to Bethesda on Sunday where they will reside. They will be at home after April 10th.

Bowmar - VanHorn—Miss Pauline Evelyn VanHorn, Grafton, W. Va., and Clarence F. Bowman, Oakland, were united in marriage on Sunday afternoon, March 28, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Rev. Dan H. McAllister, Rosedale, west of Oakland.

Misses Wilda and Madeline Nethken, cousins of the groom, were bridesmaids, while Bernard I. Gonder, Jr., was best man.

The bride was attired in a navy blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and sweet peas. The single ring ceremony was used.

Others attending the ceremony were Mrs. Nelson Nethken, Miss Margaret and Miss Sandra Jean Nethken, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Riley and son Ronald, Mt. Lake Park; Vaughn Bowmar, Rosedale.

Dinner was served to a large number of friends at the home of Mrs. Nelson Nethken, aunt of the groom. Among the dinner guests also were Marshall, Moats, Jr., Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Junior Riley, Howesville, W. Va.

Harsh-Schlossnagle—Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle, of Oakland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Virginia, to Mr. Ellis Harsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harsh, of Eglon, W. Va., on Easter Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

The ceremony was performed in the parsonage at Denton, Md., by Rev. Wayne E. Wheeler, pastor of the Church of the Brethren there and brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Harsh wore a light blue dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harsh left for a northern wedding trip after which they will make their home in Eglon, W. Va.

Mrs. Harsh graduated from Oakland High School in 1945.

Mr. Harsh graduated from Aurora High School, Aurora, W. Va., in 1944. He is employed by the Dodd and Archer Construction Co. at Douglas, W. Va.

$189.27 Contributed To Red Cross Drive

Contributions amounting to $189.27 were reported this week by Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, Red Cross roll call chairman, bringing the total thus far to $455.56.

Most of those reporting were schools. Ralph Buckel reported $6.52 for Casselman school; Kitzmiller school and community $112.16, with the school contributing $5.91 of this amount. Justin A. Riggs' room led with $42.39. In the town Miss Patricia Riggs gave $5.45 and Barrick's store, $5.

Others reporting: Bloomington, Mrs. Inez M. Bush, $40.55, with the school giving $6.65, the local mine union $5, the Bloomington Fire company $5. Mrs. Charlotte P. Bernard's room led in the school with $2.80; Red House, $16.25, with the room of Mr. Andrick leading with $6.19; Wilson, Miss Bonnie C. Calhoun, solicitor, $6.60; East Vindex, $7.19.

Race For Mayor At Grantsville Winds Up in Tie

Mayor Nevin J. Miller and his opponent, Vernon Beachy, were tied in Monday's mayoralty race at Grantsville with 77 votes each. Date of the run-off election has not been set.

Mayor Miller, a shop foreman at the Motor Service company, is seeking his second two-year term in office. Beachy, employed at a Grantsville welding shop, is a newcomer to Grantsville politics.

John Hershberger, a farmer, was re-elected to his second term as councilman with 56 votes. Leland Swauger, employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire company in Cumberland, topped the six council candidates with 59 votes.

The other incumbent councilman, L. B. Schaefer, did not seek re-election.

Defeated councilmanic candidates were N. U. Broadwater, 54 votes; Austin Kamp, 47; William Biddington, 39; and A. A. Hanft, 38. A total of 159 votes was cast including four spoiled ballots.

The two councilmen are expected to take office April 12, with Mayor Miller presiding at future sessions until the mayoralty contest is decided.

Hold-over members of council are L. G. Bittinger, Henry Patton and Lee Beachy.

A special election will be held on Monday, April 26, from 3 to 8 o'clock p. m., in the council room.

1897 Jacket On Display

The window displays of Woodward and Lothrop's department store north building in Washington, D. C., currently feature Victorian type apparel under the caption, "Grandma Got Her Man." The display is designed around a beautifully tailored jacket bought by Mrs. J. T. Glotfelty, Sr., from Woodward and Lothrop's, when on her honeymoon in Washington in 1897. This treasured keepsake was made available to the display staff by Mrs. Glotfelty's granddaughter, Miss Eleanor Robey, who is merchandise stylist for Woodward and Lothrop's window display staff.

"Only God can make a tree"
Joyce Kilmer

but we can help!

Joyce Kilmer was right, but every boy and girl, every man and woman can help.

We can do this by encouraging people to reforest areas that are primarily suited only for the growing of trees; by protecting all desirable trees such as those used for shade, for fruits and nuts and for decoration; and by helping to prevent forest fires. Every farm and many city lots are made more valuable by trees. Plan to plant them when and where you can.

Creed For Young Americans

BECAUSE I AM AN AMERICAN I am part owner of a vast country of mountains and plains, rivers, and lakes. The paved and ordered streets of cities are my inheritance; tall skyscrapers and small homes, and powerful, ingenious machines. The ships at sea, the trucks on the highways, the trains rolling from coast to coast, the planes flying from city to city, all travel for me. They bring me the minerals of American earth, the foods of American farms, the woods of American forests, the millions of finished products which can make life in America rich and full and satisfying.

BECAUSE I AM AN AMERICAN the schools are open to teach me without cost, how to use these things America provides; the libraries are open to give me books to broaden my horizons; the museums have collected for me the beauty which is my heritage; the churches welcome me to worship.

BECAUSE I AM AN AMERICAN the administration of my government is my responsibility through my vote.

BECAUSE I AM AN AMERICAN I shall give my country a strong body and a sound mind and an honest heart. The health and beauty I can create in myself and the achievements of my work will be part of the strength and beauty of my country. I shall build a strong, beautiful body by good food, proper rest, work balanced with play, and daily cleanliness. I shall build a sound mind by serious school work, independent thinking, and development of tolerant, unprejudiced opinions. I shall build an honest heart by searching out truth, speaking truth, and holding the common good as my own good.

BECAUSE I AM AN AMERICAN I shall so live that by enriching my own life I shall enrich the life of my country.

Teaching Group To Hold Spring Meeting In Garrett County

From seventy-five to one hundred teachers, members of the geography section of the Maryland State Teachers Association, will come to Garrett county for their spring meeting, it was announced by W. O. Davis, secretary to the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Davis said he had been in communication with Velora V. Swauger, of Grantsville, chairman of the section, and that arrangements were being made for Saturday, May 1.

There will be a conducted tour in the nature of a field trip to places of geographical interest, guided by experts from the State department of forestry, wild life, soil, fisheries, etc., Miss Swauger announced.

To Attend Bankers' Meeting This Evening

A number of officers and directors of the two local banks will attend the annual spring meeting of Group 1, Maryland Bankers association, to be held in Cumberland this evening.

Howard Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank here, is chairman of group 1, and will preside over the session. A talk on the European Recovery program will be given.

Among those attending will be Mr. Riggs, Arthur Naylor, W. R. Offutt, Lester C. Yutzy and Julius B. Littman, of the Garrett National; Cecil Smith, A. D. Naylor and Ralph Pritts, of the First National Bank.

Jennings Randolph To Speak at C. of C. Dinner on May 11th

Announcement that Jennings Randolph, of Elkins, W. Va., former Congressman from West Virginia, and at present vice-president of Capital Air Lines in Washington, D. C., would be the speaker at the annual re-organization meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, was made yesterday by William O. Davis, secretary.

Mr. Davis said the meeting should have been held in March but due to difficulty in making proper arrangements to accommodate the group it had been impossible to make it any sooner. It has been scheduled for Thursday evening, May 11, and will be held at the Mt. Lake hotel at 6:30.

One of the main orders of business will be the election of the Board of Directors and officers.

Making Study of Welfare Department

D. Benton Biser, director of a commission on governmental efficiency and economy, Inc., of Baltimore, with a staff of three, were in Oakland on Tuesday making a study of the State Department of Welfare, at the request of the governor and the State legislature.

Mr. Biser said they were examining particularly the relationship which the state department had to the local welfare agency.

In addition to going over the records in the office of the Welfare Board, Mr. Biser also conferred with a number of persons in Oakland.

Parents Learn Where Pilot Son Is Buried In France; Remains to Be Returned to States

An official report as to where their son, First Lieut. Robert E. Browning, is buried in France, was received last Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Cheston H. Browning, Alder street, Oakland. This was their first notification since August, 1945, when they were officially notified of the death of their air pilot son.

Lieut. Browning was declared missing in action on August 20, 1944, near Toulon, France.

The letter received last Thursday disclosed the following information:

"Official report of burial discloses that his remains were originally buried in an isolated grave located at LaSeyne, France, but were later disinterred and properly identified as a result of subsequent investigation.

"Remains now are in Plot E, Row 2, Grave 593, in the U. S. Military cemetery at Luynes, France, 24 miles north of Marselles, France.

"Identification was established by favorable comparison of the tooth charts made with those maintained in army dental records and comparison of physical characteristics. Identification was further substantiated by the fact that the established date of death and place of death as given on official report of the burial area were in agreement with the missing air crew report for the plane of which your son was a crew member at the time of the casualty on August 20, 1944.

"The plane crashed off the coast of France and the remains of the deceased identified as your son were washed ashore on August 23 at LaSeyne and buried by civilian residents. Remains of other deceased crew members also washed ashore at this plance and at the same time."

The notification was from Major Richard B. Coombs, of the army memorial division.

Was Bomber Pilot

Lieut. Browning was a crew member of a B-26 Marauder, based at Villacidio, Sardinia, and was on a mission to bomb a gun position south of Toulon. The plane was hit by flak and crashed into the Gulf of Lyons.

The bomber carried a crew of seven. Mr. and Mrs. Browning learned that the three gunners had parachuted to safety but that Lieut. Browning, pilot; the co-pilot, the bombardier and navigator were lost. The three gunners were held prisoners of the Germans for five days but were released when the French took over the port. The gunners reported there had been an explosion in the forward part of the ship before they baled out.

Lieut. Browning was 25 years old. He was graduated from Oakland High school, Mercersburg Academy and attended University of Pennsylvania and Frostburg Teachers college prior to enlisting in the army in January, 1942.

He was commissioned May 20, 1942, and was flying instructor before going overseas in May, 1944. He was advanced to flight leader and was due for promotion to captain at the time he was shot down.

Lieut. Browning had been awarded the air medal with one silver and three bronze oak leaf clusters. He had completed 36 combat missions and 150 hours of combat flying in the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning plan to ask the government to return their son's remains to this country, for reburial in the home cemetery.

To Make Complete Report On Schools In This County

Last week a day's conference dealing with the educational program and offerings of Garrett County Schools was held in the Board of Education office. The purpose of the conference was to ascertain to what extent our school Grade 1 through 11 are meeting the needs of boys and girls and to point the direction of instruction for the next several years. Miss Kate Bannatyne, supervisor of county schools, represented the elementary schools; the five high school principals represented the junior and senior high schools; members of the curriculum department of the State Department of Education were Dr. James Spitznas, State Director of Instruction, Miss Grace Alder, State Supervisor of Elementary Schools, and Mrs. Gladys Hopkins, State Supervisor of Curriculum.

Hershel M. James, State Supervisor of Industrial Education, was also in the county at the time and visited each high school industrial arts and agriculture department.

All forty-seven school buildings of the county were inspected last week by Dr. Clarence Newell, School Building Consultant of University of Maryland, and by two of his assistants along with Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss, State Supervisor of High Schools, and R. Bowen Hardesty, Assistant Superintendent.

Dr. E. L. Morphet, School Building Consultant of the Florida State Department of Education, arrived on Wednesday evening and was joined by Dr. Newell, his two assistants, Dr. Devilbiss, and Dr. Spitznas. It is expected that their written report to the Board of Education and County Commissioners will contain about fifty pages.

VFW Officers Are Installed April 12

Recently elected officers in the Henry and Luther Schmidt Post No. 5282, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were installed at a meeting of the unit on Monday evening. All were installed with the exception of Harrison Wright, Jr., junior vice-commander, who was absent.

Those installed were John H. Stevenson, Jr., commander; William K. Glotfelty, senior vice-commander; Emory W. Adams, Jr., adjutant; Earl C. Wolfe, quartermaster; Joseph M. Gonder, judge advocate; Theodore Knotts, chaplain. Trustees are Harry Ward Hinebaugh, Robert W. Lohr, and Ronald E. McIntire.

The Post will meet the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for Monday, May 3, at the country club. All active and inactive members are urged to attend.

School Lunch Program To Be Studied at Next P.-T.A. Meeting

A study of the school lunch program will be a feature of the next meeting of the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher association meeting, to be held on Thursday night, April 22, in the Oakland high school auditorium, it was announced by William W. Nace, president. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Gertrude N. Bowie, state supervisor of the school lunch program, State department of education, will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Nace said she would answer three questions: Why are school lunch rooms needed in schools? What is a good school lunch program? and What type of room is needed in a modern school to accommodate a school lunch program?

All schools of the county interested in beginning school lunch programs are invited to send delegates to the meeting. Invitations are being mailed to presidents of all P.-T.A.'s in the county, presidents and interested members of all civic groups in the county; all cafeteria workers of the three schools now sponsoring a lunch program, and principals of the Red House, Loch Lynn and North Glade elementary schools.

Mr. Nace said R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, would also speak on the new building program for schools in the county.

Firemen Called

Oakland firemen were called Sunday afternoon as the result of a car on fire at the Weber crossroads, but the call was cancelled almost immediately.

Architects Named For New Library

Johannes and Murray, architects, of Silver Spring, were appointed to draw up plans and specifications for the new memorial library in Oakland, it was announced following a meeting of the Library Board last Thursday afternoon.

They have accepted the appointment, according to F. E. Rathbun, chairman, and are now preparing a large scale floor plan.

The board last Thursday also planned to sell the dwelling, corner of Second and Center, at public auction, the building to be torn down and removed. The property will be vacated by May 31. It is now occupied by W. L. Evans and Earl Evans, and their families.

Urges More Farm Families To Join Better Living Program

With only six farm families enrolled in the "Farming for Better Living" program thus far, Maurice Brookhart, Oakland, chairman of the group urged members of his council this week to make an effort to reach the goal of 70 members by the end of the application period.

It was emphasized again that there was no cost to joining but that at the end of November, those who had shown the most marked improvement with the means on the farm at their disposal, would be honored by the Farming for Better Living Council. Premiums are to be awarded and other features are being planned.

Enrollment blanks may be clipped from this newspaper or obtained from the office of the county agent.

Those who enroll will be given a booklet in which various simplified records are kept. The booklet carries recommendations for a progressive farm program and embodies the same principles and practices recommended by agricultural experiment stations for many years. The value of a well balanced farm plan is emphasized.

Enrollment blanks are to be returned to the office of John H. Carter, county agent.

Those enrolling thus far in the program include James E. White, Deer Park; Glenn W. White, Mt. Lake Park; G. S. Tichnell, Deer Park; John H. Friend, Swanton; H. G. Gortner, Oakland; Ralph V. Baker, Mt. Lake Park.

Boosting The County At Rotary Meeting Expected to "Pay Off"

Spreading the news about Garrett county as a vacationland through a display in the Rotary convention at Bedford, Pa., over the week-end was received with much favor, according to local Rotarians who attended the three-day sessions. They received many inquiries about Oakland and the entire county and a number of Rotary delegates from three states indicated they would visit this area this summer.

The Oakland club was well represented and received a trophy for having gone the longest distance with the most members and also one for having the largest membership present throughout the conference. One of the speakers on Monday afternoon was Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Oakland, on the subject of community activities.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Rathbun, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Reckard, Logan Weber, Earl Zepp, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. Reaford Purbaugh.

Attending the Sunday session were Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Graser, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crowthers, Mr. and Mrs. Emeric Dusic, Mr. and Mrs. Prentice DeBerry, and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Glotfelty.

Temporary Location Is Obtained for A. and P.

It was announced this week that the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company had obtained a temporary location for its store here while the present location is being torn down and a new building erected.

In the near future the store will move to the former Harry Davis property, corner of Second and Oak streets, and will remain there until completion of the new corner structure by Stuart F. Hamill, corner of Third and Oak.

Author of Book on Wild Flowers To Receive Honorary Doctor Degree

Joseph E. Harned, pharmacist, whose hobby resulted in the publication of the book, "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," which has had wide usage throughout this area, will be honored by West Virginia Wesleyan college, Buckhannon, at commencement exercises on May 25.

At this time Mr. Harned will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. His election to this honor came at a meeting of the Board of Trustees at a meeting in Parkersburg on March 4, but official notification did not come until this week from W. J. Scarborough, president of the college.

Mr. Harned expects to go to Buckhannon that day, as it is a rule of the college that those receiving honorary degrees must appear in person.

This unusual honor will be conferred just seventeen years after the publication of his first edition in 1931. In that year the ambition in early childhood to make a thorough study of the wild flowers of this section and complete a book which would be unique in its treatment of the subject, was realized.

Mr. Harned gives credit to his mother in the preface of his book "in whose garden of flowers, tenderly cared for, I was taught to appreciate the beauties of nature; to lend a listening ear to the voice of sweet-singing birds; to patiently observe the bees, butterflies and other insects in their visitations among the flowers."

Entering the drug business in 1890, after having been reared on a farm in the Promised Land section of the county, Mr. Harned spent most of his leisure for 35 years in his association with wild flowers.

His book immediately found favor with many people, necessitating a second edition in 1936. It is being used as a text book in several universities and colleges and the author has received nation-wide recognition.

Dale Carnegie, in a syndicated column in newspapers termed Mr. Harned in 1941 one of the "happiest men in Maryland," because of the fact that he had one of the loveliest hobbies in all the world.

Since the publication of the book Mr. Harned has lectured widely to organizations and students and it was last December that a technical film, to be used in the study of botany in universities and colleges, was dedicated to him. The film was named after his book and he is given credit for valuable work contributed during the filming.

Mr. Harned is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science, Botanical Society of America, American Nature Association, Wild Flower Preservation society, and others. Locally he is a member of the Methodist church, having taught the Harned Bible class for many years. He is also active in civic and fraternal organizations.

Legion Auxiliary Has Special Meeting

A special meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held Sunday afternoon at the Legion Home in Oakland with Mrs. Alvenia Cole, Frostburg, Mt. District vice-presilent; and Mrs. Jesse Smith, Lonaconing, national secretary, as special guests.

Chairmen of a number of committees were appointed as follows:

Mrs. Michael Kildow, Americanism; Mrs. Wayne A. Sowers, publicity; Mrs. Francis Gower, community service; Mrs. Paul Kemphfer, national defense; Mrs. Joseph Hinebaugh, rehabilitation; Mrs. William Mattingly, cradle roll; Mrs. Donald R. Hinebaugh, constitution and bylaws; Mrs. Maurice Brookhart, pan-American.

Members of the local legion and auxiliary have been invited to attend the open house Thursday, and the dance on Saturday, celebrating the opening of the new home at Grantsville, and it is expected that a number will attend.

Police Lieutenant Talks on Safety

Lieut. Charles Magaha, head of Troop B of the Maryland State police, with headquarters in Frederick, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening.

He also showed a moving picture on safety. He was accompanied to Oakland by Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, in charge of the LaVale barracks.

Hardesty Outlines School Administration

Tells Club In Talk The Various Responsibilities of Office

An explanation of how schools are administered in Maryland was outlined to the Oakland Rotary club members last Friday evening by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools.

To what extent the State Department controlled county school policies and how members of the State Board and the County Board were selected, along with their responsibilities and activities.

To Name Trustees

Patrons of one and two-teacher schools are scheduled to meet in their various schools this afternoon to recommend the appointment of trustees who will serve next term.

These recommendations are usually confirmed by the Board of Education at its annual reorganization meeting on May 11.

Cancer Campaign Realizing Results

That the cancer fund campaign was beginning to realize results, was announced this morning by Elza Bray, chairman of the Mt. Lake-Oakland Lions club committee. The local club is sponsoring the drive this year.

Mr. Bray said 150 coin collector cans had been placed throughout the county and that letters had been sent to quite a number of organizations presenting the need for funds to continue the work against cancer. He added that several donations had already been received.

A moving picture is available to organizations. The sound movie projector will be furnished through the Lions club, Mr. Bray said. The picture was shown at Accident on Monday evening and at Kitzmiller on Tuesday.

Rainfall Measures 4.77 Inches Here

Rise In Streams Causes Inconveniences to Fishermen

Garrett county was soaked with 4.77 inches of rainfall during the past week, which caused streams to rise over their banks but caused no particular inconvenience except to fishermen who were preparing to observe the opening of the trout season today in the traditional manner.

The large amount of rainfall, however, raised Deep Creek Lake several inches, and also caused the new dam around Selbysport to rise over the floorboards of the old bridge that crossed the Youghiogheny river and which was scheduled to be torn down.

The high waters from this county combined with other rivers to give concern to Cumberland and Pittsburgh, in their travel to the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

In Oakland the rainfall totalled 4.48 inches since Sunday with Tuesday having the largest amount with a total of 2.10 inches. The low temperature of the week was 23 on the 10th, while the high was 72 degrees, on the 8th. The thermometer rose to 68 on Monday.

Several hundred fishermen had prepared to try their luck today but all streams remained too high and muddy, and it was expected that they would wait at least until the first of next week.

There were evidences this morning that the storm had passed.

To Confer Rank of Page

The rank of Page will be conferred upon a class of four candidates at the regular meeting of the local Knights of Pythias lodge on Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

ELECTION BOARD PREPARES FOR PRIMARY VOTE

Democrats Will Name Congressional Candidate, May 3

With Maryland Democrats slated for a primary election contest, there appears in today's issue of The Republican a notice of registration of all eligible voters who have not previously registered. The date set is Tuesday, April 27.

Also in this week's issue is the notice of appointment of judges and clerks of election, for the primary election, to be held on Monday, May 3. These appointments, made by the Board of Supervisors of Elections, are for a two-year period. Final approval of the list was given at a meeting of the board on Tuesday evening in the Court House. Members of the board include A. Leo Helbig, president; Albert S. Shaffer and Jas. A. Savage.

All Marylanders were urged to register and vote "in the face of the critical issues before the nation," by Governor W. Preston Lane, Jr., this week.

Gov. Lane, in a statement, said he felt it incumbent on him to urge Free Staters to take part in the May primaries and the November General election. Maryland residents who will be 21 before November 2 may register and vote in the May primaries.

There will be no Republican primary election in Garrett county. J. Glenn Beall, incumbent, is the only one who has filed for Congress from the Sixth District, but four persons filed for the Democratic nomination, necessitating a contest.

They are Will Allen, Bethesda; F. Byrne Austin, Takoma Park; Dawson J. Horine, Myersville; and Thomas O'Connell, Silver Spring.

Each political party is entitled to four delegates at the state conventions. Four Republicans filed for the slate including Neil C. Fraley, Louis A. Morgart, J. Edward Helbig, and Dwight Stover. Only two Democrats filed, W. R. Browning and A. T. Matthews, and the latter stated yesterday afternoon that the Democratic State Central committee would name the two additional delegates at a meeting prior to the primary election.

Must Show Taxes Paid To Get Trader's Licenses This Year

Supervisor of Assessments Calls Attention to Change In Regulations

Due to changes in the regulations, all persons applying for traders' licenses this year, must have a certificate from the office of supervisor of assessments, showing values of merchandise and fixtures, which must also show that there are no unpaid taxes due, it was announced this week by R. C. McComas, supervisor.

In order to save trouble and confusion, he is placing an advertisement in The Republican today suggesting that those applying for such a license bring their tax receipts for the previous year when making application.

The tax receipts must show that county and incorporated town taxes have been paid for the calendar year of 1947. Mr. McComas received an opinion on the new law this week and it states:

"No such license shall be issued unless there shall be presented a receipt or certificates from the office of the supervisor of assessments showing the values of the merchandise, fixtures and stock in trade for the business for which said license is applied for, for the year 1947. Said receipt or certificate shall also show that there are no unpaid taxes due the incorporated city or town or county in which the license activity is carried on or to the state of Maryland on the merchandise, fixtures and stock in trade as aforesaid."

These traders' licenses are obtained from the clerk of the Circuit Court, and are supposed to be obtained by May 1st. About 275 persons are required to take out these licenses annually.

To Present Operetta

An operetta, "Jerry of Jericho Road," in two acts, will be presented by the Accident High school music department in the Accident school auditorium on April 30 and May 1st, at 8 p. m. Admission will be 30 and 50 cents.

"DOCTOR" HARNED . . .

Seventeen years ago, in an account of the publication of Mr. Joseph E. Harned's book, "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," the statement was made in The Republican "This is one of the few books of a technical nature to have been written by a local man, and it is expected that it will be very valuable to people of the Alleghany region."

The years that have followed have borne out this statement, and this year the author is to receive a reward for a work well done. He will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science, from West Virginia Wesleyan college on May 25.

The extent to which this book has been circulated probably was not dreamed of by the author at the time of its publication, but the ensuing years have brought ample proof that it has found favor with a large number of persons, not only in the Alleghany region, but in many parts of the nation.

It is a fitting honor to one who has given to the world something of lasting value.

Many people in past years have unconsciously called him "Doctor," because in their own minds he deserved that honorary title. Now it is to be made official and his many friends are pleased at this recognition.

Gerald Rounds, of Swanton, who is an employe of the chemical plant at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company at Luke, was a business caller in Oakland Thursday, also making a business trip to Virginia on Friday.

IN MEMORIAM

The Lord has called Home, one of our fellow members, Judson Glotfelty, of the Bittinger community.

Mr. Glotfelty was a charter member of our Association and has consistently worked with and for us to bring about better conditions for the school bus operators of Garrett County and better service for the County Board of Education and for the children who daily ride the buses to and from the schools.

We, who knew him well, always found him to be kind, friendly, and peaceful; living in harmony with one and all. He would rather give than take from his fellowman and stood ready to assist whenever possible in all movements looking toward the betterment of mankind.

His passing is a distinct loss to our Association but the sound advice and wise counsel he has given to us in the past, will remain with us, always, as a constant reminder of his association with us.

His passing has also exemplified for us the words of our Lord as expressed in the 26th verse of the 2nd chapter of the Acts of the Apostles and in the 7th verse of the 116th Psalm wherein we are told

> Therefore did my heart rejoice and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope. Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee. Amen.

May his memory never grow dim in the hearts of those who loved him.

Passed at the meeting of the Garrett County School Bus Operators Association held at Accident, Md. on April 9, 1948.

Announce Engagement

Mrs. Carl Paynter announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Sybilla Paynter, to Mr. William Sharps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sharps, at a party on Tuesday evening at Pickwick Inn. There were sixteen guests present.

At each plate was the announcement fastened with a ring and with an imported handkerchief attached. The event is to take place on June 26 in the Episcopal church at Salisbury, Maryland.

Miss Paynter is an instructor in Oakland High school and formerly resided at Salisbury. Mr. Sharps is associated with his father in the Sharps garage.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

Miss Donna Littman, Peabody student, Baltimore, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius B. Littman.

The Lydia Circle of the Lutheran church will meet next Wednesday evening, April 21, at the home of Mrs. Edith Schlossnagle. The same evening the Gleaners' circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Prentiss Porter.

A miscellaneous shower was given last Thursday evening for Mrs. Kenneth L. Lawton, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Naylor, Jr., Center street. Mrs. Lawton, recently married, was formerly Miss Ann Lawrence. Attending the shower were members of her bridge club and few other guests.

GORTNER

Next Sunday is National Sunday School Sunday. To realize the importance of Christian education, come and enjoy the church service in the morning and evening by the Brethren and United Brethren. The time to appreciate these is while you still have them.

Among the recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Swartzentruber were Mrs. Dice Spiker, Pastor Hare, of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spoerlein and daughter and Miss Leah Beachy. The family and a number of the neighbors have formed a ring to take care of Mr. and Mrs. Swartzentruber, who are both invalids, but well enough to enjoy company.

A hundred guests attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harsh at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle on Friday evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Schmidt of Altamont, Mrs. Ruth Taylor and son of Loch Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. John Schlossnagle and son, Mt. Lake Park, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Biser, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gnegy, Pleasant Valley; Mr. and Mrs. John Harsh, Jesse and Bernedene Harsh of Eglon, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Spoerlein, Mrs. Kenneth Biser and daughter, and Harry Beeghley and family, of Oakland, and all the neighbors.

The following were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Dodge: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dodge and daughter, of Lynn, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Dodge, Kingwood, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keiper and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and son, of Red House; and Miss Lela Mosser, of Oakland.

ACCIDENT

The Darktown Jamboree Minstrel Show which was presented by the Accident Volunteer Fire Department in the school auditorium several weeks ago was given by special request in Friendsville and Midland on April 6 and 9, respectively. The people of those two communities showed fine co-operation and through their efforts a profitable sum was added to the treasury of the Fire Department.

Rev. O. P. Fike and twins, John Paul and Evangeline, have been ill during the past week. At the present time, Rev. Fike and John Paul are much improved while Evangeline remains bedfast.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haenftling for the week-end were Mrs. William Dujardin, Aliquippa, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beighley and daughter, Shirley Ann, Baden, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jung, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Haenftling, along with their two daughters, have recently moved from Baltimore and for the present will reside with the former's mother, Mrs. John Haenftling, and will assume the management of the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schlossnagle, Friendsville, were Sunday guests of the Howard Schlossnagle family.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Broadwater, Bowling Green, Md., were Sunday visitors at the home of Roy and Guy Broadwater and their families.

The Luther Keller property has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Friend, who expect to move in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Smith Friend will reside with their son and daughter-in-law, who before her marriage, was Miss Jean Shoemaker, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shoemaker.

Sunday guests at the John Opel home included Miss Annie Opel and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Opel, of Salisbury, Pa. Mrs. John Opel is recuperating at her home after having undergone a leg amputation recently in the Hazel-McGilvery Hospital, in Meyersdale, Pa.

John Spoerlein spent the past several weeks with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schlossnagle, at their farm after having spent the greater part of the winter with a daughter in Oakland, and a son in Somerset, Pa. Mr. Spoerlein was able to attend the regular Holy Week and Easter services at church which seems remarkable as he is now in his eighty-ninth year. He has now gone to Keyser, W. Va., where he expects to spend some time with his daughter, Mrs. Bertha Grodzen.

Mr. and Mrs. Orus King, of Evans City, Pa., visited with Mrs. D. A. King and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Richter over last week-end.

After having spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zehner, in Somerset, Pa., Mrs. W. A. Speicher has returned to her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speicher were in Westernport, Monday on business.

Walter Georg, of Flatwoods, Mrs. Ford Fike, Markleysburg, and Mrs. Fred Glotfelty, near Oakland, spent the week-end with their brother and sister-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Howard Georg, Clearfield, Pa. Rev. George is anticipating a call to Trinity Lutheran church, Fort Wayne, Ind., and expects to move there in June.

Miss Ruth Marie Fike and Wayne Fike spent the week-end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Georg.

Homemakers Council To Meet April 23rd

The Executive Board of the County Council of Homemakers' clubs will hold its spring meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Wilt, Accident, April 23, beginning at 10:00 a. m.

Due to the importance of the meeting it is hoped that every member of the Board will attend, it was announced by the president, Mrs. W. W. DeWitt.

Miss Venia M. Keller, assistant director of Extension Service, will be present.

MARRIED

Sanner-DeWitt—In a quiet ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, April 4th, in the Parsonage of the Methodist church of Friendsville, Mary Annabelle DeWitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton DeWitt of near Friendsville, became the bride of Clyde Sanner, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sanner of Friendsville. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William E. Wade.

The bride was attired in a light brown suit with dark brown accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of red rosebuds.

Both young people are well known in and about Friendsville, having attended the schools there. The bride was graduated from Friendsville high school with the class of 1947; while the groom finished with the class of 1945.

Mr. Sanner is associated with his father in the car repair business in Friendsville.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds left for a short wedding trip.

The young couple will reside near Friendsville.

Beckman-MacNair—Mr. and Mrs. John E. MacNair, Houlton, Maine, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Ruth Frances, to Robert T. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne S. Beckman, of near Oakland, on Wednesday, March 10, in the Baptist church at Loch Lynn.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. James MacLeod, Baptist minister, assisted by Rev. George W. Simpson, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

The bride was given in marriage by Franklin Knox, friend of the couple. The bride was attired in a rust colored suit with matching accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Rose Ina Beckman, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant and wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories with a corsage of rosebuds. Oliver Beckman was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Ruth Weimer sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. I. B. Sweitzer and Miss Mildred Ford played the traditional wedding music.

A small reception was held at the groom's home.

The bride was graduated from Houlton High school and has been in the government employ in Washington, D. C., for the past few years. The groom is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of 1940. He served three years in the U. S. Army, fifteen months of that time overseas. Since his discharge he has been employed by the government.

The couple resides at 1825 New Hampshire Ave., N. W., Washington.

"DOUBLE OR SOMETHING"

It's "double or something" in the Woodmen Society's Camp Activity campaign ending April 30. Each camp that secures only four new members will receive a Luminous Highway Sign. But more popular is the DOUBLE AWARD—Two Highway Signs—for securing four new members and completing a fraternal or civic service project.

Woodmen receive more than safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection for the future security of themselves and their families. They also enjoy the benefits of Woodcraft's fraternal, civic and patriotic activities.

Call the local Woodmen representative. Let him give you the facts about Woodmen insurance protection and fraternal benefits.

Sharing is always in season

Whether it's Spring-time or harvest-time, good neighbors know how to share. Neighborly sharing helps a lot in getting the best service from a telephone party line, too.

Whenever you use your party line, please remember these simple rules for better telephone service:

1. Try to make your calls reasonably brief.
2. Whenever possible, allow an interval between calls so that others can use the line.
3. Answer the telephone as promptly as you can.
4. Please don't interrupt when the line is in use, except in case of emergency.
5. Remind the children to follow these good-neighbor suggestions.

If you use your party line "sharingly," you'll find that others on the line will very likely follow suit.

Planks, laid on "ties" strung from two cables. Crude, indeed—but nevertheless a suspension bridge!

Full of symbolism, too! Those planks . . . the hazardous path across some obstacle in life's course. Those cables . . . faith, supporting our footsteps when there is no foundation beneath.

There is something else: Those cables are lashed to trees. Faith must always be anchored in something . . . or Someone.

When you build a cable bridge you lash it not to a reed or a sapling, but to the strongest and surest of trees. When a wise man builds his bridge of life he anchors his faith in GOD.

The Church has specialized in this kind of engineering for centuries. Let's start building together NEXT SUNDAY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

e House Committee on Armed ices started hearing the first of week on a bill to authorize the e-time draft of men for military oses. The measure under con- ation was introduced by Chair- Andrews and is different from me submitted by the Truman ad- stration insofar as it would ap- only to men between eighteen thirty years of age, while the nistration wanted to register all up to forty-five years old. Under ill only those in the age bracket een nineteen and twenty-five be subject to call, with exemp- for veterans having one year of e service, married men, essential oyees, and certain classifications udents. It is quite probable the sions of the Andrews Bill will anged materially by the Com- e, for there is much sentiment ongress to first require only tration under Selective Service no men to be actually con- ted into the armed forces as as voluntary enlistments will y needed manpower. Additional ation would be required before ing actual inductions.

al G. Hoffman, President of the baker Corporation of South , Indiana, who in recent years served on numerous boards and issions under Presidents Roose- and Truman, was named as Ad- trator of the five billion three red million dollar European Re- y Program by President Tru- last week. Hoffman's appoint- was immediately confirmed by Senate and he was sworn into last Friday morning. He will rvise one of the largest spending rams in the nation's history. Re- legislative action took away the State Department all con- over foreign aid matters. A Spe- Joint Committee, made up of bers of the House and Senate nittees on Foreign Affairs, will an "eye" on the entire foreign peration.

sident Truman has given in to ressional pressure and has asked dditional appropriations to build e nation's Air Force. Originally Administration requested addi- l national defense appropriations ive every branch of the armed ces extra funds on a pro-rata , according to present size. The ress wanted none of that, point- ut that our Navy is already five s as large as the combined fleets e rest of the world and that few —if any additional battle ships are needed, although more submarines may be in order. Instead the Congress has insisted that we have a modern seventy group Air Force, rather than the fifty-five groups as proposed by the Administration. It will take approximately two years to bring the Air Forces up to the strength proposed by Congress.

The Public Lands Committee of the House reported favorably on H.R. 5155, my bill which would authorize the National Park Service and the Public Roads Administration to make a survey of the C. and O. canal and then report on the advisability of constructing a parkway. I am most anxious that the survey of the C. and O. canal be made at the earliest possible date. Much interest in a parkway has been manifested by the people in the District and I mean to do everything possible to see that my bill is finally enacted into a law.

The hearings on the Viers Mill Project are being held daily. I requested the investigation of this project in order to determine whetner or not the veteran is getting full value on his investment.

I introduced H. R. 6138 this week. This bill would reimburse Washington County and City of Hagerstown for the taxes lost because the federal government took over valuable property in that county and city, consequently no taxes were paid. My bill has been referred to the Public Lands Committee and I hope we have an early hearing.

I am to meet with a representative of the National Park Service and the Director of the Maryland State Forests and Parks relative to the Catoctin Recreational Area. This meeting is in the connection with legislation I introduced affecting the Catoctin Area.

Violent rioting broke out in Bogota, Colombia, following assassination of president of the Liberal party, breaking up the Pan-American conference temporarily. Around 100 person were slain. Americans were reported safe.

The coal strike had idled nearly 600,000 persons.

VETERANS!

Want to learn to fly?

If you have completed two years of college or can pass necessary examinations, you have a splendid opportunity to get the world's finest pilot training.

Any man, physically and mentally qualified, single and between 20 and 26½, can become an Aviation Cadet with the U. S. Air Force. After your training, you will be rated as a pilot, commissioned 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and assigned to flying duty with the U. S. Air Force.

There's no better way to get the flight training you want, and land a good paying job as well. Get the facts at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

Looked at and looked up to

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind – if you know automobiles – the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big – and spring-colt lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too – with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflow Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

In short – here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance – looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer – and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good – specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

BUICK alone has all these features

- ★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)
- ★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster)
- ★ VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE ★ SAFETY-RIDE RIMS
- ★ HI-POISED FIREBALL POWER
- ★ ROAD-RITE BALANCE ★ RIGID TORQUE-TUBE
- ★ QUADRUFLEX COIL SPRINGING
- ★ SOUND-SORBER TOP LINING (Super and Roadmaster)
- ★ DUOMATIC SPARK ADVANCE ★ FLEX-FIT OIL RINGS
- ★ TEN SMART MODELS ★ BODY BY FISHER

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 22, 1948. NUMBER 8

What's Right With the U. S.

Millions of Americans seem to be indifferent toward charges that there is something basically wrong with our governmental and economic systems, and that socialism, communism and the rest of the assorted isms have more to offer.

A national bank president of one of the western states has stated: "Our country is the only nation in the history of the world that has continued with its intrinsic, basic types of government since its beginning 170 years ago. In those 170 years our 6 percent of the world's population produced 25 percent of the world's goods and possesses 50 percent of the world's wealth. In no other country is there such opportunity as here.

"Too many people are saying what is wrong with America. Instead, we should be saying what is right with the United States. Why should capital be on trial here? Why should not socialism or communism instead be on trial, when our people are asked to provide the money and the food and tools for other nations to carry on?

"In my time we have defended our country three times from outside invaders, but we are not defending it sufficiently from within. The working man here is able to live almost as well as a king compared with those in other countries. Other systems promise. Our people have."

That is a fundamental truth. The American people should shout from their housetops their faith in a system that has given them such benefits, and what is really more important, those things that make for a life of freedom.

Faith in this system can be shown clearly by supporting the Savings Bond sales campaign which is now underway by the government in what they declare is a double-barrelled attack on inflation.

Oakland Juniors Lose to Kitzmiller High Baseball Team

Kitzmiller High school team nosed out the Oakland Junior Legion team in an extra inning exhibition game at Kitzmiller on Monday afternoon by the score 10 to 9. The Oakland team is a member of the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball league, and was its first game of the season.

The teams were deadlocked at 8-8 at the end of seven innings ofter Oakland had led 8 to 3 up to that time. Kitzmiller won out with a two-run rally when the visitors blew up in the ninth.

Kitzmiller was limited to four blows including a homer by Luffey and a two-bagger by Hershberger and took advantage of seven fielding misplays charged against the opposition.

Rowan led Oakland's eight-hit attack with two singles and a double. The two pitchers for each side racked up 12 strikeout victims. DeWitt, who replaced Buz Herman in the 8th, was the loser, and Sharpless, who succeeded Luffey in the 7th, received credit for the victory.

Oakland will not open its league games officially until June 4. The locals will play Keyser High here on Saturday, May 1st; and Kitzmiller High here on Monday, May 3.

Strip Mining Action Is Delayed by Board

Action on a request to allow two Pittsburgh, Pa., men to continue strip mining operations in the county was delayed by the Board of Public Works at a meeting in Annapolis on Tuesday.

Govenor Lane suggested that Director Joseph F. Kaylor of the Department of Forests and Parks, talk over the proposal first with former Attorney General William C. Walsh. The latter is one of the attorneys representing Clarence B. Nixon and C. L. Briton, Pittsburgh.

They wanted to strip property for which a previous permit had been granted John C. Keister, in the Grantsville section, plus 100 adjacent acres. The company that started operations has gone into receivership, according to Deputy Comptroller Joseph O'C. McCusker.

In letters to the board Kaylor said the land might be "ruined" for timber for several hundred years, and Chief Mine engineer, John J. Rutledge, suggested permission should require removal of fire clay as well as coal.

Firemen To Gather At Bloomington

Bloomington Fire company will be host to the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's association convention on Thursday afternoon, June 10.

In connection with the convention the Bloomington firemen will hold a carnival for the entire week, June 7 to 12.

Tuesday night a parade, open to out of state companies, will be held.

The association, which comprises 28 companies in Allegany and Garrett counties, will award prizes for the parade on Thursday night.

Bank Officials Hear Recovery Program Discussed at Dinner

Methods which are to be used in the European Recovery program, were heard last Thursday night by local bank officials who attended the annual spring dinner meeting of Group I of the Maryland Bankers Association at Cumberand.

The speaker was Raymond F. Mikesell, financial consultant of the United States Department of State, and also professor of economics at the University of Virginia.

Approximately 80 officers and directors of member banks in Allegany and Garrett counties attended the session. Howard Riggs, chairman of Group 1, and cashier and vice-president of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, presided.

Chief purpose of the recovery program, Mikesell, explained, is to enable the European countries receiving aid to become independent of further outside economic assistance by 1952. Dollars will not be given away, he said. Aid will be furnished either directly by commodities or through U. S. treasury accounts to be used only for specific purposes.

Assistance will be in the form of grants or loans, depending on the individual country's financial status, with some countries paying cash for allocations where they are able to do so.

Mikesell pointed out that before the countries can receive aid they must make bi-lateral agreements with the United States, agreeing to balance their budgets, reduce trade barriers and speed up delivery to the U. S. of materials needed in this country. European countries will be required to help themselves through their own efforts in promoting agriculture, industrial production, return to sound currencies and stimulating international trade, the speaker said.

Fined on Drunken Driving Charge

Lawrence Cooper, arrested by Trooper Robert Henline on a charge of reckless driving under the influence of liquor, was sentenced to 32 days in the county jail at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Monday.

Dale F. Cuppett, Washington, D. C., was also arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor and posted collateral of $127.90. He forfeited this collateral when he failed to appear for a hearing on Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Fisher said they were holding a person in the jail this morning on a vagrancy charge. The man spoke very brokenly and said he came to this country from Albania in 1920.

Authorities this week investigated a report that some individual had been seen on the roof of a home on Alder street this week.

To Discuss New Quarters

At a special meeting of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion on Monday evening the question of building an extension to the present Legion home or constructing an entirely new building, was discussed.

A special committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities in both instances and report to the organization at a meeting on May 10.

SECURITY LOAN DRIVE IS UNDER WAY IN COUNTY

Howard Riggs Is County Chairman in Campaign Which Will Continue Until June 15

For the first time since the end of World War II, millions of Americans are being asked to buy Savings Bonds, in the Security Loan promotional campaign.

The drive began last Thursday and will continue until June 15. Howard C. Riggs, who was chairman of the drives during the war, was asked to continue in this capacity and announced yesterdty that Garrett county's quota is $140,000.

Mr. Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, said he believed the goal would be met since sales of E, F and G bonds in Garrett county in 1947 amounted to between $300,000 and $400,000.

No new types of bonds are being offered, just the E, F, and G bonds.

The primary purpose of the U. S. Savings bonds program is to maintain widespread ownership of the national debt, and at the same time to provide proceeds which the treasury can use in retiring maturing bank-held debt. This is declared to be a double barrelled attack on inflation by syphoning off excess funds in the hands of individuals which would otherwise be used to bid up prices; and second, to enable the treasury to retire inflationary debt.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., House of Representatives, said the campaign offers "the opportunity for each citizen to stand up and be counted for the American voluntary way of life.

"The worker who invests a portion of his or her weekly earnings in United States Savings bonds is joining in a demonstration of faith in the security of a government dedicated to freedom."

To Represent State At Apple Blossom Fete

Miss Martha Fratz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fratz, Accident, has had the honor to be chosen one of three young ladies to represent the State of Maryland as a Princess in the annual Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia, April 28 and 29. Miss Fratz is a third year student at Maryland State Teachers' College, Frostburg. She will appear also with the Maryland Singers in a public concert at the college on Thursday evening, April 22 after which the group will leave on a singing tour and will appear in the principal cities of the east including Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Kitzmiller Team Is Winner Over Keyser

Eugene Sharpless let Keyser High school down with four scattered hits and chalked up six strikeouts last Thursday as Kitzmiller High school's baseball team launched its 1948 campaign with an 8-0 triumph.

Luffy headed the attack with two doubles, while Hershberger and Sharpless, of Kitzmiller and Spitzer also rapped out two hits each.

Melvin Brown is coaching the Kitzmiller team.

LaSalle of Cumberland defeated Kitzmiller 8 to 4 last Saturday at Cumberland.

Socialist Party Eligible For Place on Md. Ballot

The Socialist Party became the first "third party" eligible for a place on Maryland general election ballots.

Petitions purportedly bearing more than 2,000 signatures have been delivered to the secretary of the state. The petitions were to enter the names of eight electors supporting Socialist candidates for president and vice-president on the November general election ballot.

Arguments in Maryland Vote Case To Be April 26

Final arguments in the contested Maryland senatorial election will be heard by a Senate Rules subcommittee April 26.

Aides of Chairman Jenner said the date was first set for next Wednesday to hear counsel for Sen. O'Conor and D. John Markey, the latter of whom had brought the contest but it was found that counsel for O'Conor had a court case.

Frank Kley to Manage Amvets Baseball Team

Frank Kley, Sr., will manage the Oakland Amvets baseball team for the coming season, it was announced by business manager John "Newt" Castilow this week.

In a 7-inning exhibition game last Sunday the Amvets were defeated by the Crellin team four to nothing. Sheehe and Glaze pitched for the Amvets with McManis catching. Shaffer and Lewis handled the pitching for Crellin with Sanders catching. The latter led both teams in hitting.

The season will officially open May 2 with a double header against Klondike on the Oakland High field, formerly known as Fike's field.

Crist Yoder Has Highest Producing Herd for February

The February report of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1, of Grantsville, showed Crist Yoder as owner of the high herd of the month with an average butterfat content of 27.9. He had 30 cows in his herd, which produced 20,498 pounds of milk or a total of 837.9 butterfat.

Second high herd of the month is owned by Raymond Loechel, with Galen and Ada P. Maust, third, Raymond Tice, fourth, and Sherman Beachy, fifth.

The high producing cow of the month was owned by Allen Maust. She produced 1,090 pounds of milk for a total of 60 pounds of butterfat content. Second high was also owned by Mr. Maust.

The seventeen other high cows were owned by John J. Hafer, Elmer Maust, Crist Yoder, Raymond Tice, Galen and Ada Maust, M. John Yoder, Sherman Beachy and Paul Kinsinger.

Commissioners Ask Roads Commission To Accept Road Bid

The Board of County Commissioners at its meeting this week, recommended to the State Roads Commission that the bid for the Loch Lynn-Gorman road, made by the Interstate Amiesite company of Wilmington, Del., be accepted. The bid was $267,785.65, as against one of the George F. Hazelwood company of Cumberland, of $273,350.95.

The actual bid showed a saving of more than $8,000 over the previous bid which was rejected a few weeks ago, and changes in the specifications which were added, make the total saving in this respect about $12,000, it was pointed out.

Just when the work would get under way was not known.

The meeting of Commissioners this week was termed a quiet one. Robert Brafford and Wade Bolyard asked for the improvement of the Broadford road between Mt. Lake Park and the Oakland-Deer Park road, but they were informed no permanent improvement could be made this year as the program was already set up for 1948.

Meeting as a board of license commissioners, 37 applications for renewal of class "D" beer license were approved and six new applications were granted. There were no protests entered against any of the new applicants.

Invitations Issued

Invitations are being received by friends here to the approaching wedding of Miss Miriam Ray Hallman, daughter of George Augustus Hallman, of Salisbury, Md., to Delbert Maurice Davis, Jr., also of Salisbury, formerly of Oakland.

The ceremony will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 8, at 4 o'clock in the Bethesda Methodist church at Salisbury. A reception will follow at the social hall of the church

Fires at Road Garages

The Oakland fire department was called twice last week, the alarms coming from the County Roads Garage and the State Roads garage. Damage was slight in each case.

The first last Thursday afternoon at the county garage resulted when an employe upset a can of gasoline and the liquid was ignited by a cutting torch.

Friday morning a tar kettle became ignited at the State roads garage but was quickly extinguished.

Twenty-six communists were arrested in Brazil who were implicated in an arsenal blast there.

Time Schedule Is Due For Shakeup

Many Eastern Sections to Move Clocks Ahead — Grantsville Will be Only Section in County on Fast Time

The time schedule throughout the country will get a shaking up beginning Sunday morning at 12:01 o'clock with many Eastern cities observing fast time, but Garrett county is expected to be more consistent than last year.

The County Commissioners here have made statements that they oppose any change, and a majority of farm people are known to oppose any change in time. At present it is being assumed that Grantsville is the only Garrett county town that will definitely observe the new time.

Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector for the town of Oakland, said yesterday morning that he had received replies to his recent inquiry to incorporated towns, only from Accident and Grantsville. Ralph Ault, clerk for the Accident council, said it would be necessary to take a vote of the citizens before anything definite could be announced, but that farm people of that area definitely were opposed to the fast time. None of the other incorporated towns had answered the letter which requests an opinion of the time question for their localities.

The City of Oakland unofficially indicated at the April meeting that there probably would be no danger in the town itself this year, as merchants and business people were not favorable to a continuation of the confusion which resulted last year, when some observed it and some did not.

Trains on Standard Time

A summer schedule for Baltimore and Ohio trains will go into effect on Sunday morning. Eastbound trains as a general rule, will remain about the same, but two of the westbound trains will change considerably.

According to Clarence Murphy, station agent, No. 23 will arrive in Oakland at 3:54 a. m.; while No. 11 will arrive at 12:39, a change of more than a hour. The National Limited will arrive at 10:57 p. m. as usual.

Eastbound trains: No. 30, 10:56 a. m.; No. 12, 7:06 p. m.; No. 24, 12:44 a. m.; No. 4, eastbound, which stops at Terra Alta, will arrive there at 5:50 a. m., instead of 6:37 at the present time.

All of Allegany county, Keyser, Bedford, Meyersdale, Somerset and Berlin will be on daylight saving time. Towns to the west of Oakland in West Virginia are expected to remain on standard time, according to the latest information available.

Miners Trooping Back Into Pits

Soft coal miners were trooping back to the pits in increasing numbers in the entire area.

Reports from eight states indicated the return of at least 41,000 who were idle yesterday. The number of miners at work rose to 125,000. Many of the 275,000 still out were expected back tomorrow.

Coal production still continued to be a problem in Western Maryland and nearby West Virginia. Moving of coal cars on the railroads dropped Wednesday.

In the George's Creek region the miners failed to report for work Wednesday. Only a few strip mining operations and some non-union shafts were in operation.

In a wire Tuesday to district headquarters of the United Mine Workers John L. Lewis said "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

Lewis was fined $20,000 and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 for criminal contempt of court, in a decision handed down by Judge T. Alan Goldsborough. He put off the sentence for "civil contempt" until Friday.

A.A.U.W. To Elect

At the next meeting of the American Association of University Women election of officers will be held, it was announced following the special meeting on Monday night, at the Home Economics building. The meeting will be on Monday, May 10.

At Monday night's meeting the group discussed the activities of the ensuing year and made plans to continue to study the history of Oakland and its early families.

Inspector Pleased With Local Guard

Pleasure over the progress of the local national guard unit was expressed last night by Lieut. Col. Fred M. Hewitt, battalion commander, of Baltimore, following an inspection.

Col. Hewitt made not only an inspection of the men but also the premises and according to Lieut. Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., company commander, seemed very well pleased with conditions in general.

The company strength is now four officers and fifty-two men. All men were paid last night for the previous three months period and the amount totaled $1,400. This was almost double the amount of the first pay period, Lieut. Hamill said.

School Lunches Is Topic for P.-T.A. Meeting Tonight

School lunches will be the topic for the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher association meeting, scheduled for this evening in the Oakland High School auditorium, according to William W. Nace, president. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

The principal speaker will be Mrs. Gertrude N. Bowie, state supervisor of the school lunch program, State department of education. The needs of the school lunch program, what constiutes a good program and the type of room needed will be discussed by Mrs. Bowie.

The new building program for schools of the county also will be outlined by R. Bowan Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools.

Chamber To Name Board of Directors

Nine members of the Board of Directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce are to be named at the annual organization meeting of the group, scheduled for May 11, at the Mt. Lake Hotel.

W. O. Davis, secretary, announced this morning the names of the eighteen members who had been nominated by ballots recently, from which list the nine will be selected.

The nominees include Cecil Smith, Lewis R. Jones, Mason J. Glotfelty, Arthur Humbertson, Emeric Dusic, Wilbur W. Close, Irvin R. Rudy, Sr., Charles L. Briner, William Spiker, Donald R. Sincell, Newton Coplin, H. C. Riggs, Earl Zepp, Irvin Feld, Ralph Pritts, Reaford Purbaugh, Emroy Bolden and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner.

The speaker at the dinner meeting will be Jennings Randolph, of Elkins, W. Va., former Congressman from West Virginia.

Library Board To Discuss Floor Plans

A meeting of the Board of Library Trustees of the Ruth Enlow memorial library is scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30, at which time the architects are to show the scale floor plans and other details which are being worked out. Suggestions that will be worked into preliminary plans are also to be submitted to the board, according to F. E. Rathbun, president of the board.

D. B. Johannes, Jr., of Johannes and Murray, architects, of Silver Spring, in a letter to Mr. Rathbun, on April 9, indicate that they would give their best efforts toward the fulfillment of this project.

He declared that "The facts and spirit involved in the negotiations thus far as contained in the documents and correspondence turned over to me, will be of great value to us. Cold hard facts are naturally necessary in the planning of any building but the thoughts and inspirations of all those involved are of equal importance to the architect who conscientiously applies the esthetic as well as material phases to his work."

Mr. Rathbun had previously turned over documents including the correspondence carried on between himself and E. E. Enlow from the time the project was first conceived until the present time.

Containers Received

Ten trash containers, which have been purchased for the town of Oakland through the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club, have been received and will be placed soon in the business section, it was announced.

The receptacles cost over $30 each.

BOOSTERS PLAN CONFERENCE ON SPORTS PROGRAM

Representatives From Five High School Communities Invited to Hear Dr. Ferguson on May 4

In order to give the five high school communities an opportunity to learn more about the physical education program available in the state, the Oakland Boosters' club has planned a special dinner meeting for Tuesday evening, May 4, at the William-James hotel, Oakland, at which time Dr. Thomas C. Ferguson, of Baltimore will be the speaker. The dinner will begin at 6:15.

Dr. Ferguson is state supervisor of physical education and recreation and will discuss the possibilities of football for Maryland high schools and what is a good general physical education program.

Emeric Dusic, president of the Boosters, said the club was organized to promote athletics for Oakland High school, and to maintain an interest in seeing that O.H.S. students be given an opportunity to organize varsity football, basketball, baseball, soccer and track teams with adequate facilities and equipment to participate in all these sports. He added that the club members were also interested in such a program within the school itself so each student can have equal opportunity for physical educaton and recreation.

Because the local group felt that the five communities having high schools would be interested in learning more about the program, President Dusic is having letters mailed to the high school principals, inviting from each school the principal, boys' and girls' coaches, one boy athlete and one girl athlete, preferably from the junior class; P.-T.A. presidents or representatives, a former high school athlete, man or woman, from each community who is interested in sports, any additional teacher or pupil representative, any additional adult representative from the community.

Mr. Dusic said the club also was inviting members of the Board of Education, County Commissioners, County P.-T.A. council officers, State Senator L. M. Fraley, members of the House of Delegates, superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools, and a limited number of Oakland booster club members.

Persons must send in their reservations by Saturday, May 2, it was pointed out.

All Teachers Invited To Outing Here May 1

The Geography section of the Maryland State Teachers association is inviting all teachers and friends to attend the spring meeting, to be held at Oakland on Saturday, May 1, according to Miss Velora V. Swauger, of Grantsville, secretary.

The day's event will include a tour of the county which will take in Table Rock, Deep Creek Lake, Swallow Falls State Park, Pleasant Valley and other beauty spots.

Miss Swauger advises, "to have a wonderful time educationally, recreationally and socially, join the group in front of the William-James hotel at Oakland at 9:30 a. m., on May 1. Bus and expert guides will do the rest."

Miss Swauger also pointed out that overnight accommodations are available and that picnic lunches will be provided. Details may be arranged by contacting Miss Swauger at Grantsville. She also suggested that those attending bring their cameras.

Kitzmiller Man Shot In Foot By Constable

As he was alleged to have been attempting to resist arrest, a 28-year-old Kitzmiller man was shot in the foot Monday by Lee Ellifritz, constable of Elk district, Mineral county, W. Va. The victim, Paul Davis, is a patient in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser.

Cpl. R. R. Karrickoff, of the Keyser State police, said Ellifritz had obtained a peace warrant against Davis last December after the Kitzmiller man had threatened the constable's life.

Davis will face hearing on a charge of violating the peace warrant as soon as he is released from the hospital.

Bigger and Better Air Forces

The House of Representatives last week almost unanimously voted to expand the size of the Air Forces to an over-all strength of seventy groups even though the President had voiced opposition. By a vote of 343 to 3, the measure to expand the Air Forces was passed by the House in accordance with the strong and earnest support of Air Forces Secretary Symington. As approved by the House, the bill calls for an expenditure of three billion one hundred ninety-eight million dollars for planes, guided missiles, and aviation research.

On The Watch

Chairman Thomas of the House Committee on Un-American Activities has announced that he is beginning an immediate investigation of the startling influx of Russian nationals into the Panama Canal Zone, and that he will also look into the heavy concentration of Russian fishing vessels in that area. Many of you will recall the time just before the last war when Japanese fishing boats were thick off the Canal and West Coast of the United States. Invariably these little innocent looking boats were near important military or naval installations.

It may be well to review just for a minute the number of convention votes needed by a candidate to receive the Presidential nomination, especially now that the candidates are in process of gathering some of the 548 votes in various primaries. A candidate needs 548 convention votes to win—a simple majority of the 1,094 Republican delegates. To this date, all of the candidates have only 224 of the delegates votes in the bag. Mr. Stassen has 59 (New Hampshire, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska); Mr. Dewey has 124 (New Hampshire, New York, Oklahoma, Nebraska); Mr. Vandenberg has 41 and Mr. Taft hasn't any as yet. The convention is still two months away and anything can happen, as you can well imagine.

Bogota Investigation

Representative Clarence J. Brown, of Ohio, was named chairman of a Special Subcommittee of the House to investigate the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency in connection with the recent revolution in Colombia, and to learn whether that agency had warned the Secretary of State and the American delegation to the Pan American Conference at Bogota that such a bloody uprising was impending. Admiral Hillenkoetter, head of the C.I.A., last Thursday testified before the subcommittee that his operatives had warned the State Department, as early as January 2, that a Communist plot to disrupt the conference was in the making.

It will be interesting to know the true facts concerning this uprising which endangered the lives of many Americans, including our Secretary of State.

Under The Dome

I was advised this week by the Postmaster General that he is assigning the Chief Inspector to check into the matter of having city delivery service for Emmitsburg. I am hopeful that the Chief Inspector will recommend such service for Emmitsburg. . . . The Special Committee on Stream pollution met this week and while we had an interesting discussion on the various stream pollution bills, no formal report has been made as yet.

It is interesting to receive so many letters concerning legislation on Federal Aid to Education, Universal Military Training and Selective Service. These letters are welcome and most helpful. . . . A delegation of representatives of the Fire and Police Departments of the District of Columbia came to my office last week relative to my bill, H.R. 6075.

INDEPENDENCE — master of his own harvest.

SERVITUDE — the collective farm way.

Freedom IS EVERYBODY'S JOB!

Here is an alarming fact; the freedom we now enjoy is threatened.

Subversive influences are at work in our land; perhaps closer to home than we realize. They are working hard to destroy our cherished heritage.

But it is not too late. We still have time to clean house . . . to stop the undermining forces of un-American isms.

WHAT YOU CAN DO
- Remind your friends that we must be as wide-awake as our enemies.
- Vote and urge your neighbors to vote.
- Offer your time and ideas to public service.
- Speak your mind freely.

Globe Trotting Event Related By Kitzmiller Woman

An account of a globe trotting event to Tsingtao, China, and other Pacific areas, has been received here from Mrs. Isabelle E. Wilson, of Kitzmiller.

Her husband, Harvey B. Wilson, is a chief petty officer in the Navy, and she is a daughter of Delegate Jasper C. Myers, of near Kitzmiller. They left Washington last December 27 and traveled to the west coast by way of Chicago and Denver, arriving in San Francisco in January.

Parts of her account are reprinted below.

"We went aboard the USS General J. C. Breckinridge at 10 and the ship slipped out of the Golden Gate around 2:30 with her bow pointed toward Pearl Harbor, some 2100 miles to the southwest. There were 340 Army and Navy wives and children, 1200 soldiers and 675 sailors aboard. At Pearl Harbor everything was green and flowers were blooming. A chartered bus took us over the island of Oahu. Coconut palms were all over the place and here and there we could see banana trees with their green fruit. On the far side of the island we appeared to be in an ocean of pineapple fields, stretching for miles. The high spots of a tour in Honolulu were the Royal Palace where King Kamahameha resided years ago, Waikiki Beach with its snow-white coral, and a trip through the Dole Pineapple canning plant.

"Oahu has large numbers of Japanese. Most of these are American citizens by virtue of their having been born in the Hawaiian islands. There is a considerable number of Hawaiians, Portugese, Chinese and Americans but they are all in a minority.

"Enroute to Guam we had no 20th of January as we crossed the international date line. We traveled about 3050 miles from Pearl Harbor to Guam. Guam isn't much different in size than Oahu. The Army, Navy and Marines have units all over the place. The entire island is a Naval reservation. Most of the people are Chamorros (Guamians) rather short in stature, with dark chocolate-covered skin. The heat and humidity on Guam are terrific.

Head for Japan

"We headed for the land of the Rising Sun, arriving at Yokosuka Naval base, 2060 miles from Guam on January 31. We took a train to Tokyo, 40 miles away, for a tour. The ride took an hour and twenty minutes, the train stopping several times to take on and discharge hordes of Japs. We didn't ride the same cars. The cars were shoddy but the speed compared favorably with out interurban service. Highlights of the tour were a Buddhist temple, the Emperor's palace grounds, American embassy, Japanese Diet building and General MacArthur's headquarters. Buildings close to the Emperor's palace were not touched by bombing. Here are several square blocks of the most up-to-date office buildings, hotels, etc. The streets were wider than almost any I have seen in our country.

"The rest of the city had ramshackle buildings, with merchants and their little portable shops lining the streets crowded with Japs. None of them looked overfed, but we didn't see any who appeared to be starving. All land that could be used was being used as garden space. One thing you see are cigarette butts lying on the streets. Cigarettes are very expensive, costing several dollars per carton.

"We arrived at Tsingtao, the end of our trip, on February 6, after having traveled over 11,000 miles since leaving Washington.

"The rooms of our apartment are large and comfortable and the furniture ample. The kitchen was disappointing, with a small coal stove. All drinking water has to be boiled. No refrigeration was available. Electricity—sometimes we have it, sometimes not, and it can't be trusted to any certain voltage. A Chinese houseboy helps a lot. He does most of the work and some of the cooking, however, he won't do the washing as he would lose face. He makes about $7 a month in American money.

"Thousands of refugees live in shacks on the outskirts of the city. They get along but I can't see how they do it. Public transportation is practically nil. Drivers have to pay 40 cents a gallon for gasoline and have trouble getting spare parts. China has a real runaway inflation. A Chinese dollar, worth about 20 cents before the war. Now a newspaper costs $10,000, a trip to Peiping by air costs $8 million and a barrel of kerosene $7 million.

"The black market is not something hidden but is out in the open. The funeral business seems popular and prosperous. The hearse is highly decorated and supported by long poles carried by 25 or 30 Chinese coolies. Mourners are dressed in white. Amount of pay of mourners depends on how hard they can cry.

"Yes, this part of China is interesting but I will be glad to return to the good old USA."

CSPA Leader To Speak at Dinner; Junior Dramatists Will Give Play

Miss Mary E. Murray is scheduled as the guest speaker at the annual Acorn Banquet which will be held this year at the William-James Hotel on April 27. Miss Murray is the president of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, having been elected this year. She is also the faculty adviser on the high school paper, the Alcohi Mirror, at Allegany High School in Cumberland and is considered an authority on high school journalism. The paper she supervises has won many high awards at national high school newspaper conventions.

Also present at the banquet will be Principal F. D. Bittle; Miss Sybilla Paynter, editorial adviser; Mr. Carl Everly, business adviser; Vivian Paugh and Pat Filsinger, retiring editors; Hervey Smouse and Barbara Winters, next year's editors; along with the remainder of the retiring staff.

"Call It a Day"

"Call It a Day", a one act play, will be presented soon by the Junior Dramatic Club. "Call It a Day" is a comedy concerning a day in a doctor's office. The leading roles of the doctor and the doctor's wife will be played by Connie Smith and Fred Thayer. When the doctor's secretary becomes ill the doctor calls in his wife to take over his office. Then, the fun begins as the inexperienced wife tries to keep patients and salesmen from sneaking into the doctor's private office. Some of the strange patients which come in are a casket salesman, Rodger Gibson; an Irish woman, Leona Sharpless; an old lady, Mona Evans; a hillbilly woman with four children, Gladys Wensel; and two chronic invalids, George Kley, and Joe DiSimone; and others including Tom Wainer, Gloria Maffet, and Ruby Bolyard.

The play is under the direction of Mr. Watson and Pat Smith. Gladys Wensel is in charge of properties.

Our Little Boy—

Our little boy has brought a new joy and inspiration into our lives, since he came to us about a year and a half ago.

The little fellow is having a great time learning to adjust himself to life on this planet. He is a keen youngster with wide, questioning eyes which are constantly observing what goes on around him.

He watches our every movement, and occasionally we find him trying to imitate them. And that gives us food for a lot of serious thought.

How should we as parents try to live before this youngster who seems to be copying our ways? If we want him to grow up to be an honest, straightforward, God-fearing man, we must set that kind of example before him.

So we're reading our Bible again and going back to church. We want our little boy surrounded by the best influences, so that he may grow up to be a fine, strong man.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Defends States Financial Status Prior to Lane

Friendsville, Md.
April 9, 1948.

Editor "The Republican"
Oakland, Maryland.

The statements sometimes made to the effect that the State of Maryland was in poor condition financially when the present administration took over, is refuted directly by the report of the Comptroller of the Treasury for the fiscal year 1947, prepared and issued by Comptroller James J. Lacy, a member of the present administration.

In the combined balance sheet—All Funds, June 30, 1947, one of the very first charts in the Report, the Comptroller reports an Unappropriated Surplus of $11,785,171.19.

On page 60 of the Report, under Schedule "A-8-9", Miscellaneous appropriations No. 6, Postwar Construction Fund, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, the Comptroller reports a balance on hand of June 30, 1947 of $6,149,114.22 plus $4,462,834.04, set aside for contracts already pledged, covering new construction to be added to the State's facilities.

The fact that the entire $11,785,171.19, of Surplus and $5,260,993.95 of Postwar Funds were used to help balance the current budget, cannot change the fact that there was an overall total of approximately $22 million dollars available to the new Administration for budget needs and construction.

When it is taken into consideration that this—for Maryland—huge reserve would be more than ample to wipe out the entire state indebtedness, it would seem that the charge that Maryland was in financial straits on June 30, 1947 cannot be substantiated.

Certainly, in comparison to the fiscal condition of the State at the beginning of the O'Conor Administration, the June 30, 1947 financial outlook was as different as night and day.

In 1939 not only was the budget out of balance, but the State Debt had mounted to the tremendously high figure of $48 million dollars. If, instead of appropriating practically the entire O'Conor surplus and postwar reserve to make up the anticipated tax receipts deficit for 1948, the present administration had used that money to wipe out the state debt completely, as could have been done, Maryland for the first time in many years would have been able to face the future free of debt. This satisfactory condition of affairs existed in spite of substantial tax reductions.

Repeated assertions about Maryland's financial condition, which tend to give a distorted picture, can hardly be founded on lack of knowledge, when the State's official Comptroller Report shows the true situation so clearly.

Respectfully,
R. Earl Guard

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Douglas And His Boomers

The probable result of the current boom for Supreme Court Justice W. O. Douglas as the Democratic presidential nominee easily may be to make his sponsors and promoters ridiculous without getting this not overly modest person off the high bench upon which some citizens think he should never have been placed.

—o—

Of course, the movement to nominate Mr. Douglas comes from the little clique of far to the left Roosevelt "liberals," of which he was one before he was appointed and with whom he has kept in close touch since. This is the faction which is so desperately trying to ditch Mr. Truman and the reasons it is building up Mr. Douglas while still shouting for General Eisenhower are entirely clear. In the first place, the obvious fact has pretty well sunk in that unless they find someone other than General Eisenhower around whom to rally they are likely to find themselves in a most uncomfortable fix, indeed. For, most reasonably informed men are now convinced that under no circumstances will the General lend himself to any such transparent hocus pocus as is involved in this project to "draft" him in a Democratic Convention.

Moreover, if they go much farther along present lines he is going to tell them so in no uncertain terms. At least that is the conviction of intimates who best know the way Dr. Eisenhower feels on this subject. In particular, they report that though he does not want to make another statement, more talk such as recently emanated from the ebullient Mr. Chester Bowles is likely to bring an outburst from the doctor which they will not like at all. A few days ago this Mr. Bowles, whose virtues were much overadvertised when he was here as price administrator, somewhat pompously declared that if it developed that Dr. Eisenhower's views on economic, social and political matters are "satisfactorily liberal and progressive," then he should be drafted. The patronizing language in which this great thought was clothed certainly irritated Dr. Eisenhower's friends and there is reason to believe did not go down well with the doctor himself.

—o—

At any rate, even some of the most enthusiastic journalistic supporters of the "Down the Drain" with Truman effort, are weakening on the Eisenhower idea—first, because they know he can't be had; second, because they know he isn't their kind of "liberal" anyhow. Once these two things are accepted, the Douglas boom was inevitable. For one thing, Mr. Douglas, always a 100 per cent New Dealer, is the ideal of the Roosevelt "liberals." For another, ever since he became a member of the Supreme Court, he has been constantly boomed for some political office, much to the annoyance of some of his colleagues who regard his acquiescent, not to say encouraging, attitude as not in tune with the highest traditions of the court.

Primarily, it is said, he is the favored candidate of Mr. "Tommy" Corcoran, once Mr. Roosevelt's fair-haired boy and now "cashing in" in a big way as a Washington lawyer. There is no doubt that Mr. Corcoran and the elements which want to lynch Mr. Truman would rather have Mr. Douglas as the Democratic candidate than anyone else. Naturally. But there are two very considerable obstacles in the way of that wish. One is that nothing even resembling a plausible "draft" can be rigged for Mr. Douglas in the Democratic Convention. Southern Democrats would have even better reasons for opposing his nomination than they have for opposing Mr. Truman's. And, in the unlikely event of his nominations, conservative, anti-New Deal Democrats would have no alternative save support of the Republican candidate.

The only real enthusiam for Mr. Douglas is among the Roosevelt intimates of the aforementioned clique, including the "Roosevelt Boys" and the CIO leaders who affiliate or sympathize with this over-publicized group. In brief, Mr. Douglas's prospects of election certainly would be no better than Mr. Truman's—if as good. That quite obvious fact creates the second obstacle, which is Mr. Douglas's almost certain refusal to run. This is not because he does not itch to be President or Vice President. And not because he does not love the publicity accompanying his boom. It is because, however extreme Mr. Douglas's views may be, he is not sufficiently unbalanced to give up the security and dignity of a seat on the Supreme Court to make a run for the presidency with the odds so heavily against success. That would be feebleminded, indeed. And that, of course, goes double for Chief Justice Vinson.

So, the pro-Roosevelt, left-wing effort to lynch Mr. Truman seems likely to wind up with the pro-Roosevelt left-wingers in a ditch of their own digging. They have no candidate. Nor are they likely to get one who will do any better than Mr. Truman. They hate the Republicans. They hate Mr. Wallace and they hate Mr. Truman, though advocating the Truman policies. Apparently, they hate everyone except themselves. Their real hope seems to be to bring back the old Roosevelt days through one of the "Roosevelt boys"—not a very robust prospect. At the moment they occupy a rather silly position which will get more so as it becomes clearer.

Candidates Selected For OHS Council

Fred Bell and Thomas Kahl have been selected as candidates for president of the student council of Oakland high school, it was announced by a nominations committee this week. Candidates for vice-president are Betty Lou Sanders and Dale Custer. Delores Swartzentruber and JoAnn Dunbar are candidates for secretary.

Election speeches were delivered by the candidates to the Junior High on Tuesday and were scheduled to be heard by the senior high today.

Nominees' names will be placed on a special ballot and the election will be held on April 28.

Fred and Tommy

Fred, who played on IIIA's championship intramural team, is active in many school activities. A member of the Dramatic Club, he took part in the club's recent presentation, "Angel Face." Also a member of the Mountaineers and the local Boy Scouts, Fred served one year on the Acorn staff.

Tommy, also from IIIA, played on the Hilanders this year. Very interested in sports, he played on the Junior American Legion baseball team, last summer. A member of the Mountaineers, he was semi-finalist in the club's recent ping-pong tournament.

Running for vice president, Betty Lou served on various Student Council committees. She was chairman of committees on Elections and Revision of the Point System. From 9A, she has been very active in her class work.

Dale, also active in Student Council affairs, is interested in school activities as well as farm work. He is a prominent member of the Future Farmers of America and does well in his school work.

Delores Swartzentruber, from 8D, and JoAnn Dunbar, from 8B, are both prominent in eighth grade activities.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Orval G. Rush, of Friendsville, announces the engagement of their youngest daughter, Vera Helen, to Henry Clinton Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Shaffer, of Oakland.

The wedding will be performed on Friday, May 21, at 2 o'clock, at the Rush Baptist Church with Rev. Geo. Meadows, of Bellwood, Pa., a former pastor of Friendsville officiating.

The bride's sister, Miss Jean Rush, Cumberland, will serve as maid of honor and Lillian and Peggy Shaffer, Oakland, sisters of the groom, will be bridesmaids. Herbert Ridder, Oakland, will serve as best man.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Friendsville High school, class of '45, and attended Catherman's Business School, Cumberland. Mr. Shaffer is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of '42, and enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1943 and served four years, of which eight months were spent at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.; 16 months at U. of Pa., Philadelphia, Pa.; two months at Bayonne Naval Supply Depot, Bayonne, N. J.; 3 months officers training at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. He was commissioned an ensign on November 27, 1945. He spent 15 months at a ship repair base at Guam and was ordered to inactive duty April 2, 1947, and is now a member of the Naval Reserve. He is employed at the Oakland Lumber Co.

Following the wedding, a reception will be held at the bride's home.

Hardesty Outlines School Administration

An explanation of how schools were administered in Maryland was outlined to the Oakland Rotary club on April 9 by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools.

To what extent the State Department controlled county school policies and how members of the State Board and the County Board were selected, along with their responsibilities and activities, was outlined.

It was pointed out that pressure of work in connection with a building program and expansion taking place in the schools will require a great amount of additional time in extra meeting of the Board of Education here, with the services of the members being necessary in visiting sites, working with architects, meeting the administrative demands in establishing new classrooms, adding new teachers and meeting similar obligations.

At present the assistant superintendent has the responsibility of the new building program provided for in Senate Bill No. 388. He is coordinator for four groups, the Board of Education, the County Commissioners, the Advisory committee named in the bill, and the State Department of Education. The advisory committee includes Earle H. Ault, Floyd B. Leighton, George Littman, Ray McCullough, Milton E. Pritts, H. C. Riggs and Stewart Rodamer.

Mr. Hardesty declared: "Since we are of the philosophy that the new buildings should fit the educational program and meet the needs of boys and girls, our five high school principals and our county supervisory staff have met with Dr. Spitznas, Mrs. Hopkins, and Miss Alder of the State department of Education in an endeavor to weigh the merit of our present program and make adjustments. This phase of building is most essential prior to construction.

"My efforts since February 1 have been concentrated upon gathering data on present and past enrollments, births since 1935, number of dropouts; making of spot maps showing the homes of elementary, junior and senior high pupils; bringing to date our 1937 road map showing condition of existing roads and indicating our school bus routes. Questionnaires concerning our present buildings have been executed. This has involved several visits to each of our 47 buildings.

"Duties may be delegated by the superintendent to the assistant superintendent. By general agreement, the assistant superintendent will have a great share in making teacher appointments for 1948-49. At a near future date he will take over the transportation of school buses."

AURORA-EGLON

Mrs. Martha Slaubaugh, of near Eglon, was notified Saturday evening of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Daniel Bucklew, of Pennsylvania.

Att. Ezra E. Hamstead and son, Dickie, of Morgantown, were Sunday guests of relatives in this area.

Floyd Spiggle, of Aurora, is spending a few days with friends in Ohio.

The Eglon Aid Society were guests of the Brookside Aid Society Wednesday in a regular meeting held in the Brookside church. In addition to a covered dish dinner birthday cakes were presented and the affair became a surprise celebration in honor of the birthday anniversaries of the following ladies: Mrs. Susan Wotring, Mrs. Etta Shillingburg and Mrs. Margarete Shaffer all of the Brookside area.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Witt and family, of near Eglon, were the Sunday guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilt, who moved two weeks ago to the former Cam Miller farm, located near St. George.

Mrs. C. E. Markwood, of Terra Alta, spent Sunday afternoon with friends in Eglon.

Mrs. Bessie Calcamp, Mrs. Bernice Conn and Mrs. Pauline Wilhelm, all of the Aurora vicinity, were among the many guests who met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Lantz in a sociable gathering.

Marvin Bolyard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bolyard, of Aurora, received a severe laceration of the arm Sunday when he accidently broke a window pane while playing ball with other boys. He was treated by a local physician and the wound required seven stitches.

(Delayed)

Announcement was received here of the birth of a daughter on April 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker, of Arkansas. This is their first child. The mother, a graduate nurse, is a daughter of Mrs. Cora Helmick and the late Guyser Helmick, of Eglon. Mrs. Helmick, who went by plane several weeks ago is remaining in the home.

G. B. Hamstead, Eglon, was notified of the sudden death of his brother-in-law, William Walters, of Steubenville, Ohio. He had spent a few days with relatives in Morgantown, and death occurred Tuesday, April 13, at the bus depot when he was purchasing a ticket to return home. He had remarked during his visit that he was perfectly well. His wife, the former Laura Hamstead, died of a heart ailment March 9, this year. He is survived by one son, Charles Walters. One son died in 1918. Funeral and burial will be Saturday at Steubenville.

A number of relatives and friends from this area were among those attending funeral rites Sunday, for Silas Arnold, at Fairview church.

Funeral rites are being conducted this afternoon at Maple Springs church for John R. Boman, who died late Monday night, April 12, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rumer, at Terra Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour Fike purchased from Mrs. Clara Beckman and son, the former G. B. Hamstead farm located near Eglon, and adjoining the Fike property.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Waybright and family and Mrs. Cora Bittinger, all of near Brookside, and Mrs. Etta Bittinger, of Eglon, visited relatives in Meyersdale, Sunday.

A motion picture, "Beyond Our Own," sponsored by the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Aurora Lutheran church will be shown Sunday evening April 25, beginning at 8:00, in the Aurora high school auditorium. Everyone is invited.

Relatives in this area received word that Ralph Fike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fike of Morgantown, who was seriously wounded during the war underwent an operation for amputation of a leg recently in a Huntington Naval hospital. Mrs. Matilda Fike and the late Silas Fike, of Eglon, are the paternal grandparents and Rev. and Mrs. Obed Hamstead, of Morgantown, are the maternal grandparents.

Mrs. Creloa Jones and two children, of Falls Church, Virginia, spent a couple of weeks at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike, of Cash Valley. Her husband, Stanley Jones, came Saturday, and they all returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Winters and two children of Eglon, were Sunday guests of Mr. Winters' aged grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gnegy, of near Gnegy Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour Fike and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hamstead made a business trip to Kingwood Saturday.

There will be a Fellowship supper at Maple Spring church Thursday evening, April 22, beginning at 6:30. Everyone is invited to come and bring a covered dish. Following the supper there will be a short program and a moving picture with a free will offering.

Garrett County

Short History Is Being Reproduced

A history of Garrett county, dealing with the economic background and its attractions, was published last October in a magazine printed by the city of Baltimore. The writer was W. S. Hamill, director of the Maryland Development Bureau.

The account deals with the physical description, drainage, climate, forests, mineral resources, agriculture, recreation, population and other historical events, and should be of particular interest to the citizens here.

Below is the first installment, and future installments will be carried in The Republican, as space permits.

Garrett County, the last of the 23 county units to be erected in Maryland, is situated in the extreme western part of the State. It ranks second to Frederick County in total land area, and contains the highest elevations and some of the most rugged topography to be found anywhere in Maryland. Agriculture, coal mining, and lumbering are principal industries. Famous for its beautiful mountain scenery and abundant supplies of wildlife, the county is becoming increasingly popular as a center for nearly all types of outdoor recreation. Its location on the route of the old Indian and early military trails leading from the Atlantic Seaboard to the Ohio Valley also provides it with many interesting historical associations.

Comprising a triangular-shaped area of some 668 square miles, the county is bounded on the north by the Mason and Dixon line; on the west by Preston County, West Virginia; and on the east by Allegany County, Maryland. The boundary on the south and southeast follows the windings of the North Branch of the Potomac River for a distance of approximately 46 miles. The county has a maximum length of over 36 miles along its western border, while its greatest width of about 30 miles is along the line separating it from the State of Pennsylvania on the north.

Physical Description

Garrett is the only county of Maryland that is located entirely within the Alleghany Plateau, the most westerly of the four divisions comprising the Appalachian Mountain Province. Its general surface features consist of a series of high mountain ridges and intervening valleys, with a broad rolling upland occupying a large district in the southwestern part.

The country has an average elevation of around 2,300 feet. The maximum altitude of 3,340 feet, representing the highest point in Maryland, is found on Great Backbone Mountain, about a mile and a half southeast of Red House. The lowest part of the county is at the junction of the Savage and the North Branch of the Potomac Rivers, where the elevation decreases to approximately 900 feet.

The mountain-and-valley district covers about three-fourths of the county, and is characterized by four prominent ridges. The longest and highest ridge is in the extreme eastern part of the county, where it extends in a northeast-southwest direction from the Mason and Dixon line to the West Virginia border. Except for the gorge of the Savage River, which separates it into a northern and a southern section, this ridge presents a continuous, uniform crest throughout its entire length. The northern portion is called Big Savage Mountain, and the southern part is known as Great Backbone Mountain, or simply as Backbone Mountain.

In the northern and central parts of the county, lying to the west of Great Backbone and Big Savage Mountains, are two high ridges known as Meadow and Negro Mountains. The former is situated to the east of the Casselman River and the latter to the west. These two ridges, which extend in a southwesterly direction from the Pennsylvania boundry, converge in the vicinity of Thayerville, and continue southwestward as a series of broken ridges, of which Roman Nose and Halls Hill are the most prominent peaks. Elevations of 3,000 feet or more are found on both Meadow and Negro Mountains.

Located to the west of Negro Mountain is Winding Ridge, the most western of the four main ridges in Garrett County. It extends southwestward from the Pennsylvania line to Bear Creek, where it continues southward as an irregular group of hills on both sides of the Youghiogheny River. The altitude of Winding Ridge and its associated highland areas averages a few hundred feet below the crests of the other major elevations in the county.

To the north of Great Backbone Mountain and south of Thayerville is a broad, rolling plateau area which emoraces approximately a fourth of the county. Centered about Mountain Lake Park, this region includes the towns of Oakland, Deer Park, Gortner, and Red House. Many of the Glades, or upland swamps, of Garrett County are found in this section.

The valleys between the mountain ridges are comparatively narrow, but in the northern part of the county they broaden out to form rather wide stretches of rolling open country. The plateau and valley sections constitute the principal agricultural districts, although some of the flat-topped ridges have considerable areas that are suitable for cultivation.

Drainage

The most unusual fact about the drainage of Garrett County is the existence of a continental divide along the crests of Great Backbone and Meadow Mountains and the irregular group of hills connecting them. Precipitation falling on the northwest slopes of these ridges eventually flows into the Gulf of Mexico via the Youghiogheny, Monongahela, Ohio, and Mississippi Rivers. The southeast sides are drained by the North Branch of the Potomac River and its tributaries, with the water reaching the Atlantic Ocean through Chesapeake Bay. Roughly 60 percent of the county is included in the Youghiogheny watershed.

The east slopes of Great Backbone Mountain drain directly into the North Branch of the Potomac. The Savage River drains the valley between Big Savage and Meadow Mountains and the upper part of the valley between Great Backbone and Meadow Mountains. The east slopes of Big Savage Mountain are drained by streams which flow into Georges Creek, a tributary entering the North Branch of the Potomac at Westernport, in Allegany County. The valley between Meadow and Negro Mountains is drained by the Casselman River, which empties into the Youghiogheny at Confluence, Pennsylvania. The Youghiogheny proper drains all the territory lying west of Negro Mountain and north of Great Backbone Mountain.

Climate

Due to the fact that the greater part of its area has an elevation of more than 2,000 feet, Garrett County has the most extreme climate of any section of Maryland. It has the shortest growing season, the heaviest precipitation, the greatest snowfall, the coldest winters, the coolest summers, and the largest annual range of temperature. While there are some local climatic variations on account of differences in altitude or in location with respect to high mountain ridges, the county as a whole has a generally uniform climatic pattern.

The average yearly precipitation in Garrett County varies between 36 and 54 inches, with the greater amounts being received in the higher situations. Thunderstorms occur frequently during the warmer months, and there are more days with a hundredth of an inch or more of precipitation than anywhere else in Maryland. The annual snowfall is generally heavy, averaging between 60 and 70 inches, although in some years it exceeds 100 inches. Snow always falls during the months of November to April, and sometimes during October and May. About 15 per cent of the annual precipitation occurs in the form of snow.

While the winters in Garrett County are usually rather cold, the periods of severe weather last only a few days at a time. The summers are characterized by warm days and cool nights. There are relatively few days during which the mercury rises above 90 degrees. The temperature extremes range from a high of 101 degrees Fahrenheit to a low of 40 degrees below zero. The average length of the growing season is about 130 days. Killing frosts have occurred during every month of the year except July and August. Although climatic limitations have had some influence on the county's agricultural development, the annual growing period is long enough to permit the successful production of a wide variety of staple and specialized crops.

Forests

With the exception of the upland swamps, or "Glades," virtually all of Garrett County was at one time covered with forests. The original stand contained hemlock, spruce, white oak, chestnut, white pine, sugar maple, and other valuable species. Practically all of the virgin timber has been removed, and the cut-over areas have suffered from repeated cullings and destructive fires. The high point of devastation was reached some years ago, and considerable progress has since been made in the work of restoring the county's forest wealth.

For more than half a century the timber industry was the dominate business activity in the county. As large-scale commercial methods were employed in cutting the greater part of the original forests, Garrett's abundant supplies of virgin timber were depleted more rapidly than in any other part of the State. Logging railroads were extended into the back country, and the lumber companies, in order to reduce operating costs, often cut their tracts as quickly as possible. By 1900 only about 25,000 acres of virgin forest remained, and much of that was cut during the next few years. With the exhaustion of the best timber, the lumber industry began to decline in importance.

It is an interesting fact that Garrett County, whose forests had been so seriously damaged by fire and destructive logging practices, should become the scene for the first attempt at public forestry in Maryland. The offer of Messrs. John and Robert Garrett, of Baltimore, to give to the State approximately 2,000 acres of forest land in Garrett County, provided an agency be created to administer it, led to the establishment in 1906 of the old State Department of Forestry, which later became the Department of State Forests and Parks. This event also marked the beginning of an organized movement to increase the productivity of Maryland's forests.

The present forest area of Garrett County is estimated at almost 300,000 acres, or about 11 per cent of the total wooded area of the State. With 70 per cent of its land surface in forests, Garrett has by far the largest woodland area of any county in Maryland. A high proportion of all the land in the county which is suitable for growing trees and which is not devoted to some other use, is now covered with some kind of forest growth.

Despite the fact that nearly 60 per cent of the acreage of all State forests is concentrated in Garrett County, the ownership of its extensive forest area is very unevenly divided between the State and private interests. About 228,000 acres of timberland, or over three-fourths of the total, is in the hands of private owners. Around 74,000 acres are included in farm woodlots, while the remaining 154,000 acres consist chiefly of large tracts held by mining and lumber companies. The three State forests in Garrett County—Savage River, Potomac, and Swallow Falls—have an aggregate area of 70,707 acres. The former contains 51,517 acres, and the latter two embrace 12,057 acres and 7,133 acres, respectively.

The latest reports of the U. S. Census Bureau reveal that Garrett County is still a very important source of forest products. These records disclose that the 54 active mills in the county in 1944 cut a total of 18,505,000 board feet of lumber, about 99 per cent of which was sawed from hardwood trees. Garrett is the outstanding county of the State in the production of hardwood lumber, contributing nearly a third of the total cut in 1944. The volume of its lumber output in that year was exceeded only by that for Worcester County, Maryland's leading producer of softwood timber.

Among the other principal products obtained from the forests of Garrett County are mine props, mine ties, railroad ties, fence posts, pulpwood maple products, and fuelwood. The local coal mines require considerable quantities of props and ties, while the large paper mill at Luke, in Allegany County, provides a ready market for all the pulpwood produced in that vicinity. The county's secondary forest industries formerly supplied substantial amounts of lath, shingles, cooperage stock, tanbark, and charcoal.

Although the heavy drain on the county's timber reserves during the wartime period undoubtedly exceeded the annual rate of growth, the outlook for its forest industries is generally encouraging. The possibility of damage by fire, the worst enemy of the forest, has been greatly lessened by the fire-fighting and fire-prevention activities of the Department of State Forests and Parks. The existence of large, continuous tracts of timber simplifies the problems of management, while the lack of competitive uses for much of the land is prompting more and more of the owners to take better care of their forest properties. The control of fire and the widespread adoption of better forestry practices will eventually enable the forests to approach their former high levels of productivity.

Mineral Resources

The chief source of mineral wealth in Garrett County consists of its extensive reserves of high-grade semi-bituminous coal. Fire clay ranks next in importance, followed in order by limestone and sandstone. Deposits of carbonate iron ore are found at several places, and many years ago they provided the basis for a local iron industry in the vicinity of Friendsville.

About half of the county is underlain with coal-bearing formations. These occur in five well-defined synclinal areas, or basins, which are known as the Georges Creek, the Upper Potomac, the Upper Youghiogheny, the Lower Youghiogheny, and the Casselman Basins. The western part of the Georges Creek Basin and the entire Maryland portions of the other four basins are located in Garrett County.

The State's early coal-mining activities were confined exclusively to the Georges Creek Valley, which contained the famous "Big Vein," a seam of the finest quality low-volatile coal ranging up to 14 feet in thickness. For many years this one seam furnished practically all of the coal produced in Maryland. It was not until a large part of the virgin acreage of the "Big Vein" had become exhausted that serious attention was given to the smaller seams in the Georges Creek area or in the other basins in Garrett County.

The county's coal production during the last decade has averaged around 736,000 net tons annually, ranging from a low of 529,000 net tons in 1938 to a high of 1,004,000 net tons in 1946. The figure for the latter year was the largest reported since the record output of 1,056,000 net tons in 1920. The proportion of the State's total coal production coming from Garrett County has gradually increased from less than 20 per cent in the period before 1916 to an all-time high of over 49 per cent in 1946. Garrett's growing importance as a factor in Maryland's coal-mining industry has been due chiefly to a downward trend in Allegany County, rather than to a sharp expansion in its own production. The amount of coal mined in Allegany County in 1946, for example, was only one-fourth the quantity produced in 1910, whereas that for Garrett County was about five per cent greater than in the earlier year.

Most of the coal mined in Garrett County has long been obtained from the Upper Potomac Basin. During 1946 it contributed 67.8 per cent of the total production. This compares with 19.1 per cent for the Georges Creek Basin, 11.4 per cent for the Castleman Basin, and 1.7 per cent for the Upper Youghiogheny Basin. For a number of years the Upper Potomac Basin furnished around 90 per cent of the coal mined in Garrett County, but the opening of large stripping operations in the Georges Creek and Casselman Basins during the last few years has considerably increased the relative standing of these two areas. No production has been reported from the Lower Youghiogheny Basin since the Confluence and Oakland Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was abandoned in 1942 to make way for a new flood control project on the Youghiogheny River.

A sharp expansion has recently occurred in the tonnages obtained from the county's strip mines and truck mines. Garrett's output of strip coal in 1943 was less than 2,000 net tons, but by 1946 it had increased to 279,611 net tons, or nearly 28 per cent of the entire production. The truck mines, or mines without direct railroad connections, produced an average of around 150,000 net tons annually during the six-year period ending in 1944. In 1945, however, the production rose to 207,171 net tons, and in 1946 it jumped to 378,802 net tons, or 37.7 per cent of all the coal mined in that year.

The danger of a major Ohio flood was over. The Ohio crested at 64.8 feet at Cincinnati, nearly 13 feet above flood stage. High waters drove 31,000 persons from their homes.

Draws 60-day Sentence

Samuel Guy Flaherty, arrested Saturday night by State police after a 30-mile chase in a stolen car, pleaded guilty to unauthorized use of an automobile at a hearing in Trial Magistrate's court at Cumberland Tuesday and was sentenced to 60 days in the Allegany county jail.

Flaherty was first identified as being from route 1, Swanton, but in trying the case he was listed as being from Baltimore.

Flaherty admitted he took a 1937 sedan owned by Gilbert Brant, Cumberland, and wrecked the machine in Grantsville. Car damage was $225. Troopers Blair J. Buckel and Glen D. Folk made the arrest.

Police chased Flaherty over barbed wire fences and through open fields before apprehending him. Flaherty abandoned the car after nearly colliding with a Blue Ridge bus.

MARRIED

Henderson-Murphy—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Murphy, of Oakland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Genevieve Marie, to Reese L. Henderson, son of Mrs. Robert Henderson, of Alexandria, Louisiana, and the late Mr. Henderson.

The ceremony was performed on April 10 in St. Martin's chapel, Fort Belvoir, Va., by Rev. Fr. John Falatek, chaplain.

The groom is a pharmacist in the naval service and leaves this week for Okinawa in the Pacific. Mrs. Henderson will follow at a later date.

The bride attended St. Peter's school and was graduated from Oakland High school and the Allegany hospital school of nursing in Cumberland.

Sisler-Frantz—Mrs. Brice Frantz, Avenue, W. Va., announces the marriage of her daughter, Marie, to Mr. Ray Sisler, of Hazelton, W. Va. The couple was quietly married in Oakland on March 27, 1948.

The bride is a graduate of Friendsville High school and the groom is in the timber business. The couple will reside in their new home near Blooming Rose.

Thomas-Nicklow—In a quiet ceremony Saturday afternoon, April 17, at 3:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in Friendsville, Miss Margaret Nicklow, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nicklow, of Addison, Pa., became the bride of Burgett Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, Friendsville. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hitchcock, of Addison, Pa.

The bride was attired in a teal blue suit with fuschia accessories and wore an orchid corsage. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Park Nicklow, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Evangeline Glenn played the wedding march.

The bride is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nicklow of Friendsville. She is a graduate of Confluence High school and a Beauty Culture school at Uniontown, Pa. The groom attended Friendsville High school and was just recently discharged from the Navy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home in Addison, Pa. They will reside at Green Gables, Md.

King George and Queen Elizabeth of England will observe their silver wedding anniversary on April 26.

It was estimated over 1,000 persons were killed in the uprising at Bogota, Colombia, on April 9.

Report Given On Coal Beds of Area

The coal mining industry of Maryland, faced with the near exhaustion of the Pittsburgh or big vein bed, will have to depend upon the utilization of other coal beds underlying the Pittsburgh seam which are thinner, more irregular and contain a greater percentage of impurities but are capable, upon rather intensive preparatory treatment, of producing a marketable grade of coal.

This conclusion is drawn from "Technical Paper 701" written by W. L. Crentz and Thomas Fraser on the "Preparation Characteristics of Maryland Coals" for the Federal Bureau of Mines.

Mining these beds would be more difficult and would require intensive preparatory treatment to produce a marketable grade of coal, they warn.

Samples tested were obtained from 16 mines from nine different coal beds in Allegany and Garrett Counties.

The study of the lower beds was undertaken in 1945 as part of a survey to determine the minable reserves and to study the characteristics of these low volatile coals in order to extend the life of the coal mining industry in this area.

During the survey, 26 test holes were drilled in order to estimate the quantity of the reserve coal beds and the result of that survey is anticipated within a few months.

Nears Exhaustion

Coal has been mined in Allegany and Garrett Counties for more than a century but until 1900, practically all operations were in the Pittsburgh seam. Pillar and strip mines are rapidly removing what remains of that valuable deposit.

By 1944, a total of 1,007,340 of the 1,875,804 tons of coal mined in this section came from coal measures below the big vein. The scarcity of low volatile coals of coking quality and the possibility of upgrading these coals so they could be mixed with high volatile byproduct coals is sufficient reason for the survey, Crentz and Fraser said.

In their summary of the report, the authors point out that much of the present production from the beds underlying the big vein deposits comes from small mines which lack provisions for mechanical preparation and depend upon hand sorting at the face.

The thinner beds, they added, are high in ash and sulphur content and during competitive periods the output of such mines is restricted to local use.

While conventional washing methods might not be effective with some types other beds can be improved materially by washing.

Some data on the coals of the Casselman basin indicate more favorable preparation characteristics than beds in the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac basins, but the authors pointed out the evidence was not conclusive. vtsfffi metoionfbedsi

Committee Sets Date for County Wide Track Meet

For the first time since the war, the county-wide high school track meet will be held on May 21st at Accident, Maryland. This date was set by the county athletic committee.

Each student will be able, during the high school's spring athletic program, to participate in one track event, one field event, and one game. At the track meet students will be able to compete in the events they have chosen. The following are the events in which the boys will participate: 60, 70, and 100 yard dashes; 440 relay; basketball free throw; broad and high jump; and the twelve pound shot put. For the girls will be: 50, 60, and 70 yard dashes; run and catch relay; standing broad jump; and basketball free throw. Both boys and girls will have softball and volleyball teams.

The high school's meet will be on a different day from the elementary meet. Teachers from the various schools in the county will serve as officials, and points will be given for each event. The school which has the most points at the end of the day is the winner. Although it is not definite, it is hoped that medals may be given to all individual winners. Points given to the school for the first four place winners will be, for individual events, five, three, two and one point respectively; for the relays, ten, six, four and two points; and for games; ten, six, three and two points.

The Elementary meet will be held on Thursday, May 20, at Accident. Oakland Elementary's 7th grade will take part in the High School meet.

Richard Leighton Wins Bausch & Lomb Medal

Carl H. Everly, physics instructor of Oakland High School, announces that Richard Leighton is the winner of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during his high school course.

Founded in 1932, the Honorary Science Award program has the approval of the National Association of Secondary School Principals and of leading educators in every state. Competition for this bronze Award Medal is keen as the winner is eligible to compete for one of the five Bausch and Lomb Science Scholarships at the University of Rochester.

Scholarships Valued at $1,500

These Science Scholarships, valued at $1,500 each, were established in 1944 by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Company as a further incentive to science students. Winners of the Science Scholarships are expected to major in optics, physics, engineering, chemistry, mathematics, or a combination of these subjects. A limited number may be permitted to major in the pre-medical or other courses.

Fight Cancer

"FIGHT CANCER"...

Trite words? Not when you know the tragic facts of which these words are sum and substance. Last year more than 188,000 Americans died of cancer—rich and poor, young and old — one every three minutes. Research and education are our most potent weapons in the war on cancer. Your contribution is needed to carry on the fight — to wipe out cancer — to guard yourself and your loved ones from this dread disease.

Double Wedding Event Is Held

Timmerman-Madigan—Madigan-Clary—Announcement has been made of a double wedding event which took place last Saturday afternoon, April 17.

Mildred Elaine Madigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Madigan, of Deer Park, became the bride of Harold Eugene Timmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Timmerman, also of Deer Park; and Virginia Lee Clary, daughter of Mrs. Frances Clary, of Deer Park, became the bride of Harold Edward Madigan.

The single ring ceremonies were performed in the Methodist parsonage at Mt. Lake Park by the pastor, Rev. R. E. Hiller.

Mildred Elaine was attired in a light gray suit with gray accessories and wore a corsage of red rose buds. She is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of 1947, and the groom is a veteran of World War II. He is now employed at the Dusic Wholesale Produce company, Oakland. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Mason Madigan, Deer Park.

Virginia Lee was attired in a light blue suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of pink rose buds. She is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of 1946, and the groom is a veteran of World War II. He is at present employed by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Their attendants were Miss Marietta Clary, sister of the bride, and Mason Madigan. Both couples will reside in Deer Park.

A wedding dinner was given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Madigan. Guests included Mrs. Mabel Timmerman and daughter, Wilma, Mrs. Frances Clary and daughter, Marietta, Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Durham, Morgantown, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. DeBerry, of Corinth, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Moon, Allan Moon, Frank Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Merrill and daughter, Emilie Jane, and son, Robert; Franklin Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Madigan and daughter, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. James Patton and daughter, Sandra Jean, Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Madigan and the guests of honor.

MARRIED

Michael - Miller—Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Miller, Grantsville, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Frances Evelyn, to James Edgar Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Michael, Grantsville, which took place on April 16, at 7 p. m., in the home of the bride.

The double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight by Rev. George K. Ely, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, Grantsville.

The home was decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Mark W. Miller, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Mark W. Miller was best man.

The bride was attired in a suit of navy blue gabardine and white accessories. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. The matron of honor wore a suit of black gabardine with black and white accessories. Both the bride and matron wore corsages of red rosebuds.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Grantsville High School. Mr. Michael is employed by the Kelly Springfield Tire company, Cumberland.

The immediate families of the couple attended the wedding, followed by a reception at the home of the bride. A buffet luncheon was served. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. The couple will reside near Grantsville.

THE BIBLE TODAY
International Uniform Sunday School Lesson
By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D.D.

ZECHARIAH 1:1-6; 4:1-7-8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 24:1-6.

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

ZECHARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet. His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to summon the people to righteousness as a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes. The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

Dr. Newton

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you," Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God. The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the tempie and restoring their life in Jerusalem.

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHARIAH reminds the people that the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 8:13.

"What makes a nation great and strong?
Not brick, nor stone, nor wood,
But justice, love and brotherhood."

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple. The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him.

I like the phrase of the fathers, "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, now sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

By the Bible

If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity. —Daniel Webster.

Engineer Tells How To Fool Farm Rats

Feed is too scarce and expensive to waste on rats. It seems the job of keeping rats away from stored feed and grain is never finished, and so R. W. Carpenter, head of the Agricultural Engineering Department, University of Maryland, offers some suggestions.

Grain and feed bins can be rat-proofed by applying metal flashing to all corners or lining bins with cement-asbestos board or metal, he says. Corn cribs can be protected with hardware cloth screening under the floors and around the sides to a height of 6 feet or so.

To prevent rats and mice from climbing the sides, surround the crib, at a height of about 4 feet, with a band of smooth metal about a foot wide. Or a narrower strip can be used if it is bent at right angles to form a ledge which the animals can't climb over.

Foundation walls of buildings with concrete floors should extend underground 18 inches to 2 feet to make a solid barrier. This discourages rats from burrowing underneath and prevents frost damage, too. By making the base of the footing 4 to 6 inches wider than the rest of the foundation wall, a ledge results which seems to baffle rats and prevent their burrowing under.

Carpenter says that these steps, together with the use of new rat poisons, keeping surroundings clean of waste materials, and repairing buildings will go a long way toward solving the rat problem and saving precious feed.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Christian Margroff, who passed away one year ago today, April 16, 1947.

One year has passed since that sad day,
The one I loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in my heart he liveth still.

God gave me strength to bear it,
Courage to fight that blow
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

There is always comfort knowing
We will meet again some day,
When all grief and pain are over
And the clouds have rolled away.

He had a smile for everyone,
A heart as pure as gold.
To those who knew and loved him,
His memory will never grow old.
Dear husband, you are at rest with Jesus
And will forever be.
You could not stay with me on earth,
But I can come to thee.

I miss your help, your cheery way,
With you I spent my happiest days;
I miss you when I need a friend,
In you I always could depend.

Sadly missed by his loving wife,
Lillie Margroff.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Lewis, Wallace And Unity

It is an oft-proclaimed and widely held conviction in this country that when menaced by a foreign foe the American people, putting aside politics and partisanship, present a "united front." The further claim is that when thus united, industry and labor buckle down and do a "superb job."

—o—

Neither of these beliefs is sustained by the facts. Discarding the evidence of the past, so far as unity is concerned, certainly the present record proves the reverse. Few persons dispute that we are today living under the threat of a war so terrible as to make it impossible to exaggerate the catastrophic consequences. Everyone hopes the conflict can be averted but no informed man doubts that the danger is real and great. Under such circumstances disunity is indefensible, wicked as well as stupid.

But is there unity among us? The most superficial view of the situation makes the question absurd. Disunity is so obvious that it cannot help but gladden the potential enemy and encourage every traitor within our borders. For example, take the current course of two of our most conspicuous citizens—John L. Lewis and Henry A. Wallace. Mr. Lewis certainly is no traitor and it is not necessary to regard him as unpatriotic or communistic to hold that in inspiring hundreds of thousands of coal miners to strike he has dealt his country a hard blow at a particularly critical period.

What he has done is to tie up the nation's basic industry, thus adversely affecting the railroads, steel mills and many other vital units of the economic system just when, in the interests of a foreign policy upon the success of which the fate of the world depends, it should be functioning perfectly. In addition, and for what seems an inadequate reason and on a minor issue, Mr. Lewis, in effect, flouts the President, defies the Government and not too well conceals his contempt for the courts.

If these things happened when there were no war clouds in the sky they would be deplorable. But now, when it is so overwhelmingly important to convey to the world, and especially to the potential enemy the picture of a strong, firm, united nation, it is hard to find words to describe them. It is even harder to do justice to the things Mr. Wallace is doing. There is no purpose here to compare Mr. Lewis and Mr. Wallace. They are as different as well can be. Mr. Lewis is infinitely the stronger and better man from whatever angle he may be viewed. But Mr. Wallace is doing his country more damage. For, in effect, he has espoused the cause of the potential enemy to such a degree that he has become its most valued friend in this country. Taking the Soviet side, he assails the President of the United States, the Marshall plan and our whole foreign policy with unrestrained violence. He is enthusiastically supported by the Communist organ, the Daily Worker, and in every state the Communists are the core of his organization and his most zealous workers. In effect, he has become the leading Russian propagandist, and, besides the Communists, every crackpot radical and opponent of the American way of life is marching under his banner.

It is an almost incredible performance. As his act develops, the impression grows that Mr. Wallace is a biased, embittered and unbalanced man, in a state of great mental confusion and without any grasp on realities. Certainly publication of the idiotic "Guru" letters have made it difficult to believe in the soundness of his intellectual processes. In addition, an increasing number of people are convinced of his insincerity. That such a man by such methods and with such support can poll enough votes to affect the result of the presidential election is most unlikely. Nevertheless, like Mr. Lewis, he is contributing heavily to the Soviet idea of a weak, disorderly and divided United States, thus adding greatly to the difficulties of effective operation of our foreign policy.

Though these two men—Lewis and Wallace—are making the chief contributions to the disunity picture, there are other elements helping to give it credibility. Among these are the Democratic machine bosses and the pro-Roosevelt "liberals" who for their own not admirable purposes are viciously trying to discredit and tear down Mr. Truman, despite their knowledge that he probably will be nominated to succeed himself, and, at any rate, will be President until January, 1949. Under existing conditions it is distinctly not in the interest of the nation to make this kind of assault upon its head.

Perhaps all these things—and others—are inevitable under our system. In a population so vast probably one ought to realize that bad as these things seem they can be—and in the past always have been overcome by the inherent really great qualities of the nation. Nevertheless, no one now living can remember any national crisis quite as acute, nor for many reasons quite as dreadful as the one we now face. It does seem that this unprecendentedly grave situation should compel a little more precrisis unity than we have. As for the assertion that once disaster occurs, industry and labor do a "superb job" there is not space here to disprove that. But it can be disproved.

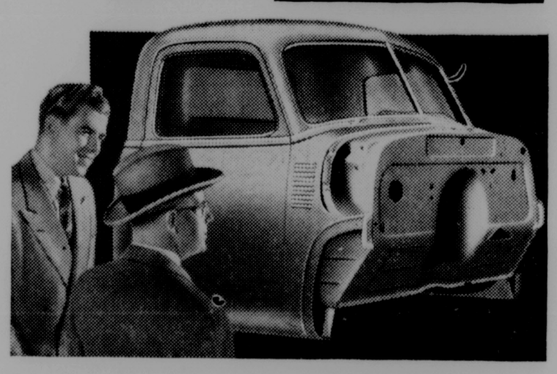
For a Stronger, Safer All-Steel Cab GET A NEW GMC



Cabs of new light and medium duty GMCs are the last word in ruggedness. They are all-steel all the way through . . . rigidly braced at every point . . . 6½ times stronger than prewar!

They offer such outstanding design developments as double-wall "battleship" construction at critical points . . . solid, sealed windshield installation . . . one-piece welded dash, toe-board and floor. They're newly insulated and sound-proofed . . . newly mounted in 3-point rubber-stabilized suspension.

Everywhere these new GMC cabs are better . . . everywhere they set new standards of safety, stamina and strength.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

Building a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to turn their backs on the safe way of life and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying "an even break." Free enterprise is the basic American principle of vision and personal initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed—for government in business assumes special privileges that are denied people in business.

Take the case of government-owned power systems, for example. They pay few, if any, taxes; often get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes, and fair interest on loans. It's a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over 4/5 of the enormous amount of electric power this country depends on . . . at the lowest possible cost.

There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened. And businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Puff for Firemen . . . . . .

Sometimes the various communities go along for months without any particular feeling of appreciation for volunteer fire departments. Then a series of events will occur that will bring it forcibly to mind.

Such a series has taken place during the past week, and while these thoughts are in our mind we are going to write them down. They are probably your thoughts too.

While these particular thoughts were caused by the action of the Oakland firemen, yet they are not confined only to this one organization, but they typify volunteer fire companies throughout the nation.

No other organization is as community minded or unselfish as the fire department. The member is on call twenty-four hours of the day. He leaves his table, his bed or his business, as the case may be. His only reward is possibly a ruined suit of clothes, other than the knowledge that he is helping someone who is desperately in need of help at that moment.

Many people join organizations for mercenary or selfish motives, but when a person joins the fire company, we can mark it down that he is joining to be of some service to those around him.

Last Friday Oakland firemen saved the home of a fellow member. Monday they traveled several miles to a farm home. On Tuesday they traveled to a nearby community, and that same evening to the forests. They go anywhere at any time, and their chief desire is to be of assistance, with no thought of reward.

We say it this week but we mean it for every week, and we speak for the thousands of people of this area—Hats off to the volunteer firemen!

182 HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS LISTED FOR GRADUATION

Tentative Lists of Five Schools of County Released by F. E. Rathbun, School Superintendent

One hundred eighty-two seniors of the five high schools of this county will be graduated in June, providing those named in the tentative lists complete their work between now and the school term, it was announced this week by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

This is a decrease of ten over the tentative figues of the previous year when 191 were listed.

Oakland High leads the list with 99, just one less than the previous year, and Grantsville was second with 36 listed, 9 less than last year.

Girls Outnumber Boys

Girls still outnumber the boys but this year only by a small majority, 92 to 89. The schools were listed as follows: Friendsville, 9 boys, 5 girls, total 14; Grantsville, 19 boys, 17 girls, total 36; Accident, 9 boys, 11 girls, total 20; Oakland, 46 boys, 53 girls, total 99; Kitzmiller, 6 boys, 7 girls, total 13; grand total, 182.

The list of probable graduates:

More Trout On Way

Garrett county is slated to get its share of about 10,000 trout that are being distributed throughout the state, according to Albert M. Powell, superintendent of Maryland hatcheries.

The trout are all above the legal size of 7 inches and will average from 9 to 10 inches in length. From 250 to 500 fish are to be placed in each stream in Garrett county.

Time Flies At Standard Speed In Garrett County Area

Question Is Discussed Monday But No Action Is Taken

That debatable question of TIME came up for some additional discussion at the appeal session of the Oakland Mayor and Town Council on Monday evening but no action was taken.

The present standing of Time appears to be as follows:

Garrett county and seven other counties of Maryland on Standard time balance along with Baltimore City on Daylight time. Washington, D. C., still on Standard, but contemplating Daylight time.

Grantsville the only town in the county on Daylight Time. Kitzmiller and Accident definitely opposed to any change. No other incorporated towns of the area heard from following the Oakland Council's request for some reaction.

Baltimore and Ohio trains on Standard Time, but westbound trains running about an hour earlier than the winter schedule; eastbound trains, very little change. Some busses on daylight time, some on Standard time.

Preston County towns still on Standard Time, as far as is known. Clarksburg again divided. Parkersburg, on Daylight time last year, remaining on Standard this year. Nearby Pennsylvania towns on Daylight time.

At Monday night's meeting the opinion seemed to prevail that a repetition of last year's confusion was not desired under any circumstances, and that if any change was made, it should be county-wide. There was some indication that the County Commissioners would be asked by Council Representatives to make a change for the months of June, July and August. J. Edward Helbig, president of the County Commissioners, said yesterday it was highly unlikely that any change would be made by the county board unless the question was placed on the ballot at some future general election.

At Monday night's meeting the arguments became heated at times, one point being brought out that the confusion in time last year was detrimental to church attendance.

$25,000 Fire Loss Sustained In Area

Prompt action on the part of the Oakland Firemen last Friday morning prevented serious damage to the home of Miss Zaidee Browning, corner of Second and Center streets.

Fire from a trash basket which had been placed in the wash room in rear of the building, quickly spread to other parts of the room and smoke enveloped the entire structure.

Firemen confined the flames to the wash room and nearby partitions, but damage from water and smoke was considerable. The loss was partiallly covered by insurance.

GORMANIA LOSS AROUND $12,000

A fire which followed the collision of an automobile and truck on route 50, on the main street of the town of Gormania, around 11 o'clock on Tuesday, entirely destroyed the concrete block structure of the Williams Garage and Service station, together with a 1947 Ford automobile, one of the cars which caused the blaze, and sent two people to the Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser.

Cpl. O. E. Webley, of the West Virginia State police, said the fire started after a truck driven by Frank DelSignore, Bayard, W. Va., had smashed against a car owned by Mrs. Olive Wooley, of Long Island, New York, and operated by Christian L. Glorium, of North Dakota. The latter car was enroute east when the truck, coming from Bayard, turned on the highway and hit the oncoming car, driving both car and truck against the fuel pumps, which immediately ignited the gasoline, spreading flames in every direction.

The daughter of M. E. Williams, owner of the garage, who was in the building at the time, drove to Table Rock Inn and called the Oakland Fire department.

Mrs. Wooley and Mr. Glorium were rushed to Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, by Rev. J. E. Hodges. Both persons had broken legs and other injuries. They were reported to be in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital. The truck driver escaped with only minor injuries.

The Oakland Firemen arrived in time to keep the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. Fire departments also arrived later from Bayard, Kitzmiller, Keyser, Petersburg and Thomas, and assisted.

Estimated loss on the Williams building and stock of goods was put at $12,000 with partial coverage by insurance. The loss of the Wooley car and the DelSignore truck was also estimated at several thousand dollars. The truck was pulled from the flames and was only partially destroyed.

County F.F.A. Boys Win State Awards

Compete Against 39 Other Teams in Contests Held at University of Maryland

Representatives of the four chapters of Future Farmers of America in the county high schools participated in the annual state-wide vocational agriculture field day at the University of Maryland, last week, and won a number of state awards.

James Pope Wins $50.00

James Pope, Grantsville, winner of the county public speaking contest, placed second in the state contest and was awarded $50 through the national F.F.A. foundation. He spoke on "Atomic Energy in the Future of Agriculture." Winner was Max Smith, Hagerstown, who spoke on "Hidden Hunger."

In the state-wide F.F.A. poultry judging and egg candling contest, under the direction of Prof. Wade H. Rice, the Grantsville team composed of Homer Durst and Donald Glotfelty won the second prize pennant. Durst also won $6 for fifth individual place while Glotfelty placed 15th for a $5 award.

Donald Frantz and Hobert Bowser, Accident, placed ninth, with the Oakland team, William Fitzwater and Willis DeBerry, trailing by two points for eleventh place. DeBerry won 6th individual place and $5. Glenn Selby and Bernard Friend judged poultry and candled eggs as Friendsville representatives. Thirty-nine teams completed in poultry judging.

Third in Farm Mechanics

Dale Custer, Oakland, won third place pennant in the new farm mechanics contest, held for the first time with twenty-four schools represented. He was awarded a hammer and $4. Reed Friend, Friendsville, won $3 and 12th place. Allen Hanft, Accident, and Richard Bender, Grantsville, were also entered.

Second in Milk Judging

Ross Sines and Harland Beachy placed second among thirty-nine teams in milk judging. Pennants were given for each of the first three team places. Other teams from the county were James Storey and Robert Kolb, Accident; Albert Smearman and Robert Pyle, Friendsville; Harley Brenneman and Robert Buckel, Grantsville.

Of the twelve pennants awarded in all contests, four of the total came to this county, two to Grantsville and two to Oakland. Prize money coming to Garrett county contestants was in excess of $80.

The students were accompanied by vocational agriculture teachers: Marvin Callis, Accident; Charley B. Miller, Friendsville; Merle Garletts, Grantsville and O. T. Graser, Oakland.

To Address A.A.U.W.

State Senator L. M. Fraley will be the speaker at the next meeting of the A.A.U.W., Monday, May 10, in the high school economics building. He will speak on the conservation of natural resources, following the business session which gets under way at 8 o'clock.

During the business session there will be election of officers and the choice made for a topic for study during the ensuing meetings. Fraley's talk, at 9 o'clock, will be for any interested persons, it was announced.

Mrs. James Smart, social studies chairman, will be in charge.

Democrats May Go To Polls Next Monday

Will Select Congressional Candidate To Oppose J. Glenn Beall

Democratic voters will go to the polls next Monday, May 3, to cast their preference for the person who will oppose J. Glenn Beall in the general election in November for representative in the 81st Congress of the United States from the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland.

The vote is not expected to be heavy.

The last complete registration figures showed a total of 2,927 Democratic voters in Garrett county.

The twenty-five polling places in the county will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Registration Light

Tuesday's registration at the various places in the county was extremely light, those around Oakland having less than 10. Registration officers were instructed to bring in their reports on May the 5th, the same day they are scheduled to bring in their official returns of the primary election. Four persons were registered in district 1, Swanton.

Registration officers struck a number of names from the voting books on Tuesday, using as a guide the fact that persons had not voted at least once within the preceding five calendar years at a primary, general or special election. Notices are being sent to all whose names have been erased telling them it will be necessary to re-register on Tuesday, September 28 or Tuesday, October 5, in order to be eligible to vote in the general election.

Acorn Staff Banquets

Thirty-one persons attended the annual Acorn banquet which was held by members of the staff of the Oakland High school student newspaper, at the William-James hotel on Tuesday evening.

Miss Mary E. Murphy, president of the Columbia Scholastic Press association, and a member of the faculty of Allegany high school in Cumberland, was the principal speaker. Patty Filsinger, assistant editor this year, was in charge and called on Miss Vivian Paugh, the retiring editor; Hervey Smouse, next year's editor; and Barbara Winters, next year's assistant, for short talks. Miss Paugh explained the high rating which the school paper had achieved in the press association contest.

Dr. Frantz to Speak

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer for Allegany and Garrett counties, will be the guest speaker at the Grantsville Rotary Club luncheon to be held next Tuesday evening, 6:15 P. M. Daylight Time.

The luncheon will be held in Edward's American Restaurant, which is the regular meeting place for the Club.

Dr. Frantz will discuss Public Health work in Garrett county.

Two Enlist In Army

Lloyd A. Parrish, Swanton, with previous service in the Navy, has enlisted for three years in the U. S. Army, European command, it was announced by Sgt. Blair Robinette.

Raymond L. Evans, Kitzmiller, who saw service in the army, has also enlisted and will be assigned to the armored school at Fort Knox, Ky.

Seventy Expected At Booster Dinner

Approximately seventy people from all sections of the county are expected at the Booster's club dinner next Tuesday, May 4, at 6:15 o'clock, at the William-James hotel.

Dr. Thomas C. Ferguson, state supervisor of physical education and recreation, will be the principal speaker, and will discuss what Garrett county high schools can expect in the way of a general physical education program.

The Accident delegation will include B. O. Aiken, principal; C. F. Strauss, boys' coach; Eleanor Schlossnagle, girls' coach; and two high school students, Hobert Bowser, junior; and Thelma Humberson, 9th grader.

The Grantsville group will include Marshall Brown, principal and Harvey Gortner. Thomas Baucom, principal at Kitzmiller, has indicated he will bring a representative group. Wilbur Glenn, principal at Friendsville, will bring a number of persons interested in athletics, Mr. Dusic said.

Oakland High group will be headed by F. D. Bittle, principal; Odar A. Watson, boys' coach, and Miss Ruth Field, girls' coach. Also invited are members of the Board of Education, State Senator L. M. Fraley, members of the House of Delegates, County Commissioners and members of the Booster's club.

R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools will introduce the speaker. Mr. Hardesty has been instrumental in having Dr. Ferguson come to speak. According to Mr. Dusic, in planning for the future physical education program it is essential to know the wishes of the people, to make definite plans for an adequate physical education program. The meeting is to further this plan for the entire county, he concluded.

To Present Operetta

Members of the music department of the Accident High school are preparing to give an operetta, Jerry of Jericho Road, on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 30 and May 1.

The play will be presented in the Accident school auditorium each evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

Proclaim Special Week For Homemakers

National Home Demonstration Week is being observed May 2 to 8 in order to give appropriate recognition to the women and their homemaking problems, and the period has been officially proclaimed by Governor W. Preston Lane.

Each homemaker club in the county will have some special project during that week. The Oakland club will have a window display in one of the business places of town.

There are 364 home demonstration clubs and related organizations in 23 counties of Maryland, with a combined membership of nearly 14,000 women, who are devoted to improving homemaking and better living among the rural population.

Governor Lane, in his proclamation, declares that the basic economy of the nation rests on the agricultural resources of the country and that the welfare of the rural population is reflected in the stability of this basic foundation of national prosperity.

The Oakland Homemakers members will attend the Episcopal church in a group on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The window display will be in the Rudy Department store and will portray homemakers of yesterday and today.

Attending School Meeting

F. E. Rathbun, superintendent of schools; R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent; high school principals and school supervisors are in Baltimore attending a school meeting which is scheduled to start today and continue until Saturday.

City To Allow Use of Lot For Fire House

Garbage Contract Awarded and Other Business Conducted at Appeal Session

At the regular appeal session of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday, there were no complaints or appeals on any assessments, prior to setting the tax rate next month, but other routine business was carried out.

A committee from the Fire Department appeared before council regarding the lot on Third street for a new Fire Department building.

The city council proposed to turn over to the fire department a part of the lot measuring 120 feet on Third street and extending back towards the alley to the extent of 100 feet. The council reserved a portion 120 feet by 64 feet in rear of lot. The part to be turned over to the firemen was to be secured by a long term lease satisfactory to both parties.

The garbage contract was awarded to J. Edward Tasker, for $2,496, or $208 per month. Other bidders were W. L. Evans, $4,800; Bruce Lohr, $4,900; Lloyd Tasker, $2,160.

Other minor matters were disposed of in regard to a drain on South Third street, a wall on Liberty street, and the erection of a sign by Carroll E. Miller on Second street. Ernest Ashby requested a permit to conduct a religious meeting on Second street, but the request was denied.

Re-Named To Board of Library Trustees

Re-appointment of B. O. Aiken, principal of Accident High school, a member of the board of Library Trustees of the Ruth Enlow Library, for a term of seven years, from January 1, 1948, was announced yesterday by Governor W. Preston Lane.

Mr. Aiken's commission has been received in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court. Mr. Aiken was recommended for re-appointment by F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the board.

At a meeting of the board last Thursday afternoon floor plans and other details of the library were exhibited by D. B. Johannes of the firm of architects of Johannes and Murray, Silver Spring. Mr. Johannes had previously conferred with the library supervisor, Miss Farrington, in Baltimore, and it was planned to send some sketches of the proposed floor plan to E. E. Enlow, in Sebastopol, California, for his scrutiny. The library is to be a memorial to his daughter.

Another meeting of the library board has been called for Tuesday afternoon, May 4.

Sawmill Destroyed On Tuesday Evening

The well equipped sawmill owned by Troy Friend, on the Round Glade road, northwest of the old Dr. M. C. Hinebaugh farm, was entirely destroyed by fire on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Reported during an electrical storm, it was stated that in all probability lightning struck the fuel oil storage tank causing it to ignite and spread to the mill. A new diesel type engine was among the contents destroyed, and Emroy Bolden, fire chief, estimated the damage at about $8,000.

Most of the lumber around the mill was moved beyond the flames and saved from destruction, and firemen prevented the flames from spreading beyond the mill itself. It was impossible to try to check the flames which were fed by several gallons of fuel oil, and periodically there were several explosions from gasoline storage tanks which kept feeding the fire.

The loss was said to be partially covered by insurance.

The Oakland firemen were also called out twice on Monday. The first call came from the home of Elwood Martin, Sunnyside, at 12:30 p. m., where fire had spread through the kitchen of the house from an overheated stove. Considerable damage was caused to the one room, before being brought under control.

Firemen were called a second time that day to extinguish a brush fire on the Dennett road, east of town, which was in progress at 5 p. m. There was no damage.

Heads Student Council

Thomas Kahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Kahl, Mt. Lake Park, was elected president of the Student Council of Oakland High school, winning over Fred Bell in the annual elections yesterday.

Dale Custer won over Betty Lou Sanders for vice-president, while Delores Swartzentruber was named secretary over Joan Dunbar. Mitzi Markley was elected treasurer and Peggy Riley assistant. Other candidates for treasurer were Helen Roy and Norma Roth.

Teen Age Club Elects

Jack Lewis was elected president of the Teen Age club last Friday night. Others named were Marl Fauber, vice-president; Ella Fazzalari, secretary; Frederick Thayer III, as treasurer. The new officers will serve for six months.

The club will be closed this Friday because of the Sea Scout dance, but will be open on Saturday, it was announced by those in charge.

Hospital Plans May Be Ready To Submit To Contractors Soon

Progress toward completion of the plans for the county memorial hospital, with anticipation that they would be ready to submit to contractors within about ten days, was announced this week by the executors of the will of the late George W. Loar.

E. R. Jones, one of the executors, said last evening that preliminary applications and reports required by the surgeon-general's office had been approved, that plans had been revamped by the architects and would be passed on to Washington for final approval very shortly.

After prospective contractors received the plans, it will be about thirty days before they will be ready to submit their bids, it was pointed out.

Two Hurt In Plane Crash At Red House

William D. Hill, Belington, W. Va., and Joseph G. Gower, 21, Philippi, W. Va., were seriously injured Sunday afternoon when the cub airplane in which they were taking off from Hamilton Field at Red House, struck an electric wire and crashed, just south of route 50.

Gower suffered a shattered leg and Hill had fractured ribs, a broken jaw and head injuries. They were taken to a hospital in Elkins, W. Va., in the Bolden ambulance.

Witnesses said the plane had just taken off but could not gain altitude fast enough to miss the wires.

The wreckage was loaded on a truck Tuesday afternoon and taken to Philippi. It was a complete wreck.

Excavators Uncover Stone Furnace

While excavating for a house foundation on Dr. Miller's farm near Eglon, which is the former Jonas Bittinger farm, a small stone furnace was uncovered. The furnace still contained ashes. It was found at a depth of about five feet and was located directly behind the site of the old plantation house. This farm was at one time owned by a Hopkins family who worked it by negro slaves. Several of the negro slaves and members of the Hopkins family are buried on the farm. About three acres of the farm were planted to apples at the time and one of the money making products of the farm was apple jack. A large millstone, which is still there, was used for crushing the apples. It may well be that this furnace uncovered was used for the still in making apple jack as well as for other purposes. This was more than one hundred years ago. Because of their historical interest, a large stone from the furnace and also the millstone will be used in the construction of the new house. This farm is also the birthplace of Dr. Miller, since at that time it was owned by his father, the late Aaron Miller. The new house will be occupied by the Drs. Miller's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Winters and family, who are operating the farm.

Large Calf Born

Hugh D. Maffett reported an unusual birth of a calf at his farm on April 18. The cow was bred on April 15, 1947, and at birth on April 18, 1948, the calf weighed 140 pounds, and measured 54 inches from its nose to the root of its tail. The calf lived for two and one-half days.

The cow, a brown Jersey, still remains partially paralyzed. Dr. F. D. Custer, veterinarian, was present.

New Achievements Revealed From Two Bulls In Circuit

Daughter of One Set New World's Record—Second Circuit Organized in County

New achievements from two bull's now being used in the Maryland Artificial Breeding association were reported this week by John H. Carter, county agent, who received word from Joe Pot, extension dairyman.

One of the bulls, W. W. Maids Design, a Jersey, now has thirty-six daughters with 305-day records of twice a day milkings with an average production of 8,891 pounds of milk and 477 pounds of butterfat. Thirty of the daughters have been classified with an average score of 82 percent.

The other bull, a Guernsey, Blackford Constant, has a daughter as a junior two-year old produced 1,455 pounds milk and 652 pounds of fat in 365 days, which is a new world record. The average test was 6.25 percent butterfat.

This means that dairymen in this county have available to them very outstanding bulls at a cost not prohibitive to anyone, Mr. Carter pointed out. He stated that at present there were in this county seventy-six cows bred to Jersey bull Design and forty-three cows bred to Guernsey bull Constant.

Second Circuit Organized

More than fifty dairymen in the Grantsville area have completed plans and have organized a breeding circuit, making this county the first one in Maryland to organize two breeding circuits.

Anyone interested in these groups that make possible artificial breeding to Guernsey, Jersey, Holstein or Ayrshire bulls, may get in touch with Betty Ridder, County Agent Carter, Phone 152, Oakland; or Marvin Bethell, Joe Lewis, Merle Garletts, in the Grantsville area.

Welfare Payments Reach New High Point in Maryland

The State Department of Public Welfare paid out over $1,000,000, in benefits in March, a new high figure, according to a report filed last Friday.

The March total during March a year ago was $877,000. Old age assistance payments totaled $2,000,000 during March, a drop of $100,000 from the previous month. Aid to dependent children totaled $293,000 with 3,092 families assisted. This was a drop of 19 families from the previous month. Seventy-seven persons were assisted in March at an average of $7.00 per person. General assistance $2,000 was paid out to a total of 2,000 persons. $72,000 was paid out for 21 children in foster homes. Administration costs totaled $177,000 for the month or 9 percent of the total for the month.

Indexing System Is Now Complete

The new indexing system in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court is now complete, with the finishing touches being applied this week by L. M. Cott, president of the Cott Index system.

The work which was completed in ten months, provides the office with a modern, up to date index system which will be of great help to the office and attorneys in promptly locating deeds, etc., of record and will save much time in abstract searches.

Complete information shows names of grantors and grantees, the year of record, kind of instrument, book and page where recorded and a brief description and location of each conveyance.

The largest group is the family name Hamill in the grantor index, which required 1862 typed lines. There are approximately 650 set out family name groups. There are approximately 50,510 grantor names and 43,060 grantee names, and the re-indexing was done from 1872 to December 31, 1946.

Miss Grace M. Crosby had charge of the work. She began with a crew of seven which gradually dwindled down to three typists.

Arab leaders bowed to a Jewish blitz and agreed to evacuate Haifa, one of the most important port cities in the middle East.

MT. LAKE PARK

The Board of Sunday School at the Methodist church decided at their last meeting to have Sunday school at nine a. m., instead of ten. Church services will follow with Rev. Hiller officiating.

Mrs. Clara Bittinger was visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hockman, at Accident recently.

William Fulmer spent the week-end with relatives at Corinth, W. Va.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hayden were Master Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Hayden and daughters, Pat and Phyllis, Hagerstown; Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and daughter, Jean, of Luke.

Joseph Powers was visiting relatives in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Wednesday.

Miss Jennette Moon, of Bethlehem settlement, spent the week-end here with her grandmother, Mrs. John Fulmer.

Ernest Lewis, Morgantown, spent the past week here with relatives.

Mrs. Sarah Wood was shopping in Cumberland on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kight and sons, Sheridan and Blaine, Laverna Calhoun, Elwood Bray and Helen Morgan spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kimmell in Morgantown, W. Va. Mrs. Kight also visited her brother, A. J. Stottlemeyer, who is employed in Morgantown.

Dr. and Mrs. Goring, of Pennsylvanie; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Wilson, also of Pennsylvania, attended the funeral here of the late Mrs. Margaret Wilson Brown, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sisk have returned home after having spent some time with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brewer, of Triangle, Va.

William Rishell, who has been confined to his home by illness, is now able to be back at work.

Amvets Will Open Season Sunday, May 2

The Amvets baseball team will officially open its season on Sunday, May 2, with a double header against the team from Klondike, it was announced this week.

Mayor Joe Hinebaugh and State Senator L. M. Fraley will do the honors of officially opening the season by throwing out the first ball to start the game. Dr. T. J. Cahill will handle the umpiring duties.

The game will be played on the Oakland High school diamond starting at 2 o'clock. The probable line-up will include Bob Glaze as pitcher and McManis as catching. Others will be R. Wolfe, 2nd base; A. Wolfe, 3rd base; James or DeWitt, 1st base; Davy, shortstop; Kahl, left field; Lyons, center field; Compton, right.

In an exhibition game Sunday the Amvets defeated Loch Lynn 7 to 4. Bob James and Glaze handled the pitching with Boots Wolfe and Red McManis catching.

HOYES

Last Tuesday 13 members of the Hoyes Homemakers club motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Vitez on Mill Run and held their regular club meeting and included a stork shower for the hostess, Mrs. Randall Wilburn presided and the demonstration was presented by Miss Jessie Guard. The group enjoyed singing. Visitors attending from that community were Mrs. John Vitez, Sr., Mrs. John Vitez, Jr., Mrs. Ernest Griffith, Mrs. Leslie Guard, Mrs. Clara Groves. One new member was added to our club, Mrs. Darius Fike. During a short social time refreshments were served by the hostess. In May the club will meet with Mrs. George Wahl, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Montell Friend and children were guests on Sunday of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crowe, of Gortner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Glover, Cumberland, were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Enlow, and on Sunday they, with Mr. and Mrs. Enlow and daughters, Mary and Martha, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Enlow near Oakland.

Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. DeWitt were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Yost, Accident; Mr. Asa Wilhelm and daughter, Gladys, Avilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hauser.

(Delayed)

The Hoyes WSCS met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Friend. Mrs. Emerson Bishoff presided. Mrs. W. W. DeWitt gave the second chapter in our study book. The devotions were led by Miss Ada Leighton and the lesson was presented by Mrs. Robert Friend and Miss Icie Friend.

The Farm Bureau Disgussion group met Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speicher with 22 present. A discussion and quiz on "Soil Conservation" was given by Mr. Emerson Bishoff and a reading by Mr. H. C. Bishoff. A social time followed, during which refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned to meet in May with Mr. and Mrs. Webb Brenneman.

Miss Dora Schlossnagle and Mrs. Nettie Shank, of Accident, were dinner guests on Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. DeWitt.

How to Fall in Love in one easy lesson

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflow* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silkily you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

Say no more! I'm sold! Where do I sign up?

There's only one place. Only Buick has Dynaflow Drive, and no other American car has anything like it. With or without a car to trade, better see your Buick dealer first minute you can.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

BUICK alone has all these features

BIG JOB for Earnings
. . . meeting your
BIG and GROWING NEED for Oil!

The better you live, the more oil you need.

Today—5 million more cars are on the road than pre-war. 1,500,000 more homes now oil-heat. Five times as many diesel locomotives now. Twice as many farm tractors and trucks.

More oil spells more progress.

But—this rising need for oil can be met only by modernizing and expanding on a big scale — and in a hurry in spite of today's high costs.

To do this job, Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and its affiliates are spending one billion dollars in 1947 and 1948 alone—for new wells, plants, tankers, pipelines, storage tanks, and all the other things it takes to get you the oil you need.

That billion dollars is money that goes back into the business from earnings, past and current.

In 1947, for instance, we put 426 million dollars into replacements and expansion. To do this we:

(1) used all funds set aside to replace worn-out equipment;

(2) plowed back well over half the year's profits—all that was left after paying dividends; and

(3) dipped heavily into savings put aside in years past to help meet just such needs as we face today.

In the seven years 1940 through 1946, we spent well over one billion dollars for needed equipment, mostly for war needs. Now, in just two years, we are spending another billion dollars. This money comes from the business itself. Money made on the job goes back into the job.

Profits we reinvest for needed production facilities work for everybody. They pay for the capital investment that we must make today to get the oil you need tomorrow.

Wants Contents of School Building Legislation Given

To the Editor:

I would like to suggest that both County papers publish the Garrett County School Bill in its entirety.

This bill giving the County Commissioners and their advisory committees the power to bond our County for one million five hundred thousand dollars was passed in the General Assembly without a referendum. Our citizens should know what is in it.

The Board of Education and its Secretary were left out of the bill for obvious reasons. I feel a deep responsibility for my part in passing the School Bond Bill without a referendum and that is why I would like to clarify some misunderstandings that have arisen.

The Bill puts the responsibility in the hands of our County Commissioners, the Advisory Committee, the local Building Committee and our State Superintendent of Schools. The Advisory Committee is named in the Bill. The local Building Committees are to be named by the County Commissioners. I think these local Building Committees should be named as soon as possible because they can be of great help in developing the program. In our discussions with the County Commissioners they agreed to assume the tremendous responsibilities of this building program along with the help of the Advisory Committee named in the Bill. In our talks with our Superintendent of Schools he agreed to give us his full cooperation and I am sure he intends to do just that.

I would like to say in regard to Mr. R. Bowen Hardesty, who is to be our County Superintendent of Schools, that judging by the comment I hear we are fortunate in having a man of his calibre to take over our schools.

I think our School Board should be more active in the operation of our County school affairs.

I want to suggest for your consideration increasing the membership of the Board to five with at least one woman member. Some of our Counties have six-member Boards and some have two members. I understand that this works out very well as our women are very much interested in the schools, I think it would help for the reason that we have a large number of women teachers.

I am sure that all concerned in the school program have the best interests of Garrett County at heart. Let us all get behind them and give them our cooperation and encouragement.

Sincerely yours,
R. E. McINTIRE

Note: Important points of this bill were published at the time the bill was passed. A resume will be published later. —The Editor.

Third Get Trader's Licenses

About a third of those requiring trader's licenses have already obtained them from Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court, it was learned this morning. Over 250 have applied for and received their permit to operate a business during the ensuing year. This year the license money is turned over to the incorporated town in which the business is conducted, or to the county. Last year the funds went directly to the state.

Oakland will receive approximately $2,500 from this source this year.

Mr. Davis said that 34 beer licenses also had been issued up to the present time.

Dinner Speaker

JENNINGS RANDOLPH

Jennings Randolph, former representative in Congress, and now assistant to the president of Capital Airlines, Washington, D. C., has written that he definitely plans to be present at the meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

He will address the group on "Community and World Leadership," at the Mt. Lake Hotel on Tuesday, May 11.

Mr. Randolph is no stranger to Garrett countians, having spent much of his summer leisure hours at Mt. Lake Park, and has addressed audiences both in Oakland and at the Park.

In Congress for fourteen years, he was chairman of the Civil Service and District of Columbia committees, acting chairman of the Labor committee and ranking member of the Road and Mining committees.

A former teacher of speech and athletic director at Davis-Elkins college, he is co-author of "Speaking that Wins." He was formerly associate editor of the West Virginia Review and did newspaper work on the Clarksburg Telegram. He is now part owner of the Randolph Enterprise at Elkins, and writes a column, Washington Week by Week, for that newspaper. He is also part owner of radio station WVVW, at Fairmont.

50th Wedding Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brenneman, of route 2, Uniontown, was celebrated with an open house on Sunday, March 14, from 2 to 5 p. m.

The couple were united in marriage March 13, 1898 by Rev. Skidmore of the McHenry Methodist church at McHenry, this county. She is the former Miss Catherine Welch, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Brison Welch, in whose home the ceremony was performed.

Two of the Brenneman's three children are still living. They are G. Herman Brenneman, Akron, Ohio; and Howard C. Brenneman, of route 1, Uniontown.

Attend Cumberland Meeting

Eleven members of the Oakland Civic club attended a first district meeting of Civic clubs of the area at Cumberland yesterday to hear reports of activities.

Attending were Mrs. F. A. Thayer, Mrs. Austin F. Schildwachter, Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, Mrs. Arthur Naylor, Mrs. Ralph Pritts, Mrs. Lawrence Fraley, Mrs. Hugh Echard, Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, Mrs. Emroy Bolden, Mrs. H. B. Muma, Mrs. O. T. Graser.

At the regular meeting of the club here on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Schildwachter gave a report of a meeting of the State federation which she recently attended in Baltimore.

Injured in Accident

Margaret Ann Garlitz, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Garlitz, of this county, near Frostburg, was admitted to Miners hospital, Frostburg, last Friday suffering from injuries received when she was struck by an automobile in Frostburg.

She suffered a fractured left collar bone. Miss Catherine Williams, Garrett county school teacher, driver of the auto, was not held. Miss Williams took the child to the hospital. Witnesses said the child darted from a grocery store and ran for her father's automobile which was parked across the street.

Sponsors High School Days

Potomac State School of West Virginia University at Keyser is sponsoring a series of "high school days" on the campus from Monday, April 26, through Friday, April 30.

The purpose is to give high school seniors an opportunity of visiting a college campus and seeing it in operation, in order to stimulate interest in higher education. Friday, April 30, is for seniors of Oakland High.

AURORA-EGLON

Miss Betty Judy who has been keeping house for Mr. and Mrs. Dent Myers, of Aurora, who are both teaching school, has been ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Judy, in the Accident community.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilhelm and daughter "Bubbles," of near Aurora, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Calcamp, of near Accident, went Sunday to Philippi to visit Miss Viola Wilhelm who had undergone a major operation in a hospital there on Saturday. Miss Wilhelm is a daughter of Mrs. Grace and the late Charles Wilhelm, and a sister of Mrs. Calcamp. Among the several blood donors on Monday were Claud Wilhelm, Gus Calcamp and Walter Arnold all of this area.

Mrs. Lephia Gustafson, of Eglon, accompained Dr. and Mrs. King to Morgantown where she spent the week-end with her brother-in-law, Harry Bradford and son, William Bradford and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dixon and family, of Gnegy Church, and Mrs. Gertrude Snyder, were Sunday guests of relatives in Somerset, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lantz and family moved recently to the home of Mrs. Lantz' uncle, Roy Wotring, single, of Horse Shoe Run, where they had resided for several years until last year when the aged invalid father, Leonard Wotring was taken in the home to be cared for.

Out-of-town Sunday guests in the Hamstead home at Eglon were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Wenzel, Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Wenzel and son, Jack, of Meyersdale, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. P. F. King, of Kingwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilhelm and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beckman, Eglon, spent Sunday with relatives at Crellin.

Mr. and Mrs. Shahan and family moved recently from the little cottage at Rock Inn, near Aurora, to Silver Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Herdick and family have moved from the David Wilhelm property at Eglon to the Harry Evans farm home near Eglon.

Fined on Punch Board Charge

William Peyton, or route 40, was fined $50 and costs for unlawful possession of a punch board, at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch last Friday.

Peyton was arrested by Sheriff J. S. Teats. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

May Call Extra Session

A special session of the Maryland General Assembly this year "appears" necessary, Gov. Lane said Monday.

Although Lane said no date has been set the special legislative session is expected to be held late next month or in early June.

A cost of living salary increase for state employes would be the main item of business. The next regular session of the State Legislature will be in January, 1949.

24 Killed; 659 Injured In March Traffic Toll

There were 1,452 accidents investigated in Maryland during March with 24 persons killed and 659 injured.

Baltimore reported 812 accidents with 4 killed and 362 injured. Throughout the counties there were 640 accidents with 20 persons killed and 297 injured.

Garrett county was one of twelve counties to experience a fatality-free month.

Tree In Belfry

Bats in a belfry is not news, but a growing tree in a belfry should be.

A tree was discovered growing in the belfry of The Lutheran church in Oakland, when workmen began an inspection of the building last week.

The tree is a variety of apple and was between two and three feet high. Apparently a seedling became imbedded between the bricks. The roots are beginning to crack the mortar and will be removed.

NOTICE REGARDING GARBAGE COLLECTION IN TOWN OF OAKLAND

The Mayor and Town Council has contracted with Mr. J. Edward Tasker to collect garbage in the town of Oakland.

GRANTSVILLE

Organize To Improve Cemetery

Representatives of various churches and other organizations of Grantsville on a cemetery project sponsored by the Grantsville Homemakers club, met at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Livengood Sunday evening, April 25. Carl Nathan and G. W. Diefenbach reported on what had been accomplished.

Building of a shelter and tool shed was discussed also the creation of a fund by which a caretaker could be paid to keep up the cemetery during the summer months. The general opinion of the representatives was that there be a general clean up day and then form an organization, consisting of the representatives from each church, and other organizations as a cemetery Improvement Association to raise a fund for a caretaker, and whatever is needed. William Winterberg was appointed to secure material for building. John Hershberger was appointed to draw up the print for building. Nevin Miller as Mayor, officially set May 12 at 8 a. m. as clean-up day. Everybody was asked to come and bring tools prepared to work.

It was decided that the organization be formed from the representatives present and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary E. Livengood; Vice president, G. W. Diefenbach; secretary, Mrs. Roy Mickey; treasurer, David Lewis; business manager, Harry C. Edwards. Members of the committee are G. W. Diefenbach, Lutheran church; Mrs. Harold Miller, Lutheran Missionary Society; Nevin Broadwater, St. John's Reformed church; Mrs. Mary Bender, St. John's Reformed Guild; H. C. Edwards, Methodist church; Mrs. Roy Mickey, Womans Society of Christian service; Mrs. Joseph Fahey, St. Stephen's church; Harold Miller, Rotary club; Sam Hanft, American Legion; D. W. Hershberger, Scouts; David Lewis, Cub Scouts; and St. John's Reformed Sunday School; John Hershberger, Town Council; Nevin Miller, Mayor; Herbert Layman, Woodmen of the World; Henry L. Durst, Firemen; Mrs. Mary E. Livengood, Homemakers Club; William Winterberg, funeral director.

The goal set for the fund is $600.00. Anyone wishing to donate money to the fund may give or send to David Lewis.

The Homemakers club will notify all organizations and churches so as to solicit their help on clean-up day.

Twenty-three members and four visitors attended the covered dish supper and enjoyed the review of the Mission Study book, "Committed Unto Us", given by Mrs. Harold Miller last Thursday evening in the social room of the Lutheran church. Mesdames Harry Yommer, Harry Hoover and Harry Bender sang several selections. Mrs. Harold Miller presided.

Miss Wilma Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Robertson, of Grantsville, student at Frostburg State Teachers college, was one of the soloists at a concert presented by the Maryland Folk Singers of that college, last Thursday night, in the auditorium. She sang "The Frail Wildwood Flowers", an Allegheny Mountain folk tune, arranged by Maurice Matteson, director of the Maryland Folk Singers.

Mrs. Roy Mickey attended a WSCS District Executive meeting recently in Keyser, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashby, Crellin, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ashby.

William Edgar, of route 40, near Grantsville, is a surgical patient in Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Keefe and family, Almira, N. Y., were recent guests of their father, Joseph Keefe, and Mr. and Mrs. William Grimm and family.

Mrs. Benny Epstein and infant son have returned from Hazel McGilvery Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gortner and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bender attended the ladies' night of the Frostburg Rotary club.

William Gnagey, St. Paul, Pa.; Mrs. Ollie Leochel, Salisbury, Pa. and Mrs. J. U. Stanton, of Grantsville, have returned home after attending the wedding of Miss Margaret Louise Doner and Robert Jones Johnson, which occurred in Nativity of Our Lord Church, April 22, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa. The bride is a granddaughter of their brother, Harry.

Col. and Mrs. William Powell, of Alexandria, Va., have returned home after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Stanton.

Pfc. William Beachy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Beachy, and Pfc. James Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Baker, of Berlin, Pa., left Sunday for Scott Field, Ill., to attend a Radio School, after spending a 10-day furlough with their parents.

Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, Mrs. Marshall Landis and Mrs. Herbert Hersker attended the Mt. District meeting of American Legion Auxiliary held in Cumberland, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmons Warnick and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, Miss Peggy Durst, Mrs. Cecil Edwards, Mrs. C. O. Keller and Misses Ethel and Viola Broadwater attended the program of the Maryland Folk Singers of Frostburg State Teachers College, April 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edwards and Misses Ethel and Viola Broadwater attended the Minstrel show given by Allegany Student Nurses, Cumberland. Miss Rita Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards, participated in the show.

The "Old Time Minstrel Show" was given in the Grantsville High school auditorium Monday night under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Sunday school.

Republican State Convention To Be Opened on May 20

Public announcement by Galen L. Tait that he would resign the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee at the time of the Republican State Convention, was made during the past week. As early as two years ago, Mr. Tait had indicated to party leaders that he was willing to go through another Presidential campaign, and, as early as last February, it was reported, that he had sounded out at least three possible successors.

The Republican State Convention will be held May 20 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, convening at 12:30 o'clock noon and Mr. Tait says that he will resign at that time.

Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Speaker of the House of Representatives, at the invitation of Congressman J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth Congressional District, has promised to deliver the principal address at the State Convention. Mr. Martin will have a leading part in the National Convention in Philadelphia where he will preside as the permanent chairman.

Col. Edward T. Miller, Congressman from the First Maryland District will preside over the State Convention as temporary chairman.

Hon. D. Lindley Sloan, former Chief Judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals, of Cumberland, long a leading figure in Maryland G.O.P. activities, has consented to act as the Permanent Chairman of the convention and will make the keynote speech.

The five counties of Western Maryland, which comprise the Sixth Congressional District, will be represented at the State Convention by a delegation headed by J. Glenn Beall, who has been returned several times by that District to the House of Representatives and who is unopposed for the Republican nomination this year.

The caucusses of the convention delegates will be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in the morning just prior to the opening of the convention.

One of the most important businesses of the State Convention is the selection of delegates to the National Convention. Jacob France, who was elected National Committeeman for Maryland at the 1944 National Convention, stated that the delegates would go uninstructed under the Maryland law.

These crumbling ruins of the ancient Temple of Jupiter at Baalbec in Syria, excite the wonder and command the admiration of modern architects and engineers.
With their primitive machines and methods, it must have required the labor of hundreds of thousands of men to mine these great stones, haul them from distant quarries, chisel them into beautiful designs and build them into this stately and imposing structure.
Religion has always inspired the best that was in man and called forth his noblest efforts—even when it was no more than blind faith in a pagan god.
In this modern and enlightened day, with our clearer understanding of the moral, ethical and spiritual character of God, religion is still the touchstone of human character, the inspiration of human action, and the force behind man's highest achievements.
Every church in the land is a shrine of God and every worshipper an heir to the eternal heritage of faith. Here the hopes and aspirations of mankind throughout the ages are brought to a rich fruition.
HOLY BIBLE
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Accident Farmer Mashes Right Leg

Melchoir Kolb, 66, Accident farmer, was admitted to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, early Monday afternoon for treatment of a mashed right leg suffered when he was pinned beneath a tractor.

Mr. Kolb told hospital attaches the tractor he was operating upset and fell upon him, mashing his right leg.

Attaches said he was in fairly good condition after lacerations on the leg were sutured and a cast applied to the broken leg.

BITTINGER

While operating a land roller on his father's farm last Saturday morning, Cleland Beitzel, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beitzel, was thrown from the roller and so seriously injured that he was taken immediately to the Memorial hospital in Cumberland for treatment. The injury was a result of the breaking of the tongue of the roller which frightened the horses and caused them to run away.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milliron, of Cumberland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Beitzel recently.

Clayford Detrick, of Beallsville, Pa., spent several days last week with his mother, Mrs. Hattie Detrick, who is ill.

Members of the local boys Four-H Club held their regular meeting in the school building last Friday evening. The Girls Four-H Club members held a picnic in Pleasant Valley the same evening.

John Reckner, Jr., and Max Buckel, College Park, spent the week-end at their homes here.

Mrs. C. H. Runze, wife of the local Lutheran pastor, is visiting her daughter, Louise, in Philadelphia, at the present time.

The Bittinger Baseball team played the Grantsville team last Saturday, which resulted in a score of 4 to 3 in favor of Grantsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Platter and daughter, Ethel, motored to Meyersdale, Pa., on business last Saturday evening.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, A. J. Alexander, who died one year ago, May 2, 1947.

Do not ask if we miss him:
Oh, there's such a vacant place;
Oft I think I hear his footsteps,
Oft I see his smiling face.

No one knows my longings,
No one sees me weep,
I shed my tears from a broken heart
When others are fast asleep.

I always sit and think of him
When I am all alone;
The blow was great, the shock severe,
But memory always keeps him near.

Friends may think we have forgotten him
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartaches
That the smile hides all the while.

Lonely is the house without him,
Sadly do we feel our loss:
He had time to say good-bye to none;
God opened the heavenly gates and said, "Come!"

His Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

McRobie, Alice V.—In loving memory of my darling mother, Alice V. McRobie, who passed away one month ago, March 27, 1948.

I must remember . . . . the silent night is lonely . . . . there is no golden dawn . . . . because I must remember darling . . . . that you are really gone . . . . I must remember in my heart . . . . the happiness we knew . . . . and that my only world was one . . . . in which I lived with you . . . . there is no breath of fragrance . . . . in the flowers that I press . . . . and if I call your name I hear . . . . the sound of emptiness . . . . I roam the house from room to room . . . . I gaze into the sky . . . . but there is nothing I can do . . . . to bring you back to me . . . . I have to tell myself again . . . . that you are really gone . . . . and I can only ask the Lord for strength to carry on.

Daughter, M. Ende

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MAY 6, 1948. NUMBER 10.

Things in General . . . . . .

Citizens may holler somewhat about the cost of elections when only a few people vote. The holler should not necessarily be about the holding of an election, as that is one of the basic democratic rights. There should be more interest manifested in the elections. Maybe this lack of interest can be overcome in the fall.

Attention is called this week to the importance of having an adequate supply of trained nurses. National hospital day is May 12. We know that without the nurses hospitals could not function. Nursing is a worthwhile profession and one which should have the interest of the young women of this area.

We are pleased with the apparent rapid progress toward getting our library underway. Things seem to be moving along nicely.

Dr. Thomas Ferguson gave a representative group something to think about on Tuesday with his plea for a physical education program that should include every child. A program of health and physical fitness is one that could be improved throughout the nation.

The family, oldest institution known to man, of divine origin and having divine sanction, is being stressed this week along with the Christian home. The week culminates in the observance of Mother's Day. We can all give some extra thought this week to mothers and to the substantial home.

The plan of the state police to curb road dangers has good motives, but there can be danger in such a plan. The police head has pointed out that under no circumstances is it to be a "Gestapo," and for this all democratic citizens should feel better. But if not kept under careful watch, such a system could become a "Gestapo" and bring ultimate results such as are now in use in Russia, and were in use in Germany during the recent war.

TALK STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF SPORTS FOR ALL

Activities for Every Child Is Primary Motive of Physical Education Program, Dr. Ferguson States

The promotion of a health and physical education program that would provide activities for every child in every school, where the participants would receive the advantages first, was advocated firmly by Dr. Thomas Ferguson, state supervisor of physical education and recreation, in his address before a county-wide boosters meeting.

The dinner gathering was held in the William-James hotel on Tuesday evening and was attended by about 100 persons from Oakland, Grantsville, Accident, Friendsville and Kitzmiller. Sponsored by the Oakland Boosters' club, president Emeric Dusic extended invitations to school leaders and interested citizens of the five communities to hear what the schools here could expect in the way of a well rounded physical education program.

Dr. Ferguson throughout his address stressed the necessity of keeping the welfare of the individual boy or girl uppermost in ones mind, as he declared "in the name of athletics we commit sin after sin."

Good leadership, a diversified program, with facilities large enough to take care of every student, were three items which constituted a good physical education program and for a school the size of Oakland he advocated a lot with at least 20 acres for athletic endeavors of all students. "Acreage pays dividends in the living of children," he pointed out.

Planned activities such as a good physical education program would teach the kind of virtues that make people wonderful, he said.

He believed strongly in intramural actiyities coming first, the various athletic teams that represented each school against other schools following

Fire Destroys Home

Fire from an overheated stove, entirely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oley Arbogast, on the Blue Ribbon road, near Red House, last Sunday evening. Practically all the home furnishings were also destroyed in the flames which apparently started from an overheated stove.

Mr. and Mrs. Arbogast and three children are now residing with his parents, who reside nearby. The blaze occurred just before the electrical storm. The Oakland department was not called.

Oakland firemen were called to the home of Clayton Harsh, on route 50, near Brookside, W. Va., last Saturday morning about 11:45, to extinguish flames which had gotten beyond control. They succeeded in saving the house but the damage was considerable. Neighbors assisted in carrying out some of the contents of the building and these were damaged by rain.

Firemen were also called about 3:15 Sunday morning to extinquish a blaze in an automobile along route 219, near the Owen Martin farm. The upholstering was damaged by flames. The car bore an Ohio license. The loss was covered by insurance.

Donald K. Belt To Be Lions Club Speaker

Donald K. Belt, president of the Belt Seed company, Inc., Baltimore, will tell of his travels and impressions during a recent five-months' tour of Western Europe, at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday, May 10, at the William- James hotel. Mr. Belt has made 22 crossings of the Atlantic ocean and is one of the larger importers and exporters of seeds along the Atlantic seaboard.

Frederick Bell, chairman of the program committee for the local Lions club, has represented this firm in the Appalachian area since 1935, and arranged for the speaker to appear here.

Plans are now complete for the club's annual "Ladies' Night," to be held at Mt. Lake Hotel on Monday evening, May 24. Members are to make their reservations with B. Beeson Snyder, secretary.

Highlights of the program include a guest speaker, selections by the Lions club quartet, and after dinner dancing with music by Regis Kerins orchestra. There will be special favors and door prizes for the ladies.

New Bottling Company Opening In Oakland

A new bottling plant, Bell's Bottling company, is opening in Oakland this week, making three such plants in the town.

John A. Bell, employed for several years by the Coca-Cola Bottling Works, and manager for over three years, is opening the new plant for the manufacture of soft drinks.

The building, located on north Third street, has been remodeled and machinery has been installed over the past several months. Mr. Bell said this morning he expected to begin operations the latter part of this week or the first of next.

Soldier's Reburial Planned For Sunday

The body of the late S/Sgt. Eugene V (Jimmy) Show, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett V. Show, will arrive at the W. W. Savage funeral home in Friendsville on May 6 and will remain there until Sunday, May 9th, when funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist Church, Friendsville.

Services will be conducted at 2 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, 3 p. m., daylight time, with full military rites by the organization at Friendsville. Rev. Charles Shilke, Somerset, Pa., former Lutheran pastor at Oakland; and Rev. Wade, Friendsville, will officiate. Burial will be in the Blooming Rose cemetery.

4-H Club Organized

A new 4-H club was organized by Mrs. Mason Callis at Mt. Lake Park last Thursday, April 30.

Another meeting was held yesterday at which time Miss Jessie Guard spoke on the beginning of the work of such an organization. Officers elected were Donna Jean Weimer, president; Bernadette Bittinger, vice president; Mary Ann Callis, secretary; Larue Calhoun, treasurer; Patty Bittinger, reporter; Myrna Cross, refreshment chairman; and Charlotte Welch, program chairman.

Named Chief Operator

The appointment of Margaret E. Brannon as chief operator of the Oakland telephone exchange, was announced today by R. S. Jones, district manager.

The new chief operator is a graduate of Ursuline Academy, Cumberland. She began work with the telephone company in 1927 and has held supervisory positions in Cumberland for the last five years.

The new appointee succeeds Mrs. Mary L. Felker, who has resigned from the company to make her home in Baltimore.

Added to Staff

Announcement has been made that Vane B. Iden, Cumberland, had been added to the telephone force in Oakland. Mr. Iden will take care of the increasing number of telephones in the Oakland area.

He has had five years' service with the company, and will move to Oakland as soon as housing is available. He is married and has two children.

Named on Draft Board

Irvin R. Rudy has been appointed a member of the Selective Service Board No. 1, of Garrett county by Col. Henry C. Stanwood. The appointment was effective last Friday.

Mr. Rudy fills the vacancy on the board caused by the death of W. A. Gonder recently. Other members of the board are Neil C. Fraley and Milton Pritts. A. T. Matthews is attorney to the board.

Oakland Tax Rate Remains 90 Cents

Amount Is Same As Last Year: Town's Assessable Basis Over Two Million

Oakland's city tax rate for 1948 was fixed at 90 cents on each $100 of assessable property, the same figure as last year, it was announced following a meeting of the Mayor and City Council last night.

In the estimated budget it was assumed that expenditures would total $51,000. It was calculated that the rate would bring in $21,640.01 from taxes, that an additional $17,776 would be received from miscellaneous sources, and that the water department receipts would amount to $14,000. The tax rate was based on an assessable basis of $2,084,457, which is an increase of $133,000 over last year. Added to this would be receipts from an assessable basis of corporations, etc., through the state tax commission, the basis there being $320,000. Twenty-five cents of the rate would be used to retire bonds and pay interest, with the remaining 65 cents for general expenses.

Time Discussed

The time question was further discussed but there was no motion of any kind on the minutes.

C. M. Sincell, city engineer, presented a plan for widening 4th street, from the Deer Park road to Wilson run.

Workers were given an increase up to 90 cents an hour.

The water ordinance was passed, which was proposed a month ago and which raises the minimum rates.

Robert Maroney was given permission to erect a residence on 7th street.

Stanley and Ernest Ashby asked permission to hold religious services on Oakland streets. The council denied permission on any streets other than in front of the Court House and conceded this point, providing they would get permission from the County Commissioners.

Movie tax for the month wsa $80.85. Receipts totaled $3,958.49 with $2,740.66 from water, $489.57 from taxes and $728.26 for miscellaneous. Bills amounted to $3,094.59, including water supplies amounting to $764.87.

Farming Council Will Meet Tonight

The Farming for Better Living Council, will have a meeting this evening in the Accident High school auditorium at 8 o'clock p. m., it was announced by Maurice Brookhart, chairman.

Plans for continuation of the program will be discussed.

Harned to Speak at P.-T.A. Meeting

Joseph E. Harned, author of "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," will give his illustrated lecture on wild flowers of the region at the regular meeting of the Oakland High School Parent-Teacher association to be held on Thursday evening, May 13, at 8 o'clock.

There will also be election of officers.

Radiant Heating Comes to Oakland

Radiant heating, the oldest known form of mechanical heat, is now about the newest wrinkle in Oakland, and its installation during the past week has attracted considerable attention.

This form of heating is being installed in a new quonset type building which has been erected at the East End Service station. The general contractor is Earl Zepp, of the Oakland Lumber company, while the heating unit installation was engineered by Scott W. Shirer, of W. E. Shirer and Son. The unit included 1,600 feet of copper pipe, placed in position as indicated in the above photograph, and then the entire area, 24 by 60, was covered with concrete, poured by J. B. Mumma one day last week.

The history of radiant heating is considered of interest, inasmuch as it dates back to the Romans, according to a printed pamphlet on this subject. Recent discoveries have proved that the ancient Koreans used this principle in heating their dwellings indirectly from cooking-oven fires. Excavations at Rome and Pompeii show that the Romans were familiar with its use, and heating by means of masonry ducts beneath floors and within walls. Roman ruins uncovered in England by the ravages of World War II show that they used metal piping, much as is done in modern work. Early colonial builders made use of radiant heat from fireplace flues in the brick walls. After an awakened interest in radiant heating took place on the continent around 1907 it has been extensively adopted by the English.

Although the first heating unit in Oakland, it is believed there may be others like it in the county. A portion of the Motor Service Company building at Grantsville, is said to be heated in this manner.

Under the ideal set-up the water which circulates through these copper pipes is not to exceed a heat of 110 degrees, and is supposed to heat the floor to a temeprature not to exceed skin temperature, which is from 83 to 85 degrees, depending upon the individual.

The success or failure of this oldest of systems, will be watched with interest by contractors and prospective home builders of this area. It is said to be used successfully in chicken houses, and can be installed in ceilings as well as floors.

Chamber of Commerce To Sponsor Beauty Contest in County

Decision to sponsor a beauty contest in this county, in conjunction with the "Miss Maryland" and "Miss America" contests, was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night.

This is the first time such a contest has been sponsored in this county to make a local contestant in the state running which might lead to the crown of "Miss America of 1948."

The candidate who will be known as "Miss Mountain Top" is to be named by July 2. The Miss Maryland contest is sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Chamber of Commerce and the local Chamber will work in conjunction with Cumberland organization carrying out the local contest.

Details are still to be worked out, according to William O. Davis, secretary, but the contest will be held at Deep Creek Lake. The state finals will be conducted in Cumberland on August 2, at which time Barbara Jo Walker, of Memphis, Tenn., Miss America of 1947, will be present.

Dinner Next Tuesday

The banquet committee, consisting of Mr. Davis, Wilbur Close, Charles L. Briner and Arthur Humbertson, have completed arrangements for the annual dinner meeting of the group next Tuesday evening at the Mt. Lake Hotel.

Jennings Randolph, former West Virginia Congressman, will be the chief speaker. An important item of business will be the election of nine members of the board of directors, followed by election of officers of the group. Eighteen members of the Chamber have been nominated and members will vote that night for nine.

Approximately 100 persons are expected for the dinner.

Time in Garrett County

Standard Time is in effect in Garrett county with these exceptions:

Grantsville
Bittinger
Crellin

There was no delegation before the County Commissioners this week and the question was not discussed. Crellin changed to daylight time to coincide with the Osgood bus, which is running to Morgantown on fast time.

In Preston county the towns of Terra Alta and Kingwood changed to fast time last Sunday.

Registration Figures Drop For Both Parties

Registration figures in Garrett county took a drop as the result of the fact that at least 269 names were stricken from the books at the registration day, whereas only 140 additional names were added to the books.

These facts were released by the Board of Election Supervisors yesterday when they received a partial report from the polling places.

Twenty of twenty-five polling places reported 95 new Republicans and 45 new Democrats added to the books, but that 159 Republicans and 109 Democrats and one who had declined to state his affiliation, had been stricken from the books. The Supervisors ordered the registration officials that those who had not exercised their voting privileges within the past five years should be stricken from the books and notified by mail of the action.

Previously there had been 5,539 Republicans and 2,927 Democrats registered. Subtracting 64 from each party, there now remain 5,475 Republicans and 2,863 Democrats in the county.

The complete registration by districts will not be available until the five missing precincts have reported.

Of those the records showed 72 were males and 58 were females. Of those stricken from the books 137 were males and 105 were females.

Air Mail Week

W. E. Spoerlein, Oakland postmaster, received a proclamation this week signed by Governor W. Preston Lane, Jr., concerning the observance of Air Mail Service week, May 15 to 21, commemorating the 30th anniversary of the establishment of U.S. air mail service.

Governor Lane called on the citizens of Maryland to take cognizance of the week.

Returned to County

Jasper Ringer, Jr., indicted by the grand jury for larceny of an automobile, was returned to the county last Saturday by authorities after having served a term of 18 months in the House of Correction for an assault charge committed in Upper Marlboro, He is a Garrett county native.

He is being held for trial.

Deputy Sheriff Paul W. Fisher reported this morning that the Naili store in Crellin had been broken into last night. Investigation is continuing. Apparently only a small amount of cash was stolen.

F. BYRNE AUSTIN TOPS DEMOCRATS IN PRIMARY VOTE

Vote is One of Lightest on Record in Garrett County—Not a Vote Cast at Bittinger

F. Byrne Austin, 44-year-old Montgomery county resident, led in the four-man Democratic primary voting for that party's nominee to oppose J. Glenn Beall, Republican candidate, for the Sixth Maryland District Congressional seat. He won over his nearest opponent, Will Allen, also of Montgomery county, 3,824 to 3,527 in the five western Maryland counties. The other two candidates trailed with Dawson J. Horine, Frederick county, totaling 1,676 and Thomas O'Connell, Montgomery county, 487.

The vote was heavier in Montgomery county where three of the candidates claimed residence. Horine, making his second try for the party's Congressional nomination, carried his home county. Allen carried Allegany and Washington counties. He was endorsed by organized labor groups.

The vote was for Allen, Austin, Horine and O'Connell consecutively:

Allegany	686	352	97	114
Frederick	274	60	816	25
Garrett	47	123	46	38
Montgomery	1,948	2,882	249	267
Washington	572	407	468	43
Totals	3,527	3,824	1,676	487

Garrett Vote Light

Garrett county voters contributed to the winner, but it was one of the lightest votes ever recorded in the county. No more than 275 votes were cast at the 25 polling places, and some of these had to be thrown out because of illegal markings.

Bittinger Scores Record

The biggest vote was cast at Kitzmiller where 36 went to the polls.

District No. 12, Bittinger scored a vote record in that not a single person cast a vote.

The polling place opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m., as required by law. Not a single Democrat of the 41 registered, bothered to go to the polls to vote. Even the three Democrats employed to work in the precinct as election officials did not vote. They told Supervisors here that they did not know any of the candidates.

The election cost Garrett county taxpayers anywhere from $2,500 to $3,000, or a total of from $10 to $12 per vote cast. Bloomington was the first district to report, while it was found impossible to get Kempton, The Elbow and Avilton until yesterday when the election officials came to Oakland to make their official report.

Library Plans Are Discussed at Meeting

At a meeting of the board of library trustees of the Ruth Enlow Memorial Library, to be erected here, proposed plans of the library, as prepared by architects Johannes and Murray, were exhibited and discussed, and have now been mailed to E. E. Enlow, of Sebastopol, Calif., for his approval.

F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the board, announced that an Oakland citizen, who desired to remain anonymous at this time, had contributed $1,000 toward the construction of the library. A payment of $300 for services of the architects up to the present time, was approved by the board.

B. O. Aiken, Accident, reported that the bookmobile would be in service by July 1st. Details of the bookmobile schedule have been placed in hands of a committee composed of Mr. Aiken, W. J. Glenn and Marshall Brown.

Church Women Plan Fellowship Meeting

The local council of Church Women will hold the May Fellowship Day meeting in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland, on Friday, May 7, at 7:45 p. m.

Mrs. Robert Johns, of Accident, will be the speaker. Mrs. Edward P. Kahl, Mt. Lake Park, will give the report of the annual meeting held recently in Cumberland.

All church women are being urged to attend.

The hill at Pittsburgh which moved 12 feet toward Allegheny river, has stopped moving.

County-Wide Breeding Service Is Available

Artificial breeding service for cattle will start in the Grantsville area on Tuesday, May 11, it was announced by John H. Carter, county agent, which will make this service county-wide.

A meeting of all members of the breeding circuit will be held at Grantsville at the school house on Monday night, May 10, at 8 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, for the purpose of giving detailed instructions of the operation of the breeding circuit. Dr. Edwin J. Weatherby and Joe Pou, of College Park, will attend.

Daniel Klotz, Grantsville; Claude Pope, Frostburg; Keith Stahl, Oakland; and Wesley Georg, Accident, are attending the University of Maryland for week's training course as technicians. They will return to the county Sunday, May 9, and will be available to assist in the dairy breeding program, Mr. Carter said.

Five High Herds

The monthly report of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1, Grantsville, showed C. O. Miller, Daniel J. Folk, Sherman Beachy, Paul Kinsinger and Allen Maust having the five high herds for that period. Miller had an average of 846 pounds of milk for 32.3 pounds of butterfat. The butterfat average of the others ranged from 30.3 to 29.4.

C. O. Miller also had the highest individual cow, with 1,714 production for an average of 66.9. The remaining high cows were owned by Allen Maust, 4; John Hafer, Crist Yoder, 3; C. O. Miller, Raymond Tice, Elmer Maust, 2; Ivan J. Miller, Sherman Beachy and Daniel J. Folk, one each. The average butterfat content went from 66.9 to 50.8.

To Present Comedy

A three-act comedy, "A Ready-made Family," will be presented by the Senior Youth Fellowship of St. Paul's Methodist church, in the church assembly room on Friday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock.

Many of the scenes in the play are said to be unusual, with lunatics running loose, a mean little sister, two negro characters, with a touch of romance.

The cast includes Pauline Fauber, Hervey Smouse, Betsy Phillips, Sue Liller, Elaine Lewis, Marl Fauber, Wanda Whittaker, Homer Bennett, Nina Fauber and Jack Kight. Richard Leighton and Fred Bell are managers.

Amvets Rained Out

The Amvets were rained out of their opening game Sunday against the Klondyke Colts but have planned to play at Swanton this evening. This will be the first meeting for the Swanton and Oakland teams.

Next Sunday the Amvets will be host to the Kitzmiller VFW on the local diamond. The game will be called at 2:30.

Both Swanton and Kitzmiller teams are given a strong rating. Kitzmiller and Oakland broke even in a two-game series last year.

Has Full Roster

With the signing of "Blue" Marucci, third baseman and lead off man of last year's Oakland team, Business Manager John Castilow announced he now had a full roster of 18 men as required by the Upper Potomac Baseball League. It includes McManus, Sharpless, Friend, catchers. T. James, pitcher and first base, DeWitt, 1st; Marucci, Wolfe, 2nd; Wolfe, pitcher and infield; Davy, Jordan, infield; Kahl, Lyons, Compton, Helbig, Trickett, outfield, Bob James, Glaze, Sheehe, pitchers, R. Friendsville FFA To Enter Corn Contest

Members of the Friendsville Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will participate this season in carrying on demonstrations to prove the value of adapted hybrid corn, Friendsville Clover Farm Store at Friendsville, announced this week.

Prizes will be awarded the FFA and 4-H groups in this state which achieve the best records of completion in the program. The young farmers will keep notes on the corn during the growing season and make a report at harvest time.

Four-pound samples of seed, enough to plant one-half acre, will be available without charge in the next few weeks for boys and girls who have enrolled in the program.

GRANTSVILLE

The organizational meeting of the Future Citizens of America was held in the American Legion Home, Friday, April 30, at which time officers were elected. They are as follows: President, Joe Yommer; Vice President, Kathleen Beachy; Secretary, Donna Reckner; Treasurer, Richard Bender; Reporter, Thelma Lowry; Historian, Gladys Carey. Those in charge of the meeting were Mrs. Eldred Stahl, Mrs. Jonas McKenzie and Mrs. Guy Hardesty. After the election of officers, Mrs. Hardesty gave ideas of what the club would be like and some of the activities it would do. The club will meet every Friday evening from 8:00 till 11:00. All teen agers are invited. After the business meeting, a social was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yommer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hershberger and sons attended the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bender and daughter Ann, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor, of Frostburg, visited their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellair, and attended the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., over the week-end.

The Grantsville Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Livengood on Wednesday, May 5, and held a Mother's Day program. A covered dish luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Klotz left Sunday to spend a week with the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Durst, in Baltimore and College Park.

James "Bud" Bittinger, Hagerstown, is visiting relatives and friends in Grantsville and Bittinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Washington, Pa., moved into the upstairs apartment at the home of Misses Ethel and Viola Broadwater on May 1st.

Mrs. Mark Miller is a surgical patient in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Merrill, Baltimore, announce the birth of a son on April 25. Mrs. Merrill was formerly Miss Eileen Otto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Otto, New Germany.

Mrs. Olen Yoder was hostess to her "500" Club recently with two tables in play. Honors were given to Mrs. Henry L. Durst and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

Miss Beulah Weidman, R. N., Hastings, Nebraska, a former Garrett county Public Health Nurse from 1924 to 1926, spent the week-end with Mrs. Joseph F. Fahey and other friends. Miss Weidman spent the past year in Naples, Italy, doing relief and rehabilitation work. She returned to this country on the Queen Elizabeth and is enroute to her home.

The Auxiliary unit of the American Legion Post 214 will hold a public card party, Bridge and 500, at the Legion home on Tuesday night, May 11, at 8 o'clock, D.S.T.

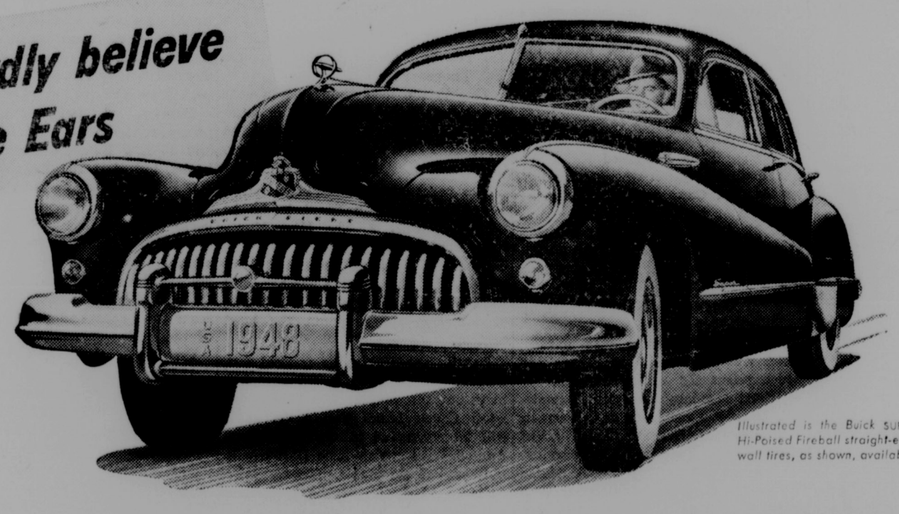
We can hardly believe our Engine Ears



Illustrated is the Buick SUPER with 115 hp. Hi-Poised Fireball straight-eight. White sidewall tires, as shown, available at extra cost.

WE don't mind admitting we've been pretty proud of our big Fireball straight-eight engine.

A lot of brain-sweat went into making it lively – and as for smoothness, we don't know of any power plant that gets the loving care lavished on this Micropoised* beauty.

So we thought we knew the song and the feel of an engine as smooth as automobile engines could be.

Then – well, then our engineers came up with Hi-Poised mountings and really opened our eyes – and ears.

At idling speed, you have to shush all conversation and cock an alert ear to make sure the engine's running.

Rolling along the road, the whisper of your tires rises higher than this smoothie's contented murmur.

More than that, you find that the whole ride seems smoother, quieter, more restful and easy in these tidy '48 Buicks.

You soon discover that it's unnecessary to ease yourself over rough spots where ordinarily you would engage in a little extra clutch work, while many a little shudder that used to pass for clutch chatter has been wiped away.

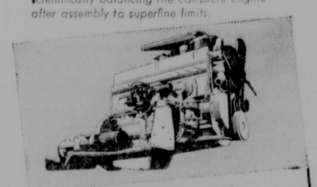
In short, as one owner has put it, "Now it seems that Fireball power is wearing velvet gloves!"

Add all this to other things – to steady-going size and weight, to gentle coil springing, to big, cushiony low-pressure tires on the widest rims in the industry – and you've got something too good to miss.

So we suggest – get your hands on a '48 Buick, any '48 Buick, and see just what we mean.

You'll meet a ride story so sweetly convincing, you'll want to get an order in – but quick! And you can do that, you know, with or without a car to trade.

*Micropoise balancing is Buick's own method of scientifically balancing the complete engine after assembly to superfine limits.



SECRET OF THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE
Two fat cushions of special composition, and placed with scientific accuracy, suspend the Buick engine at the points where vibration is most readily controlled. A third new mounting at the rear completes a precise system of controlling engine vibration frequencies. The result is to shield the entire car against vibration build-up and make a noticeably smoother ride.

Teachers Tour Garrett County Beauty Spots

The spring meeting of the Geography section of the Maryland State Teachers Association was held in Garrett County, Saturday, May 1. As arranged by Mrs. Velora Swauger, chairman of the section, Grantsville, and the Executive Board consisting of members representing the Eastern Shore, Central Maryland, Southern Maryland, Baltimore City and Western Maryland; an educational and recreational tour of scenic Garrett County highlighted the day's events.

Under the guidance of W. W. Nace, district soil conservationist, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Oakland; Elmer Upole, senior supervisor, State Department of Forests and Parks, Oakland; Lloyd Cook, district game warden, Game and Inland Fish Commission, Oakland; and Jack Pauihamus, farm forester, the group spent the morning at Table Rock in the Backbone Mountains, the Continental Divide Viewing Pleasant Valley with its fine farms, and then turned to find the modern giant shovels strip mining coal near the Roth Rock Tower.

The group picnic-lunched among the pines and rhododendron at Swallow Falls State Park along the shores of the Youghiogheny River, where stand some twenty acres of Virgin timber, all that is left in Maryland.

In the Deep Creek Lake area the tour continued to the earth-filled type dam and followed in part the sixty-five mile shoreline of the lake, the largest body of fresh water in the East, a source of hydro-electric power and an excellent recreational area for boating, swimming, fishing and other water sports.

Among those making the trip through the "Switzerland of America" were: A. L. Fleming, instructor of Geography, State Teachers College, and regional director for Eastern Shore of Maryland, Salisbury; Mrs. Fleming and daughter Teresa; Donald Turner, student at Salisbury State Teachers College, Powellsville, Md.; Misses Norma League, Carolyn Glantz, Elizabeth Klippel and Alvin V. Burgess, Baltimore; Miss Eleanor R. Brown, regional director for Central Maryland, Pikesville; Miss Carlotta Hays, Braddock Heights; Miss Tell, New York City; Leroy Beck, regional director for Western Maryland, and Miss Beck, Hagerstown, Ivan C. Diehl, Head Department of Geography, State Teachers College, Frostburg; Misses Vadna Miller and Marian Shaw, Andy DiUbaldo and William Henline, seniors at State Teachers College, Frostburg; Mrs. Theoda Miller, Oakland; Miss Nellie Kooken, Westernport; and Miss Viola Broadwater, Grantsville.

Observe Anniversary

Twenty-six employes and friends of Dusic Wholesale produce were entertained at a dinner meeting at Fike's on Monday evening, May 3, where they celebrated the third anniversary of the local firm.

Present from the local produce house were Daniel P. Smouse, Herbert Bittinger, Paul Feerar, Playford Ryan, Arley Fike, Henry Arnold, David Martin, Donald McAllister, Robert Porter, Herbert Selders, Emeric Dusic, Joseph Hughes and James Weimer. Harold Timmerman and Herman Kemphfer were unable to attend as they were in Baltimore obtaining two truck loads of bananas from a United Fruit banana boat. Unable to attend were Offutt and Melvin Kisner.

Other local persons present were C. A. Phillips, Prentice DeBerry, Carlton Bowser, Earl Shartzer, William Naylor, James Bell, Jr., and Ralph Pritts. Out of town guests were Anthony J. Sunseri, Pittsburgh, and Mike Dusic, Cumberland.

Talk Stresses Sports

in importance. He highly favored the latter, providing the former was taken care of. He also advocated the best physical education program being given in Elementary schools, so that pupils would be well instructed by the time they reached the upper grades.

Dr. Ferguson also pointed out the importance of putting subjects in the school curriculum that would have meaning and make children aware of all things that make up community life and which make them better citizens. Subjects that would promote health education, family relationships, make individuals strong and vigorous mentally, physically, emotionally and morally.

He declared the recent war had proved that many of the young people of today were emotionally unfit to assume the responsibilities of world living.

Following Dr. Ferguson's address those present showed particular interest in asking numerous questions concerning instituting football as a sport, size of playgrounds, gymnasiums, and related subjects, and his answers stressed the fact that physical education was primarily for every student, but that many kinds of sports should be supported.

He also stressed the point that school buildings should be a common meeting place for people of the community in their diversified activities.

Dr. Ferguson was introduced by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, who first explained briefly the progress being made on the school surveys by outstanding school officials of the country which would lead to the formation of a definite building program for the county. The third and final survey was to be made probably by the 15th of this month, with a complete report to be made later.

Presiding over the meeting was Emeric Dusic, Booster president, who explained the aim of the club and expressed his appreciation for the large number present. Among those attending were the County Commissioners, the members of the General Assembly, members of the Board of Education, and heads of Parent-Teacher organizations.

Funeral Held For Friendsville Soldier

Funeral services were conducted last Thursday afternoon at Clairton, Pa., for 2nd Lieut. Fred K. Coulson, 39, of Coal Valley, Pa., former Friendsville resident, who died November 22, 1944, from wounds received in action in France.

The son of Thomas Coulson, Sr., of Coal Valley, and the late Alice Chapman Coulson, he was born November 3, 1905 at Coal Valley.

Before entering the service Lieut. Coulson was employed at a lumberman and carpenter at Friendsville.

A member of the 45th cavalry reconnaissance troop, he entered service in April, 1942. He received the silver star for gallantry in action in Sicily, and the Purple Heart for wounds received in Italy December 4, 1943.

He was a member of the Pine Run Methodist church. Surviving are his father, two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Mabel Scott and Thomas Coulson, Coal Valley; and Mrs. Kathyrn Halt, Clairton.

Rev. J. W. Miller was in charge of the services and interment was in Lebanon cemetery with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion post holding joint services at the grave.

Judges Sloan, Huster Receive Oil Portraits

Presentation of oil paintings of Former Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan and Chief Judge William A. Huster featured a banquet held last Thursday night at Cumberland by the Allegany County bar association. The portraits are being hung in the court room of the Court House building in Cumberland.

Attending from this county were attorneys Walter W. Dawson, Neil C. Fraley and W. Dwight Stover.

The painting of Former Chief Judge Sloan was presented to him by F. Brooke Whiting. William C. Walsh presented Judge Huster's painting to him.

Honor guests included former associate Judge Walter C. Capper; and Eugene Williams, Baltimore, president of the Western Maryland railway and a former member of the Allegany bar association. Associate Judge George Henderson was also present and spoke briefly. Walter Dawson introduced the delegation from this county.

County Gets Plenty Rainfall Past Week

Garrett county received a plentiful portion of rain during the past week with only short periods for any sunshine or springlike weather.

While the rain was accompanied by sharp electrical storms and rather high winds at times, the weather was mild in comparison to the destruction that was wrought in other parts of the United States.

Death-dealing tornadoes and hurricane-like winds brought 24 deaths in six states with 156 persons injured.

Six rural West Virginia communities around Clarksburg bore the brunt of a storm in that area. Three died at Hupp Hill, one man was killed near Weston and a fifth victim was killed at Mount Clare. About 30 other persons were injured in West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolfe Summit nnd Quiet Dell. Damage in West Virginia topped a million dollars. Hail added to the destructionn.

Other states hit by twisters included Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky.

Commissioners Meet

Mostly routine business was conducted by the County Commissioners at their bi-weekly meeting in the Court House this week. Two delegations were before them concerning roads.

James Childs and Boyd Warsaw requested some work done on the Wilson road and a culvert at the school house. Joe Gilpin, Jonas and Jesse Broadwater, from the Big Run section in district 12, requested some road work in that section.

Architects Johannes and Murray were before the board showing proposed plans for the new Ruth Enlow Memorial library.

The Commissioners decided to sponsor a program of the Veterans Housing administration for sending out questionnaires and obtaining other information from the veterans about housing facilities. Edward P. Kahl was before the board requesting funds for this work.

The Commissioners returned to their desks on Wednesday to approve payment of election bills.

COMPANY SALESMEN, like Russell Rinehart, carefully trained to be ready with counsel, advice and selling aids that help Esso Dealers, like Clifton Kirby and S. C. Willoughby, run their own successful, independent business.

LABORATORY WORKERS, like Mabel Bonnett, who make the many scientific tests that assure quality petroleum products for your use.

REFINERY PEOPLE, like Bill Bahr, whose skillful operation of complex modern equipment maintains the output of high quality products.

What's behind the "Esso" Sign?...

THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS know the red-white-and-blue ESSO Oval as "The Sign of Happy Motoring." It is their roadside mark of quality in gasoline and motor oil, of fine Atlas Tires and Batteries and other motoring supplies.

But perhaps the most outstanding thing behind the Esso Sign is not just the great laboratories and refineries of Esso Standard Oil...

Instead...the greatest and most unusual thing behind that familiar sign is probably just the people who work at Esso Standard Oil and the kind of jobs they have!

Workers who have not had an important strike or labor disturbance in over 30 years!...Workers who today average over 14 years apiece of service with the company!...Workers with regular, paid vacations each year. Workers with good wage scales and steady work. Workers with retirement income assured for life. Workers with opportunities for advancement, with company training to help them get it!...

These and other unusual employee benefits result from Esso Standard Oil policy that was set up many years ago. It is a policy that believes good jobs draw and hold good workers.

And it's a policy that gets worthwhile results for all concerned—including, right now, the greatest production and delivery of petroleum products in our history. The better you live, the more oil you need, and today we and all the oil industry are straining every facility to meet your record needs for gasoline and oil in cars and homes, planes and trains, factories and ships, and on the farm.

AURORA-EGLON

Announcement was received here of the birth of a daughter April 23, in a Philippi hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Knotts, of Rowlesburg. This is their first child and has been named Betty Louise. The mother is the former Miss Betty Jean Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Myers, of Aurora. The father is employed in the Peoples' National Bank, at Rowlesburg.

Kenneth Wilhelm, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilhelm, of near Aurora, returned Tuesday to his home from an Elkins hospital where he had been a medical patient since Friday. Because of his illness, his brother William Wilhelm, of Fort Hayes, was granted a furlough and is at home.

Dale Moats, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moats, of near Aurora, was taken Monday to an Elkins hospital where he remains a patient.

Tuesday, Mrs. Jason Lambert, of near Aurora, who has been seriously ill for several days was taken by Spiggle's ambulance to an Elkins hospital where she is receiving treatment.

Gay Wotring, janitor of Aurora schools, who has been indisposed for a few weeks went today to a Philippi hospital for examination and possible treatment.

There will be a moving picture, "Beyond Our Own" shown at Maple Spring church, Sunday evening May 9, beginning at 7:30. This picture tells the story of two brothers. One, a missionary doctor in China; the other a lawyer who has a nervous breakdown over the death of his son. He goes to China to visit his brother and finds a new life. This picture is highly recommended and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Attorney A. C. McNell and wife, accompanied by Mr. McNell's aunt, Miss Anne Greer, of Wheeling, spent several days with friends in Eglon, returning Tuesday to their home.

Mrs. Carrie Painter, who spent the winter months with her son and family in Grafton, came this week to her home at Aurora to spend the summer season.

Monday, May 17, the Preston County I.O.O.F. lodges will hold their convention in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilhelm moved Wednesday to their home at Eglon which was recently vacated by the Bud Hedrick family. The property at Eglon from which the Wilhelms moved is the former Sease property which has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fike, who are erecting an addition and remodeling the former little house.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman, who reside on the former Henry Beckman farm in Cash Valley, will dispose of a portion of their personal property at public auction, Saturday, May 8.

The little home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harsh, near Brookside, was badly damaged Saturday by fire, and undoubtedly would have been completely destroyed had not the Oakland fire truck arrived in due time to save it.

Senate Appropriations committee approved a 3 billion 198 million money bill to start a 70-group combat air force immediately.

GORTNER

Pastor Walter Otto, of Springs, spoke Sunday morning from the text "In the day of prosperity rejoice, in the day of adversity consider." In the evening service Pastor Resley Tressler, also of Springs, spoke on "Six Steps in the Downfall of Israel."

The Sunday School contributed $14 to the Johnstown Bible School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spoerlein and daughter were visiting relatives in Dinwiddie, Va., over the week-end.

Mr. Paul Gnegy and family, of Eglon, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold White.

Look who gets squeezed !

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and fireman for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

YES, pennies from a piggy bank are riches untold to a pigtailed six-year-old. Naturally, she wants to be sure they're safe.

Because even the smallest account is important to a bank, Nancy's pennies will be wisely invested. Some of them will go into utility securities—into business-managed electric light and power companies. Like our own. That will make Nancy one of our owners—an indirect owner. And, if you have a savings account or life insurance policy (most people do), it's almost certain that you're an indirect owner, too.

There are thousands of direct owners as well—people from all walks of life who have invested their savings in this company. All kinds of people—your friends and neighbors—the man across the way, the housewife next door, farmers, mechanics, doctors, industrial workers, teachers, craftsmen, nurses.

State Police Plan To Curb Road Danger

Special teams of State Police, attired in civilian clothing and riding in plain, unmarked automobiles, will begin patrolling Maryland roads next Saturday in a determined effort to curb reckless drivers, Col. Beverly Ober, superintendent of the State police, announced.

He said the plan had been approved by the State Law Department and also by the Maryland Motor Truck Association, the Automobile club of Maryland, and the Keystone Automobile club.

He said the use of the special patrol teams was directed against certain motorists with an "I'll-get-by-with-it" attitude, those who will weave in and out of line, cross the center line of a road; pass on hills and blind curves, and fail to regulate speed to the condition of the road and the amount of travel on it.

There are to be four such special teams, one for each of the four State Police troops.

They will in no sense, he continued, function as a Gestapo force, nor are they to concern themselves with minor technical violations which are dangerous to no one.

Members of the patrol teams will not be judged by their superiors on the number of arrests they make, but on the number of accidents which occur in the areas which they were patrolling at the time.

Colonel Ober said he realized the success or failure of the plan would depend on his selection of men of judgment to make the patrol teams.

Result of Investigation

"Investigation shows," he said, "that a small group of drivers is responsible for a large percentage of highway accidents and traffic snarls which plague the motoring public."

There are more than 16,000 miles of roads in the state, 1,244 of which are rated among the most heavily traveled in the nation.

The plain clothes troopers driving standard stock model automobiles will work with identified marked cars by means of radio communication.

Found Dead at Cumberland

Allegany County Circuit Court clerk Robert Jackson, known to many Garrett County residents, was found dead Monday morning in his room. He had been clerk since August 10, 1937 and had been employed at the court house in Cumberland since 1914. He was a native of Lonaconing.

MARRIED

Hogan-Scrogum—The Living Stone Church of the Brethren was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Miss Ruth Marie Scrogum, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Scrogum, of Cumberland, formerly of Accident, and Herbert W. Hogan, LaVerne, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hogan, of Hemet, Calif. The vows, uniting the young people, were read by the bride's father who is pastor of the church, at 8:30 o'clock.

The church was decorated with assorted greenery and white flowers, and a program of nuptial selections was played by Miss Ruth Welbright, of Bridgewater, Va., who also played the wedding marches and accompaniments for Mr. and Mrs. John Glick, Richmond, Va., vocalists.

The wedding party included Mrs. W. Donald Clague, Bridgewater, Va., sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Miss Evelyn Jones, New Windsor, Md.; Miss Frances Clemens, Miss Catherine Roller and Miss Mary Alice Pletcher, all of Elgin, Ill., as bridesmaids.

Mr. Hogan had Julian Griggs, of Elgin, as his best man.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, W. Donald Clague, was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace over a satin foundation, fashioned with fitted bodice, jewel neckline, long pointed sleeves and a long court train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net, was held with a halo of fine silk threads crocheted in a design of orange blossoms, made by the bride's mother. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley with a shower of satin ribbons and lilies of the valley.

Her matron of honor wore a pale pink organdy gown, made with fitted bodice and full skirt, with a headdress of pink net and sprays of pink flowers, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

The bridesmaids wore taffeta gowns made on similar lines to the matron's gown. They wore small bonnets of the same material as their dresses, tied with bows under the chin, and all carried small white baskets filled with assorted spring flowers.

Following the church ceremony Rev. and Mrs. Scrogum entertained with a reception at their home in honor of the bridal couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece butcher linen dress with gray coat and accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Accident high school and of Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va., where she received her degree in Public School Music. She taught music in public schools of Cumberland in 1946 and 1947. She has been recently employed as secretary to the general brotherhood board of the Brethren, at Elgin.

Mr. Hogan graduated from LaVerne College, Calif., and did graduate work at Claremont College, Pomona, Calif. He is professor of History at LaVerne College.

The couple will reside at 1936 Sixth Street, LaVerne, Calif., following their honeymoon.

Mother's Day Origin

Mother's Day will be observed on Sunday, May 9, as a national expression of love and reverence for the mothers of the nation.

Only two countries—the United States and Canada—set aside a day annually to honor mother. And although our Mother's Day is officially only 34 years old, it stems from a tradition of homage to mothers and stretches back into the dim past.

Centuries before Christ, mothers were held in awe and reverence by Chinese families. The ancient Romans celebrated an annual festival in honor of Hilaria, the Mother-Goddess. More than 1,000 years ago, the Nahuan Indians of Mexico were holding flower festivals for the Earth Mother Goddess, Chicomehuatl.

Seventeenth Century England developed the custom of "going-a-mothering." Boy and girl apprentices were allowed to spent "Mothering Sunday" with their families. They often brought cakes and plum puddings as gifts.

Our American Mother's Day is credited to Miss Anna M. Jarvis, a Sunday School teacher. In 1908 she held a memorial church service for her mother at the Andrews Methodist Church in Grafton, W. Va.

The idea spread first to Philadelphia and then caught on nationally. President Wilson in 1914 signed a Congressional resolution setting aside the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day and authorizing Federal display of the flag.

The carnation was adopted as official flower because it had been the favorite of Miss Jarvis' mother. Today the event has grown into the year's "most sentimental occasion," when sons and daughters everywhere express their appreciation with gifts and Mother's Day greeting cards.

Health For School Children Necessary

"The health of school age children represents the future health of our adult population," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, reminds the parents of Maryland's boys and girls. "This year the annual observance of Child Health Day stresses the importance of better health for our nation's youngsters during the years of physical and mental growth that coincide with their school years.

"Since 1928 Child Health Day has been observed throughout the United States on May 1. Each year the May Day observance emphasizes some important aspect of child health or calls attention to the health needs of a particular age group.

"This year President Truman urges all parents, doctors, nurses, teachers and others interested in child welfare to cooperate in a nation-wide effort to improve health among children of school age. He recommends thorough medical and dental examinations for every child entering school for the first time in the fall of 1948. When necessary, examinations should be followed by treatment, in order that all correctible defects may be removed or placed under a physician's care before the end of the school year. In his Child Health Day Proclamation the President also requests the National Health Assembly, which will meet in Washington from May 1 to May 4, to give special consideration to the health needs of boys and girls of school age.

"In Maryland the State and County Health Departments are cooperating closely with the State Department of Education in the development of a school health program to meet the needs of youngsters for the annual Summer Round-up of children about to enter school in the fall. Parents will be urged to take their preschool boys and girls to their family physicians or to the clinic for examination, to be followed when necessary by treatment or correction of defects. Vaccination against Smallpox is a legal requirement, and booster shots of toxoid to maintain a high level of immunity against diphtheria are strongly recommended before entering school."

On State Police Staff

Kenneth H. Tichnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tichnell, Sr., of McMullen highway, Keyser, and a former resident of Mt. Lake Park, was one of those graduated from the Maryland State Police Training school at Fort Meade last week, and he is now commissioned as a trooper.

He will be stationed at Waterloo, on the Washington boulevard, out of Baltimore.

During World War II he was stationed in Italy as a flight officer and was a pilot of a C-47. He was graduated from Oakland High school and before his enlistment in the air corps was employed by the government in Washington, D. C.

Attending the graduation exercises at Fort Meade were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tichnell and son Bobby Dale. They also visited Mrs. Maude Junkins, mother of Mrs. Tichnell, who is seriously ill at her home in Arlington, Va.

Mothers Haven't Changed!

Some misinformed people call her a "modern mother." That's because she wears her hair differently—she dresses with a fashionable accent—and she feeds her baby all those "unheard of" things that doctors today recommend.

But she's really an old-fashioned mother. She loves her child with old-fashioned devotion . . . sacrifices with old-fashioned unselfishness . . . dreams of giving him "advantages" she never had . . . boasts of his "brightness" . . . frets about his contrariness . . . worries about his pains . . . laughs delightedly at his "cuteness."

Like so many mothers before her, she prays that her child may grow into noble manhood . . . yet, sometimes, she wishes he could always stay just as he is today.

But her little boy is growing up. And as he grows, mother will find the Church her faithful ally: developing her child's character, deepening his faith in God, strengthening his convictions of right and wrong. From the Cradle Roll to the Men's Bible Class her son will gain in Sunday School and Church the spiritual riches that mothers — yesterday and today — have earnestly sought for their children.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mother's Day

SUNDAY, MAY 9th

Remember Mother . . .

America's First Lady

For She Is The First Lady In Every Man's Heart

MOTHER'S DAY Is an all out affair! Born out of sentiment some forty years ago and on this Sunday, May 9th, a day dedicated in her honor, this nation will pay tribute and homage to the Mothers of America. Her tenderness, patience, loving care, devotion and sacrifice are a constant source of inspiration to everyone.

Resume of School Bill Is Published

A resume of the School bill, Chapter No. 575, which gave the County Commissioners and their advisory committees the power to bond our county for $1,500,000, is herewith published. The entire wording of the bill is not included, as much of it is repetition, and carries no significance to the meaning of the bill.

"The County Commissioners of Garrett County be and they are hereby authorized and empowered and directed to borrow a sum of money not to exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars, at a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent per annum, for the purpose of erecting new school buildings, purchase of land for said buildings, architect and other professional fees in connection with said buildings, alterations of existing school buildings and equipping said school buildings in Garrett County."

Following this is a long paragraph indicating who the county may borrow from and how the bonds are to be designated.

"The proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds or notes shall be placed in a special fund by the County Treasurer of Garrett county, and shall be paid out by him only on warrants approved by the County Commissioners of said County and shall only be used for the purposes authorized by this Act. There shall also be placed in this special fund all monies levied and collected under Chapter 790 of the Acts of 1945.

"And be if further enacted, that the County Commissioners shall appoint an advisory committee of seven citizens of the County to consult and advise with the said County Commissioners as to the construction of new school buildings and the improvement of and additions to existing school buildings in said county, said advisory committee to be initially composed of Messrs. Earl H. Ault, Floyd B. Leighton, George Littman, Ray McCullough, Milton E. Pritts, H. C. Riggs and Stewart Rodamer.

"The County Commissioners shall have the power and authority to acquire sites by purchase, gift or condemnation on which to erect school buildings and they may use any property now owned by the County or by the Board of Education of said county for this purpose.

"The County Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to erect new high school and elementary school buildings and to improve and/or make additions to existing high school and elementary school buildings in the towns of Oakland, Accident, Friendsville, Kitzmiller and Grantsville, and in any other community or communities requiring such new buildings, additions, and/or improvements as the advisory committee and the County Commissioners recommend. The said County Commissioners shall appoint building committees in Oakland, Grantsville, Friendsville, Kitzmiller and Accident and any other community or communities requiring new buildings or improvements to advise the said Commissioners as to the construction of school buildings in said towns or in making improvements or addition to existing buildings.

"The County Commissioners shall have the power to enter into such contracts as they may deem necessary for the construction or improvement of school buildings or in making additions to existing school buildings, and for this purpose may also employ such architects and other professional personnel as may be necessary. All plans for new school buildings and remodeling of old school buildings shall be subject to the approval of the State Superintendent of Schools.

"For the purpose of paying interest on said bonds and for redeeming said bonds as they mature, the Commissioners shall annually levy a tax upon the assessable property of said county sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds and to redeem said bonds as they become due. The taxes so levied shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected in county."

Dance Revue of Local Artists To Be May 21

The Winter Dance Studio of Oakland announced today that May 21st has been selected for the date of its first annual dance revue to be held at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Over fifty children will participate in the revue which will include ballet, tap, and acrobatic dancing as well as songs, music, and other entertainment.

The costuming will be especially elaborate with special designs created by New York costumers in colorful fabrics. The local school will have guest stars from Cumberland to assist them in making this entertainment most unusual.

Two numbers which will be highlights of the evening are the "Rose Ballet" and "Three Shades of Rhythm." The entire production is under the personal direction of Mrs. Betty Winter who will also accompany the dancers at the piano. Featured soloists will include Jackie Lee Weber, Sylvia Dean Sisk, and Gloria Lee Straub from Cumberland.

Boyd E. Payton Named TWUA Vice-President

Boyd E. Payton, former resident of Mt. Lake Park, was elected vice-president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO. He had been serving as regional director of the Upper South with headquarters in Lynchburg, Va., since October, 1943.

Payton was graduated from Oakland High school and worked at the Celanese for a number of years residing in Cresaptown. He was president of the Celanese local in 1942.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Mr. Truman And The CIO

The current attitude toward national politics of the leaders of labor in this country, as revealed by themselves and elaborated by their journalistic spokesmen, reflects credit upon neither their character nor their intelligence. The wonder is that the men constituting the rank and file of organized labor do not recognize its stupidities and revolt against a leadership which makes boobs of them. They deserve better.

In particular, this applies to the CIO, and the conspicuous bosses of which are actively affiliated with the A.D.A. effort to destroy Mr. Truman. In the light of the record this makes no sense whatever. It is not necessary to be pro-Truman to agree about that. Any detached person, Democrat or Republican, reviewing the situation, can hardly avoid the conclusion that these bosses are as dull as they are unworthy, and any politician who counts upon their support is foolish.

A recital of the indisputable facts ought to promote a clearer understanding among members of the unions as well as nonmembers. In the first place, in 1944, Mr. Truman, picked by Mr. Roosevelt for his running mate, was "cleared" through the CIO bosses and declared "satisfactory." In the second place, at this moment, the CIO bosses are strongly for the Truman policies, foreign and domestic. There is not one from which they dissent. In the recent resolution adopted by the Americans for Democratic Action, with which the more important CIO figures are affiliated, the Truman policies foreign and Domestic, were highly lauded. The only fault found with Mr. Truman was that "poor appointments and faltering support of his aides have failed to rally the people behind policies which we wholeheartedly support." Thus, they not only found Mr. Truman "satisfactory" in 1944 but in 1948 they go on record as being for all his policies.

Of course, the chief Truman policy calculated to endear him to the CIO leaders is his labor policy, as exemplified by his veto and denunciation of the Taft-Hartley bill last year. This act is the one indicated by the CIO publicity as a "slave law." With almost hysterical violence CIO spokesmen have dwelt upon its alleged iniquities, pledged themselves to fight for its repeal, declared their purpose to drive out of public life every man who voted for or advocated it. With these labor bosses this issue dwarfs all others, foreign as well as domestic. Their publications regularly devote pages to vituperative denouncement of the law. The unrestrained savagery of their attacks has not been equaled in organized labor history.

No one will dispute these statements. The evidence of their truth is concrete and overwhelming. Nor will many contend that the strenuous CIO efforts in opposition to those who voted or favored the Taft-Hartley bill are not utterly illogical and hypocritical unless balanced by support of those who stood by them in their desperate (it is not too strong a word) fight to prevent its enactment. Of all the men in public life the men who stood by them most effectively and gave them greatest support was Mr. Truman. He went the extreme limit in doing so.

Of course, that was one of his mistakes. Under pressure from his own political advisers, from the CIO leaders, and from some of the very Roosevelt "liberals" now trying to ruin him, obviously he vetoed the bill in order to insure the CIO political support which his predecessor had acquired through similar favoritism and support. It was not a sound veto. It was a political one. It was not in accord with the national interests or public sentiment. But it was in complete accord with the Roosevelt policies and at the time was applauded by the Roosevelt "liberals."

He should have known better. Nevertheless he tried hard to kill the bill and it will be conceded that at least he is entitled to the grateful thanks and hearty support of the labor bosses. But has he got their support? Certainly he has not. Though of all presidential aspirants in both major parties Mr. Truman is the only one who does not favor the Taft-Hartley bill and the only one who took the CIO view that it was thoroughly bad, he is the only one singled out for CIO attack. Instead of supporting Mr. Truman, who is the sole hope these labor leaders have of getting a man in the White House who sided with them on this issue, we find them joining with a group which, for its own peculiar reasons, wants to ditch Mr. Truman.

More than that, we find Mr. Philip Murray and his blatant aides shouting for the "drafting" of General Eisenhower, though no one who really knows the General has the least doubt that as President he would have signed the Taft-Hartley bill instead of vetoing it; that he would not advocate its repeal; that never would he advocate its repeal; that never would he coddle nor truckle to these CIO bosses in the Roosevelt-Truman way, and that, anyhow, he is not going to be nominated and Mr. Truman is. Considering these things, it is really remarkable that Mr. Murray and his aides can be taken seriously by their own following. The only reasonbale explanation seems to be that the following does not know or does not understand the facts. Certainly, these make it difficult to credit Mr. Murray and his aides with ordinary gratitude, ordinary common sense or an ordinary sense of shame.

Ezra Leads A Revival

Lesson for May 9, 1948

GLANCING for a moment at our history, we see that in 536 B. C., 50,000 Jews were returned to Jerusalem from Babylon, and the temple was rebuilt; and 78 years later, Ezra returns with about 7,000 Jews to inaugurate needed reforms. Then came Nehemiah, 444 B. C., to rebuild the walls, and with Ezra to lead in a needed religious revival.

Dr. Newton

HAPPY TIMES WITH THE BIBLE

"FOR Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments."

There was great need for a revival of religion, and Ezra knew that there can be no real revival until the people come back to God. He therefore read to them the statutes and judgments. Ezra read from the law of Moses from morning until midday, "and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law."

What would you think of the people being summoned into some public place today to hear the Bible read? But you say, we hear it read over the radio, and we hear it read in church, and we sometimes hear it read in the home. But do we hear it? And are our ears really attentive?

HEARING AND DOING GOD'S WORD

EZRA not only read God's word to the people, but he led them to do what they were commanded in the law. They went out to give portions to those who were in need. They came back to worship God. They began both to hear and do.

"Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only," James 1:22.

It is positively dangerous to receive impressions from God and refuse to express what he has put in our hearts to do for him. Let me put it this way, we can become religiously intoxicated unless we go forth to serve.

LIVING OUR RELIGION

WHAT Ezra and Nehemiah led the people to do in the long ago was to put into practice what they heard—to live their religion. The late Gandhi was reported to have said, "I might have embraced Christianity, had Christians lived what they professed."

Let us keep clearly in mind that Ezra was first concerned in instructing the people according to all that God had said in the Scriptures. That comes first. We must have conviction about what is right. We must have a creed, but we are to remember that it is in daily living that we make our creeds effective.

WHAT IS A RELIGIOUS REVIVAL?

THIS lesson intends to reveal to us how a religious revival broke out in Jerusalem in the long ago, nearly 500 years before Christ was born. Well may we ask, What is a religious revival?

"Lord, send a revival, and let it begin in my heart." Revivals are prayed down, not talked up. We have fallen into the fallacy of speaking of revivals when some overnight spell-binder comes along and kicks up a big sensation. Before he leaves town, Pharisasim is more rampant than ever. It is not until the Spirit of God moves upon the hearts of his people and rekindles in them a sense of sin, bringing them to true repentance, that we can have a real religious revival.

When men are convicted of their sins, they will say with Zacchaeus, "Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." When men begin to feel and talk and act like that, you have a real religious revival. And I repeat, such revivals are prayed down, not talked up. Now you are ready to read Psalms 119:9-16.

Ruined by Hate

Hate never ruined an enemy, but it has ruined the lives of many a hater.

You never fail to get your reward for Christian service, for the reason that it is its own compensation.

Discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is the infirmity of will.—Emerson.

Farm prices rose nearly three percent during the month ended April 15. They are now 291 percent of the 1909-14 average.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg became chief of staff of the air force, succeeding Gen. Carl Spaatz.

Oakland Juniors Trim Kitzmiller

The Oakland Junior Legion baseball team defeated the Kitzmiller High school team on the latter's field on Monday evening, 10 to 9, with a seventh inning rally that netted four runs.

Kitzmiller went into the seventh inning leading 9 to 6, after Oakland had scored five runs in the fifth inning, knocking Kitzmiller's pitcher from the mound. Sharpless took over for Kitzmiller as pitcher, but he was replaced also.

Every Oakland player scored a run with Tom Kahl reaching home plate twice. Other Oakland players are Joe DiSimone, Hervey R. Smouse, Garey Baker, Harland Kelly, George Kley, Marl Fauber, Leo Rowan and Buz Herman.

Keller, Sharpless and Kitzmiller scored two runs each for Kitzmiller, while Hersh, Luffey and Barger scored one each.

The Junior team plays Friday at Thomas, and on Monday will play the Kitzmiller High team on the local diamond.

Keyser High Wins

Keyser High's team won over the Oakland junior team last Saturday afternoon 14 to 8. The entire seven-inning game was played in a cold rain, causing 11 errors to be committed, 8 of them being charged against Oakland.

Keyser scored five runs in the first and four more in the fifth, with one in the second, two in the fourth and sixth. Oakland scored two in the first, third and seventh, one in the second and sixth. Tom Kahl and Buz Herman each collected a double. Boyd DeWitt, starting pitcher for Oakland, was charged with the defeat. He was replaced by Herman in the 5th.

COVE

McCormick-Hanft—Miss Anna V. Hanft, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hanft, of the Cove, and Mr. William McCormick, of Akron, Ohio, were quietly married at Akron, on Saturday afternoon, April 17th. Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

By a vote of 257 to 29 the House of Representatives approved a bill fixing the title to all tidelands in the various states having coastal areas. For over one hundred and fifty years no one questioned the ownership of the states to the beaches and tidelands within their own confines. Then came the discovery of oil along the coasts of California, Texas and Louisiana and immediately, Harold Ickes, then New Deal Secretary of Interior, tried to claim title to the tidelands for the Federal Government. The Supreme Court was called upon to rule on this issue. Handing down a rather peculiar decision, the Supreme Court rejected the state's titles to the land but failed to fix ownership definitely in the Federal Government. As a result, thousands of lawsuits were threatened over the ownership of these lands and legislative action has become necessary. Thus, the House voted in favor of State rights as so clearly intended by the Constitution.

I made a speech on the floor of the House urging the passage of this bill since Maryland has always been one of the chief supporters of States' rights. Under the common law and civil law, the States' sovereignty and authority over the title to said lands has been long acknowledged, affirmed and respected by the Federal Government whose only powers were expressly delegated to it by the States at the time of the formation of our Government.

Under The Dome

Accompanied by Mr. Harry Thompson of the National Park Service, I went to Frederick to meet with a large group of persons interested in discussing plans for the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal between Great Falls and Cumberland. As you know, a bill introduced by me calling for authorization for the Secretary of the Interior and the Public Roads Administration to make a reconnaissance survey of the Canal, has passed the House and has been sent to the Senate.

Continuing in my efforts to get additional funds for the control of the Japanese beetle, Dr. E. N. Cory, the State Entomologist, went with me to the Senate Appropriations Committee where we asked that such funds be included in the Agriculture Department Appropriation.

Another fight is brewing in the Senate over President Truman's appointment of the Atomic Energy Commission. The President wants to re-appoint various Commission members for long terms—some up to five years—while the GOP majority in the Senate believes the incoming President should be given some consideration in connection with such important appointments, and are proposing that no term of any Commissioner extend past June 30, 1950.

The House Committee on Armed Services report a new Selective Service Bill this week. According to reports, the proposed measure will call for the registration of all men between the ages of 18 to 30, with those in the 19 to 25 age group subject to conscription for two years of military service. Exemptions will be provided for veterans with more than ninety days of military service. Exemptions will be provided for veterans with more than ninety days of military service, married men, and those engaged in essential occupations. Registrants will probably not be subject to induction, however, until either the President or the Congress has declared their induction necessary to our national security. Considerable opposition to the passage of such a bill is expected.

(Delayed)

Some time ago charges were made against Dr. Edward U. Condon, Director of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, to the effect that he had been in too close association with known radicals, whose loyalty to the United States could be questioned. The broad inference was made that Dr. Condon was not the type of man who should head such an important agency of the Government. So-called liberal radio commentators and news columnists violently protested the Congressional investigation, and Secretary of Commerce Harriman strongly defended Condon, insisting he had been investigated and that the records showed he was completely loyal. The Un-American Activities committee of the House then insisted Harriman furnish the complete records on Dr. Condon which he had in his possession, and asked that certain F. B. I. reports and other documents be produced. This Harriman refused to do, and President Truman later ordered him not to present the papers and evidence to the House Committee. Last Thursday the House voted—301 yeas to 29 nays—in favor of a resolution directing the Secretary of Commerce to turn over the desired records and evidence. Later that afternoon the President, in a press conference, strongly indicated it was the intention of his Administration not to comply with the Congressional resolution to furnish the papers requested. The next day the records in dispute were all turned over to the President. The next move may be up to Congress. Just why any Administration should refuse to furnish a Congressional committee with evidence which would confirm or deny charges of disloyalty made against an important public official is hard to understand.

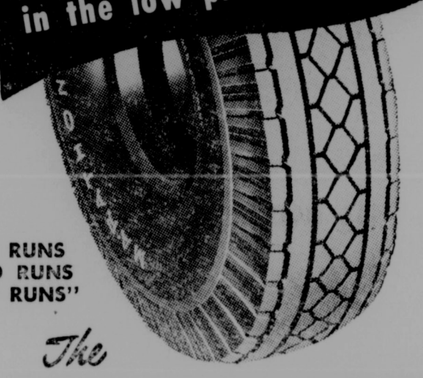
It's back!! The tire that sets the pace in the low price field!!!



"IT RUNS AND RUNS AND RUNS"

The MARATHON by GOODYEAR

ONLY $12.40 plus tax 6.00x16

Marathon — the famous money saving tire is back in the Goodyear line — and a better "buy" than ever! Back with the economy, long mileage and safety — the extra value for your dollars that made Marathon the favorite of millions of motorists before the war . . . back with more and stronger cords in the rugged tire body for even greater protection against tire failure. Look at these features . . .

LONG WEAR — New specially treated cords and newly compounded rubber make Marathon the tire that "runs and runs and runs".

NON-SKID SAFETY — Those famous Goodyear diamond blocks really grip the road. You get safer, quicker stops — especially on wet, skiddy roads.

"COMPACTING TREAD" — Inflation forces the sidewalls out, compacts the tread. This reduces tread wear, punctures, bruises and breaks.

For a really sensational "buy" in tires, see us for Marathons today! And remember "new tubes save tires".

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MAY 13, 1948. NUMBER 11.

Call to Cleanliness . . . . .

There is a concerted effort at present to direct the attention of every person to keep the town of Oakland clean and beautified.

Mayor Joe Hinebaugh issued an order for clean up and paint up week for May 17 to 22, and this comes just after eight garages and the Lions club of the town have contributed ten containers for waste paper which have been placed on the city streets.

This focusing of attention on beautification need not be limited to Oakland. More people throughout the county ought to be made conscious of the fact that a clean property is more attractive in every way.

Sometimes individuals who are clean around their homes, have a tendency to forget when they get out in the state forests, along streams and Deep Creek Lake, and along the highways. Many thoughtless persons will dump garbage and tin cans from their automobiles as they travel. Surely these things would not occur if people would just think!

The public spirit of those who contributed these waste containers can be emulated by the remaining thousands of us by making certain that all rubbish is placed where it cannot be scattered.

As the mayor has indicated, a thorough cleaning and renovation "is the sensible thing to do for health, safety, thrift, pride and happiness of all of our people."

People do not always indicate that they want to do the sensible thing, but in this case we hope for and really expect an improvement in the appearance of the town. May the result be contagious!

FEDERAL AID FOR HOSPITAL HERE IN FINAL STAGES

Engineers Administering Hill-Burton Bill in Oakland Last Thursday — Final Review In Progress

"The Federal-State Engineers administering the Hill-Burton Bill for the State of Maryland were in Oakland last Thursday for the purpose of completing final details in the closing phases of procuring a federal grant-in-aid under the Hill-Burton Bill for the construction of the Garrett County Memorial hospital. The visit substantially terminates several months of preliminary work on design and project engineering by the Commissioners, the Federal and State engineers, and the designing architects.

"Final working drawings, specifications, and contracts have been prepared and are now being given final review by the Maryland Department of Health and the United States Public Health Service, the agencies charged with the granting of the federal funds.

"The initial applications for a federal grant have received formal approval by the allotting agencies, and as a result of the conferences just completed, it seems highly probable that the final contractual agreements in respect to the federal grant will be closed at a very early date.

"The officials visiting Oakland were Mr. Herbert Fritz, Chief, Division of Hospital Construction and Administration, and Mr. Lawrence Smith, Architectural Engineer."

Those in charge of the plans locally stated that immediately upon receiving notice of final approval by the United States Public Health Service they will ask for bids for the construction of the hospital.

Several contractors have already indicated their intent to bid and it is hoped that a contract can be let in June, the date being dependent upon the above approval and the time necessary to prepare the bids, it was pointed out. Due notice of the date for the opening of these bids will be given through the county papers as soon as fixed.

Crash Is Fatal To Grantsville Man

William Belmont Miller, 24, Grantsville, died Tuesday in the Charleroi-Monessen, Pa., hospital as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident Monday.

Miller was a passenger in a car driven by James H. Edwards, also of Grantsville, when they collided with a Pennsylvania car near Perryopolis, Pa. Other passengers in the Edwards car were Ernest Hartman, New Colonial Inn, and Lester Hunter, Avilton.

Mr. Miller was a member of the W.O.W. camp No. 41, Grantsville Baseball league and St. John's Reformed church. He was a son of Mrs. Ethel Stanton Miller and the late Fay Miller.

Surviving are his mother, one sister, Mrs. Albert Walker, and a brother, Fay Miller, Jr., all of Grantsville.

A funeral service will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from St. John's Reformed church by the pastor, Rev. George Ely. Burial will be in Grantsville cemetery.

French Missionary To Address District Methodist Conference

Rev. William G. Thonger, only French born missionary of the Methodist church in the United States, and superintendent of the Methodist missionary work in Belgium, will be the guest speaker at the Moorefield district conference, to be held in St. Paul's church, Oakland, on Tuesday, May 18. Mr. Thonger will speak at 4 p. m. on conditions in post-war Belguim and on the outlook for evangelical Christianity in that twice-invaded and over-run country.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a. m. and there will be delegates from Parsons, Thomas, Davis, Rowlesburg, Kingwood, Keyser, Piedmont, Moorefield, Petersburg, W. Va., and Methodist churches of this county. Dr. Fred B. Wyand, D. D., district superintendent, will preside. Lunch will be served at the church to ministers and delegates by the WSCS, under the direction of Mrs. E. Ray Jones, president.

The outstanding event will be the address by Rev. Thonger. He was born in Paris, his father being English and his mother French Huguenot. He was educated at the Sorbonne in Paris and took theological training in the French Reformed Theological Seminary in Paris.

In 1922, after a period of service as secretary of the World Brotherhood Federation for France and Belgium, Rev. Thonger was named a Methodist missionary and assigned to service in Brussels. In the U. S. in 1939 he returned to Belgium just before the German invasion in 1940. He went to France and during the war was able to carry on and administer Methodist charges there.

He is considered an outstanding leader among Protestants throughout Europe. As head of the production and distribution of Evangelical Christian literature in Belgium Rev. Thonger has done important work. He has written several tracts, leaflets and other literature dealing with evangelical Christianity which have been widely distributed.

State Policeman Added

Another State policeman has been added to the ones stationed at Oakland. Jack Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Browning, Sang Run, who has been at the barracks at Bel Air until recently when he was transferred to the LaVale sub-station, is now located in Oakland.

There are now five located in Garrett County. The three at Oakland are Corporal Thomas Currie, Trooper Robert Henline and Trooper Jack Browning. At Grantsville are Troopers Glenn Folk and Blair Buckel.

Child Dies From Burns

Martha Ray George, born March 3, 1947, died in Memorial hospital this morning at 2:45. She was badly scalded when she pulled a coffee pot from the table in her home at Swallow Falls on Tuesday.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William George. Surviving are her parents, one brother and three sisters, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Ream, Swallow Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. George, Barton.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 11 o'clock from the home. Interment will be in the Taylor Sines cemetery.

LEADERSHIP IN COMMUNITY AND WORLD OUTLINED

Jennings Randolph Explains to Chamber of Commerce Members How Community Could Improve

Ways in which this community could improve its attractiveness as a recreational area, and how this nation could assist in world leadership, were two principal themes outlined by former Congressman Jennings Randolph, at the dinner meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce. Around a hundred persons attended.

Mr. Randolph was of the opinion that the Chamber of Commerce had been doing a very fine job of promoting Oakland and Garrett county during the past year, but added that more could be done. He pointed out that many other states consider tourist trade as one of their three most important industries, and that Western Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania could do the same.

He illustrated how Washington, in a single year, by means of conventions, etc., had taken in over 60 million dollars.

But he cautioned that no state, however, could do this by merely putting a roadway through its scenic areas. Attractive, accomodating and reasonable places for sleeping and eating must be provided before the finest publicity of the scenic wonders to be found here can do any good, he stated.

He also pointed out as another outstanding example, how the Forest Festival with all its detailed planning and performance draws over one hundred thousand persons to Elkins. Many of these people return for week-ends and summer vacations, tell their friends about the area and bring them along.

"It takes great planning not by one or two interested persons but by a whole group drawn from different phases of business life to bring this about," he declared.

Wants Nation Prepared

Turning to national safety he stated: "The marvel of this great country of ours is that no matter what the creed, faith or beliefs of its people, basically they are all the same—striving for peace, love and understanding. In order to keep the peace, we as a country must build up our air forces and ground forces to prove to Russia that we are prepared to use them either defensively or aggressively." He felt strongly that this was the way to prevent further war.

He pointed out that in the preceding wars we had both productivity and manpower, which no doubt we would have in case of a World War III, but the winning factors of time and distance would no longer be in our favor.

He appeared distressed that the country showed dissatisfaction in many cases between employer and employee, declaring it was against our usual unity of purpose. He remarked he was defeated for re-election by paid workers of John L. Lewis because he as a candidate had often publicly declared that he felt men as American citizens had every right to belong to a union as well as having every right not to belong to a union, and as such they had every right to work side by side without interference.

He also lamented the fact that the young boys who had lost their lives in the past year had done nothing whatever to cause the war, and blamed the generation just preceding them for it. He added that in the event of a third war we would have only ourselves to blame for the loss of the generation who would fight it for us.

Mr. Randolph was introduced by Charles L. Briner, who was master of ceremonies. Wilbur Close presided. Two vocal selections were given by William Wood, of Cumberland. The meeting was held at the Mt. Lake hotel.

Represents O. H. S.

Mollie Smart and John Gaster represented Oakland High school last Saturday afternoon at Potomac State School, at which time Miss Ramona Minear, of Pennsboro, was crowned as May queen during a special ceremony in the college gymnasium.

Preceding the crowning came the honorary court of high school students and there were representatives from a number of high schools of the area.

Declines Offer Of Party Chairmanship

Congressman J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg, declared this week he was not a candidate for the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee and has no intention of seeking the office at the state convention next week.

His statement takes him out of any party contest but he remains an important part of the GOP in Maryland. A veteran of three terms in the U. S. House of Representatives was unopposed for renomination this month in the party primaries.

Council Proclaims Clean Up Week for May 17th to 22nd

Among some extra business conducted Monday night at a special session of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, was the decision to have a clean-up week in Oakland, May 17 to 22, inclusive.

Trucks will haul the rubbish on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. An advertisement about the paint-up and clean-up campaign appears in this week's issue.

The special meeting was called primarily to get approval for running a sewer from upper third street to Hawkinson Tread service, and to place a number of water taps on Third street. This is being done in advance of the relaying of the new state road.

Council also ordered placing a street light at the corner of Bolden's Alley and Second street, opposite the Howard Stuck residence; and also placing one in Martin's alley, in rear of the Leighton Funeral Home.

There was no discussion of the time question, and there was no change in the situation from last week. Crellin mine officials announced daylight time was in effect there because it worked in better with their plans, and not because of any change in bus schedules.

Demonstration of Fire Equipment To Be Given Friday

Firemen Will Then Be Guests of Local Rotary Club

A fire fighting equipment demonstration is being arranged by the Oakland Fire Department and the Oakland Rotary Club. A representative of Food Machinery Corporation will conduct the demonstration with one of its own fire trucks on the Old Glades Hotel Grounds back of the Manhattan Hotel at 5 p. m., Friday, May 14. The demonstration consisting of burning a building is open to the public and will be participated in by Oakland Firemen and representatives of fire companies of Grantsville, Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Bloomington, Accident, Terra Alta, and Kingwood.

Firemen to Meet With Rotary

The firemen will meet with the Oakland Rotary Club at 6:15 at the William-James hotel when, after the dinner, motion pictures will be shown of firemen's activities followed by a discussion of improved methods of fire control.

Several Persons Injured in Wreck

Several persons were injured as the result of a collision of two automobiles last Saturday night on the Crellin highway near Breedlove's.

Willard Pike of Oakland and Jacob Sisler, of Corinth, traveling in one car, received numerous lacerations, the former receiving a deep gash on the chin when he went through the windshield. They were attended by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Moreland and son Joseph of Gormania, W. Va., occupied the other automobile, and they were treated for lacerations by Dr. A. E. Mance.

A hearing was set for Monday morning before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, but was postponed until a later date.

Pastor Resigns

Rev. Robert Johns, pastor of the Accident Lutheran Parish since February, 1945, resigned his position last Sunday, effective June 1st.

Rev. Johns has received a call to St. James Lutheran church in Youngstown, Pa.

Elijah Friend Found Dead Last Thursday Verdict Is Suicide

Elijah J. Friend, aged almost 76 years, was found dead on a couch at his home last Thursday afternoon, May 6, about 2:30 o'clock, by his son-in-law, Henry Campbell. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy state medical examiner, rendered a verdict of suicide. The man resided on what is known as the Wolfe place, just off the Swallow Falls road, about four miles west of Oakland.

Dr. Baumgartner said the man had been dead around twelve hours when found. Others who investigated were deputy sheriff Paul W. Fisher, Trooper Robert Henline and State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover.

Mr. Stover said the man was found with a bullet wound in his head, fired from a 32-20 Winchester rifle. Stover said the man had washed, shaved and dressed. He was found on a low couch in an upstairs bedroom. Members of the family were of the opinion that his death could have been accidental as he often handled guns.

Authorities said he had been visited on Wednesday night by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. He lived alone, his wife, Mrs. Goldie Wolfe Friend, having been employed in Oakland in recent months.

Deceased was born at Sang Run, May 13, 1872, a son of the late John Frederick and Rachel Ross Friend.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Goldie Wolfe Friend; one son, Dale Friend, of Street, Md.; one daughter, Mrs. Henry Campbell, west of Oakland; five grandchildren; also one sister, Miss Dicie Friend, Sang Run; and four brothers, Alfred I. Friend, Chas. G. Friend, Andrew C. Friend and John F. Friend, all of Sang Run.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Bolden Funeral Home in Oakland, with Rev. Roy McCauley, Davis, W. Va., officiating. He was assisted by Rev. David Garnes, Sand Flat, and Rev. Paul Robinson, near Swanton. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Rifle Club Granted National Rifle Charter

The Mt. Top Rifle Club, of Mt. Lake Park, has been granted a National Rifle Association charter it was announced this week. Made up of rifle and pistol enthusiasts the club will be headed by Dan Liller, president.

The new club which will conduct registered NRA tournaments on its range has dedicated itself to teach safety with firearms to all members of the community.

Other officers of the club are: Randall Sims, vice-president; Wilson White, executive officer and chief instructor; Merle McClintock, secretary; and Clyde Calhoun, treasurer.

Special Session of General Assembly Is Ordered By Governor

Maryland's General Assembly will meet in special session on May 25 to decide whether state employes should receive a 10 percent cost of living pay raise.

Governor Lane called the session after conferring with state leaders and officials. The estimate cost of hiking most employes' pay was $2,101,654. He reported a total of 6,429 positions on state employment rosters. The last increase was in September, 1946.

Another bill to be introduced would put up an additional $500,000 for state welfare department relief purposes next year.

Other items are being considered by the Legislative council.

Counties Seek Distribution of State Sales Tax

The Western County Commissioners Association voted to ask the state that "excess" revenue from the sales tax be returned to the counties. The association, representing 16 counties on the Western Shore of Maryland, met yesterday in Hagerstown.

Attending from this county were Commissioners Jonas W. Sines and Stewart S. Stahl, and County Roads engineer W. W. DeWitt.

The Association also voted to name a committee to press the State Roads Commission for lower road building standards.

Plan Radio Show

Hank the Cowhand and the Foggy Mountain Boys, from radio station WMMN, Fairmont, will be featured at a show sponsored by the Pleasant Valley 4-H club, at the Pleasant Valley Community hall on Friday, May 14, at 7:30 o'clock.

The proceeds will be for expenses of girls and boys who go to 4-H club week at College Park this summer.

Nine Directors For Chamber of Commerce Named Tuesday Night

At a dinner meeting of members of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce nine directors were selected to serve for the ensuing year.

They include Charles L. Briner, Wilbur L. Close, Emeric Dusic, Ralph Pritts, Arthur Humbertson, Newton Coplin, A. G. Gortner, Irvin Feld and Emroy Bolden. Election of officers will take place next week.

The nine were selected from a group of eighteen who had been nominated previously.

Campaign Report Given

A report was given by Irvin Feld, chairman of the financial committee which had charge of the Christmas shopping campaign. Receipts from the sale of 745,000 coupons amounted to $2,980. Expenditures amounted to $2,454.81 which included $837.13 for advertising, mailing and sound car; $149.08 for parade, band prizes and misc.; and $1,468.60 for prizes and coupons; leaving a surplus of $525.19.

Under the treat were receipts of $520.18, expenditures of $444.96, leaving a balance of $75.22, or a grand balance of $600.41.

A report on general funds also showed deposits of $1,109.90, expenditures of $677.85, leaving a balance of $432.05.

A report of the first year's activities, prepared by W. O. Davis, secretary, was distributed to members. Its activities have been reported previously through these columns with possibly one exception. Three inquiries were received concerning branch factories for the manufacture of work clothing, a small clothing factory and one for the manufacture of sportswear. The Chamber continues its correspondence with these people.

Supreme Officer in K. of P. to Visit

Fred Ratliff, of Marion, Indiana, supreme vice-chancellor of the Knights of Pythias lodge in the United States, will visit the Garrett Lodge No. 113, K. of P., at the regular meeting on Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

This is one of two visits to be made in Maryland lodges, according to Alva G. Gortner, grand vice-chancellor of Maryland. Several of the grand lodge officers of the state also will attend the meeting, he said.

Miss Margaret Michael, of Grantsville, winner of the K. of P. oratorical contest among lodges of district 1 which includes Garrett and Allegany counties, will also attend the meeting as a guest. There will be representatives from nearby West Virginia lodges.

Refreshments will be served. A large gathering is anticipated.

Will Speak at Accident

Rev. Frank M. Brown, ULCA director of Lutheran World Action, and representative of the United Lutheran church in America to the Synod of West Virginia convention at Jackson's Mill next week, will be the guest of the Accident Lutheran parish on Sunday, May 16.

The parish service will be held in St. Paul's church in Accident at 11 a. m.

An invitation is extended to all people of the community and especially to Lutherans of nearby churches to hear his message. Immediately following service, Rev. Brown, and delegates from the Accident parish and Missionary society and Rev. Robert Johns, pastor, will leave for the Mill.

To Extend Date

The closing date for entering the Farming for Better Living program extended to Thursday, May 20, it was announced by Maurice Brookhart, chairman. The meeting was held last Thursday night at Accident.

Mr. Brookhart said the Better Living Council was hopeful that there would be at least 30 enrollees for this year.

DR ENGELHARDT OUTLINES SCHOOL PROBLEMS HERE

Outstanding School Building Consultant Here For Survey—Declares New OHS Site Unsuitable

Dr. N. L. Engelhardt, nationally known expert in school house building, was here for two and one-half days for a survey of Garrett county, and prior to leaving for Louisville, Ky., Sunday night, he met with school officials and other interested persons to discuss the situation with them briefly.

A completed report is now being made which will be released sometime in June when Dr. Engelhardt will return to Oakland.

During his brief stay in the county he completed a survey of 47 school buildings and considered the reports of the other two specialists who were here several weeks ago.

Those charged with the responsibilities of remodeling and new school construction work, according to R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, will be guided by the recommendations of Dr. Clarence Newell, of the University of Maryland; Dr. E. L. Morphet, Florida State Department of Education, and Dr. Engelhardt, all of whom are school building consultants and nationally known for economy and modern school building to provide facilities for boys and girls to best equip them for college and also for preparation for jobs following high school graduation.

Dr. Engelhardt emphasized before the group on Sunday afternoon that school building was long term planning; that recommendations were being projected in the report applying for the next two years, and also for the period of the next five to ten years. "Any building must be so planned," he pointed out, "that it can be used for the next fifty years and longer. We are suggesting emergency buildings, that is, those permanent structures which need remodeling or building at once and those which can be done later. We are also indicating those that need but slight repair or paint to protect them from weather.

"In making recommendations, we are looking at the total county-wide situation; that is, 4600 pupils to be cared for in the northern section, in the southern section, in the eastern section, and western section of Garrett county, in the elementary schools, in the junior high schools, in the senior high schools. We are taking into account weather conditions, road conditions, and transportation conditions. We are considering the health, the safety, and a rich program of studies to fit our 4600 boys and girls to meet and solve their problems as they grow and finally become citizens to be successful in the office, on the farm, in the factory, in a profession, and as home makers."

Oakland High Site Unsuitable

In a comparison of the high schools of the county with other schools throughout the nation, Dr. Engelhardt stated "all five high schools are not fit for any modern educational high school program," and explained that the present high school buildings showed very poor planning.

He felt that the elementary buildings show more thought in planning but that there is need for renovation and additional rooms.

In reply to a question if the site for the new Oakland High school building was suitable to fit the need

Waste Containers Placed And in Use

The ten waste paper containers for the city's streets were placed in advantageous positions on Monday and already are being used extensively by people, it was reported this week by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh.

All containers have the lettering "Help us keep our city clean," and were lettered by John Bell of the Bell Bottling company, his part in the campaign to make the city a cleaner and more inviting place for visitors and residents alike.

The cans cost $28.60 each and were purchased and donated by the following: Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club, 2; one each by Leighton Brothers garage, Ralph Pritts garage, Reckard and Glotfelty garage, Sharps Motor company, Ray Teets garage, Sanders and Hershman garage, Hesen's Service Station and garage, and the Garrett Truck and Implement company.

Junior High To Give Musical Comedy

"Paints and Patches", a musical comedy in two acts, will be presented by the Oakland Junior High school, May 18th, at 8 o'clock, in the High school auditorium. Gypsies, a charming Chinese girl, a village spinster, Rastus, "de man ob all work", and a mystery plot are expected to make this operetta an exciting and very colorful one.

The cast includes the following: The Professor, who teaches art, Floyd Fike; art students, Joe DiSimone, Sherwood Ramsey, Mildred Biser and Norma Jean Lee; Rastus, Thomas Wainer; gypsies, Jean Wilson, Betty Lou Sanders; two Chinese girls, Norma Browning and Emily Martin; a village spinster, Gladys Wensel; the policemen, Carlton Tasker and Walter Lee Moon; Patty Yutzy, Lawrence Flowers, Edward Browning, a singing chorus and several dance groups.

The program is under the direction of Miss Dorothy Fletcher and Mrs. Virginia McManus, assisted by Mrs. Theota Miller, Miss Dorothy Carrico and other junior high school teachers. The general public is invited. Admission is 25c and 35c.

Wants Teacher Ideas On School Program

Principals of the five high schools of the county have been asked by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, to hold a faculty meeting to learn their philosophy concerning a modern school program and also building.

"Buildings cannot be remodeled or constructed without errors unless there is a clear understanding of the goals we are hoping to attain in our instruction of youth," Mr. Hardesty declared. "A clearly understood educational program must precede building," he emphasized.

The questionnaires containing the philosophy are to be returned by May 19th.

Marine Recruiter Here

A U. S. Marine corps recruiter will be in Oakland every Friday afternoon until further notice, it was announced by Sgt. R. E. Hobrock, of the Cumberland station.

He will be at the postoffice to give information on enlistments in the Marine corps. He urged young men of the graduating classes of high schools not to pass up the opportunity of contacting the recruiter.

The recruiter also will be in Terra Alta, W. Va., every Friday morning.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Stassen Method

Though the Ohio primaries definitely checked his triumphal parade, Mr. Harold Stassen has demonstrated one thing very clearly—to wit, the effectiveness of his method of campaigning. Six months ago, hardly anyone in politics believed he had a real chance to make the grade. Most of his friends thought second place was the best for which he could hope. There was a time when Mr. Stassen himself would have settled for that. Now, his supporters are enthusiastically confident he is within striking distance of the first prize.

His has been a spectacular performance. In the first place he is a young man of ability, suavity, tact and charm. His own State is solidly behind him and he had a good record as governor. This was enough to make him Minnesota's "favorite son," but not nearly enough to get him where he is. A tireless campaigner, still there were three additional things he had to have if he were to land in the front rank of contenders. It is a tribute to the Stassen shrewdness that he understood about these three essenials from the start and went after them. The first was time; the second, publicity; the third, money.

Getting the time was easy. All Mr. Stassen had to do was decide not to run for the Senate in 1946. This was very smart, indeed, as, with other serious aspirants tied down by their public offices, for two years he had practically no competition in the field. The other two essentials—publicity and money—required more work and thought. Mr. Stassen gave them plenty of both. In the matter of favorable publicity, which is the lifeblood of any candidacy, he has had more than all the other aspirants combined. Besides writing his book, "Where I Stand" (which leaves considerable doubt as to where he does stand), he himself has written, and had written about him, more magazine articles than all others combined.

Any candidate who, picturing himself as "liberal," assails his rivals as "reactionary," at once creates a definite publicity value. Immediately, all the journalistic and radio Left-wingers squeal in his favor. Mr. Stassen did not have to offer evidence of his "liberalism." All he had to do was proclaim it. The mere act of indicting others as "reactionary" and proclaiming his contrasting "liberalism" makes news. One has to do very little more than to get headlines. One need do nothing more than to gain a certain following which rushes to the support of any candidate who raises the "liberal" banner and cloudily denounces a fictitious "Old Guard."

It is a measure of Mr. Stassen's political skill that while holding this banner aloft he has been able to convince a large number of extremely conservative and wealthy Republicans that he is by no means "liberal" enough to be "dangerous." On the contrary, meeting groups of such men in New York, Palm Beach, Chicago and many other places, Mr. Stassen has persuaded them that actually he and they see eye to eye on the "important issues"; that as President he would be a perfectly "safe man"; that, to use his own words, he really is a "moderate conservative."

It is surprising how many such Mr. Stassen has converted since first he started campaigning, and how many have contributed to his campaign funds. This brings us to the matter of money. On this there are no dependable figures. No law bearing upon campaign contributions has ever been enacted which sharp politicians could not evade and avoid. In every big fight the money that appears in the reports is always small compared to the "under the table" money that does not appear. All that can be said definitely about the Stassen money is that it has been ample. His rivals undoubtedly exaggerate the totals, but there is reason to believe more has been collected and expended in his behalf than for Senator Taft and Governor Dewey combined.

All of this would seem to mean that despite the "liberal" flavor of his speeches and his anti-Old Guard attacks, Mr. Stassen is an exceedingly practical politician, fully capable of playing both ends against the middle in the good old-fashioned way. This is precisely what those who have followed him closely insist he is doing. The apparent candor with which he answers all questions is, they say, not the real thing at all. Only the gullible think so. For example, in the matter of labor, he favors the Taft-Hartley law but urges amendments which delight the labor bosses and take out most of its teeth.

His Communist declarations present another example. He advocates driving the Communist party out of existence by law but is opposed to requiring labor leaders to make affidavits that they are not Communists, thus making it harder for the labor unions to drive the Communists out of their unions. Another example is given by Mr. Thomas L. Stokes, well-known "liberal" commentator, who recently traveled with both Taft and Stassen. Contrasting the two, Mr. Stokes says when Mr. Taft is asked, for instance, whether he favors universal military training you get a blunt "No." Asked the same question, Mr. Stassen "goes into a long rigamarole in which he gets on every conceivable side of the issue" and winds up with no concrete stand at all. Nevertheless, Mr. Stokes writes, "you hear people say as they go out: 'Wasn't he wonderful? He never dodged a single question.'" Then there is his Federal aid to hospitals proposal which apparently Mr. Stassen does not know was enacted by Congress several years ago.

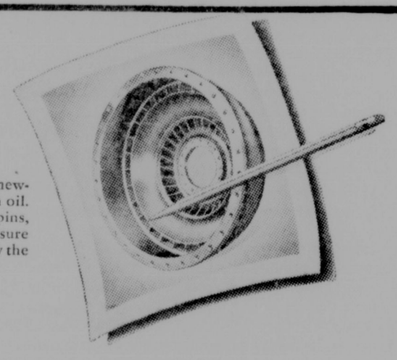
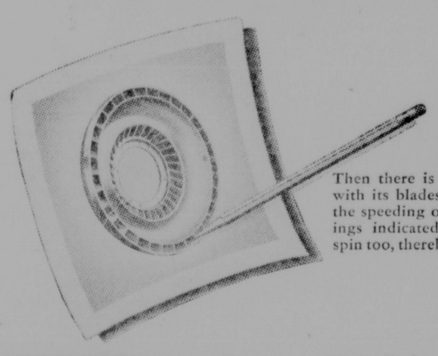
Here's the A-B-C of Dynaflow Drive*

A
First, there's a highly efficient new-type pump like this, filled with oil. Driven by the engine, it spins, shooting out oil under pressure from the channels indicated by the pencil.



B
Then there is a true turbine, like this, with its blades curved sharply to catch the speeding oil. Entering in the openings indicated, oil makes the turbine spin too, thereby turning the rear wheels.



C
Finally, there is this unique "supercharging assembly" — three ingenious elements not found on any other car. Mounted between the pump and turbine, they control the force and direction of oil to adjust driving power to different driving conditions — starting, accelerating, hill climbing, etc.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

PUT all these together and they spell Dynaflow—the first American passenger car drive that requires no changing of gears in normal driving.

Functioning entirely on their own in an oil-filled drum, these parts give you the equivalent of low gear, second gear, high gear — and an infinite number of "gears" in between.

When you start, they give you smooth starting power. When you want to accelerate, they give accelerating power. When you cruise, they give an efficient cruising ratio —all without gear changing on your part.

Just set a lever and press the gas treadle—the power plant does the rest. Once started, you'll never need to touch the selector lever in normal driving until you're ready to park or back up.

You get good engine braking on hills—with more in reserve at a touch on the lever. You get smoothness unimaginable—a new "sweetness" to the whole car — a relief from things-to-remember that makes all-day driving noticeably less tiring.

Look into Dynaflow if for no other reason than to be up to date on what's newest in automobile drives. Your Buick dealer will take your order with or without a car to trade.

he meeting was informal, with mbers participating in a discus-. The speaker pointed out that ing the last war there was a great rease in natural resources in this nty, as timber and fuel were ded to protect national interests l the lives of men in service, and t the county had suffered as a ult.

enator Fraley believed education l not legislation would be the wer in the long range view, and d how Future Farmers of Ameri- organizations had helped to edu- e farmers to the need of improved thods of marketing, etc. "Today islation is being used because edu- ion is not a sufficiently rapid pro- s."

le spoke of the 1943 Forest Con- vancy Act, which had for its owed purpose "to encourage eco- nic management and scientific de- opment" by "cooperative effort" of downers and members of the restry Commission. He cited the osition to this law by a number of ple who believed the law gave too ch power over private property the commission.

le said the policy of the state was buy land if landowners do not pro- t the natural resources and stated t the state and federal govern- nt now owned 90,000 acres in this nty. He believed there was need a revenue from state owned land ich is non-assessable at present, if tax rate was to remain propor- ate to county wealth. One of ator Fraley's measures was a bill, v law, whereby no more land could acquired by the state with the ex- tion of limited acreage for rights way, etc. He declared in favor of state acquiring certain land for er shed and similar needs.

le suggested a round table discus- n of the Forest Conservancy Act members of the district forestry rd, and directors of the Land and ber Owners Protective Associ- n, out of which might come suit- e amendements to the act which ld result in cooperation in con- ving resources.

le urged good roads to state ed recreation parks, the roads g built and maintained by the te. He spoke briefly on the new ulation for the Lake area, setting a sanitary district, prohibiting ution of the lake.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1948.

THAT $3 BILL . . .

A New York representative in Congress who seems to be proud of the fact that he is a "Roosevelt Democrat" has said he will introduce a bill to create a $3 bill to honor the late president, and perpetuate his name.

If there would be anything more useless than a $3 bill in our currency, it could be only the $2 bill.

As one person was heard to remark after reading the news item, "well he certainly gummed things up, during his thirteen years in the White House, having a $3 bill in his honor would complete the confusion."

SPENDING IT WISELY . . .

After the state sales tax had been in effect for several weeks we made the statement editorially that if the money raised was allocated to the purposes for which the act was passed, that it looked like a good thing. Some of those things were better pay for teachers, improvement in school buildings, better roads, and eventually the reduction of the property tax.

We also pointed out the possibility of funds being diverted to some other use, that if more was raised than necessary that politicians always found some other use for the money and it was gone with no apparent improvement to the taxpayer.

We are merely mentioning all this, just after the governor has called a special session of the legislature to boost all state salaries ten percent and boost the welfare appropriations, to express the hope that funds will still go the way they were originally intended.

We do not say state salaries ought not be raised, but merely say that if they are, the funds should come through the proper channel. Probably it's all planned properly, but we are curious and other taxpayers ought to be also.

TABLELAND FARMING

A weekly discussion devoted to the Land and Farms of Garrett County, edited by John Carter, County Agent, and W. W. Nace, Soil Conservationist.

You will likely notice a lot of new contour strip cropping as you travel Garrett County roads this year. Contour farming is probably the most important farm conservation practice in this locality, as we have said a number of times before. It might be called the trademark of soil conservation.

Some of the new strip cropping jobs you may notice along the roads have been done by John Beachy, just this side of Grantsville; Oscar Harmon and Walter Margroff, in the Cove; Dick Paugh at Dodge School house; Donald Corle, back of Colonial Inn; Raymond Bender and Gorman Beitzel, North of Bear Creek; Clayton and Harvey Winters, at Oakland; Willard Ringer, West of Oakland; Harry L. Porter, Monte Vista Hill; Cecil Kight, Gortner; Harmon Rolfe and Willis Durr, near Red House; Leslie and Roy Savage on road from Blooming Rose to Sang Run; Mrs. R. L. Sebold, at Deer Park; Umber Bray, Swanton Road and H. T. Wilt, near Deer Park.

To those of us working directly with soil conservation, it has always seemed different to get strip cropping done along the highways, where it will be seen and so help advertise the program. Maybe some other farmers have been like one I knew in another county about ten years ago. We talked about conservation and particularly about contour farming. Finally he said, "Well, I'd like to try it in the back field, but don't ask me to put any of those crooked strips out here along the highway where people will see them." He must have liked them in the back field, for a couple years later he had them all over the farm, front field and all. Ten years ago most farmers said that the crooked strips were a crazy idea. But times have changed since then and now no one seems ashamed to be seen farming around the curves.

Of course, there is a lot more conservation farming in Garrett County than you can see from the main roads. We have mentioned only the farms that are fairly new in the program and where the strips hit you in the eye. Maybe they hit me in the eye harder because I'm looking for them. It always makes me feel good to see a hillside contoured for the first time. And then I go around the bend and see a whole hillside plowed up, or straight rows that cannot keep to the level. Farming on the level is spreading fast, but there is still a big job ahead.

Norman Thomas accepted his sixth presidential nomination by the Socialist party, and will be on the general election ballot again this fall.

Economist Warns of Inflated Land Values

Farmers who purchase land at inflated values and mortgage it for more than one-third of the total price, may be heading for serious financial difficulties when prices and farm values decline. This was pointed out by Dr. S. H. DeVault, head of Agricultural Economics and Marketing Department at the University of Maryland, when he called attention to the fact that prices of farm real estate are now 21 percent above the 1920 level.

"Land values have doubled in this state since 1940," he warned, "but there is an indication that they are now leveling off. The increase for the year ending March 31, 1948 was only 2.6 percent. This is in contrast to the 12 percent increase each year from 1942 to 1947."

The agricultural economist also stated that last year, for the first time since 1927, the farm mortgage debt started to rise. "The trend in farm debt is continuing upward, and it is an unhealthy sign," he said. "But the farmer is cautious during the boom is fairly secure if he is relatively free of debt and has some accumulated saving."

83 Licenses Granted In Past Two Weeks

Eighty-three marriage licenses were issued during the past two weeks ending Monday afternoon from the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court. Forty-eight of those were issued during the month of May.

A total of 164 licenses was issued during April, with 176 applications being granted. Ten of those issued during the past two weeks were marked "don't publish."

Foresters Battle 150-Acre Blaze

Just as the dangers of the spring forest fire season were about to end, a forest fire on Savage Mountain, the Savage River dam, burned over about 150 acres before being brought under control, according to District Forester William A. Parr.

The blaze started about 1:15 p. m. Sunday and was not brought under control until Monday night. It was in an area that is extremely rocky and made up mostly of steep mountain slopes where the growth is about 50 percent brush and about 50 percent medium-sized timber.

Forestry men from both Garrett and Allegany counties worked on the fire for around 36 hours.

The blaze was of undetermined but possible incendiary origin, and was difficult to fight because of the rugged nature of the area. It was impossible to get tractors, pumps or other forest fire fighting equipment into the area and men working the blaze walked two miles through the woods to reach it from the nearest passable road.

Among the forest fighting crew were boys from Bruce High school, Westernport. Myrl Wilt, forest supervisor, this county, and Brook Bodkin, forest supervisor in Allegny county, were in charge of operations.

The same area was burned over in 1930, forestry men recelled.

Two more woodland fires were reported. About an acre was burned on Savage mountain Tuesday near the other big fire but was quickly brought under control. At Vindex a quarter acre was burned over when sparks from a locomotive ignited brush. There was no damage.

Kitzmiller Trims Amvets On Sunday

Behind the 5-hit pitching of James of Kitzmiller, the VFW team from there defeated the Oakland Amvets Sunday 4 to 0. It was an official league game and Senator L. M. Fraley threw out the first ball to Capt. Red McManus to open the play.

The Amvets had three costly errors. Kitzmiller, playing heads-up ball, executed a triple play in the eighth. Bob Glaze had 12 strikeouts and James 3. Compton led the Oakland batting.

The Amvets defeated Swanton in the first league game last Thursday 12 to 0. Bob James and Glaze pitched for the locals. James and Davy shared hitting honors.

This evening the Amvets will meet Shallmar on the home field and on Sunday, May 16, they will travel to Crellin for a league game.

An investigation was ordered into what was termed a refusal by union pallbearers of Union City, N. J., to permit Marines to serve as pallbearers at the funeral of a World War II marine hero.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Come on, let's put things in order. Our entire town can and should be made as clean and orderly as its cleanest home. Then we will have a safer, happier, healthier town.

To have a town clean and beautiful should be the ambition of every one of its citizens.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor and with the hearty approval of many conscientious citizens I hereby proclaim

MAY 17th TO 22nd

AS CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP WEEK

Trucks Will Haul Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Thursday and Friday

Away with rubbish piles! Banish the plague spots! Cut weeds, mow lawns and trim hedges. Repair and paint every building that needs it.

We need a thorough cleaning and renovation. It is the sensible thing to do for health, safety, pride and happiness of all our people.

It's everybody's job. Every man, woman and child will be expected to help. Let there be no slackers.

District Farm Bureau to Meet

The Union District unit of the Preston County Farm Bureau will meet for regular business session on Friday, May 21, at 8 p. m., E.S.T., in the Horse Shoe Run School building. A picture, "The River," showing where the soil and its financial building goes, will be shown. There will be other entertainment.

To Be Presented at Court of England

According to a news item appearing in the daily newspapers, thirty Americans will be presented at the court of the King and Queen of England today, and will meet the king and queen at a party in Buckingham palace.

Among the group listed are the names of Navy Capt. and Mrs. Paul G. Linaweaver. Rev. Linaweaver was rector of the Episcopal parish at Oakland following the resignation of Rev. A. J. Torrey, about the year 1925 or 1926, and Mrs. Linaweaver is the former Isabel West, of Oakland, a sister of Mrs. Thomas A. Gonder, Sr.

The Americans are to be presented at the second of two palace receptions launching the new social season. Their majesties and Princess Margaret will mingle and chat with the guests. Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip may attend.

Hear of Work of Missionary in Mexico

A number of local people of this area heard recently concerning the work of the Wycliffe Bible Translators, who are serving as missionaries among the Zoques in Mexico. One of these translators is William Wonderly, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wonderly, of Mt. Lake Park, who has been at this work for several years.

He expects to return to the states this summer and will visit his parents, accompanied by his wife and two children. A portion of Mr. Wonderly's letter follows:

"We have been over two weeks in a different Zoque town from our usual location in Copainala, this time in the low, moist tropics and completely isolated from the outside world. The town is nearly 100 percent Zoque and has no gospel witness at all.

"We have had many interesting experiences as we have talked in the native language with those of the town who are not too fearful of outsiders to converse with us. But we look forward to the day when our testimony will be backed up by that of native believers from other congregations, bringing the message of God's love to these their own people. The printed Gospel of Mark in Zoque will soon be in the hands of those believers and we trust this will help them in their task of evangelizing in their own language. Two Zoque workers were here yesterday; in one home they visited they were threatened with knives, but in others they were able to tell of the Saviour. The darkness is great and Satan will not give up this stronghold without a struggle.

"Many have heard some of the gospel during these two weeks, despite the fact that they were forbidden to have anything to do with us. Many times our borrowed cane and thatch hut has been crowded with people, listening to the Zoque gospel records, or hearing us read the Easter story from Mark in Zoque, or just chatting. Contacts in homes have been more difficult but a few have been friendly. None of the Indians has shown any definite response to the gospel as yet but the seed is being sown in some hearts."

Mr. Wonderly is now in Mexico City where he is checking manuscripts before going to Camp Wycliffe, Glendale, California. His trip from the village was made by Missionary Aviation Fellowship plane, the first plane to ever land there.

New Line of Tires Is Introduced by Ray Teets

Introduction of a new Marathon line of passenger automobile tires to this trading area is announced by Ray Teets, of Ray Teets Garage, Oak street.

"The new Marathon", says Mr. Teets, "provides a line that combines excellent mileage and traction at prices substantially less than those now prevailing for most tires in comparable sizes.

"The original Marathon line of tires for passenger cars was introduced in March, 1938, but its production was discontinued during the war emergency.

"With the Spring and Summer driving season just opening up, motorists are having their cars checked over, and many of them are going to find out their present tire equipment needs replacing. The new Marathon is just the tire for this purpose," according to Mr. Teets.

Spring Beauty

Who among us does not welcome that first warm day of spring when we discover a bough of blossoms? On that day, the whole out-of-doors seems to come to life again with new pleasure and new meaning.

Winter has passed, and we wonder at the changes that have brought such beauty to the drab, cold scene. Only by the hand of God can sun and rain and air and light change snow-time into spring.

The clear, fresh face of this happy little girl seems to reflect the season's change. She seems almost to match the blossoms.

She too must have the care of God to make her thrive and bloom. The Church is God's way of producing the beauty of spring in a human soul. The Church stands ready and eager to train our children, morally and ethically, and to give them a finer way of life.

Bring your children and those of your neighbors to the Church. Help them to develop fine virtues. Let the Church help keep them from the winter of a Godless life.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Engelhardt Outlines School Problems

of the modern programs he replied directly "The site is not suitable for any modern high school." He gave two definite reasons, that no high school today was being built on a busy highway and that there was no room for an adequate playground without danger.

He also stated that the purchase was a good investment and that not one penny would be lost on that site, that the county was full of good sites for both high school and elementary buildings. No definite site was mentioned, however, except to say that Oakland High School would need more ground than was available at the site north of the town. The site consists of 46 acres but only 18 are declared usable.

Is Nationally Known

Dr. Engelhardt is a former professor in school administration and supervision in Columbia. For a number of years he was assistant superintendent for New York City. At present he is educational building consultant, whose services are demanded country-wide. Working with him are his son, also Dr. Engelhardt, and Dr. Leggett.

He left Oakland Sunday night for Louisville, Ky., for a similar survey; from there he will go to San Francisco, and from there to New Mexico, also for surveys. He will return to New York and plans to be in Oakland the first part of June where he will unfold the recommendations for this county to those charged with the building program.

Mr. Hardesty said he most likely would be joined at that time by Dr. Newell and Dr. Morphet, who made surveys previous to that of Dr. Engelhardt. The report will comprise the combined thinking of all three individuals.

To Attend Conference

Lutheran ministers in this county and lay delegates from each of the churches will attend the thirty-sixth annual convention of the West Virginia synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, at Jackson's Mill, W. Va., beginning Sunday, May 16. Representatives from thirty-one congregations will participate in the three-day session.

Rev. Frank M. Brown, Philadelphia, will speak on Lutheran World Action, and Dr. K. W. Kinard, Columbia, S. C., will present the general missionary and benevolence objectives of the church. Institutional activities will be outlined through various reports. Dr. A. K. Jones, Red House, is scheduled for report on ministerial education, while Rev. Curt H. Runze, Bittinger, will report on publications.

SCRIPTURE: Malachi.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 3:3-6, 15-17.

Malachi Demands Sincere Religion

Lesson for May 16, 1948

GET ready for some straight talk in next Sunday's lesson. Malachi reveals the dark picture of unrequited love, polluted offerings, impious priests, unfaithful husbands. You wonder if Sam Jones has come back to life. He begins by crying, "The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi." We shall miss the entire meaning of this lesson if we fail to read every word of the Book of Malachi. We cannot claim any of the promises of a better day, as indicated in the latter section of Malachi unless and until we deal with such hypocrisy as may infest our lives today, even as the priests and people were consumed with iniquity when Malachi prophesied unto them.

Dr. Newton

GIVING OUR BEST TO GOD

"A SON honoureth his father, and a servant his master; if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear?" Malachi 1:6.

How can God bring good out of evil, when his people hold back their best from him? Let us bring it closer home, and ask, How can our earthly parents do their best for us, when we give them half-hearted allegiance?

OUR BEST IN WORSHIP

PASSAGES in the first, second and third chapters of Malachi reveal the lack of sincerity on the part of the priests in the worship which they offered and which they taught the people to offer. Here we see that unclean hands can never bring an acceptable offering unto the Lord. He looketh on the heart. He knows what is in man.

Using the house of God to make a show before men was one of the shameful evils of the priests in the days of Malachi. It did not fool God then, nor will it fool him today. Unless our worship is an expression of something fine and sincere, he will not accept it.

THE DAY OF RECKONING

"BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in . . . But who shall abide the day of his coming?"

One would think that such words of warning would have brought the priests and the people to their senses in humble contrition before God; but they continued to disregard the words of God's messenger.

"For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch."

Thus did God warn. And the day of reckoning did come—a day in which priests and people went down beneath the chariot wheels of the invaders. And once again the warnings of God, though despised, were fulfilled to the last word in the terrible punishment upon those who forgot him.

THE PROMISE TO THE FAITHFUL

BUT God does not forget those who truly love him, and thus the Book of Malachi closes with the words of promise to the faithful. "But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall," Malachi 4:2.

The remnants of those who remained true to God in the midst of a wicked generation were used to perpetuate his witness in the earth. The dark days of persecution could not put out the light of his presence and peace.

Let us pause as we study this Book of Malachi and search our own souls, lest we be guilty of the hypocrisy which destroyed the people in the long ago. With every strand of strength which he grants us, let us do with our might what our hands find to do, and the peace that passeth all understanding will be our portion.

"And all flesh shall see the salvation of the Lord."

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of our son, Edward A. Spiker, birthday, May 12, 1948.

He bravely went for God to fight
Against base savages whose pride
The laws of God and man defied;
Who slew the mother and child
Who, maiden, pure and sweet defiled;
He did not go to get the money,
He went to save from ruthless hand
His Home and Country and to be A Guardian of Democracy.
My heart will feel exultant pride
That for his children and humanity he died.

IN MEMORIAM

How I long for your presence,
Your patient face to see,
Your voice to hear, to see your smile,
But a short while yet it may be.
Though gone and forgotten by some,
With your memory I live
'Till Eternal Day come.

In loving memory of my mother, Della M. Miller, who passed away one year ago, May 15!

One and one-fourth in. tap. 45.00
One and one-half inch tap. 50.00
Two inch tap..... 60.00

Taps on streets that are paved, to cost fifty percent additional.

The following charges will be made to all persons tapping the sewer mains of the Town of Oakland:

The charge for tapping or connecting with the public sewers, or any private sewer emptying into public sewers shall be Twenty-five Dollars for each separate tap or connection. All sewer connections from the property to be sewered to the main sewer shall be at the expense of the party desiring to make the tap or the owner of the property to be sewered, but shall be done under the supervision and direction and in the manner prescribed by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland.

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons granted permits to make connections and taps with the water and sewer mains not to replace all excavations made and pave as near as practicable to their former condition, and upon the failure of any person to relay and repave all excavations and to tamp the dirt well without unnecessary delay, they shall be subject to a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, or be committed to the County Jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

And be it further enacted and ordained, that the aforegoing ordinance take effect from the date of its passage, and that all ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Passed: May 5th, 1948.

E. I. BAUMGARTNER,
President of the Council

Approved: JOSEPH HINEBAUGH, Mayor

Test: ARTHUR LAWTON, Clerk.

Forestry Board Informs Farmers On Conservancy Act

Sends 2,600 Letters Throughout County Last Week In Which Number of Questions Are Explained

Approximately 2,600 letters were mailed to all farmers and timber owners of the county last Thursday by the Garrett County Forestry Board, setting out the board's interest in forest land, giving them information about the Forest Conservancy Act, and explaining the services that are available through the Forestry department.

The letter is as follows:

"The Garrett County Forestry Board is interested only in timber land and its benefits to its owners and to the people of Garrett County. Here in our county there are some 290,000 acres of forest land. Our forests for generations have afforded lumber for many uses, helped make clear streams for good fishing, helped prevent excessive soil washing, and in many cases helped in a big way to clear the farms of debt.

"With this in mind and with the approval of the Commission of State Forests and Parks, the Garrett County Forestry Board has established, under the terms of the Forest Conservancy Districts Act, the following common sense timber cutting regulation:

"'For the purpose of this regulation, the following tree species will be considered as desirable: Red oak, white oak, sugar maple, red maple, hemlock, black cherry, all pines, white ash, black walnut, yellow birch, and spruce.

No tree of the foregoing species shall be cut that is less than seven inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the Garrett County Forestry Board. All other species may be cut to any desired diameter.

"This regulation does not apply to the farmer who is cutting wood for his own use, such as fuelwood, lumber for buildings or repairs, or fence posts. Nor is the farmer required to register as a forest products operator when he is cutting timber as a normal part of his farm work.

"Clear cutting for agricultural uses is permissable under the Forest Conservancy Districts Act. If the area is less than three acres, no permit is necessary; however, if the area to be clear cut is over three acres, a permit shall be secured from the Forestry Board.

"To help the land owner with his woodland problems, a special service is offered to meet the practical needs of local timber owners.

"Application for this service may be made to any member of the Forestry Board, or to the District Forester, Court House, Cumberland, Maryland. A forester will then be assigned to examine the woodland, and go over your problems with you on the ground. He will prepare a written report for the owner, which will show the tree species, size and condition of the stand, and a plan of management prepared along the lines of the owner's wishes for development of his woodland. No charge is made for this service, regardless of the time involved, and the woodland owner is placed under no obligation of any kind.

"If the tract contains merchantable timber, the owner may have it marked for cutting by the forester who made the examination. No charge is made for the marking up to 25 acres, or one day's service. If more than 25 acres or more than one day's service is involved, a charge of $15.00 per day is made to help pay the expenses of the job. When the marking is completed, the owner is given a lump sum estimate of the value of the marked trees, based on current prices.

"We hope this letter will clear up many misunderstandings of the forestry law and the work of the Forestry Board. If you have any questions about the law or how it works, ask any member of the Forestry Board to answer them, or ask the District Forester to send a man to talk it over with you."

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

By the overwhelming vote of 74 to 2 the Senate last week approved the House Bill providing for a seventh group Air Force and authorizing appropriations of three billion, one hundred and ninety-eight million dollars to purchase 4,200 war planes and to expend aeronautical research. The bill now goes to the President.

It now appears rather certain that members of the Atomic Energy Commission, whose terms will expire August 1st, will not be confirmed for reappointment, as requested by the President, for terms lasting as long as five years. Instead, the Republican Leadership in the Senate has agreed on the extension of the present Commissioners' terms until July 1st, 1950, or for twenty-three months, which will permit a new President—if one is elected in November—to make his own appointments.

The House Committee on Armed Services has reported out a new Selective Service Bill, which provides for nothing more or less than a straight-out draft, calling for the registration of all men between the ages of eighteen and thirty, and for the induction into the Armed Forces of those between nineteen and twenty-five, with exemptions for most veterans, married men and essential workers. The length of service required will be two years. The military can control the Selective Service machinery. Inductions would start ninety days after the measure is approved by the President. At the present time quite a battle is going on within the Senate Armed Services Committee, and within the Senate itself, over what form of Selective Service legislation should be approved by that body. On the House side the Selective Service legislation is scheduled to be taken up some time next week. That many amendments will be offered to the measure seems to be certain, for there is a general dissatisfaction with the bill as reported by the House Committee.

Progressive Jr. Chamber

At the request of the Cumberland Junior Chamber of Commerce, the sponsors of the Air Show on June 20, I have asked the Air Forces to send some jets and B-29's for the show if at all possible. I hope that the Air Forces will be able to grant this request because I believe that all people of the United States should become acutely aware of the terrific power and glory of the United States Air Forces.

Francis Scott Key Stamp

I met with officials of the Post Office Department and the Francis Scott Key Committee from Frederick to discuss plans for the celebration in connection with the first issue of the Francis Scott Key Stamp at Frederick on August 9.

Under The Dome

I appeared before the subcommittee of the Agriculture Committee in behalf of Maryland tobacco parity. The bill is being favorably reported to the House. I conducted hearings before my sub-committee of the District Committee on my bill H.R. 6295 providing increases in pensions for widows and orphans of retired members of the police and fire department.

I met with members of the Maryland State Roads Commission and Captain Whitehurst, Director of the District of Columbia, at which time routes leading in and out of the District of Columbia through Maryland were discussed.

District VFW Meeting Called

The second meeting of district No. 3, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for 1948, will be held at the Friendsville Memorial Post No. 8409, on Sunday, May 16, at 2 p. m. E.S.T.

All posts are invited to have delegates. A business discussion will be conducted by state and district department officials. Refreshments will be served.

Is Thanked For Gift

Since various packages of clothing have been sent to Europe through various local agencies, numerous replies have been received by the donors.

One of the latest to be received is a letter from Henry Behr, from Arnstadt, Russian zone, Germany, mailed to Miss Grace Falkenstein, thanking her for a sweater which was enclosed in a package through the Lutheran church.

The letter was in German and was translated by Mrs. W. P. Cline, wife of the minister of the Lutheran church at Clarksburg, W. Va. The person is now studying in a theological seminary, and is 21. He stated in regard to certain members of his family: "We are very thankful that after the terrible war we were spared and are together again, and a little proud that we may help to erase the guilt of our nation."

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our heartfelt thanks to all persons who were so kind and helpful following the death of James Adams.

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MAY 20, 1948. NUMBER 12.

Judge Henderson Hurt; Mother Is Killed in Mishap

Jurist Reported in "Fair" Condition in Hagerstown Hospital

Mrs. Robert R. Henderson, 85, one of Cumberland's distinguished citizens, was killed, and her son, Associate Judge George Henderson, 60, was badly injured early last Sunday night when the car in which they were riding toward Cumberland, was struck by a tractor trailer near Clear Spring.

Judge Henderson and his mother were driving on their own side of the highway as a tractor-trailer loaded with four new Cadillac automobiles descended Fairview mountain, about a mile west of Hagerstown, on U. S. route 40, according to State police.

They reported the trailer skidded across the wet road, the left rear of the trailer striking the left front of the car Judge Henderson was driving.

Police said Mrs. Henderson was killed almost instantly of chest injuries. Judge Henderson suffered a broken right arm, several broken ribs, lacerations of the forehead and shock. He was conscious when taken from the car.

Mrs. Henderson was the widow of Judge Robert R. Henderson. She was extremely active in civic affairs, a lifelong member of Emmanuel Episcopal church. At the time of her death she was a member of the board of the Cumberland Girl Scouts, on which she had served for many years. She was also in the Woman's Civic club, and American Red Cross.

George Henderson was elected associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial circuit court of Maryland November 30, 1946. He served as mayor of Cumberland from 1932 to 1934, has been active in all civic affairs and is a vestryman of Emmanuel Episcopal church. A veteran of both World War I and II he served as a lieutenant and captain with the 115th infantry during World War I, and was a lieutenant colonel and colonel during the recent conflict.

Injured in Car Wrecks

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McRobie, of near town, were injured about the face on Sunday afternoon when they collided with a parked trailer truck of the Telephone company, loaded with poles.

Mrs. McRobie, who was driving, was not able to stop the car in time to prevent the crash, and one of the poles went through the windshield, shattering the glass into their faces. Both received numerous cuts about the face, but escaped being struck by the pole.

The car was badly damaged.

On Tuesday night it was learned that Jack Welling, student at Potomac State School, was in an automobile accident on the McMullen highway about 8 p. m., and sustained a broken left arm. He is in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, where he will remain as a patient for a few days. He is a son of Mrs. Clara Welling, Oakland.

Heads Women's Club

Mrs. Arthur Humbertson was elected president of the Business and Professional Women's club of Oakland at a regular meeting last Thursday evening. Others named were Miss Ruth Field, vice-president; Miss Helen Chisholm, secretary; Mrs. Richard Wolfe, treasurer. Mrs. W. E. Dawson is the retiring president.

Mrs. Dawson and Miss Mary Louise Helbig returned Sunday from Frederick where they attended the state convention of the group, at which time the former was named state chairman of news services.

Lions Club To Have Annual Ladies' Night

Members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club will have their annual Ladies' Night program at the Mt. Lake hotel on Monday, May 24, at 6:30 p. m., it has been announced.

Following the banquet there will be dancing with music by Regis Kerins and his orchestra, and cards will be provided for those who do not dance, it was stated. The Ladies' Night will take the place of the regular meeting of the club.

Takes Top Honors

In the annual series of judging contests sponsored by the agriculture council of the College of Agriculture of West Virginia university, in which 72 of the 325 students in agriculture took part, Lawrence Wensel, '50, won the agronomy contest in which various seeds and grass samples were identified.

To compete for the sweepstakes award students were required to take part in four of the five contests and Wensel took first honors.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wensel, south of town.

Flowers by Plane

Mrs. C. C. Orendorf, of near Grantsville, was much surprised on Mothers' Day, Sunday, May 9, when a box of flowers were dropped from an airplane over home.

The flowers were sent by her daughter, Mrs. Roy Resh, Canton, Ohio. The pilot was Paul Beitzel, also of Canton.

Because of a high wind they were carried about 200 feet from the house and were found in a stream of water, but in good condition.

F.F.A. Awards Are Presented To Accident

Harry McDonald, Maryland Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, at a recent meeting of the Accident Chapter F.F.A., presented the club with a plaque and national silver emblem that was won in the F.F.A. national livestock judging contest in Kansas City last October.

Donald Fratz and Warren Rush were the national participants. These two were also presented individual awards of a silver plaque emblematic of their individual and team standing.

Elect Officers

The Accident chapter installed new officers at the last regular meeting as follows: Robert Kolb, president; Hobert Bowser, vice president; Raymond Kisner, secretary; Jack Turney, treasurer; Harold Savage, reporter; Elwood Bowser, sentinel; M. G. Callis, adviser.

A report was made on the representatives from Accident in the county contest, Robert Kolb and James Storey, 1st in milk judging, $9; Donald Fratz and Hobert Bowser, 1st in poultry judging, $9; Allen Hanft, 1st in farm shop, $5; Raymond Kisner, 3rd in public speaking, $3. Winners agreed to put the total of $26 in the chapter treasury. In the state contest the placings were: farm mechanics, 8th; poultry, 9th; milk judging, 10th.

Bible Translator Here For Visit Will Speak Sunday at Park

Dr. William L. Wonderly, of Copainala, Chipas, Mexico, together with Mrs. Wonderly and their two children, are spending a few days with home folk near Mt. Lake Park. Dr. Wonderly, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wonderly, has been engaged in bible translation work in Mexico under the Wycliffe Bible Translators for a number of years. During this time he has reduced to writing the Zoque Indian language of southern Mexico, and has helped translate the Gospel of Mark into that language. It is being published by the American Bible Society, and will be the first portion of the Bible ever to be made available to the Zoque Indians in their native tongue.

Some of the problems connected with the translating of Scripture into a hitherto unwritten language will be discussed by Dr. Wonderly on Sunday, May 23rd, as he is to be speaker at the 11 o'clock service of the United Brethren Church at Loch Lynn on that date.

In connection with his work under the Wycliffe Bible Translators, Dr. Wonderly has taken advanced study at Indiana University and at the University of Michigan. In February of this year he was granted the degree of doctor of philosophy in linguistics at the University of Michigan. His thesis, written as part of his work for the Ph.D. degree, is an extensive work on the sound system and grammar of the Zoque language.

Dr. Wonderly will be leaving next week for Norman, Oklahoma, where he teaches each year at the Summer Institute of Linguistics, which meets on the campus of the University of Oklahoma. This is a summer school operated especially for missionaries and those preparing for missionary service; those who attend the school study how to learn a foreign language and how, where necessary, to reduce to writing an unwritten language anywhere in the world, analyze its grammar, and learn to speak it. The school is designed to serve personnel from all evangelical denominations and missionary organizations who wish to take advantage of it, especially those planning to do pioneer work or to translate parts of the Bible into some of the 1000 languages of the world which as yet remain unwritten, unanalyzed, and without any portion of the Scriptures.

Cromwell To Speak At Commencement

Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell, vocational and educational guidance supervisor, of the State Department of Education, will be the commencement speaker at the graduation exercises of Oakland High school on Thursday, June 10.

The exercises will be held in the auditorium at Mt. Lake Park, it was announced by F. D. Bittle, principal.

Vindex Woman Under Arrest for Larceny

Mrs. Myrtle Beeman, 52, of Vindex, was placed under arrest on Monday by Deputy Sheriff Paul W. Fisher, on a charge of larceny. She was charged with entering the Vindex Store and taking groceries, magazines and a camera.

She was released under her own recognizance, as she is in charge of the Vindex postoffice, as postmistress and her staying on the job was considered vital to keeping the federal activities moving. The postoffice inspector at Cumberland, was notified of the events.

According to W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney, Mrs. Beeman admitted taking the articles from the store, which is in the same building as the postoffice, with the parcel post window connecting the two rooms.

A preliminary hearing on the case is set for Monday, May 24, before Ember Barrick, trial magistrate at Kitzmiller. Roy Sowers, constable, also assisted in the investigation.

Stover said Mrs. Beeman had been employed in the postal department since November, 1943, and was named postmistress a few weeks ago.

Magistrate Busy

Magistrate H. A. Loraditch had 18 cases in two days, most of them for minor infractions, during the past week, he reported.

Ten young boys from Luke and Westernport were before him on charges of petty larceny. They assisted in subduing the forest fires around the Savage River dam and were charged with theft of property belonging to forest wardens. They pleaded guilty, were ordered to return the stolen articles and pay costs. Two were given suspended sentences to the House of Correction, while eight were given suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School.

Paul Coleman, sentenced to serve six months in the House of Correction on a charge of non-support, was taken to the House on Monday.

Mr. Loraditch said two small boys from Swanton, also pleaded guilty to petty larceny of quantity of junk and were released after refunding money obtained from sale of the junk, and paying costs of the case.

Bradley W. Rhodes, Deer Park, and Jake Tasker, Mt. Zion, who were charged with disorderly conduct, were tried before the magistrate and given small fines. The two were in an altercation on the streets of Oakland one day last week.

State's Attorney Stover said that on Saturday the police had picked up Donald Lee White and Larry Gentile, Jr., on route 219, and returned to West Virginia authorities where they were wanted on a charge of larceny of about $500 worth of articles from the Davis Coal and Coke company store at Thomas, W. Va. Stover said that when the boys were picked up they were outfitted entirely with new clothes from head to foot.

Birds Have Wars Too

Birds have wars too, just like human beings. And among their own race too.

A local couple heard a commotion the other day outside their home. Several robins were having a squabble. Presently one of the birds flew to a nest, apparently the nest of his adversaries. Soon the couple saw a featherless baby bird come tumbling from the nest, ruthlessly pushed out by the attackers. Then another and another until the nest was empty. Then the attackers took possession.

The baby birds of course lost their lives, and the parents were forced to fly away, to establish a new home.

Memorial Day Plans In Undecided Stage

Memorial Day plans were in an undecided stage this morning, as to whether the celebration would be observed Sunday or Monday.

American Legion officials said the exact date would be decided within a day or two. A parade is planned to include Veterans' organizations, Knights of Pythias lodge, Firemen, and other local groups, and the schools if held on Monday.

Observe 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Yutzy observed their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, May 16. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paige and two daughters, Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yutzy and two daughters, of Friendsville, their two children and families, were present for a family dinner. A number of friends also visited them during the day to express felicitations.

High Pressure Spray Subdues Fierce Fire in Record Time in Demonstration Friday

That a minimum amount of water used under heavy pressure could extinguish a hot fire in a matter of seconds was demonstrated successfully last Friday evening by a representative of the Food Machinery Corporation of Lansing, Michigan, in cooperation with members of the Oakland Fire Department.

A "house" built on the site of the old Glades hotel by members of the Fire Department while not beautiful to look at, was considered substantial. It was built of slabs of lumber, abandoned school bus stop stations, and augmented inside with a number of automobile tires. In order to make the demonstration more effective they poured on 100 gallons of motor oil, 15 gallons of gasoline, and 15 gallons of kerosene.

After the fire gained headway the demonstrators moved in. With a pump pressure of 850 pounds and pressure at the nozzle of 600 lbs, two streams of water were thrown on the flames. Water came from each high pressure fog nozzle at the rate of 30 gallons a minute. In a matter of two or three minutes the flames were out and only 100 gallons of water had been used.

The fire was built up again and a similar test made the second time with similar results.

Assisting in the demonstration was H. C. Stockdale, who designed the nozzle, of Ravenna, Ohio, a representative of the company for the Bean high pressure fog fire fighter.

In explaining the action of the water under pressure, it was told that the finely atomized fog at the 600-lb. gun pressure is so fine and light is is suspended in the air for a much longer time than coarser low pressure drops, and creates a steam which cuts out the air and reduces the flame to a minimum.

Three hundred gallons under such pressure has fire quenching ability of 3,000 gallons of low pressure water. The nozzle also discharges a fine heat absorbing insulating spray in front of the operator's face and shoulders. The gun was described as being 19 inches long, not heavy, with a trigger type shut off. It can be studied from the inset in the picture in the hands of Mr. Stockdale. The spray in front of the man may also be seen lightly.

Its fast attack, quick extinguishment, with minimum use of water, could easily prove a boon to farm people out of reach of a plentiful supply of water besides being valuable for effectiveness with a minimum damage by water. In the two demonstrations only a little more than 300 gallons of water were used. Under ordinary pressure of 120 lbs., such as is possible under the present equipment of the local fire company, 250 gallons of water a minute is used.

The demonstration was arranged by members of the fire department and Oakland Rotary club, and after the "show" the two organizations met at the William-James hotel for dinner where Mr. Stockdale spoke and showed several reels of pictures on methods of fighting fire.

Representatives from fire departments at Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Friendsville, Accident, Terra Alta and Gormania witnessed the demonstration and also attended the dinner.

Cancer Drive Short of Goal by $77.46

That the drive for funds with which to fight cancer had fallen short in this county by $77.46 was announced last night by the Lions club committee which had charge of the county-wide campaign.

The goal was $8600 and the amount received to date was $522.54. The cans were opened and counted last night at the Garrett National bank by Robert W. Lohr, Elza Bray, I. R. Rudy, Sr., Daniel P. Smouse, H. C. Riggs, Denzil Bowyer, Harold H. Harned and H. L. Bittner.

As soon as it was determined how close they had come to achieving their goal they hastened to formulate an appeal to the general public for the remainder of the amount.

They were of the opinion that there would be some who had not contributed previously or who would like to increase their contribution, and it was announced that additional donations would be received at Harned's Pharmacy or at the Garrett National Bank for a few days yet, in an effort to reach the quota.

To Honor Teacher

Patrons of the Mt. Lake School and others are planning to honor Mrs. Laura Welch, teacher in the Mt. Lake School for the past 21 years at a public meeting on Friday, May 28, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Welch will retire from active work on June 11.

Mrs. Welch has been a teacher in the Garrett county schools for the past 36 years, and besides Mt. Lake Park, has also taught at Deer Park and Crellin and other communities.

Patrons of the school, former pupils and other interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in the school house. F. E. Rathbun, superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Welch is the widow of the late Carl Welch, who died a number of years ago. She has two children, Joseph Welch, who resides at Mt. Lake Park; and Mrs. Robert Dively, in Ohio. She has made her home in recent years with Miss Josie Weimer, in the Park.

Grantsville Students To Give "Tulip Time"

Students of Grantsville High school's music department are preparing an operetta "Tulip Time," to be presented May 27 and 28 at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

Costumes are being furnished by the Home Economics department, and the scenery by the Vocational Agriculture department.

The scene is a market place in a village in Holland. Characters include Samuel Downey, Phyllis Resh, Donna Reckner, James Minick, Jane Bender, Paul Baum, Richard Bender, and Delford Crowe.

The chorus of Dutch villagers is composed of the junior and senior music classes. The chorus of American students is composed of the 8th and 9th grade music students.

Two More Pay Pledges To Hospital Fund

With the payment of the pledge of $1,200 to the hospital fund by the Oakland Rotary club, only $6,450 remain uncollected from the drive of a year ago. The Rotary club's actual contribution was $1,264 which made a total of $101,303.84 in the campaign for funds to augment the bequest of the late George W. Loar for the construction of a hospital. The original pledge had been counted in the total previously.

Only ten pledges remain unpaid to date. The pledge of the Masonic lodge of $1,043 was turned over to J. M. Jarboe, treasurer, this week also.

Golf Auxiliary Elects

At a meeting of the auxiliary of the Oakland Country club last night, Mrs. Emroy Bolden was elected president. Others elected were Mrs. Guy William Hinebaugh, vice-president; Mrs. W. E. Dawson, secretary; Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, treasurer.

The club planned a covered dish supper, to be held next Wednesday evening at the club house, at 6 o'clock. All members and those interested in joining the club were invited to attend.

Money Draws Interest On Oakland Streets

Oakland must be a good place in which to invest cash, because it even draws interest right on the streets of Oakland. We've got proof!

One day last week Prentiss Porter, First National Bank employe, was carrying a sack of pennies on his shoulder, nine thousand of them. At the corner of Second street and Bankers' Lane the fastener became loose and about half of the sack or about 4,500 pennies rolled to the street. It looked to Prentiss like some of them might have rolled down the sewer. It also looked discouraging to him.

Several Amish persons and others gathered to assist in the collection. Fortunately the town truck passed about that time and loaned a shovel. Then as the end of the job was in sight H. C. Sincell supplied a broom from his store.

Back at the bank Prentiss put them away, to count at his leisure. He fianlly completed the count last Friday.

He was two cents over!

Auxiliary to Install

The American Legion Auxiliary will have its installation of officers at a meeting on Sunday, May 23, at 2 p. m., in the armory, it was announced. There will also be initiation of new members.

Those to be installed are Mrs. Harry Turney, president; Mrs. Margaret Coffey, vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Brookhart, secretary; Miss Barbara Hinebaugh, treasurer; Mrs. James Nordeck, chaplain; Mrs. Wendell Turney, sergeant-at-arms.

Sale of Bonds in Drive Totals $27,785

The sale of series "E" and "G" bonds in the county in the Security Loan drive now totals $27,785, it was announced by H. C. Riggs, county chairman.

The drive is being conducted April 1 through July 15, and the county's quota is $140,000.

Track Meets Are Called Off for Lack of Transportation

1947 Law Prohibit School Busses For Such Purpose Without Special License

The county-wide track and field meets for both Elementary and high schools, scheduled to have been held today and tomorrow at Accident, have been postponed. The reason was declared to be lack of transportation, and the lack of transportation was said to be because of a law passed in 1947 which prohibits school bus operators from using their buses for anything other than their primary job of transporting to and from regular school sessions unless they have a special "charter" license, which costs a bus operator $30.00.

The announcement caused disappointment to at least 3,000 students in the schools of the county who had been practicing and training over the past several weeks. Notice of the postponement was not learned by the students until this week.

F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, said yesterday, that the officials were aware of the law last year but that conflict was caused because there was no county-wide track meet last year.

This year when the passage of the law was recalled an interpretation was sought and in a decision of the attorney general, he declared it does apply to school buses. Garrett county legislators told Mr. Rathbun that when the bill was passed they were assured that it did not affect use of school buses for the various school activities. In a meeting Tuesday night they approved action in the coming session next Tuesday which might lead to repeal of the offending clause in the law, or at least have Garrett county excepted.

Mr. Rathbun said all counties in the state were running into the same difficulty and that school officials were "up in arms" about it.

If the law is changed so that school buses may carry students to the track meet, Arthur Green, president of the school bus operators association, said the operators would be glad to do their part, and Mr. Rathbun said it would be possible to have the track meet early in June.

Some of the schools, fearing that postponement really means cancellation, are scheduling "play days" or track meets of their own and are inviting nearby schools. Oakland Elementary has scheduled such a day for next Tuesday and Swanton already has accepted the invitation to attend.

Heads P.-T.A. Group

D. C. MacMurray, of Loch Lynn, was elected president of the Oakland High' School Parent-Teacher association at the regular meeting held last Thursday evening.

Others named were Edward P. Kahl, Mt. Lake Park, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Harvey Swartzentruber, Oakland, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Harold H. Harned, Oakland, treasurer; and Arthur Humbertson, Oakland, secretary. The latter was re-elected. Mrs. Myra Martin was the retiring president.

Dr. J. E. Harned gave his illustrated lecture on wild flowers of the region. Refreshments were served.

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Poppy Week

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring the observance of Poppy Week this year, which will be from May 22 to May 30. Once a year America pays tribute to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars, and will help the living victims of war.

The flowers have been made in hospitals and work rooms by disabled veterans. The money derived from the sale of poppies goes entirely to welfare activities of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Individuals are being asked to honor the war dead and aid the war's living victims by wearing a poppy during Poppy Week.

Begins Work As City Street Superintendent

Clyde Sines of Oakland, began work as street superintendent for the town of Oakland on Monday morning. His appointment was made following a meeting of the City Council one day last week. He was a former employe of the county.

James Compton will remain as water superintendent.

Free State Forestry

J. E. Paulhamus

How many places throughout the county can cutover stands of timber be found where old, crooked, defective, poor quality trees are allowed to remain. These trees are often dismissed by saying "It doesn't pay to cut them." Does it?

When such trees are allowed to remain, they often increase in size to the extent that they take up and shade an excessive amount of space which reduces the amount available for young good quality stock. Over a period of successive cuttings, if the poor quality material is allowed to remain, the stand may reach the point where it is unprofitable to cut over it as there is not enough good quality material to warrant an operation. Such stands are not a remote possibility of the future but can be found at the present time!

True enough, much of this material will not pay for cutting from the standpoint of the products obtained from the tree itself, but it may more than pay from the viewpoint of future timber growth. Generally these old defective trees may have a rather slow growth rate, and one or two young vigorous trees will produce far more wood which will be profitable to cut.

Where an owner is interested in obtaining and maintaining a high quality stand of timber it will pay to remove these trees. If the products obtained will not pay for the cutting, the tree may be girdled with an axe by cutting a ring completely around the trunk. Care must be taken to sever all the bark as many trees will continue to live if only an inch or so of bark remains uncut.

Some work has been done in connection with poisoning of such trees. This process may be especially suitable to rough barked trees, but for smooth barked ones it appears to be about as easy to girdle them. Girdled trees often die and go to pieces gradually which tends to reduce the amount of damage to young standing timber. If the question arises as to whether or not this material is wasted by girdling it and allowing it to remain in the woods, consider the weeds in a garden—is it waste to cut down weeds? Forests can have "weeds" also.

Expect to Name Successor to Tait

Immediately after the adjournment of the Republican State Convention, which is being held today in Baltimore, Stanford L. Hoff, state senator from Carroll County is expected to be elected chairman to succeed Galen L. Tait.

This announcement was made at a dinner last Thursday night given by Jacob France, national committeeman for Maryland editors.

Mr. Hoff is one of the youngest members of the State Senate, and is a member of the legislative council. He is a native of Westminster and has been prominent in Republican circles for some years. Prior to serving nearly six years as a lieutenant-colonel in the Pacific theatre of World War II he was elected to a term in the House of Delegates in 1938.

The principal business coming before the State convention is the election of the party delegates to attend the national convention. Two will be chosen from each of the six districts and four at large. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., speaker of the House, will make the principal address at the convention.

Attending the convention from here are four delegates, W. Dwight Stover, Neil C. Fraley, J. Edward Helbig and Louis A. Morgart. Also attending will be State Senator Lawrence M. Fraley.

County To Remain on Standard Time

That the county would remain on standard time was definitely decided at a meeting of the County Commissioners on Tuesday afternoon when they had before them Mayor Joseph W. Hinebaugh and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, president of the Oakland City Council.

The delegation requested that the county go on Daylight Saving time beginning June 1, and continue to September 1.

The board advised them that since they feel "that the large majority of the citizens of the county object to daylight saving time they therefore will remain on standard time as far as the county is concerned."

What effect this would have on any action by the Oakland City council was not immediately known. The regular meeting of the Mayor and council is not scheduled until Monday, June 7, and there were no indications that any special meetings were contemplated.

The only other matter of business by the Commissioners, in addition to regular routine was when F. E. Rathbun, superintendent of schools, presented a bill from A. D. Naylor and company for $3,115 for plumbing, heating and a pump for the North Glade School. The Board ordered the clerk to contact Asa Lewis, principal and request him to come before them June 7 and report to them on the work done and if same is satisfactory. The commissioners said they would hold up payment of bill until they received the report.

Mercury Drops to 32

The mercury dropped to 32 degrees at the government station at Weber's this morning, but no evidence of frost was visible in this area. Other parts of the county may have been touched, however.

Rain fell on five days of the past week for a total of 2.26 inches. The heaviest day was on Friday. Hail fell in a number of places in the county at various times, especially on Sunday and Monday.

It was expected to warm up slightly today.

Some old-timers coming into The Republican office this week, said there was a snowfall twenty-five years ago on the 18th.

Oakland Wins 5 to 2

Oakland Amvets defeated Shallmar in an Upper Potomac Baseball league game last Thursday by the score of 5 to 2.

Costello accounted for three of Shallmar's four hits, while B. Wolfe made two of the five runs credited to Oakland.

Oakland Amvets were rained out of their scheduled game with Crellin last Sunday. Today they will play Loch Lynn in a league game on the high school field. On Sunday the team travels to Klondyke for a double header.

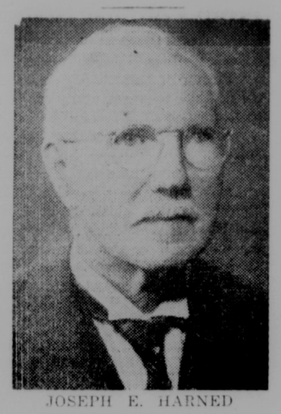
Arrangements have been made to tabulate game scores in the windows of Carroll's Sport Shop.

Spring Social Planned

The Red House P.-T.A. is sponsoring a joint program and social, Friday, May 28, at 8 p. m., at the school house. Highlights of the program will be string music, an amateur contest and refreshments. The public is invited.

New officers have been elected for the P.-T.A. for 1948-49. The results of the balloting elected Mrs. Millard Hayhurst, president; Ralph Deem, vice president; Mrs. Victor Lee, secretary, and Mrs. John Bachtel, treasurer. The retiring officers are Wayne Hamilton, Herbert Selders, Mrs. Paul Dixon and Mrs. John Bachtel.

To Receive Degree



JOSEPH E. HARNED

Joseph E. Harned, Oakland pharmacist, will be one of four to receive an honorary degree at the 58th annual commencement to be held at West Virginia Wesleyan college, Buckhannon, next Tuesday morning.

Along with Mr. Harned will be Dr. Irvin Stewart, president of West Virginia University, doctor of laws; Dr. Lewis H. Chrisman, professor of English literature, Wesleyan, doctor of humane letters; and Rev. Ross Linger, pastor Methodist church at Buckhannon, doctor of divinity.

Mr. Harned is famed throughout scientific fields as a botanist whose work, "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," fully illustrated, is a veritable encyclopedia of lore concerning the Appalachian flora and lists more than one thousand wild flowers, their histories and the legends which have grown up around them.

Mr. Harned plans to be there in person to receive the honor.

Bridal Shower Given

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sanner, Jr., recent newlyweds were honored with a bridal shower given in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sanner, Sr., in Friendsville, on Saturday evening, May 8th.

The house was decorated using a blue and yellow color scheme, and same was further carried out in the flower bedecked table, featuring a wedding cake as the center of attraction.

Fifty-five guests were in attendance coming from Pittsburgh, Somerset, Connellsville, Rockwood, Braddock, Pa., and Friendsville.

Comedy Well Attended

Several hundred persons attended the musical comedy, "Paints and Patches" given Tuesday evening by members of the Oakland Junior High School.

Over seventy students took part in the performance which was in charge of Miss Dorothy Fletcher and Mrs. Virginia McManus, assisted by other Junior High teachers. Between acts William Lambert, senior student, sang two numbers, and Miss Connie Smith played several piano selections.

What's Wrong With This Pitcher?

The pitcher is the umpire, too. He'll call his own pitches —and what kind of a ball game will that be?

We have the same situation in our business. Government—which regulates the electric companies—is in competition with them!

The electric companies recognize their public obligation to supply continuous and dependable service. They have provided America with the most and the best electric service in the world. Electric rates have been lowered steadily until today the average family gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago.

Yet today government sets up politicaly managed electric agencies, and runs them by a different set of rules. They receive subsidies, pay little or no interest on money they borrow, pay no Federal taxes.

If it can sell electricity on this basis, government call sell anything else the same way!

We believe that the people who work in our companies, as well as the people who have invested their savings in them, deserve the same protection from political attack that most other people still enjoy. When the umpire plays, too, should he call his own pitches?

It is to your benefit to know the facts about your electric service, and to ours to have you know them.

Listen to the Electric Hour—Every Sunday, 5:30 P. M., EDT, CBS.

What Is This School System?

The following article appeared the other day in "The Aegis," Bel Air, Harford County, Maryland. The local principal mentioned throughout the write-up was Mr. R. Bowen Hardesty, now ass't school superintendent of this county. At the time of the interview he was principal of the Aberdeen High School, to which the interested parent came as a stranger seeking information. Mr. Hardesty explained the program of studies in a modern high school to meet needs of boys and girls and gave the interested parent a copy of a speech (ten pages in length) he made at the National Convention of Superintendents and Principals in Atlantic City in February, 1947. From the speech at Atlantic City and the conference, the parent has written, "What Is This School System?"

We hear from our own and our neighbors' children the word: core. Does it mean center; or is it spelled c-o-r-p-s; or is it the Core (or Kohr) System? How does education differ in Maryland from ten years ago?

These latter questions I asked of a local principal some months ago. An attractive account had appeared that week in his school news column of a delightful second grade breakfast party. I thought: what a nice affair for that class of primary youngsters. I thought, again: breakfast party? Breakfast in School?

Tucking a handbag (in which I concealed a notebook and a long-pointed pencil) under my arm, I swirled into the office of the principal, who, the item had stated, attended the affair as honor-guest.

"Did all those children buy, prepare, and eat orange-juice, cereal, toast, butter, jam and milk?" I blurted standing before his desk, holding out the clipping.

As one who had enjoyed a specially good time, he nodded complacently.

"But why? And how?" I demanded, relaxing a little into the comfortable chair he motioned me toward.

He leaned back. "I wish more parents would come to school," he sighed with a friendly smile. Then he talked for almost an hour. I found myself meekly jotting notes

That second grade, he explained, was finishing a project on Foods, "a unit" they were using for study. Committees had shopped, decorated the room and set the table with placemats and cards. Invitations made by the class had been sent earlier. One little girl had been selected as hostess. Committees took care of all the work, supervised, of course. That small affair, he pointed out, furnished dozens of ideas for study and discussions weeks before and after the event—spelling words were derived from all the activities tied in with the party; reading for sources and preparation of foods; arithmetic from the marketing; grammar in the stories written (composition to the older person with less pleasant inspiration, I remembered!) A bit of culture; hospitality and practice of good manners. "Killing a bunch of birds with one stone," he summed the party.

The new system, he took up my questions, was not designed to be called "core," but it is naturally that: getting at the core of learning, boring into the heart of a problem, place or subject to be studied until the resources for that group of pupil-abilities are exhausted. The word core suggests thoroughness in solving the study-problem. It is actually the efforts of teacher, principal and supervisor, administrators of local "units," under the direction of the Maryland State Department of Education. The program is not yet 3 years old and is still in experimental process, but progressing as he was sure parents could sense and see concretely; such experimenting as the merging of Philosophy and History, History and English, Psychology and Problems of Democracy in the advanced grades.

It was initiated in Harford County in September 1945 with the 7th grade, the first year of the new Junior High School. Teachers attended a one-week workshop. Three "units" were made: (1) My Educational Opportunities (2) Understanding Myself and Others (3) How Environment Affects My Life. The schedule then included 2-hour core, a remedial period, mathematics, physical education, music, arts and crafts. The core teacher worked four hours of the school day teaching the core. Teachers met one day each month with the superintendent, high school and elementary supervisors to solve ordinary problems. In February 1946 Dr. Harold Alberty of the University of Ohio consulted two days in Harford with the 7th grade teachers. A 3-day session was held with 8th grade group concerned with understanding the program and its basic philosophy.

Core teachers worked then for the rest of the year in "areas" (1) needs, interests, adolescent problems (2) skills to be injected (3) democratic values to the achieved.

A 2-week workshop in which all teachers took part was held in the county in 1946. It was decided county natural resources would be used in building units. A unit is material used in the classroom for demonstration. Eight units were added to the ten from the state workshop.

Course Extended Second Year

"September 1946 extended the program to the second-year, or 8th grade," the principal went on. Industrial arts, home economics, agriculture and art were added to the 7th grade pattern.

A sequence of units were put into use as the theme: "The individual—a citizen of many communities" was being developed. The 7th Grade begins with the orientation unit "Exploring My Educational Opportunities," finding themselves where they are. From the school community they travel into the local, using resource unit "Knowing Harford County," followed by "Discovering Maryland As America In Miniature." The 8th grade program covers developing a concept of national and continental community consciousness through units "Relating Our Land And Our Resources to Our History" and "Finding Fellowship With America North And South."

My mouth was wide with fascination. What an uncomplicated plan for teaching—Geography? English? Science? and other subjects I was unable to list at the moment.

The plan for the ninth grade, he separated some papers on his desk, calls for continued sequence thru the unit "Our Shrinking World" emphasizing the individual role as a member of world community.

No complete list of areas was included in the core: Science and other social-study units are used by the class when the need arises to fit into their interests to solve the problems at hand.

The task of gathering teaching material is the cooperative effort of the Junior High supervisor, who came to the county in September of the second year, and the core teachers who take part in developing units. A variety of materials, books, pamphlets, is supplied each teacher and added resource provisions is made through the county office for transportation of classes on field trips and excursions.

The main difference between the core program and the old is the method of approach. Interests and needs of pupils determine the type of work. The object of the new system is to prepare a boy and a girl to take his, and her, place as a happy contributing member of our democratic society.

In purposeful learning, as the core intends, skills are developed slowly for permanent results; and for economy of time. The remedial period is the significant applied program: one-hour each day for Reading, English, Handwriting, Mathematics, Spelling as clearing-house for difficulties encountered in each day's routine. The old-fashioned method of repetition is employed at this point because of bad habits acquired in pupil-learning processes which must be smoothed away. Accuracy is stressed.

The aim of the Junior High is to provide wholesome development of pupils as individuals, and guidance cannot be separated from these courses. What will the child want to do in life? What are his capabilities? Where to attend colleges? How can he improve his work? Here, the guidance teacher gives valuable help.

The system encourages teacher and pupil to plan together but only as far as the capabilities of both will permit. It requires more teacher guidance and direction than the old system. The librarian is also an important figure; core teachers work with her. In fact the librarian may well be termed the hub of any school.

The supervisor keeps in touch with work in core classes, encourages and watches improvements. She helps in the selection of material, contributes to training of teachers in this program. She holds conferences with core and special-subject teachers. Upon the cooperation of teachers and supervisors depends the success of the system.

The principal serves the system in many ways; he takes complete charge of his particular school. He must have the sympathetic support of his entire staff; help those teachers, though well-trained, to whom the system is new. He must see that every member of the faculty understands core philosohy. He must plan schedules so that teachers can be freed for core planning. His school should present a pleasant environment, the classrooms be livable as to lighting and coloring, sources for an increase in children's pride. He is the practical adviser in Parent-Teacher groups. In fact his school should be smoothly-run. (His most certainly was, I could not help thinking. I had met only courtesy and industrious quiet hails).

"Then," I had been mute too long, "I'm not to assume a bus filled with school children passing my door in the middle of the afternoon mean a glorious picnic?"

He nodded: "What you will be viewing is a class enroute to a local cannery, a bank, a court, or storage plant, drawing information from their surroundings. But they will review that material from the textbook when the class returns to school Seeing is believing and highly instructive. We might transport a group of city or town primary children to a large farm for the two-hour period; rural children we'd keep occupied with a subject foreign to their locale. Children's experiences must be broadened."

He hoped earnestly, as he pushed open his office door for me, with the new system more girls and boys will complete high school than in previous years; their interest in current affairs will grow. It is the faculty's desire to develop more skills but most important, to establish good work and study habits. He hoped, too, to see better pupil attitudes and keener appreciation. As if he could not get away from his subject, he prophesied the system would eventually spread to all departments of high school, as it becomes better understood, more materials are available and the new buildings are completed already planned.

In this correspondent's opinion, steadying itself before our eyes is the best system we have had in our Harford County. It is, truly, plenty of the old but innovated with vision, flexibility. Guidance is control under which the child is no less free but in better channels, with the realization where he is and where he is going. It is reassuring that vocational groups in high school will receive as much attention as those intending to go to college.

The system will be only as good as its teachers. Raising salaries to hold our good teachers was the first important step in its administration. Buildings will come next and rather fast because of the great need for them, simultaneously with those books and materials the school board can afford. With smaller classes under special, core and remedial teachers, in time, the system will function smoothly—that is, if we, the parents, continue giving it our support.

This school system is progress! Let's watch its growth.

WHEN YOUR COWS ARE ON PASTURE...
Record keeping dairymen have found it pays to feed a small amount of Tuxedo Dairy, even when pastures are at their best. They then gradually increase the amount as pastures deteriorate. Thus the deficiencies of the grass are offset; the cows are kept in good bodily condition; there is no drop in milk production when the shift is made from pasture to full feeding.
The Tuxedo Dairy you feed while your cows are on pasture can continue to pay dividends in the extra milk you get months later.

Well, mister! You left yourself wide open. Because any Buick owner will tell you –

It was Buick, no one but Buick, who put Fireball combustion under your bonnet to give you the liveliest, goin'est bundle of horsepower you ever put your treadle foot to.

It was Buick, no one but Buick, who first floated each of all four wheels on a soft coil spring that's like a sofa cushion between you and the bumps.

It was Buick, no one but Buick, who first stepped out with Safety-Ride rims – rims made wider to lower air pressures and to give you better car control to boot – the widest rims in the industry, in fact.

It was Buick, no one but Buick, who spent the brain-sweat to develop Hi-Poised mounting – a completely new system of engine mounting to take engine sensation and vibration build-up out of your driving ken.

It was Buick, no one but Buick, who wrapped your ride in velvet, paved the roads with plush, and fired this whole gallant traveler with silken power ample enough and lively enough to make you monarch of any highway.

And you say you want thrills – you want fun – you want action.

Well, mister – just show some of the latter.

BITTINGER

The pupils of the local public school will hold an entertaining program and social in the school building on Tuesday, May 25, at 8:30 p. m. DST.

Helen Glotfelty and Danny Engler, of Westminster, spent the week-end at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Glotfelty.

Mrs. Silas Beachy spent several days last week visiting Fred Beachy and family at Mt. Lake Park.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wiley and son, Roland, of Reisterstown, spent the week-end with friends and relatives in this community. They were accompanied by Alberta Glotfelty, also of Reisterstown.

Charles Wiley and daughter, Otis, and Thomas Wiley and daughter, Buena, all of Canton, Ohio, visited relatives here on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beachy and family, of North Glade, spent last Sunday afternoon with Mr. Beachy's mother, Mrs. S. C. Beachy and his brother, Jonas Beachy and family.

The Junior Sewing Circle of the Mennonite Church met at the home of Mrs. Roy Beitzel, Saturday afternoon.

Kathyrn Metzler, of Harrisonburg, Va., is spending some time with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Metzler.

David Brentner and small son, of Keyser, W. Va., while enroute from Keyser to Morgantown, W. Va., last Sunday in an airplane, were forced by weather conditions to make an emergency landing near the Beachy School. Later in the day they were able to take off and return to Keyser.

Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Shawley, Friday night, with sixteen members present. Mrs. Fred Bittinger, Mrs. Elmer Shawley and Mrs. George Shawley were leaders of the topic, "The World to Christ We Bring Through Healing." Refreshments were served. Other members taking part in the program besides leaders were: Mrs. Herbert Buckel, Mrs. Lawrence Brenneman, Mrs. Ira Yaste, Mrs. John Reckner, Mrs. Orval Glotfelty, Mrs. W. E. Buckel, Mrs. Rex Buckel, Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, Mrs. Lawrence Buckel, Mrs. Marvin Beitzel, Mrs. Ralph Buckel, Mrs. O C. Buckel, Pastor and Mrs. C. H. Runze, and Mrs. Lester Smith. Mrs. Kermit Glotofelty is attending the annual convention at Jackson's Mills, W. Va., as a delegate from the society this week. Pastor and Mrs. Runze and Robert Glotfelty are also attending the convention.

P.-T.A. Meeting

About 35 patrons of the Beachy School were invited to the home of Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty one night recently to see moving pictures shown by Mr. and Mrs. Mason Glotfelty, of Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Glotfelty attended a Rotary convention in California last June and took pictures of scenes of interest on their trip, including Pikes Peak in Colorado, Bridal Veil Falls in Yosemite Park, and other scenes. Then he showed a film entitled "Adventures of Three Bears" for the children. During the business meeting Mrs. Reckner read Bulletin News from the State Office concerning duties of officers, the health bill before congress and the summer convention of the P.-T.A. at College Park, July 13-14-15. The school is planning to attend the county athletic meet at Accident this Thursday. Jonas Beachy was the only nominee for trustee for the school year 1948. Officers elected for the ensuing year for P.-T.A. were Mrs. Jonas Beachy, president; Mrs. Robert Ash, vice-president; and Mrs. William Glotfelty, secretary and treasurer. The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Club Meeting

Miss Lucille Glotfelty was hostess to the Homemakers club in May with nine members present. The club is sending a "CARE food package" to their adopted family in Belgium. Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, president, had charge of the meeting.

Legion District In Favor of "Vet" Bonus

Mountain District American Legion, representing posts in Allegany and Garrett counties, officially approved the action of Farrady Post No. 24, Frostburg, in sponsoring a movement to obtain a state bonus for Maryland veterans of World War II, similar to that paid veterans of some other states.

Action was taken Sunday at a district meeting in Grantsville at the new home of the Grantsville post, following the annual "I Am An American Day" and rehabilitation Day program.

The question of the bonus is to be put before the state convention late this summer, according to James Kenney, district vice-commander.

State commander Harry Allen, Laurel, and State Adjutant Jack Tribby, Baltimore, suggested the bonus question be referred to the state executive committee for recommendation to the convention.

Harvey Gortner, commander of the Grantsville Post, welcomed the visitors and presided at the opening phase of the meeting.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herron, South Lincoln Ave., Salem, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Marie, to Jack F. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Bowman, of Crellin.

Miss Herron is a graduate of Salem High school, class of 1947, and is secretary at the Catholic Charities Bureau, Salem.

Mr. Bowman, World War II veteran, served five years in the U. S. Marine corps. He was graduated from Oakland High school in 1942. He is now employed by the Mullins Manufacturing Corporation in Salem.

No date has been set for the wedding.

These were the days of the Ol' Covered Wagon, when vast stretches of fertile farming lands and rich mining country lured the pioneers across our western plains.

Packed in these lumbering vehicles were camping materials, stores of food and medicines, clothing and tools and weapons. Ah, weapons! For hostile Indians lurked on every hand.

These were the rugged people who settled our West, and bore the torch of civilization across plain and mountain to the Pacific.

But the covered wagons carried something besides the pioneers and their material belongings westward. They carried the faith of a great people, and they planted it in every village and settlement.

Faith is the foundation on which the West was built—as the East had been built before it. Faith in God and the right, in people and work and prayer. This is the true source of a nation's greatness.

Every church spire pointing heavenward blazens the secret of our country's strength.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

What Has He To Lose?

It is true that Mr. Truman's popularity is at a low ebb. At this moment he hardly has enough prestige to talk about. Politicians in his own party berate him with even more ardor than the Republicans. Scarcely a day goes by in which the "liberal" journalists who once used to patronize him protectively do not ingeniously present some more or less lurid incident designed to show him in an unfavorable light.

Especially—though with less real reason than any other—does the small group of intimates of the late Mr. Roosevelt labor in this direction. Some of these try to make him out a fool; others depict him as a villain. Of course, Mr. Truman is neither one nor the other. Actually, he is a decent little man trying to do the best he can. He makes many mistakes, but his chief piece of bad luck is that he inherited the dreadful economic and political mess created by his flamboyant predecessor and the regiment of cocky and preposterous individuals with whom, for thirteen years, he ran the country. Some of the Truman troubles are due to himself, but, considering his inheritance, most of them were inevitable. At any rate, his most optimistic friend would not consider his situation now as pleasant nor his prospects good.

Nevertheless, it would not yet be wholly wise to sweep Mr. Truman up in a corner and strike a match. There are several conceivable ways by which his popularity could be increased and his prestige regained in the five months before November. For one thing, this business of kicking Mr. Truman around may be overdone. The most potent force in politics is sympathy. Once let the people get the notion that Mr. Truman is the underdog, unjustly beaten and stoned by men, themselves of little merit and with obviously selfish purposes to serve—once let them begin to say, "Hold on, he isn't as bad as all that," or "Wait a minute, that ain't right"—once let them begin to feel and talk like that and despite his inadequacies, Mr. Truman might be elected. A good many years ago, a mayor of Baltimore, with the odds heavily against him, was elected largely because his opponents overplayed his conceded dumbness.

And there are ways by which Mr. Truman himself may greatly improve his position. Right now, for example, there seems an opportunity in the recently threatened railroad strike which compelled him to seize the railroads to avert a great national calamity. In this controversy, union bosses representing less than one-tenth the railroad employes, refused to arbitrate and rejected the findings of the President's Fact Finding Board. This made a mockery of the Railroad Labor Act which had worked perfectly for 20 years. But it was in accord with the pattern set by Mr. Roosevelt in 1941, when, the unions refusing to accept its verdict, he recalled his own Emergency Board and through White House pressure compelled it to make further concessions to the men. This effectively scuttled the act, and the scuttling was repeated by Mr. Roosevelt in 1943. It having been demonstrated that more could be gained by disregarding the law than in any other way, the union bosses naturally have taken that way since.

For a handful of men thus to prove themselves stronger than the Government and above the law is humiliating and degrading. It must fill every understanding American citizen with resentment and shame. Yet, the individual citizen is as helpless as the Government. The effects of a general railroad strike would be so awful that there seems no choice but capitulation. Literally, the nation could be paralyzed. The food supply of the great cities would be cut off. Complete industrial and economic prostration would ensue. Chaos would occur in a week. This is what faced Mr. Truman last week when he took over the roads. For the time being he has averted the strike, but the union bosses still have the weapon by which they can frighten the Government into the action they want and hold the nation at their mercy.

Suppsoe now Mr. Truman having twice undergone this shameful experience, should go to Congress and to the people, in effect, saying: "This is an intolerable situation. I am a friend of organized labor but neither organized labor nor any other group should have the power to strangle this nation and coerce its Government. These bosses have that power and at frequent intervals threaten to use it. Its mere possession menaces the economic welfare of the country, the very lives of our citizens and the national security. It no longer can be borne. No such thing as a strike against a public utility should be possible. No such thing as a strike against municipal, state or Federal government should be possible."

"I ask the Congress immediately to pass a compulsory arbitration law that forever will eliminate these threats to our existence and take away this weapon which makes a small group of men more powerful than the Government itself." Suppose Mr. Truman should, in the next few weeks, say something like that! Can anyone doubt that he would get an overwhelmingly favorable response from the people and prompt action from Congress? Further, can anyone doubt that there would be a real increase in Mr. Truman's popularity and prestige? It is an intolerable situation. Action along these lines is needed. Mr. Truman would be on the soundest possible ground in demanding it. And, after all, what has he to lose?

Outdoor Eating

Good nutrition can unite with the wholesome recreation needed for good mental hygiene when the family enjoys meals cooked and eaten camp-style, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of Health reminds Marylanders now, at the beginning of the outdoor season. In recommending frequent open-air picnics, Dr. Riley gave the press this statement prepared by the Chief Nutritionist of the State Department of Health.

"The woods and waterfronts of Maryland offer delightful settings for outdoor cooking and eating. It is necessary to choose a site where water is available for cooking and dishwashing, even though drinking water should be carried from home. Accessibility of wood suitable for a fire is also important, and campers are advised to know their woods so that they can choose the appropriate ones for kindling and coaling. Open fireplaces and grills are useful if available but are by no means necessary, for a highly satisfactory hunters' and trappers' fire can easily be built on two sturdy logs half buried in the ground—touching at one end and separating at a rather narrow angle.

"It is not necessary or desirable to spend the previous day preparing picnic foods. The entire family can participate in 'on-the-spot' cooking and derive pleasure from the experience. A utensil meal cooked in a single pot might consist of chile con carne, creamed chipped beef with vegetables or a stew. Non-utensil meals—cooked on sticks or grills made from green twigs—might include ground meat balls mixed with corn flakes, cheese wrapped in bacon, frankfurters or shish-kabahs made by placing meat cubes, bacon, onions, potatoes or other vegetables alternately on a stick and cooking over the fire. Whole potatoes can be baked and corn roasted in the husk. Dessert dishes might include chocolate melted between graham crackers or toasted marshmallows.

"Outdoor meals should follow the general pattern of meat, vegetables, fruits, bread and dessert. Raw vegetables and fruits can be prepared and combined in salads and desserts. Vegetables that can be eaten alone or together include tomatoes, carrots, cucumbers, lettuce, cabbage and green peppers. Suitable fruits include apples, oranges, peaches, pears, plums, a whole pineapple cut into sections or strawberries dipped in powdered sugar and eaten from their caps. A juicy fruit or vegetable helps to satisfy thirst. Cocoa cooked in a pot held by a crane is a welcome addition.

"Tin or plastic dishes may be washed in the rinsed-out cocoa kettle. To facilitate removing black soot it is desirable to rub the outside of pots and kettles with yellow soap before using them over an open fire. Needless to say, the site should be left as clean and attractive as it was found."

Air Power Is Peace Power

Editor
The Republican
Oakland, Maryland.
Dear Sir:

A most urgent problem faces the American people today. In these troubled times, so soon after World War II when the need for adequate national security is so evident, we find that America has so crippled her air defenses that in the event of a future war we would be almost totally unprepared.

On one side we have a popular demand for relief from heavy taxation. On the other side is the crying need for a strong national air defense particularly during this period of international friction and unrest.

Of all the proponents of preparedness, no group is more firm in its views than veterans of the wars. They know war best and like it least.

The American Legion is firmly convinced that the urgent lesson of the recent war was the advent of Air Power as the greatest striking force in the world. And yet today, two years after the end of the war, America is closing the race for Air Power, although we know that Air Power will dominate the wars of the future.

We entered World War II as a dangerously weak fifth-rate Air Power. Fortunately, we were given the time to prepare once we were in the war. We built, after several years, the finest air force in the world. Our aircraft industry in its wartime peak was turning out 100,000 planes of all types a year. We were the world's greatest Air Power without question. But that was two years ago. Now we have what General Spaatz of the AAF called "an Air Force-in-Memory, not one in being."

During 1946 our aircraft industry turned out fewer than 1,500 military and transports planes. In 1944, it turned out 100,000 planes. In a recent article in Collier's, W. B. Courtney, its European correspondent, states flatly that current Russian production is at least 100,000 aircraft a year. The hard-pressed, economy-minded British have slashed their budgets, but they still have an RAF which is larger than our own Army Air Forces.

In contrast, if there was a national emergency tomorrow, we could not produce the planes to meet it. Our aircraft industry, the base of our Air Power, would require at least two years to swing into full production—providing that it wasn't totally or partially destroyed by the initial lightning air attacks of a future aggressor. It would take two years to put our aircraft industry into production again. Those are two years we will not have in the event of a future war.

The American Legion has long been a strong supporter of aeronautics, and its position in the security and economic life of the nation. Because it has recognized the dangers that we face in our present weakened condition, The American Legion has entered upon a very active campaign of education to bring to the American people the knowledge that "Air Power is Peace Power" and that without Air Power there can be no military security for our country.

We must insure a maximum production of superior aerial weapons in a minimum of time. Because of current advances in science and aeronautics, this nation's World War II combat planes are now outmoded. Unless our country wants to stand still on the threshhold of this air age, we must have extensive research program and adequate testing facilities.

An alert industrial preparedness [illegible] not only thousands of lives but billions of dollars. In considering steps to assure our future security, we must abandon wishful thinking and be realistic. We cannot continue banking indefinitely upon our luck. The next time we will be War Target No. 1 and will not have friends to hold our enemies at bay while we prepare.

Every thinking citizen should realize the singular importance of Air Power to our national security and to world peace. There can be no defense except through constant preparedness in the air.

Polio Foundation Augments County Funds by $1,360

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis augmented the county fund this past week by sending $1,360 to pay hospital bills which have been piling up over the past several months, it was announced by Dr. E. L. Baumgartner, chairman.

The county now has two infantile paralysis patients in hospitals, Danny Friend, of Friendsville, and Marvin Arnold, of near Gorman. They have been in hospitals for the past several months.

The letter to Dr. Baumgartner from Louis C. Haughey, comptroller of the National Foundation, stated:

"After crediting your chapter with the amount of $76.22 which you contributed to the Epidemic Aid Reserve Fund on August 6, 1947, the balance of $1,283.78 we consider an advance made to your chapter, which may be repaid to the National Foundation from subsequent fund raising appeals on any basis which your Chapter considers fair. Please be assured that none of the officers or members of your chapter is personally liable for the repayment of these funds. It is the policy of the National Foundation to stand ready and willing to assist all chapters in financing the necessary costs for medical care during an epidemic, and no victim of infantile paralysis must go untreated because of lack of funds regardless of age, race, creed or color."

Warnick by deed from Fred A. Thayer, Trustee, dated January 5, 1914, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 65, folio 260, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, the same being part of the tract of land called "Lochiel" and described as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING for the same at a stake, and running thence North 64 degrees East, 115 perches to the end of the 12th line of said whole tract called "Lochiel", and running thence with the lines thereof, South 72 degrees East, 54 perches; South 12 degrees East, 92 perches; South 44 degrees East, 20 perches; North 52 degrees West, 30 perches; and thence by a straight line to the beginning, containing 64-½ acres.

Said land is situate along the County road leading from New Germany to Barton, about one mile East of the Savage River. It adjoins the properties of Elsie Custer, David Warnick, the late J. W. McIntyre, and the State of Maryland. It is mostly pasture land but there is a small amount of timber. It is improved by a seven-room dwelling, in fair condition, and there is a small orchard.

Remains of Two Veterans Enroute To Garrett County

Remains of two Garrett county veterans are among those being returned to the United States.

The body of Flight Officer Robert A. Nicholson, army air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nicholson, of Mt. Lake Park, is among the 2,530 Americans being returned from Africa aboard the U. S. Army transport Barney Kirschbaum. A total of 26 remains are being returned upon instructions of next of kin residing in Maryland.

The body of Ralph R. Kahl, baker 2nd class, U. S. Navy, husband of Evelyn M. Kahl, 60 Pennington street, Oakland, is among the 1,941 Americans being returned from the Pacific islands aboard the U. S. Army Transport Albert M. Boe.

Armed forces dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries on Iwo Jima, Saipan, Guam and Tinian are among those being brought back from the Pacific, while those interred near battlefields of North Africa are among those being brought back from the Atlantic area.

The army stated that each next of kin would be notified in advance of the return. From ten days to three weeks will elapse after arrival of the ship before distribution centers of the American Graves registration service will be able to advise of the date when to expect the remains.

Under the program for final burial of World War II dead, next of kin may elect to have remains returned to the United States for burial in a private or national cemetery, or may request interment in a permanent American military cemetery overseas or a private cemetery in a foreign country which is the homeland of the deceased or of the next of kin.

GRANTSVILLE

C. E. Ashby and Mrs. Roy Mickey attended the funeral of Mr. D. T. Ashby, at Loch Lynn, Wednesday afternoon.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

By a vote of 219 to 142 the House last week passed the Hoffman Bill which would require any and all officials in the Executive Branch of the Government, except the President himself, to furnish information requested or subpoenaed by any Congressional Committee. Recently a number of the agencies of the Government have refused to furnish such information. Under the provisions of the Hoffman Bill all officials of the Executive Branch of the Government would be required to furnish information or papers, upon committee demand, and a majority vote and approval of such demand by the Speaker of the House or President pro-tem of the Senate. The Committee by majority vote could require such information or records be kept confidential, with a penalty of one thousand dollars fine or a year in jail for any member or employee of the committee who might violate the rule of secrecy.

Last week the Senate Public Lands Committee by a vote of 7 to 5, voted to postpone further consideration of a bill, previously passed by the House, which would make Hawaii the 4th State. The Committee members expressed a desire to visit Hawaii for a close study of the situation there before reaching any definite decision on statehood legislation. Another bill to make Alaska a State has not been acted upon by either branch of Congress.

Army and Navy Public Works

The Armed Services Committee has reported H.R. 6341 and 6342 which provides for the construction of certain public works for the Army, Navy and Air Corps. For some time I have been working with various organizations and groups in trying to have certain projects included in this legislation. The bill provides for complete plans and specifications for the construction of an Army Institute of Pathology Building and a new one thousand bed general hospital at the Walter Reed Annex at Forest Glen. It is hard to visualize this as the largest medical center in the world. It would make this area the most important medical area of the world, especially when you consider that it already ranks high because of the Navy Medical Center and the National Institute of Health located at Bethesda. It is the Army's desire that this hospital be built at Forest Glen.

Also included in the bill is a provision for $862,830 for Camp Detrick, Frederick, Maryland, and this money will be spent for family quarters, munitions loading building, crop research and utilities. Camp Detrick is now a permanent installation of the Chemical Warfare Division. The Navy will be authorized to make additions some of which will be in the Sixth District. In order to provide for the completion of supersonic wind tunnels and aerodynamics range; explosives research facility, the Naval Ordnance Laboratory at White Oaks has been earmarked to get $2,275,000. Another Naval installation that will receive $1,410,000 for wind tunnels and associated facilities is the David Taylor Model Basin at Carderock, Maryland. The legislation providing for these projects will probably come before the House this week and I mean to work toward keeping them in the bill.

Under The Dome

I met with the Takoma Park Chamber of Commerce at which time we discussed Eastern Avenue and my Bill H.R. 5592 which would permit certain property owners to file objections and exceptions to awards and damages and assessments of benefits growing out of condemnation proceedings for the extension of Eastern Avenue.

I asked the State Department for all pertinent information relative to an American veteran of World War I who is being held prisoner of the Greek Government. The children of this prisoner have filed a petition with the State Department asking for the release of their father.

The Ways and Means Committee announced that it probably will have a general tax revision bill ready for House action on May 24. You may be interested to know that the committee also has approved H.R. 3825 which would remove the excise tax from toilet preparations sold at retail to operators of barber shops and beauty parlors. The Ways and Means Committee also approved H.R. 6556 extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act in a modified form until June 30, 1949. This bill may come before the House this week.

PRATT BALT

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MAY 27, 1948. NUMBER 13.

To Be Read and Pondered .

There is a sentence in the Second Annual Report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers which should be read and pondered by every American who has the slightest interest in preservation of liberties. The sentence says that it shall be "the continuing policy and responsibility of the Federal government to use all practicable means. . . . . to coordinate and utilize all its plans, functions, and resources, for the purpose of creating and maintaining. . . . . conditions under which there will be afforded useful employment opportunities, including self-employment, for those able, willing and seeking to work, and to promote maximum employment, production, and purchasing power."

The language may be bleary, but the meaning is clear. It amounts to a recommendation that the government be given authority to direct and control all industrial, agricultural and other production tools in the country, for unless that is done, how will it be possible for the government to attempt to guarantee that everyone will have a job, be prosperous and have cradle to the grave security?

It is, of course, the old planned economy argument couched in highly generalized terms. The fact that no country, including ours, has been able to make a planned economy produce anything except a lower standard of living and a browbeaten people doesn't seem to bother the Economic advisers in the slightest. Nor does the equally obvious fact that giving unlimited authority to an army of politicians, with only a talent for hanging on to a public job, is the surest way to gum up the production machine.

The doctrine bears a very suspicious resemblance to the European "isms" where the state plans everything, does everything, guarantees everything—and the individual pays the tax bill.

The whole tone of the report is that free enterprise is a bad and dangerous thing, and that it should be replaced by more and bigger governments. That pattern would destroy everything of freedom that still remains.

Red Cross Plans to Continue "Learn To Swim" Program

Plans to continue the "learn to swim" program for school children of the county, appointment of a disaster committee, and other business were discussed at a meeting of the directors of the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross, on Tuesday afternoon.

The Learn to Swim program is expected to get under way about the middle of June. Last year a large number of children participated in the various classes of instruction.

A county disaster committee was appointed including F. E. Rathbun, chairman; Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Mrs. Hazel Walter, Oakland; Harvey Gortner, Grantsville; William Frazee, Friendsville; B. O. Aiken, Accident; and Milton Pritts, Kitzmiller.

Julius B. Littman, first aid chairman, reported that all the first aid kits had been checked, and also the five first aid stations on the lake. John Michael Dunn completed two classes of first aid at Grantsville school, it was noted.

Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county chairman, reported 60 cases of eye glasses, and several emergency relief cases in the path of the tornado in the northern part of the county, handled among the many current activities of the chapter.

Annual Meeting Date Set

The date for the annual county-wide membership meeting was set for Friday evening, June 18, at 8 o'clock, standard time, at the city hall, Oakland. At this time reports of various committees will be given and election of officers will take place. Officers to be elected are chapter chairman, vice-chairman, treasurer, and two members of the board for three-year terms. The nominating committee includes Mrs. Hazel Walter, Mrs. Edith Pew and John Fitzwater.

Mrs. E. Z. Tower presented her resignation as chairman, but directors voted unanimously to refuse to accept it.

Resigns Pastorate

Rev. George H. Coker, Baptist pastor in this area since September, 1944, and present pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist church, read his resignation to his congregation at the regular worship service on Sunday morning. The resignation will take effect June 13.

Rev. Coker has accepter the pastorate of the Baptist church at Rehoboth, Md., near Pocomoke City, and will leave Deep Creek on June 14.

Coming here in September, 1944, from Washington, D. C., he was pastor of the Garrett Baptist Field which included churches at Mt. Lake Park, Deep Creek and Ferndale. In January, 1946, he became pastor of the Deep Creek church, the other two charges being served by Rev. James MacLeod.

A native of Atlanta, Ga., Rev. Coker was ordained in the Laurel church at Fort George G. Meade in October, 1943.

It was announced that Dr. William J. Crowder, superintendent of state missions of the Baptist church, of Baltimore, will be the interim pastor.

Mrs. Beeman Relieved As Vindex Postmaster

Mrs. Myrtle Beeman, 52, Vindex postmaster, has been displaced as of May 18, postal inspector's office at Cumberland revealed Monday night.

Mrs. Beeman was given a hearing Monday before Magistrate Ember Barrick, Kitzmiller, on a breaking and entering charge and was released on $500 bond, pending action of the Garrett County grand jury.

It is understood the former postmaster entered a plea of guilty of breaking and entering an adjoining store, but denied taking groceries, a magazine and a camera.

Miss Emma Sharpless, of that area, was installed as acting postmaster. Mrs. Beeman was displaced upon recommendation of the postal inspector's office which investigated state charges against her.

Questionnaires Sent To 2070 Veterans

Two thousand seventy questionnaires have been mailed out by the county veterans' housing committee to ascertain the housing needs of World War II veterans here, and a number of them already have been returned, it was announced by Edward P. Kahl, chairman, this week.

Mr. Kahl said the Maryland Veterans Housing commission is endeavoring to compile information on the housing shortage in order to plan a legislative program for the construction of new homes for veterans. He stressed the importance of every veteran in the county completing his questionnaire and returning it as soon as possible to help conclude an accurate survey of housing conditions.

Any veteran in the county who did not receive one of the survey forms through the mail may get one from Charles Wilt, Accident; William F. Frazee, Friendsville; Harvey Gortner, Grantsville; Rev. Jonathan Edwards, Kitzmiller, who are members of the committee; from the Maryland Employment Service, Oakland, or by writing to Veterans Housing committee for Garrett county, Oakland. Oakland members of the committee include Mr. Kahl, J. Edward Helbig, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, and Edward Schmidt.

The questionnaire requests information on whether the veteran owns his home or is a tenant, if present conditions are satisfactory, how many members in his family and how many rooms would be required in a new building.

Cumberland Firm Is Low Bidder on Sidewalk Construction

The George F. Hazelwood company, Cumberland, submitted the low bid to the State Roads Commission on a local project of constructing a sidewalk. The firm offered $16,121.

This includes construction of a steel and concrete sidewalk, gunite repairs, and cleaning and painting of the existing steel girder bridge over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Oak street. Similar repairs are to be made on a bridge over the B. and O. tracks at Wilson near Altamont.

THOUGHT TREND TOWARD NEED OF JUNIOR COLLEGE

Is Considered a Possibility in County Seat In Survey Report Now Being Prepared

Included in the modern trend of education in this area, is the consideration of a junior college in this county. This type of thinking is indicated in the survey report, now being prepared following the surveys conducted by Doctors Newell, Morphet and Engelhardt in this county recently, according to R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant county superintendent of schools.

However, the latter pointed out that it was recognized by these men that only one such institution could be justified, and according to the report, does not mean extra money would be spent on the new high school in order to make it usable as a junior college.

This type of thinking or recommendation for future activity here is substantiated in a report on higher education in Maryland published February, 1947, by The American Council on Education, Washington, D. C., and studied by the state department of education in Maryland. This report makes the following statement in reference to this county: "High school enrollment in Garrett county justifies the expectation of a small junior college at the county seat."

The report for this county also points out that the new high school building could be used for junior college (13th and 14th year) from 3:30 to 10 p. m., as is the case now in two junior colleges operating in Maryland in Washington and Montgomery counties. It was explained that credits for courses to be offered in a junior college could be transferred to other colleges. Providing there was such a set-up here any person could continue to work for a degree, the individuals who were not interested in that kind of studies that courses considered "terminal" could be studied. "In Garrett county such courses considered terminal would be concerned with farm, forestry, recreation, floristry, or some other type of activities out of which youth can make a fine livelihood if he is trained and properly directed," Mr. Hardesty said. To these courses might come those who had discontinued their school work and who wanted to return for specialized training. It was emphasized that the courses would not require new and pretentious buildings but could be carried on in buildings devoted to high school work.

Such a college could be financed by three methods; state, county and through a small tuition.

Unofficial Verdict Concerning Track Meet Is Received

Unofficial word concerning a reversal of the school bus law which caused the county track meet to be called off was received by the Board of Education, F. E. Rathbun announced today. The verbal statement gave indication that transportation by county school buses can be provided the students without infringement of the law, Mr. Rathbun added.

Postponement of the meet was brought about by a law which prohibits school bus operators from using their busses for anything other than their primary job of transporting to and from regular school sessions unless they have a special "charter" license, which costs the operator $30. An interpretation was sought since the track meet is relative to school operations, and the attorney general, Hall Hammond, held to the opinion any transporting of students must be in accordance with the law.

Garrett county legislators told Mr. Rathbun that when the bill was passed they were assured that it did not affect use of school buses for the various school activities. They approved action which might lead to a repeal of the law in the special session of the legislature now in progress.

The track meet, however, is still pending in lieu of some written statement giving permission to bus drivers to carry the students without having to pay the $30 license fee, and still retain full insurance protection.

Fourteen Take Exams For Scholarships

Fourteen persons took the competitive examinations for scholarships, held last Saturday morning, May 22, in Oakland High school. The fourteen scholarships are available in State colleges and universities, beginning in September, to Garrett county youths.

The examinations were conducted by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools. Psychological examinations for college freshmen, as prepared by the American Council on Education, 1947 edition, were used.

Governor Declines Public Welfare Grant at Special Session

Two major issues, one dealing with appropriations for public welfare, largely for aid to dependent children, and the other concerning the legalizing of raffles, confronted the special session of the State legislature yesterday with adjournment sometime tonight or tomorrow.

Regarding the appropriation for public welfare, the Department of Public Welfare is asking some $2,600,000 additional funds while the Governor is approving only $500,000. To grant the full amount would involve the question of increasing taxes and this, the Governor stated, he is not now willing to consider. Gov. Lane suggested that a commission be created to inquire into the State's public welfare system.

saidirsione g-

The House declined to tamper with Gov. Lane's $2,101,654 to increase the pay of state workers and passed it. The bill went to the Senate today.

The Senate also passed these other measures:

To allow income taxpayers with salaries up to $10,000 a year to use short form returns.

To appropriate $525,000 to fix up the Statehouse and Court of Appeals buildings and give more room for legislative offices.

To ban dog racing in Anne Arundel County.

To appropriate $560,000 for armories in various parts of the State.

Soldier To Be Reburied Sunday

The remains of Flight Officer Robert A. Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nicholson, Loch Lynn Heights, who was killed in action at Korba, Africa, near Tunis, will arrive in Oakland tomorrow morning, at the Bolden Funeral home.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from St. John's Lutheran church at Red House, with Dr. A. K. Jones, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery with full military rites conducted by members of the local American Legion post.

Nicholson was born in Oakland February 26, 1923. He enlisted in the army air corps April 13, 1941, receiving his wings at Dothan, Ala., in October, 1942. He was commissioned a flight officer in England in December, 1942 and was stationed at Stone, England, until February 1, 1943, when he was sent to Africa.

Following his death near Tunis he was buried at Tunisia.

Surviving are his parents, at Loch Lynn; two brothers, Dale Nicholson and William Nicholson, and one sister, Delores Nicholson, all of Loch Lynn; two grandmothers, Mrs. Almira Nicholson, Oakland; and Mrs. Emma Ashby, Loch Lynn.

He was a member of St. John's Lutheran church at Red House.

Final P.-T.A. Meeting

The final meeting of the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teachers association will be held this evening in the school.

From 7 to 8 o'clock teachers will be in their rooms for Parent-Teacher conferences; from 8 to 9 each teacher will give a demonstration in his or her room, on the work done during the year and parents are invited to visit each classroom. At 9 o'clock there will be short general meeting.

Briner Heads Local Chamber of Commerce

Other Officers Named and Summer Activities Discussed at Board Meeting

At a meeting of the newly-elected board of directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce last Thursday, Charles L. Briner was selected to serve as president of the organization for the coming year. Other officers elected include: Newton Coplin, vice-president; Irvin Feld, treasurer; and William O. Davis, secretary.

Several summer activities were discussed and action taken regarding plans for a public parking lot to be located in the old Glades hotel property. The lot is owned by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the Chamber is seeking to purchase it. A clean-up program for the Swallow Falls area and the securing of a public picnic ground at Deep Creek Lake were considered, as well as the erection of public toilets in Oakland. The Chamber also approved payment of $25 to the local cancer fund.

Beauty Contest

Entry blanks and rules for the proposed beauty contest scheduled for the latter part of June have been sent to the various service clubs which are being asked to sponsor a contestant each. The contest, in conjunction with the "Miss Maryland" contest to be held in Cumberland on August 2, can lead to participation in the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City on September 6 to 12. Age limits are from 18 to 28, single marital status, and Maryland citizenship.

Neil Fraley Named As Convention Delegate

Neil C. Fraley was named as one of the delegates from Maryland to the Republican National convention, to be held in Philadelphia, Pa., next month, it was announced following the meeting in Baltimore last Thursday.

Morgan C. Harris, Allegany county, George C. Doub, now practicing law in Baltimore, were named alternates at large.

State Senator Stanford Hoff, of Westminster, was elected chairman of the State Central Committee. Miss Bertha Adkins, Salisbury, was named to succeed Miss Lula Powell, Baltimore, as national committee woman.

Delegates to the national convention will go without instruction regarding the presidential candidate to support.

Judge D. Lindley Sloan, Cumberland, served as permanent chairman of the convention.

The National delegates were selected in district caucuses before the convention opened formally. There were two from each district and eight delegates at large, among them being Theodore R. McKeldin.

Week of Activities Is Arranged For 99 Seniors

A full week of activities is planned for the ninety-nine seniors who are tentatively scheduled to be graduated from the Oakland high school on June 10, it was announced by F. D Bittle, principal.

Following their examinations on June 1 and 2, the seniors will attend a picnic on June 4 which will probably be held at the Bittinger recreation area. On Sunday, June 6, they will hear Dr. Denver C. Pickens deliver the commencement sermon in the St. Paul's Methodist church. Dr. Pickens will be assisted at the service by Rev. Luther L. Hare.

Graduation exercises will be held in the Mt. Lake Park auditorium on Thursday, June 10. Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell, vocational and educational guidance supervisor, of the State Department of Education, will be the speaker.

Kitzmiller Is Second

Kitzmiller VFW baseball team moved into second place in the league by defeating Loch Lynn 13 to 2.

Shallmar defeated Crellin 23-10.

This evening the Amvets meet Loch Lynn and will try to avenge the defeat of last week. On Sunday, May 30, the Amvets go to Kitzmiller for a league game.

A newly organized Garrett County Sportsmen's association in the northern end of the county was organized and now has 42 charter members. The club will meet Monday evening, June 14, at White Oak Inn, 3 miles east of Grantsville.

Urge Band Members to Cooperate Fully

Officials of the Oakland Fire Department, aroused about the lack of interest among the members of the band which the department sponsors, issued an announcement this week to the effect that unless members appeared for regular practice sessions they would be asked to turn in their uniforms.

E. A. Shaffer, president of the Fire company, declared there wasn't much use in spending money on an organization if the members did not cooperate.

Band director, Russell H. Brown, announced a regular practice session for drilling on Friday evening at 7 o'clock, to prepare for the Memorial Day parade.

Memorial Day to Be Observed on May 31

Memorial Day will be observed on Monday, May 31, it was announced by Edward P. Kahl, adjutant of Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion, who is in charge of arrangements for the observance.

At 10 o'clock, a parade consisting of Legion members, other veteran organizations, boy scouts, girl scouts and Brownies, high and elementary school students, the fire department, and Knights of Pythias will move off, following the usual line of march on Third street, down Second, then Alder, Oak, and Fifth, and terminate in the cemetery at the grave of the Unknown Soldier.

Luther L. Hare to Speak

Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will deliver the ceremonial address at the grave plot.

The Knights of Pythias will hold their annual ritual in front of their monument in the cemetery, dedicating a flower wreath in honor of their deceased members. Charles Davis, chairman of the K. of P. parade arrangements, has requested all members to be present at the hall at 9:30 a. m.

Practically all stores and banks in town will be closed for the day.

Deep Creek Lake Yacht Race Is Listed

An "open handicap" race is being planned for next Monday at Deep Creek Lake by the Deep Creek Yacht Club which is being reorganized.

The sail boat races will begin at 1 o'clock in a triangular two-mile course, all of which is visible from the Yacht Club. Of the fleet of 25 in the Turkey Neck section of the lake, about nine are expected to participate.

Officers are planning to have other sail boat races on Sundays throughout the summer.

A low flying plane near the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stockslager last Sunday afternoon, turned out to have been their son, Harold Stockslager as one of the occupants. Harold, with radio station WITH, Baltimore, was accompanying Jim Duff, chief engineer, on a jaunt in the latter's private plane and they came as far west as Oakland.

FEDERAL SUBSIDY FOR HOSPITAL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Grant of $163,000 Will Be Added to Local Funds for Construction of Oakland's Hospital

Word that the surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service had approved the application for Federal grant-in-aid for the Garrett County Memorial hospital, to be erected at Oakland, was received this week by E. Ray Jones, one of the executors of the George Loar will.

The approval is in the amount of $163,000. A telegram on Tuesday brought the first word, and this was followed by a confirming letter on Wednesday, and the letter told the amount to be made available.

This will make available a total of at least $434,303.94 when construction begins. There was left in Mr. Loar's will a sum of $175,000, with $160,000 designated for actual construction, $10,000 for landscaping and $5,000 as a reserve fund for the first year's operations. This means that $170,000 of this would be used for construction, since landscaping will be included in the construction bids. In addition the sum of $101,303.94 was raised locally through a campaign last year and all but $4,950 of this amount actually has been turned in, with only nine individuals or organizations yet to pay their pledges.

Mr. Jones said yesterday that contractors would be notified of the request for bids on the revised project with the bids to be returned by July 7.

Maryland Coach To Speak Here June 9

Maryland's football coach, Jim Tatum, will be the speaker at the second annual banquet for Oakland High school basketball teams on Wednesday, June 9, sponsored by the Oakland Booster club, it was announced this morning by Emeric Dusic, president.

Mr. Dusic said a telegram arrived this morning confirming the date and the speaker. Arrangements for the speaker were made by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, who will introduce him at the dinner. Walter W. Dawson will be master of ceremonies.

Mr. Dusic said he expected about 150 at the dinner, which will be held at the Mt. Lake Hotel. Squads of both boys' and girls' teams will be honored.

Judge Is Improved

Associate Judge George Henderson, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident on May 16, was reported improving in a Washington county hospital, Hagerstown.

The judge suffered a broken pelvis, ten ribs broken, a fractured arm, and was also suffering from shock.

Jacqueline Cochran claimed a new air mark, having flown a P-51 plane 446 miles an hour. The old mark was 440.

Junior Legion Baseball Team Opens Seasonal League on Friday, June 4

The American Legion junior baseball team, sponsored by Proctor Kildow Post 71, will officially open its seasonal league baseball games with a game at Kitzmiller on Friday, June 4.

Sixteen boys compose the team, with none of their ages being over 17. Several are still students in elementary school. To date, they have played six games, winning two. Heading the pitching staff are Buzz Herman and Boyd DeWitt. Tom Kahl, Hervey Smouse, Joe DiSimone, Marl Fauber, Gary Baker, George Kley, Jack Lewis, Leo Rowan, and Denver Sisler round out the first team.

The primary purpose of junior baseball, as set down by the American Legion, is to promote good sportsmanship and good citizenship to the greatest number of boys possible each summer. Over 800,000 boys are playing baseball this year.

Henry Ford started Junior Legion baseball and today it is supported, along with the American Legion, by the Ford Motor company and independent Ford dealers throughout the country. Uniforms for the local team were purchased by Reckard and Glotfelty Ford garage.

Team tops Grantsville

On May 25, the junior team squeezed out an 8 to 7 win over Grantsville high school in the home field. The winning run was scored in the last of the 7th when Fauber and Smouse singled. Ryan walked and pitcher Boyd DeWitt laid down a bunt along the third base line to score Fauber.

DeWitt struck out 11 Grantsville batsmen while Tom Kahl led the batting attack with four hits—a double and three singles. Marl Fauber and Jack Lewis had two hits apiece.

Miller led Grantsville with three hits.

Seasonal League Schedule

June 4—Oakland at Kitzmiller
June 7—Lonaconing at Oakland
June 11—Oakland at Westernport
June 14—Kitzmiller at Oakland
June 18—Oakland at Lonaconing
June 21—Westernport at Oakland

June 28—Lonaconing at Oakland
July 2—Oakland at Westernport
July 5—Kitzmiller at Oakland
July 9—Oakland at Lonaconing
July 12—Westernport at Oakland

In the final practice game before the league opens, Oakland and Thomas will vie on Sunday in Fike's field here. Edward P. Kahl, adjutant of Proctor Kildow Post 71, expressed a wish that citizens of the town would support the team by their presence at the games.

Jury Gives $1,600 Verdict in Plane Suit

In a suit involving an airplane, removed to Allegany county Circuit court from Garrett county, a jury returned a verdict of $1,600 for the plaintiff when tried Tuesday.

The suit was filed by Arnold B. Friend against William H. Wildesen.

Friend claimed he entered into an agreement with Wildesen to buy a Skyranger airplane in August, 1946. Friend says he paid for the craft by check, and made an agreement with Wildesen that each would share half the cost.

The craft was operated from a field near Red House and both men reportedly received equal shares of money made flying passengers. Friend alleged that Wildesen has never paid for his half of the cost of the ship.

In October, 1946, the plane crashed and was badly damaged while being piloted toward Morgantown, W. Va., by Friend.

The defense, headed by Walter W. Dawson, charged that Wildesen was an agent for the company which manufactures the plane and sold the craft to Friend. Dawson said that now that the plane is wrecked the plaintiff is seeking to recover his $1,600 which is allegedly due from Wildesen.

W. Dwight Stover, Oakland, counsel for Friend, said that Wildesen and his client sign a sales slip with the plea that he (Wildesen) would become involved with the Civil Aeronautics Administration over the wreck and it would cause him trouble.

Schedule Conference

Plans for the annual meeting of Southern States Cooperative members in the Friendsville area will be made by the advisory board of the Friendsville agency, and the farm home advisory committee in a conference at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, June 3, at the Recreation Room of the Methodist Church, Friendsville.

In addition to planning the program and naming committees to assist with the meeting, the group also will nominate two qualified members for each vacancy on the local board and farm home committee. Elections will take place at the membership meeting.

District Manager C. A. Williams, Oakland, will bring conference members up to date on activities. Stanton R. Friend, board chairman, will preside.

Board members are Reuben R. Friend, Glenn D. Frazee, S. B. Lowdermilk, Charles Rush, and W. Arthur Custer, Friendsville.

The farm home committee includes Mrs. Blaine H. Friend, Mrs. Allen Friend, Mrs. Leslie E. Savage, Mrs. Orval Rush, Mrs. William Umble, of Friendsville, and Mrs. Grace Wright, Markleysburg.

Norway and Denmark appealed to U. S. for arms and ammunition to bolster defenses.

JUST RECEIVED—ANOTHER SHIPMENT OF STICKELL'S BEST QUALITY FEEDS

Whee! there's that ZIP again!

LUBRICARE—
tailor-made lubrication for Buicks

It's lubrication made to measure for your Buick by the engineers who built the car—with lubricants carefully chosen for just one reason: they are best for your Buick.

Men who know Buicks thoroughly see that all the different points that need it are properly supplied with exactly the right kind and right amount of lubricant.

You're away knowing your car is protected and set to roll smoothly and dependably with lubrication that has been matched to the mileage you have driven.

SEE YOUR BUICK DEALER REGULARLY FOR LUBRICARE

No wonder you grin! There's that zoom again — that go — that flashing spirit that you know is built in Buicks. There's that split-second answer to your call for power, the feather-light response to your finger that makes your two-ton honey handle like a baby buggy.

This is what happens when a Buick is cared for by men who know Buicks best — men who know the height of spirit a Buick can reach and how to bring it out.

Buick men have a way with Buicks no one else can have. That's only natural. Whatever they do, they do as the designers and builders of Buick say it should be done. They use Buick-approved checks and tools. And when time and miles finally take their toll in wear, they have right at hand a stock of Buick-engineered replacement parts.

Wheel in and they'll sweeten your engine to bring out all its surge and go. They'll steady your car's easy gait and make steering limber. They'll even take out your worn engine and give you new-car zing and power with a factory-fresh Fireball.

See for yourself. Bring your car in and get real, understanding Buick car care. You can't buy it anywhere else — and job for job it doesn't cost you a penny more.

Local Car Dealers In New York For Preview of Ford

Mason Glotfelty and Charles C Reckard, of the Reckard and Glotfelty garage were in New York City on Saturday to see the All-new 1949 Ford car which was shown for the first time to more than 1,000 Ford Dealers at a regional sales meeting and preview showing.

The new line of cars is not to be shown publicly until June 10. Messrs. Reckard and Glotfelty said the preview was held in strict secrecy and that design, appearance and engineering features of the new line will remain confidential until the public introduction.

They said the new line of passenger automobiles represents an investment by the Ford Motor company of more than $110 million in new equipment, tools, dies, machines, and several new plants. The model represents more than 18 months of rigorous testing both in the laboratory and on the road.

The dealers were told that a competitive buyer's market was still "a long way off," and would be prolonged due to the present economic situation both at home and abroad. It was estimated there were 10 million new-car buying families in America waiting to take delivery of a car.

Dealers through the nation will display the new models beginning June 18, Messrs. Reckard and Glotfelty were told. They drove to Pittsburgh and flew to New York last Friday, returning the same way on Sunday.

Recounts Benefits of Herd Testing

Benefits the members of the Dairy Herd Improvement association No. 1 at Grantsville are receiving were recounted this month by Joe Lewis, DHIA tester, in sending in his monthly report of the various herds.

Mr. Lewis said Claude Pope, president of the association, declared that "two things have helped me most through the accurate records of the DHIA program. I have been able to follow a managed feed program, and through a study of records and consulting the tester, have been able to cull six low producing cows from my herd."

Mr. Pope said he fed the right amount of feed in proportion to the amount of milk and butterfat test of each cow, enabling him to receive a greater profit from his herd. "In my business of selling butter, a cow must not only fill the pail but she must have a good butterfat test," he concluded.

Owner of the high herd of the month is Raymond Tice. Average production of his eight cows was 921 pounds of milk with a butterfat content of 42.0. Other high herds for April were those of Elmer Maust, Galen and Ada P. Maust, Paul Kinsinger and Allen Maust.

The high cow of the month was one owned by Lawrence Beitzel and named "Tiny." Tiny produced 1,587 pounds of milk for a total butterfat content of 76.1. Nineteen other high cows were those owned by Allen Maust, Raymond Tice, Jonas Tice, Galen and Ada Maust, Dorsey Guard, Crist Yoder, Eli Yoder, M. B. Miller, C. O. Miller, and Paul Kinsinger. The butterfat content ranged from 76.1 to 53.6.

Output of Maple Syrup Up This Year

The Maryland Crop Reporting Service announced that the state produced 14,000 gallons of Maple syrup and 6,000 pounds of maple sugar this year. Most of the output was in this county.

The output was well above last year but below the 10-year average. A total of 34,000 trees were tapped this year and last year, but the average is 40,000. The service said that lumbering activities still threaten the maple syrup industry.

The Reporting Service said most grains and grasses were showing good growth. Oats particularly were planted later than desired because of wet fields.

To Hold Initiation

Garrett Temple No. 17 of the Pythian Sisters will have its initiation on Monday, May 31, it was announced. Visitors will be presented from Gormania and Frostburg. The Most Excellent Chief, Verna Bray, is requesting all members to be present.

To Men of the High School CLASS OF '48

THERE'S a big day coming soon — the day when you get your diploma. By enlisting in the Army or Air Force after graduation you can take full advantage of one of the finest opportunities ever offered a young man.

CHOOSE YOUR FIELD OF SPECIAL TRAINING BEFORE YOU ENLIST!

If you are 18 to 34 (17 with parents' consent) and a high school graduate, you can select your course of training in the Army or the Air Force before enlisting.

Under the Army Technical School Plan you can specify two different courses that appeal to you in each of two fields. The Army will check to make sure there is an opening in one of the four courses you have selected, and a place will be reserved for you in that course. Then you enlist for 3, 4 or 5 years, and after passing the physical and mental examinations and completing basic training you will be guaranteed training in your chosen field.

The Air Force offers a similar opportunity in its Aviation Career Plan, giving you a pre-enlistment choice of 3 among the more than 40 USAF Specialist Schools. There is no better way to get a start in the great and growing field of aviation.

Either plan gives you good pay, excellent training and a splendid chance for advancement in a real career. You can get full information, including lists of available Specialist Schools and Technical Courses, at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

To Men with 2 Years or More of College
WIN YOUR WINGS with the Aviation Cadets

If you are single, 20 to 26½ years old, physically sound, and have completed at least 2 years of college or the equivalent, you may be qualified for pilot training as an Aviation Cadet. Get full details now. Next class starts July 1, 1948.

Garrett County History

The history of Garrett county, dealing with the economic background and its attractions, published last October in "Baltimore" by W. S. Hamill, director of the Maryland Development bureau, is continued with this issue. Future installments will be carried in The Republican as space permits.

The fire clays of Garrett County were not utilized to any extent until 1943, when two strip mines were opened in the Grantsville area. One of the mines is located on Meadow Mountain and the other on Negro Mountain. By the close of 1946 these properties had produced a total of 137,342 net tons. This represented about 60 per cent of the corresponding output for Allegany County, which has long been Maryland's principal producer of fire clay.

During the past two or three years the U. S. Bureau of Mines, the U. S. Geological Survey, and the Maryland Department of Geology, Mines, and Water Resources have been studying the coal seams of the Georges Creek Basin, especially those underlying the "Big Vein." The results of this work are expected to disclose pertinent information on the commercial possibilities of these coals. Similar investigations of the coal and fire-clay deposits are now being conducted in the Casselman Basin. It is presumed that if large reserves of valuable coal are discovered the necessary capital could be attracted for their development.

Agriculture

Although Garrett's farming operations are rather small in comparison with some of the other counties of the State, it has managed to attain an important position in several different branches of agriculture. It outranks the other Maryland counties in the production of oats and buckwheat and in the value of forest products sold from farms; stands second in the quantity of Irish potatoes harvested, wool shorn, and number of sheep and lambs on farms; and is third in the amount of clover cut for hay.

The agricultural industry of the county was both late in starting and slow in developing. Its isolated position in a mountain wilderness delayed the progress of settlement until after the Revolutionary War. The clearing of the forests was at first retarded by the lack of transportation facilities for shipping the timber to distant markets. The building of the National Road about 1816, and the westward extension of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the 1850's resulted in both an increased production of timber and in a further expansion of farming operations. The valley and slope forests contained the best timber and were the first to be cut. As these tracts included some of the best agricultural land in the county, much of it was soon placed under cultivation. Later on some of the smoother parts of the ridges were also cleared and planted in crops.

Since there was little or no local demand for agricultural products, and the majority of the early farms were operated chiefly on a self-sustaining basis. The grazing of cattle was probably the first large-scale farming enterprise to develop in the county. The famous natural pastures which occupied large tracts in the "Glades" country early attracted the attention of stockmen, and thousands of cattle were annually fattened on these ranges. Wheat was one of the first crops to be grown on a considerable acreage, and for a long time it was the principal cash crop. Buckwheat, hay, and sheep were among the other farm products that had some early commercial importance. The construction of modern highways in comparatively recent years stimulated the establishment of various specialized branches of agriculture, including dairying, poultry raising, and the production of vegetable crops, both for canning and for fresh consumption.

Garrett's farm plant, according to the 1945 Census of Agriculture, comprised 220,047 acres of land, or roughly half the total area of the county. About a third of the farm acreage is classed as cropland, with the remainder being in pasure and woodland. The average size of the county's 2,154 farms was 102.2 acres. The value of all farm property in 1944 was placed at $10,477,596, nearly 75 per cent of which consisted of farm real estate. Implements and machinery were valued at $1,032,025, and all classes of livestock had a combined value of $1,775,094.

AURORA-EGLON

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parks announce the birth of a son born May 20, at their home near Eglon. This is the third child and first son and has been named James Aubrey. The mother is the former Miss Ruth Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Shaffer, of Eglon. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parks who reside with the young couple at the old homestead.

Mrs. W. L. Teets, of near Eglon, remains a patient in a Philippi hospital where she was taken last week for treatment.

Charles Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Root, of the Accident community was painfully injured Monday when his bike collided with an automobile on Route 50, near Aurora. He was treated by a local physician.

Alvin Lantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lantz, of near Aurora, was taken Tuesday, and again today, to a Philippi hospital for examinations.

Mrs. Hazel Hughes, of near Aurora, accompanied her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hughes and family, of Akron, Ohio, to Washington, were they spent a few days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abernathy, of Eglon, visited Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currance, at Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harsh moved Tuesday from Brookside to the Harvey Fike farm, in Cash Valley. Mrs. Harsh is the former Miss Eloise Fike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike. Mr. Harsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harsh and family moved to the apartment over the garage which they vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Boror and family moved Saturday from Eglon to Silver Lake. The home they vacated is the former C. R. Fichtner home and has been purchased by the Church of the Brethren for a parsonage.

Mrs. Grace Spaid accompanied her brother, Rev. Ezra Fike, to Morgantown Sunday where the latter conducted services in the Church of the Brethren.

Lightning Hits Mine

Lightning struck the fan house at Kempton Mines during a storm one day last week, causing slight damage. The bolt ignited wires which caused some oil to catch fire, threatening the mine shaft and outside buildings, but the blaze was brought under control.

BEGINNING MAY 30 AND CLOSING JUNE 13

REV. RALPH A. MICKEL

The evangelist will be Rev. Ralph A. Mickel, Alum Bank, Pa. Rev. Mickel is a preacher of the old-time gospel. If you hear him once you will want to hear him again.

The music, both vocal and instrumental will be furnished by the Files Girls Quartet, Wiley Ford, W. Va. The girls will be with us June 3rd and continue through the remainder of the meeting.

The Quartet of girls have a rich Christian experience and the Lord has put his approval upon their lives and has given them wonderful musical talent, which they have dedicated to God.

They will inspire young people and bless the older ones. You will want them in your home and you will not want to miss a single service, once you get started.

Services will begin each evening at 8:00 O'Clock Day Light Saving Time or 7:00 O'Clock Eastern Standard Time. Sunday School at 3:00 O'Clock P. M. Day Light Time or 2:00 O'Clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time.

Young People's service will be held each evening under the supervision of Mrs. Stanley Ashby. You will enjoy the beautiful Scene-O-Feits with color wheel, which she will employ to illustrate the Scriptures.

Come And Bring Your Friends.

Preaching After Sunday School.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Mr. Churchill's Mistake

Half American by birth, this country has no firmer friend than Mr. Winston Churchill. It would be absurb, indeed, to attribute to anti-Americanism any misleading and inaccurate words about the United States contained in his remarkably interesting and historical valuable memoirs now being published here and abroad.

Nevertheless, if some of the statements concerning our attitude toward the British debt after World War I had been made by any other foreign writer, that charge certainly would be made. For, dealing with this subject, Mr. Churchill not only does this country a real injustice but in failing fully to state the facts he misrepresents us before the world. In one of his first installments, while he does mention that the interest rate was reduced, he totally ignores what that reduction meant, quotes the stupid Coolidge phrase, "They hired the money, didn't they?" and then asserts that "the United States continued to insist upon the payment of their full allotments."

In brief, Mr. Churchill conveys the impression that, although the terms of the debt were harsh and almost impossible of fulfillment, this country insisted upon full payment, sternly exacting its pound of flesh. This distinctly is not so and it is too bad that Mr. Churchill did not submit this part of his manuscript to someone who had a better memory and a better understanding of this debt situation. The truth is that at the 1922 British-American debt conference in Washington the terms of debt were so modified that a considerable portion of it was, in effect, canceled and that settlement was made upon an agreed capacity to pay without embarrassment to the debtors.

Originally about five billion and with an interest rate at 4½ per cent, the British debt was settled in 1922 at $4,600,000,000. Under the original contract it was payable by an issue of British bonds to the United States, extending over a short term of years with 4½ per cent interest—that being the average rate the American Government was paying on American bonds issued to our own citizens to raise the money loaned the British. The 1922 settlement consisted of two parts—first, the annual installments were spread over 62 years; second, the interest rate was reduced to 3 per cent for the first ten years and 3½ per cent thereafter.

If the compound discount table at 4½ per cent is applied to an installment payable 62 years hence, it will amount to only about 30 per cent of the present value. Worked out on this basis, the installments and interest amounted to about 60 per cent of the original $4,600,000,000. This represents an approximate 40 per cent sacrifice by the American Government over what it was paying on our bonds to furnish the British the money. The installments, as worked out on this basis in 1922, were only paid by the British up to 1931, when the moratorium was declared. Their actual payments in that period were roughly $270,000,000 on principal and $1,450,800,000 interest, against an American Government outlay of $2,400,000,000 of interest to its own bondholders.

As a matter of fact, out of the original $4,600,000,000 over $2,000,000,000 was postwar advances for rehabilitation and reconstruction purposes to Britain. At the time President Hoover proposed that we cancel the war portion of the debt and settle the postwar amount by issue of British bonds to our citizens, guaranteed by the United States. The 1922 settlement above outlined amounted to about the same thing. In effect, it was a cancellation of approximately 40 per cent of the whole debt.

After the moratorium expired in December, 1932, though there was a sentiment for re-establishment of the Debt Commission for further revision of the British debt, nothing was done and the whole business was abandoned. In view of these indisputable facts, Mr. Churchill's quotation of Mr. Coolidge and his own personal assertion that we "continued to insist upon full payment," appear wholly unfounded and unfair.

Unquestionably, his memoirs are a great contribution to history; but his discourse on the British debt is not a part of that contribution. Reading that part of his memoirs one of Mr. Churchill's closest friends in this country had this to say: "Winston Churchill is a great orator, writer, statesman and soldier. He is also a painter, a politician and in some ways a genius. His courage and character are superb. The whole civilized world is deeply indebted to him and he is a very great man. Bue he knows very little concerning money and practically nothing about economics—and never has."

Oakland Is Winner In Damage Suit

The corporation of Oakland was declared winner in a damage suit brought against it by Illario Fazzalari and tried last Friday. The decision was handed down by Chief Judge William A. Huster, in the Circuit Court here.

Fazzalari sued the town for $2,000 as reparations for alleged damage caused by surface water draining over his property on Liberty street. The town elevated the street in the fall of 1947 and it was claimed to have filled the gutter with dirt. The change in elevation, it was also charged, hindered the entrance to the garage on the property.

MARRIED

Smith-Miller—Miss Kathleen Marie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Miller, of Accident, became the bride of Dr. John P. Smith, of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed at the Lutheran parsonage in Washington, D. C., by the Rev. Heming at 12:30 P. M. on Saturday, May 8.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Shoreham hotel. After the dinner the couple returned to Baltimore.

The bride is a graduate of Maryland General Hospital School of Nursing. During World War II she served with the army in Australia, New Guinea and the Philippines. Before her marriage she was working in the medical department of the Creole Petroleum Corporation in Caripito, Venezuela.

Dr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Maryland Medical school. He served 5 years in the army of which 3 years were in the European theatre. At present he has his own private practice and is on the Maryland General hospital surgical staff for visiting doctors.

The couple resides at Homewood apts., Charles and 31st streets, Baltimore.

Good Poultry Pastures Save Grain and Birds

This year, more than ever, farmers and commercial poultrymen should plan to provide their poultry with sanitary pastures for grazing. The best way to make feed supplies go further is to raise the chickens and poults on sanitary ranges that provide succulent green feed throughout the growing season, says Dr. Morley A. Jull, of the University of Maryland. An adequate range may reduce the cost of grain feeding by as much as 10 percent or even more in the case of turkeys.

Not only will succulent green pastures save grain feed, but raising chickens and poults on sanitary pastures promotes bone and feather growth and tends to keep the birds in good health.

Mortality from disease infection and round worm and tapeworm infestation is greatly reduced among growing chickens if they are raised on clean range, isolated from adult chickens and turkeys. A clean range means one that has not been used for any kind of poultry the previous year and better still the previous two years. Dr. Jull says that the range shelters should be at least 200 feet apart and should be moved every month. Pastures must be in a succulent state at all times, which means that they must be kept in a constantly growing condition. Green plants are most palatable for poultry in the early stages of growth, so the pastures must be kept mowed at reasonable intervals. Succulence and palatability are of prime importance, otherwise the birds will consume relatively little of the plants.

Firemen Are Called Twice

The Oakland fire department was called twice during the past week, the first on Tuesday evening to extinguish a grass fire at the H. Clay Stickel residence, and the other, yesterday along the railroad behind the James Fazzalari property on Liberty street—again a grass fire.

Republican Party Leader in Maryland

STANFORD HOFF
Maryland G.O.P. State Chairman

Admirers of Stanford Hoff declare that the new State Chairman of the Maryland Republican Party should prove a competent administrator and an able leader. They point out that he has the common touch, is honest and fair and knows how to get things done. Hoff was elected to his position at the State Convention of Republicans held on May 20 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore. He succeeds Galen L. Tait, a veteran in Maryland politics.

Not yet 38 years old, Hoff was elected to the House of Delegates by the Carroll county voters ten years ago. He entered the army April 16, 1941, and was discharged August 8, 1946, as a Lieutenant Colonel of the Field Artillery.

He then was elected to the State Senate and is a member of the Legislative Council.

Colonel Hoff holds nine decorations and awards.

O'Conor Is Voted Senate Approval

The Senate finally gave official approval last Thursday to the right of Herbert R. O'Conor to the seat he had been occupying as U. S. Senator for nearly eighteen months.

His election was contested by D. John Markey, his Republican opponent.

The resolution for senate approval passed on a voice vote.

The final tabulation released gave O'Conor an edge of 1,624 votes. The State election figures had him winning by 2,232.

Song of Local Woman To Be Broadcast Saturday

A song entitled "No Blind Datin'" of Mrs. Blanche J. Halsey, wife of Ogilvie Halsey, of Deep Creek Lake, will be broadcast on "Songwriter's Previews," Station WJPA, Washington, Pa., on Saturday, May 29, at 6:30 p. m., it has been announced by a Pittsburgh music concern. The song was done in collaboration with Mildred Biles.

Mrs. Halsey has written a number of poems during the past several years.

Notification that her song would be broadcast was mailed to her this week.

Local Author Receives Honorary Degree

Now it's official! It is Doctor Joseph E. Harned.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon the Oakland pharmacist on Tuesday at Buckhannon, by William J. Scarborough, president of West Virginia Wesleyan college.

The ceremony was attended by a number of his Oakland friends and members of his family.

In presenting Dr. Harned to the president for the honorary degree, Dean A. A. Schoolcraft said:

"Dr. Joseph Edward Harned, graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science; member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; member of the Botanical Society of America; distinguished botanist; specialist on, and enthusiast about, wild flowers, discoverer of a number of wild flowers never before listed by botanists; author of "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," characterized by a popular author as a monumental work, superbly illustrated, . . . one of the finest books ever written on wild flowers of the United States; pharmacist; honorary president of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association; faithful Methodist layman, and teacher in church school for nearly half a century; elected by the Board of Trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan college to the degree of Doctor Science."

In conferring the degree, President Scarborough said:

"Joseph Edward Harned, avocational botanist, life-long student of nature as God's handiwork, humanitarian, Bible teacher extraordinary, author, exemplary citizen of Oakland, Maryland, high adventurer in spiritual understanding, by virtue of the authority invested in me as president of West Virginia Wesleyan college, I am happy to confer on you the degree of Doctor of Science, with all of the rights, privileges and prerogatives thereunto appertaining."

Dr. Harned was one of four to get honorary degrees. The other three Dr. Irvin Stewart, president of West Virginia University, Doctor of Laws; Dr. Lewis H. Chrisman, professor of English Literature, W. Va. Wesleyan college, Doctor of Humane Letters; Rev. Ross Linger, pastor of the First Methodist church, Buckhannon, Doctor of Divinity.

Among those attending were Mrs. Joseph E. Harned, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harned and daughter, Miss Helen Louise Harned, and Mrs. Hubert Burdette, the latter of Mt. Airy, members of Dr. Harned's immediate family. Others from Oakland were Mrs. Carl Stone, Mrs. S. H. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Denver C. Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Reaford Purbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, Mrs. Harry Stemple, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stemple.

A new stamp issue will honor the four chaplains aboard a ship which was torpedoed and sunk during the war. The four gave their lifebelts to soldiers and went down when the ship sank.

Around 125 Attend Lions Club Dinner

Around one hundred twenty-five persons attended the annual Ladies' night program of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club, held Monday evening at the Mt. Lake Hotel.

Rev. Eugene G. Slep, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, Greensburg, Pa., spoke to the group on the "If of Life." He illustrated humorously and occasionally seriously how people tend to use the word "if to cover their shortcomings and the other person's success.

He declared that to become "extraordinary" people must be extra kind, extra generous, do extra work and forget using the words "if I had his job, if I had their money, or if I had the energy to do this or that."

Herbert Leighton, president, presided and Fred D. Bell served as toastmaster. Howard Naylor, tail twister, assisted by John Stevenson and Jack Treacy, the latter arrayed as Dr. T. T. Treacy, eminent educator and lecturer, held a quiz contest and levied the usual fines on the "ignorant."

The Lions club quartet, Roland Shaffer, Wayne Hamilton, Jay Bell and Jack Treacy, sang several songs. Ladies were presented corsages for favors.

Mrs. Wonderly Tells of Rigorous Life in Remote Southern Mexican Village

Mrs. Dorothy Richardson Wonderly, who with her two small children has just emerged from the mountain fastnesses of deep South Mexico where she keeps house in a primitive village you won't even find on your map.

She was here the past week with her husband, Dr. William Wonderly, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wonderly, of Pleasant Valley.

She told her story to The Pilot, a newspaper of Southern Pines, North Carolina, and parts of it are being reprinted here.

"To get out of Copainala, Chiapas, Mexico, you make a 45-minute climb up a mountainside, hauling all your worldly goods with the help of a few hired hands from the village. On top of the mountain is an airstrip. You wait in the broiling tropic sun for a few hours, at the end of which time the plane may show up, or it may not. If it doesn't back you go down the mountainside, to struggle up again later—and maybe then it comes, or maybe not.

"If things aren't just right for flying over those mountains with their terrific up-currents and down-currents, their sharp peaks and jungled valleys—well, the pilot just doesn't fly.

"Indians and Mexicans, observing a plane at close range for the first time, attempted to dissuade them from their rash adventure. However, it was nothing compared to the journey from Copainala to Magdaiena, (where they took off from a new airstrip) made partly on foot, partly by canoe and partly on horseback, plunging right through streams and rivers with their feet on the horse's neck. The children, Mary Emily, four and a half, and George, one and a half, loved it, but "Emmy" didn't care much for the canoe.

"Mrs. Wonderly, a real beauty, with big blue eyes, black hair, slim, feminine and lovely, picture of a sheltered young southern ladyhood, works side by side with her linguist husband in one of the hemisphere's most barren missionary fields, where she has met extreme hardship with extreme courage since going to Copainala as a bride nine years ago.

"They live in an abode house on a steeply slanting cobbled street, on which both floors of the house open directly. The floor just below contains a store, but canned sardines and salmon constitute its grocery stock.

"The village contains both Mexicans and Indians, and it is among the Indians, of the primitive Zoque tribe, that the Wonderlys are working, charting their unwritten language for the interdenominational Wycliffe Institute, with the object of bringing them the Gospel in their own language.

"The first step, and they're still working at it, is gaining the friendship and trust of the Zoques; getting their cooperation and filling them with a desire to know the word of God. They now number many friends among the Zoques and have also traveled considerably among other tribes.

"At Christmas they had a small pine her husband found on a hillside. They trimmed it with paper chains, a few bright balls and icicles. Many Zoques came to call and remained to sing. They listened to records the Wonderlys had had in their own language--hymns and a simple sermon. The stockings were hung for the children, the same as at home.

Bamboo Hut

The adobe house, just one room when they moved in, has been partitioned into two by Dr. Wonderly, who also built on a small room of bamboo for the baby. At Magdalena their whole hut was of bamboo with thatched roof, and with other women of the village, Mrs. Wonderly went to the river to do the washing.

Simple household implements as an egg-beater stirs interest and amazement in this village where 'tortillas' are beat out by hand, rolled and baked in pottery utensils on an open fire. The Wonderlys met at Columbia Bible college. The following year Wonderly went to Mexico and established his mission field, returning to marry Dorothy and take her back with him."

The Wonderlys will go to Norman, Okla., where he will teach and study at the Wycliffe camp. Then in the fall they'll go back to Mexico. They have been heartened in their work by groups of "believers" springing up here and there all through the jungle regions. There is no church there and they meet in the homes just as in the early days of Chrisianity. They study, they discuss, and they ask questions.

"There is much darkness in that land, but here and there you can see the light shining through," she says.

New B. and O. Superintendent

H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, left that town May 25 to become general manager of the railroad's Chicago region effective June 1.

Wyatt will be succeeded by R. A. J. Morrison, Grafton, W. Va., now superintendent of the Monongah division.

29 Traffic Deaths Reported For April

During the month of April there were 1,565 traffic accidents investigated in Maryland by the several police agencies in the State. These accidents were responsible for 29 deaths and 757 persons injured. The Baltimore City Police Department reported 897 accidents with 6 deaths and 421 injuries—while the State, County and Local Police Departments reported 668 accidents with 23 deaths and 357 injuries.

The State experienced a 12% reduction in traffic fatalities during April when compared with the figures for the same month a year ago. Baltimore City experienced a 25% reduction in fatalities, and the Counties an 8% reduction. The year's total for fatalities is now 90 as compared to 116 for the same period last year—a reduction of 22 percent.

Twelve counties experienced a fatality-free month—Calvert, Caroline, Carroll, Cecil, Charles, Dorchester, Garrett, Kent, Somerset, Talbot, Worcester and Washington.

The record shows that 14 of the persons killed upon our streets and highways were pedestrians.

Oakland Amvets Win and Lose at Klondike

Oakland Amvets and the Klondike Kolts divided an upper Potomac Baseball league doubleheader at Klondike on Sunday afternoon.

Oakland won the opening game 4-3. B. Wolfe topped the Amvets' offensive with three hits in five trips to the plate while F. Buskirk and Winters had two safeties apiece for the losers.

The second game lasted nine innings with Klondike emerging the winner by the score of 3-2. Glaze who replaced T. James in the 4th inning, was charged with the loss. He also pitched the first game.

Loch Lynn defeated the Oakland Amvets at Oakland 12-6 and Klondike edged Kitzmiller at Klondike 5-4, in other Upper Potomac baseball league games last Thursday evening.

Loch Lynn racked up 18 hits. Junior Paugh limited Oakland to seven hits. DeWitt of Oakland had a triple but was thrown out at the plate trying to stretch it to a home run.

A LOOK AHEAD IN SCHOOL BUILDING

A look ahead in school building needs is presented this week from R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, who has taken the following information from the survey report to be presented to the citizens and building authorities in June.

"There are few school systems in the United States that have so many obsolete, inadequate and unsafe school buildings as has Garrett County today. This statement is made by those who have inspected school building in all parts of the country. The citizens of the county have recognized their needs and have initiated the financial program which will make constructive improvement possible. This promises well for the future opportunities of the boys and girls of the citizens.

"At present there are no comprehensive and adequate high school facilities in the county. The survey has proposed a program which will give the county facilities equivalent to those found in the high schools of many other counties in Maryland. It will make possible an educational program which considers the needs for all boys and girls. It provides adequately for the approximately 15 percent who go from graduation to higher institutions of learning and also for the large majority of students who have not graduated in the past or who, though graduated, have not been provided with the facilities and equipment which their work has required.

"It has also been recommended that terminal courses should be provided extending beyond the high school period for youth who can profit from vocational or semi-vocational courses leading to improvement in the work which the youth undertake as their life calling. This type of work can be given in the new high schools.

"The Board of Education has already moved constructively on the improvement of the elementary school building conditions by the elimination of a large number of one-room schools, the extension of the transportation program and the building of centralized elementary buildings. Much work, extending this program must be further undertaken until no small group of children are isolated from the social, cultural and educational opportunities which the larger school affords. The aim of the citizens should be to provide every elementary child in a safe, sanitary and well equipped structure. A further aim should be to use these buildings for group and community purposes, so that adults may also learn more about child psychology and the current educational program as well as problems arising out of citizenship in this constantly changing world.

"Garrett County has great natural resources, and attractive scenic areas which can be further capitalized for the welfare of its citizens and the improvement of living conditions in the county. The educational program should be constructively used so that boys and girls will get a full realization of the opportunties here afforded and will be inspired to make their contribution to progress in the important areas of human activtity. Agriculture, forestry, floriculture, manufacturing and the wide recreational interests of the county should grow under this impact.

"Garrett County is sufficiently near large population centers to draw those who seek recreation and rest in its delightful environment both in winter and Summer. The program should tie in definitely with such advanced.

"With superior schools, more families will also seek living opportunities in the county. Schools which carry on a modern program may be expected to bring additions to the population in the nature of people who want the best for their children in an attractive environment where living can be advanced on a high level.

"The entire program has been advanced with full recognition of the financial conditions of the county. Any extensive variations from the proposed program will result in unwise expenditures as far as the long time welfare of the county is concerned.

"The program has also been written in terms of the most recent trends in education throughout the nation. Experienced professional minds with wide knowledge of satisfactory school conditions have made separate, unbiased appraisals and then pooled their judgments in this report.

"It is felt that the citizens have in this report a constructive program for the future progress. The report is presented with the expectation that the interests and needs of boys and girls will be the sole guiding influences as the decisions to go forward are made." —Taken From Survey Report To Be Presented to Citizens and Building Authorities In June.

GORTNER

Services at the church on Sunday morning and evening. Come.

Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle will entertain the Union circle, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yoder, Grantsville, were visiting their daughter, Mrs. Elmer Beachy, several days and they and the Beachys and Miss Lean Beachy and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Beachy visited Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Swartzentruber, on Sunday.

Mrs. Amanda Hoff was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roth, at Hauser, from Tuesday until Thursday.

Miss Elsie Hesse, Cecil, Gertrude, Kenneth Slabach and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk were guests at a Christian Endeavor party on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lohr, at Lyndale.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swartzentruber and children recently spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Warsaw, at Red Oak.

Mrs. Gerald Miller underwent an emergency operation in a Lancaster County hospital last week. She has returned to her home and is improving.

The Amish folk have the foundation for their church ready to move the Shady Dell Grange Hall which they purchased for a church.

The announcement of the wedding of Miss Lena Swartzentruber, and Mr. John Yoder, of Meyersdale, Pa., has been made and will take place on June 6th.

Fifty of the Lynndale folks celebrated Mr. Albert Sisk's birthday at the home of Mr. Charles Lewis on Sunday. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and Mr. Sisk received a lot of nice gifts, among them a box of Super Suds to wash the blackening off. Miss Helen Shreve and Mrs. Willard Swartzentruber, whose birthdays occurred this week were also honored.

Mrs. Harold White honored her husband's birthday with a dinner recently. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring and Mr. and Mrs. Rosco Wotring and children, of Eglon.

Joseph Tressler Jones, Red House, is spending this week with his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Artie Dodge.

Mrs. Joni Miller, whose condition became worse in Alleganey hospital last Wednesday, is slowly recovering. Mrs. Miller had a gallstone operation and suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Duff, New Castle, Pa., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Swartzentruber one day last week. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Swartzentruber and daughter Rhoda, who spent a few days with her home folk.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swartzentruber on Sunday evening were: Dan Biler, Uriah Gnegy, of Catlet, Va.; and John Biler, of Del. Others visiting here over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Sol Hostetler, Ada Kinsinger, Eli Brenneman, Roy Kinsinger and John Yoder, of near Meyersdale.

A number of relatives from here attended the funeral of Allen Miller at the home of the Oleningers, a. Meyersdale, Pa., where he was employed for thirty years. Misses Fannie and Leah Beachy are his aunts. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lydia Miller, who is 92 years old; two sisters, Mrs. Mark Bender and Mrs. Olen Bender; two brothers, Claude and Ernest Miller, all of Springs, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Slabach have purchased a lot in Mt. Lake Park and plan to build a four room bungelow.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rice, at Mt. Lake Park.

Mr. Ed Saunders and Miss Inez Williams, Morgantown, W. Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Slabach, on Saturday.

Henry Petersheim, who has been employed in Ohio since last fall, has returned to his home here.

Holds Road on Curves

Here is more riding comfort than you have ever before experienced. Here is safety—Gold Cup Cushions are bigger, and with more air under less air pressure, they absorb the kind of shocks that may bruise or cut ordinary tires—greater protection against dangerous blow-outs. Here is easier driving—less side-sway—lateral shocks and vibrations eliminated—less driving fatigue. And here is better traction—greater road contact—a tire that literally hugs the road, giving you a new feeling of security and confidence.

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR OLD TIRES

Come in and let us give you an estimate of how little it will cost to equip your car with Gold Cup Cushions. We will give you an actual value allowance for your present tires.

Grandpa's Daily Bread

Daily bread for Grandpa means something more than the food he eats. It means the hours he spends reading the Scriptures and imbibing the inspiration and comfort which he derives from his religion.

Daily devotions are an important part of Grandpa's life. He has cultivated the habit since early manhood.

Grandpa's big Bible is worn from constant use, and on the fly leaf, in his own handwriting, is this quotation from the Psalms: "In the winter of my years, the word of God will comfort me."

Grandpa attends church regularly and reads his Bible daily. His advice to everyone is: "Go to church, keep a good conscience, live right, and trust in God." That is his rule of life.

The churches of this community endeavor to teach people the value of a faith like Grandpa's. Go to church on Sunday. Seek the inspiration and guidance of God in your daily life.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Daniel 1.
DEVOTIONAL READING: I Timothy 6:11-16.

Daniel Stands By His Convictions

Lesson for May 30, 1948

"A picket frozen on duty—
A mother starved for her brood—
Socrates drinking the hemlock—
And Jesus on the rood."

SUCH a picture we have before us in Sunday's lesson. All you need to do to get this dramatic picture is read the first chapter of Daniel. You will then feel anew the meaning of that cherished statement, "'Tis conviction that convinceth."

BRAVE TO DO RIGHT

WE GET the first draught of this tonic in verses 8-9, 14-15 and 17. "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank . . ."

Dr. Newton

He was brave enough to take a stand for what he knew was right. Which reminds me of the story told of Henry Ward Beecher, when yet a small boy. A teacher in the school he attended asked a boy a question which he promptly answered. The teacher appeared displeased, and told the boy to sit down. He asked several other boys the same question, and got the same answer. Finally he asked Beecher, and Beecher gave the same answer, but refused to sit down when the teacher frowned at him. Seeing that Beecher was going to defend the answer, the teacher said, "Boys, you were all correct, but only Beecher was sure enough to stand his ground. I was simply trying to teach you the lesson that you must stand by what you know is right."

DARE TO STAND ALONE

DANIEL knew that he was taking an unpopular position, but he was willing to be alone so long as he knew he was right. He knew that the consequences would take care of themselves. That is the quality of character which America needs today in her youth.

It is easy enough to be popular, if you run with the gang; but remember this—the gang is always heading downhill. Daniel stood by his convictions when it was costly. In the final windup, he was the head man.

ENDURING INVESTMENTS

DANIEL, winning his point, made every hour count toward victory. He not only abstained from strong drink, but used his superior strength to serve the king in such way that his talents were sought out and brought into larger fields of opportunity.

Standing by his convictions, he had won over those who at first were disposed to poke fun at him. By superb performance, due to clear thinking and high purpose, Daniel made enduring investments that paid off in big dividends. He did not do right for reward, but because he did right, the reward was inevitable. And so it will be with every young man and woman who purposes in his or her heart to do right.

GOD'S FAVOR

I WANT you to look carefully at verse 17. "God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams."

It is impossible to account for Daniel's fortitude apart from his implicit trust in God. Remember the incident of Daniel opening his window toward Jersualem in prayer?

God never fails those who stake their all on Him. He will not—cannot let them fail. It was because of God's favor that Daniel and his companions proved themselves ten times better than the young men who defiled themselves.

"Who sides with God must always win."

Scoffers Stay On

Even those who scoff at the Bible prefer to live in a culture in which the dominating ideas of the Bible have been influential.

The Bible is a very dangerous book—dangerous to all systems based on greed and prejudice and oppression.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

On Wednesday last week the House of Representatives passed one of the most controversial bills to come before the Eightieth Congress—the Mundt-Nixon bill. This bill is designed to protect the United States against un-American and subversive activities.

Since this legislation has caused so much discussion perhaps it would be well if I told you what, if passed by the Senate and signed by the President, the bill would do.

1. Declare illegal actions by any person or organization to "establish in the United States a totalitarian dictatorship or control of which is to be under the domination or control of any foreign government."

2. Deny to members of "Communist political organizations" employment by the Federal government. Also, deny them passports.

3. Require all groups which it is "reasonable to conclude" are "Communist political organizations" to register their past and present officers and membership with the Attorney General. "Communist front organizations" would be required to register the officers but not the membership.

4. Provide criminal penalties of fines and imprisonment for violators of the act.

There are many in Washington who believe that the registration provision would swarm the Communists out in the open thereby making control that much easier. Many opponents of the bill claim that certain provisions are unconstitutional and that, in effect, it would tend to drive the Communists into the dark secret passages underground.

By passing the House of Representatives, I believe this bill has served a good purpose even though it is not likely to pass the Senate. Even if it passed the upper legislative body most observers in Washington don't think the President would sign it.

It appears most likely that legislation enabling the United States to become a member of the World Health Organization under the United Nations will be approved by the Congress. The original measure was held up in the Rules Committee for some weeks, because it was found the measure did not properly protect the interest of the United States. A new bill was then introduced carrying the corrective amendments to fix a top limit on the annual cost of membership in WHO to this country, and to otherwise protect our national welfare. The Congress is becoming more and more determined that in world affairs we must act in enlightened self-interest and in a practical common sense way.

Under The Dome

I appeared before the Civil Service Commission last week and asked that government employees under Civil Service be permitted to participate in local politics, hold office and actively support candidates of their choice. This is especially vital to the thousands of government employees who live in the counties surrounding Washington. There is no reason why these voters could not have a voice in the choice of officials to operate their local governments.

It's good to report that the House of Representatives, after a little persuasion, retained in the Army Public Works bill the appropriations for the additions to Camp Detrick at Frederick and for the first steps toward the establishment of a global army medical research and hospital center in Forest Glen, Silver Spring. Camp Detrick is one of the principal stations doing research and development work for the Chemical Corps and it is certainly fine for Western Maryland to have this installation.

It is understandable why the people of Frederick would like to have the illustrious Marine Band play for the ceremonies on the occasion of the first issue of the Francis Scott Key stamp, and the Navy Department reports that this band will be there if the President of the United States is able to attend which he hopes he can. Otherwise, the Marine Band will have to fulfill another engagement made previously for August 9. In that case, the Post Band of Quantico will be there and will play good music.

I have contacted the Quartermaster General asking for an explanation concerning the moving of bodies of former soldiers from one cemetery to another. Reports have come to this office that this was being done because certain cemeteries were not permanent.

On May 30, we will again set aside the day to think back to other years. Years when men were losing their lives defending the country they loved. These men did not want to die anymore than young men of today want to die in future wars.

I wish the people of the world—all of the people—would remember more and work as hard each day for a peaceful world as they worked each day in the pursuit of war. There must be an answer and all of us hope to live to see the day when that answer is brought forth.

We will pause for moments of silence this Sunday but I hope the great patriotic groups of this country will have moments of forthright talk on how best to preserve a system of peaceful living throughout the world.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and helpfulness during the illness and following the death of our wife and mother, the late Mrs. D. S. Custer.

We also want to express our thanks to all who gave flowers and donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

D. S. Custer and Family
—Adv. 1t.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends and neighbors and to all who helped us in any way following the tragic accident which took the life of our little daughter.

We also want to thank all who gave flowers and contributed the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

Mr. and Mrs. William George
—Adv. 1t.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely grateful to all our neighbors and friends for their kindness and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement, in the loss of our husband and father, the late Clarence Sweitzer.

We also want to thank all who gave flowers and donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

Wife and Children
—Adv. 1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Father, Peter Franklin Mellinger, who departed this life eighteen years ago, May 25, 1930.

Dear Father, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

Till memory fades, and life departs,
You'll live forever in our hearts,
Times takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

Sadly missed by his Children and Grandchildren.—Adv. 1t*

No. 4024 Equity, In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following described property, which was sold by the Collector of Taxes for the County of Garrett and the State of Maryland to the plaintiff in these proceedings: "50 acres of land, except the coal thereunder, assessed to Mrs. Jehu Paugh, in Election District No. 10, Garrett County, Maryland, being Military Lot No. 166 which was conveyed to Jehu Paugh by deed from Richard S. McCulloh and others, dated July 16, 1874 and recorded in Liber W. H. T. No. 1, folio 555, title to which became vested in Mrs. Jehu Paugh, (Clarissa M. Paugh) et al. by virtue of the will of Jehu Paugh, probated September 1, 1909 and recorded in Wills Liber B, folio 320, one of the Records of the Orphans Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The bill states among other things that the amounts necessary for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and one day from the date of sale has expired.

It is thereupon this 25th day of May, 1948, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ordered that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by 2nd day of August, 1948, and redeem the property and answer the Bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

OPPORTUNITIES IN COAL MINING INDUSTRY LISTED

One Hundred Attend Annual Dinner of Night Mining Classes —Forty-seven Awarded Certificates

The advancement being made in the coal industry and the opportunities always available for those interested in mining and mining engineering were emphasized in two addresses last Saturday evening at the 25th annual dinner of the vocational night mining classes held in the Kitzmiller High school.

Speakers were M. D. Cooper, of the national coal association, Washington, who mentioned several new developments in the industry; and Prof. A. C. Callen, professor in mining engineering, Lehigh university, who gave a picture of various developments and advancements which had been made since 1865.

Mr. Cooper spoke briefly of the new type locomotive being developed to burn a fine coal that would be used as a gas; of the gassifying of coal while still in the ground; and the development of stoves and furnaces which will burn coal smokelessly.

"Coal is the basis of a rapidly developing chemical industry," he pointed out, and declared this industry would "be the salvation of the coal industry if all else failed."

He told the one hundred or more persons present, most of whom had participated in the night mining classes in Allegany and Garrett county the past year, that there was tremendous opportunity for ambitious persons to study coal mining in the development of mining methods and research projects.

Prof. Callen praised the record of the night mining classes in Maryland, pointing out that 99 percent of the present mine officials had participated in these classes. He pictured those engaged in night mining classes as a valuable part of the forward movement which he outlined in his address. He emphasized the important place which the coal business held in industry of the future.

Awarded Certificates

Glen D. Brown, head of the vocational education for adults, state department of education, read the names of those entitled to certificates for having completed the course of instruction in the classes held in both counties by L. C. Hutson, vocational mining instructor.

Forty-seven were listed, with the Crellin class being the largest with 19. This class included Marshall Sanders, William Murphy, Fred Bolyard, Oscar Shaffer, Theodore Henline, Luther Alexander, Harold Hinebaugh, Chester Lewis, Clarence Friend, Allan Murphy, George Hinebaugh, Raymond Upole, Theodore Lewis, Harry Lee, John Boring, Leroy Murphy, Victor Kelly, Hubert Smith and Worley Baker.

Vindex class—George Pugh, James Cesnick, Fitzhugh Burrell, Charles Tranum, Roy Reel, Frank Damon, Seidel Turner, William Keifer.

Kitzmiller class—Carlton Mosser, Orval Tasker, C. O. Rohrbaugh, Robert Pyle, Kenneth Bray, Vernon Pyle.

Prizes Awarded

Three prizes, all flame safety lamps, were awarded to those having the highest percentages in class examinations, by Charles Miller, of the Mine Safety Appliances company, of Fairmont. Winners in the Old Timer class were Cassell Tasker, Kempton, with a percentage of 97⅔ percent; James Cessnick, Vindex, second, with 97⅓ percent. Kenneth Bray, Wolf Den, was winner of the beginner class with a percentage of 87⅔ percent.

The dinner was served by the Kitzmiller Parent-Teacher Association. Menus representing blueprints and carrying various mining terms for the dishes on the menu, were prepared by the Kempton group. The address of welcome was given by Walter W. Dawson, Oakland. In the absence of Dr. J. J. Rutlege, chief of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Mr. Hutson served as toastmaster.

Red Cross Just Short of Its Goal

Additional funds in the Red Cross membership drive received this week by Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, chairman, has brought the total to $2,095.58, or just $4.42 short of the quota of $2,100.

Mrs. Naylor said Mrs. Brock at Mt. Lake Park had solicited $24.91 more, making a total of $102.41 for the Park. The amount of $24.91 was from the Mt. Lake School. Mrs. Laura Welch's room turned in $7.03, with the balance of $17.88 coming from two rooms taught by Mason W. Callis and Mrs. Ruth Sebold.

Mrs. Austin Schildwachter, soliciting for Third and part of Liberty street, Oakland, turned in $84, making her total $119, and making Oakland's total $1,298.

Those contributing $5 and over include Craig Motor Company, $15; Dr. A. E. Mance, Ralph Pritts garage, A. D. Naylor and company, $10 each; Earl Zepp, Dr. H. R. Gibson, Dr. T. J. Cahill, Reaford Purbaugh, Sanders Motor Freight, $5.

State's Welfare Job Receives O. K.

The Commission on Governmental Efficiency and Economy has found the State Department of Public Welfare is operated "efficiently and economically in the best interests of Maryland citizens."

Completing a lengthy probe of the state agency, the commission noted in its report to Governor Lane that "Intensive study of the activities of the State department of Public Welfare, together with an examination of the department's relationship to an effect upon the administration and operation of the 23 local county welfare agencies, had disclosed little of a nature serious enough to justify criticism."

Another part of the report stated "The great weight of opinion throughout the state was found to regard the program as being rather conservative and that it should be so; and that its present scope was broad enough. The program was being uniformly administered in accordance with the Maryland laws which govern it, and the operations of the local agencies themselves reflected such uniformity to a high degree."

Representatives of the Commission visited Garrett county several weeks ago and made the usual investigation of conditions here.

Maryland Featured in New Color Motion Picture

Mr. C. A. Newland, Division Manager of the Esso Standard Oil Company, presents to Governor Lane a copy of the script "MARYLAND", a color travelogue film now being produced by Esso Standard.

The State of Maryland is to be featured in a new color travelogue film now in production. This announcement was made by C. A. Newland, division manager of the Esso Standard Oil company. Mr. Newland said that this film is the latest one of a series of similar films sponsored by his organization and depicting various states from Maine to Louisiana.

Last year these films were shown to audiences totaling more than 4,000,000 people. The completed film will be shown in schools, colleges, churches and at meetings of fraternal, civic and social organizations. It will include all important phases of Maryland industry and history as well as scenic attractions. In his office at Annapolis when Governor Lane reviewed the script he said, "The making of this film on Maryland will provide another informed ambassador for the Old Line State. This is in keeping with our program of information which is designed to spread the knowledge of Maryland first among our own people."

The film will be divided into six sequences: Maryland History, Maryland cities featuring Baltimore and Annapolis, the Countryside, the Tidewater, Sport and Recreation, and last but not least, Maryland cooking.

Release is planned for some time late this year.

To Include Local Scenes

The company is planning to send a photographer here in the near future to take various scenes of the county and its activities, some of which will be included in the Maryland film.

A committee is being selected to meet with H. S. Rich, district representative of the company, to arrange a schedule of places to be visited representing agricultural, recreational and industrial activities, and those having particular historical interest.

State Senator L. M. Fraley is calling together representatives from Rotary clubs, Lions club, Chamber of Commerce, newspapers, Women's clubs, County Commissioners, Legislators, and mayors of incorporated towns, for next Thursday evening, June 3.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 72. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 3, 1948 NUMBER 14.

A Look Forward . . . . . .

We are of the opinion that a junior college in this county would fill a very definite need. It would keep a number of our young people with us for a longer time and would make college courses available to many who otherwise would never have the opportunity.

The primary need of course, is a new high school, and with thorough planning the same building may suffice for both purposes. There is no doubt about the thoroughness of the planning now going on in regard to the school building program in this county. Such a program will take several years before it will be completed, but it is not too early to give some serious thought toward the possibility of a junior college. A number of good reasons for such an institution have been voiced by our new assistant superintendent of schools, who will assume the duties of superintendent in December. Further thoughts on this program are advanced by him in this week's issue.

The possibilities are far reaching.

Hardesty Enumerates Possible Courses for Junior College

In continuing the discussion on the possibility of a junior college for Garrett county, R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant supervisor of education has investigated the types of study that could be offered at such an institution. Mr. Hardesty has checked the curricula at both Hagerstown junior college and Montgomery junior college near Washington and found that they include courses in social sciences, mathematics, language, and some engineering. These courses would be applicable to the college here.

An enumeration of the subjects follows:

American Government, sociology, American and European history, radio, mathematics, French, psychology, surveying, physical education, English, Latin, German, biology, physics, Spanish, engineering drawing, economics, accounting, music, art, typing, shorthand, zoology, speech, and auto service management.

Thought toward a junior college in Garrett county has come from the "Report on Higher Education in Maryland" which suggests that Garrett is one of sixteen counties in the state that can justify one small junior college. The plan provides that the college can be housed in the new high school building; however, a separate group of teachers would be necessary and these instructors must be one of special training for junior college work, according to Mr. Hardesty.

Hours might be from 3:30 p. m. to 10:00, and the credits earned could be transferred to another collge, requiring only two years away from home for graduation.

Youths Fingerprinted

Fifteen or more youths of Oakland were fingerprinted this week—but it was not in connection with any crime wave.

Members of the Junior baseball team of the American Legion had to undergo this procedure as one of the several requirements of the district legion committee, in order to be eligible to be on the squad this year. In addition each member has to show a certified copy of his birth certificate and turn in a recent photograph.

All these steps are necessary to see that no youth playing in the league is above the age limit.

The opening game in the league will be played Friday at Kitzmiller, while the locals will play Lonaconing here on Monday. They lost Sunday to Thomas High school 7 to 4 in a non-league game.

Wayne Sowers, manager, said the team members would be taken to Pittsburgh on June 13 to see a big league double header.

Civic Club President Names Committees

Committees were named by the president of the Oakland Civic club at the luncheon meeting of the group on Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist Assembly room. Thirty-eight persons attended.

Miss Grace Jones, physical therapist, told those present about her work with crippled children of the county.

Mrs. Paul Naylor, president, named twelve committees. The committees and the chairman were listed as follows:

Penny art fund, Mrs. Fred Bell; publicity, Mrs. Bell also; scrap book, Mrs. Ralph Weber; youth conservation, Mrs. Howard Turner; historian, Mrs. Edward H. Sincell; music, Mrs. F. A. Thayer; American home, Mrs. Austin F. Schildwachter; education, Mrs. F. D. Bittle; literature and poetry, Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner; international relations, Mrs. E. Z. Tower; gardens, Mrs. Weber; public welfare, Mrs. W. R. Browning.

Some Highlights On Special Session

One of the local representatives to Maryland's legislature, State Senator L. M. Fraley, returned from Annapolis recently and brought with him several facts pertaining to bills passed during the special session which affect Garrett County.

Mr. Fraley reported that the county commissioners have been authorized to adopt by resolution a fire prevention code and provide for protective measures against such as the removal of fire hazards. The bill also authorizes incorporated municipalities to do the same by ordinances.

The armory bill was amended somewhat with a provision attached to it for accepting federal grant-in-aid funds. To date, $560,000 is set aside in the State's tills for the construction of four armories including one at Oakland.

Senator Fraley also talked with state game warden, Ernest Vaughn, and received information which eventually might concern the sportsmen of the county. An archery season for deer is being contemplated as well as stocking Deep Creek Lake with legal size bass. Another idea might change the opening of season from July 1 back to June 15.

Four Are Injured At Red House in Auto Mishap

Four persons were seriously injured near Red House Tuesday night following a near headon collision, Maryland State Police reported.

According to State Trooper R. D. Henline, a car driven by Joe Bacco, Fairmont, W. Va., failed to stop at the stop sign on Route 219 as it intersects Route 50. The Bacco car collided with another auto driven by Sgt. Lyle Webb, stationed at Selfridge Field, Michigan, the trooper said.

Most seriously hurt was Molly B. Webb, wife of the driver, who it was reported suffered a left leg fracture and lacerations. Another occupant of the Bacco car, Robert Spadaro, Granttown, W. Va., suffered body injuries and lacerations.

Reports said that Webb's car was thrown about 75 feet from the point of impact. The automobile, a Frazer, was completely demolished.

All four of the occupants were rushed to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., where their condition has remained "satisfactory."

County Track Meet is Definitely Postponed

Arrangements for the county track meet have been definitely postponed, F. E. Rathbun reported recently.

Official word regarding a controversy over school bus regulations was received last Saturday and gave permission for the drivers to transport the students from their regular runs to Accident for the meet. Officials, however, felt that the event would interfere with end-of-the-term activities, and therefore canceled any plans to continue.

Film Discussion Postponed

The committee which was selected to meet tonight with H. S. Rich regarding a color travelogue film of Maryland has been postponed until next Thursday, State Senator L. M. Fraley announced yesterday. The committee was to discuss the possible sites from which the film might be made.

May Rainfall 7.32 Inches

Rainfall during May registered 7.32 inches at the government station at Weber's, an unusual record for that month.

Rain fell on five consecutive days, with total rain on Saturday 1.18. The total for the past week was 2.94.

High temperature of the week was 77 degrees, with the low 40 degrees, both on the 2nd.

BOOSTERS' CLUB PLANS DINNER FOR ATHLETES

Oakland High Basketball Teams to Be Honor Guests on June 9

The second annual Booster's Club basketball banquet will be held at the Mt. Lake Hotel on Wednesday, June 9, at 6:30 p. m., it was announced by Emeric Dusic, president.

Approximately 150 people are expected at this event which honors the boys' and girls' high school basketball teams and the coaches. Athletic director, James M. Tatum, head football coach at the University of Maryland, will be the guest speaker and will be introduced by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner. Walter W. Dawson, president of the Board of Education, will be the master of ceremonies.

The first Booster Club basketball banquet was held last year at St. Paul's Methodist church with about 150 people present. Coach Cebe Ross, of West Virginia Wesleyan, was the speaker and was exceptionally well received. It is hoped by the Club to honor the high school basketball teams at a similar banquet each year.

Emeric Dusic stated, "I hope this year's basketball banquet will be as outstanding an event as last year's and I'm sure that it will because we are very fortunate to have another exceptional speaker in Coach Jim Tatum."

The following members of the boys' basketball team will be guests: William Lambert, captain, Mahlon Yost, Lester Root, Harland Kelly, Ralph Fauber, Milton Arnold, Homer Bennett, Hervey Smouse, William Hesen, Wayne Johnson, Richard Leighton, Jack Kight, and Coach Odar Watson.

The girls' basketball squad consists of the following: Janey Adams, Mona Lou Evans, Marie Fitzwater, Jane Friend, Helen Harned, Sue Liller, Betsy Phillips, Connie Smith, Pattie Smith, Betty Lou Sanders, Elizabeth Rice, and Shirley Stockman. Also Coaches Ruth Field, and Theota Miller, Manager Mary Virginia Gower, Cheerleaders Molly Smart and Barbara Pollock.

The ticket committee of the Club consists of James B. Bell, Jr., Robert Lohr, Emeric Dusic, D. C. Updyke, and William Rees and tickets may also be obtained from members of either the boys' or girls' basketball teams.

Delegates To Meet Presidential Hopefuls

Three leading Republican presidential candidates will turn their charms for Maryland's 20 unpledged convention delegates in the next few days.

The delegates will meet Governor Dewey of New York on Tuesday, June 8; former Governor Stassen of Minnesota June 10, and Senator Taft of Ohio, June 13.

Announcements went out Tuesday for the Dewey meeting which Rep. Beall is sponsoring in Baltimore. Delegates and alternates were invited.

George Doub, Baltimore lawyer and Stassen backer, is holding another dinner two days later.

On Sunday, the 13th, Taft will entertain delegates at a buffet supper at his Washington home.

Neil C. Fraley, Oakland, one of the Maryland delegates to the Republican National convention, said yesterday he had received an invitation by telegram on Tuesday for himself and wife, to attend the Taft supper, and that they planned to go. He said he also had received invitations to attend the other two and probably would go.

Escapes at Crossing

Irvin Custer, local farmer, on the Monte Vista road, narrowly escaped injury and possible death at the Second street B. and O. crossing last Friday morning about 6:45 o'clock.

Mr. Custer was heading north on Second street, and in looking for the watchman did not notice the approach of an eastbound coal train until it was almost upon him.

Turning sharply to the left and applying the brakes he was able to get the machine in such a position that the big mallet locomotive just bumped his right front fender, damaging the running board and the right headlight. Mr. Custer, who remained in the car while the train passed said he was sure that least 25 of the cars of the train also bumped his fender as they swayed.

Loch Lynn School Plans Social Friday

The Parent-Teacher association of the Loch Lynn school has planned a social for this Friday evening, June 4, at 8 o'clock.

Eighty prizes have been contributed by merchants and business men of Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn, and the H. Weber and Sons company. They are on display at the Youthland store in Oakland. A grand prize award will be an antique chair, at the conclusion of the games.

Proceeds will be used to purchase library books for the school, according to Mrs. Notley Browning, member of the committee planning the event. She said that funds raised locally would be matched by Board of Education funds, to apply on books for the school library.

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Blood Donors

The Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce is seeking persons who will voluntarily donate their blood if the emergency arises, W. O. Davis, secretary, announced yesterday. The organization is particularly interested in securing donors who are veterans and know their blood type; however, the program is open to all who are willing to give.

Mr. Davis said the Chamber is trying to compile a list of persons who will respond at any time if plasma or direct transfusion are needed. He is asking that those interested submit their name and blood type in care of the secretary of the C. of C.

To Plan Publicity for Deep Creek

At the first monthly meeting of the Board of Directors last Tuesday, it was decided to direct the organization's efforts toward publicity of Deep Creek Lake and surrounding area. The entire membership will meet on Tuesday, June 15, to plan the drive.

Newton Coplin, vice-president, was selected to have directional signs placed on Routes 219, 40, 50, and 7, giving the mileage and instructions for tourists to get to Deep Creek. The signs were donated by Ralph Pritts.

Courtesy Cards for Out-of-Towners

The Board adopted a sugggestion to be presented to the Town Council to give courtesy cards to visiting persons who exceed the parking time limit. Instead of giving a traffic court order, the plan involves placing a card on the windshield which will inform the visitor of the misdemeanor and give him a chance to redeem himself by presenting the card and a nickel to the nearest business establishment.

Another suggestion which will be relayed to the Town was a request for automobile owners to stop parking in the alleys of the town. This is considered a hindrance to the fire trucks in case of a blaze, Mr. Davis said.

To Sponsor Safety Campaign June 1 to 4

That the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Oakland would sponsor a Safety campaign from June 14 to 18, inclusive, was announced this week by officers. Certificates are to be given to ten children who submit the best slogans on safety during the week, it was stated.

The organization will have a meeting on Monday evening, June 7, at 7:45 p. m., at the country club, and all members are being urged to attend.

Rural Carrier Exam For Deer Park Listed

The United States Civil Service commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at Deer Park.

The examination is to be held at Oakland, and receipt of applications will close June 24. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily route of 30 miles is $2020 a year, with an additional $20 a mile for each mile or major fraction thereof. They are allowed an equipment maintenance of 7 cents a mile which amounts to $640.50 for the 30-mile route.

A.A.U.W. To Meet

Members of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, will go to Grantsville next Monday evening for a meeting at the Holmes-Wallace studio, for an evening of music appreciation. The meeting is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock DST.

To Register Youth In Learn to Swim Program

Registration for the county's Red Cross "Learn to Swim" program will begin on Friday, June 4th, officials announced. Since it will require 3 days, the registration will continue on Monday, the 7th, and Tuesday, the 8th. The places of registration will be the school houses in the communities listed on the registration schedule. Herbert Leighton, Jr., a Red Cross Water Safety Instructor, will be in charge of registration.

Times and places for registration are as follows:

Friday, June 4th

9:30 a. m., Oakland Elementary school; 10:30 a. m., Oakland High school; 1:00 p. m., Crellin school; 3:00 p. m., Friendsville school.

Monday, June 7th

9:00 a. m., Grantsville school; 11:30 a. m., Bittinger school; 2:00 p. m., Accident school.

Tuesday, June 8th

9:30 a. m., Kitzmiler school.

In addition to preparing rolls, the purpose for this registration will be to aid in the scheduling of lessons, Mr. Leighton said. Late registration will be permitted only on the day of the first lesson. It will not be possible to enter the course after the first lesson, he stressed.

Six weeks instruction is to be given beginning June 14 and ending July 24. The program is planned to reach as much of the county as possible through centers of instruction at four or more bodies of water. A lesson schedule will be published at a later time.

Memorial Day Passes Quietly in Oakland

Rev. Luther L. Hare Delivers Principal Address During The Ceremonies on Monday

Observance of Memorial Day as a solemn, holy day, and not as a celebration, with peace instead of militarism as its prime purpose, was stressed by Rev. Luther L. Hare, Lutheran pastor, who was the speaker at the Memorial Day service near the High school on Monday morning.

The speaking program followed a parade of local organizations and school children through the main streets of Oakland. Included in the program were the Knights of Pythias, National Guard, American Legion, Oakland Firemen, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Oakland Band, and all divisions of the Elementary, junior and high schools.

Upon reaching the cemetery the Pythians held a service in memory of their departed members and placed a marker upon each grave. During the Legion ceremonies Paul A. Turney served as commander and Joseph M. Gonder was chaplain.

Hundreds of people visited the local cemetery on Sunday and Monday and honored deceased members of their families.

Otherwise the day passed quietly in Oakland with most of the business places being closed the entire day. Schools were dismissed following the parade.

Accident Observes Its First Memorial Day

Accident officially observed Memorial Day for the first time with a parade and program, held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. It was under the auspices of the American Legion post there, headed by John Shumaker, post commander.

Rev. George H. Coker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist church, gave the main address on "Why Memorial Day?" The school children, Accident Band, and the Legion, participated in a parade previously, which concluded at the school house entrance, where a roll call of deceased war veterans, and a number of patriotic selections by members of the student body, were given.

Crellin Is Winner

Crellin defeated Swanton in an Upper Potomac Baseball league game on May 30, 4 to 2.

It was Crellin's fourth win against two losses in the league.

Nordeck Shaffer, Crellin pitcher, yielded only five hits and struck out seven batsmen. Sanders led the Crellin attack with a double and two singles. Lewis, Crellin shortstop, featured afield with a nice catch of a line drive from the bat of Sweitzer.

Enters Beauty Contest

MISS MOLLY SMART

The Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that the organization was sponsoring Miss Molly Smart as its entrant in the county-wide beauty contest, to be held the last of June as a forerunner to the "Miss Maryland" contest to be held in Cumberland on August 2.

Winner of the state contest will participate in the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City September 6 to 13.

Thus far Miss Smart is the only entrant. She is a daughter of Mrs. Angela Smart and will be graduated next week from Oakland High school. She was chosen a few weeks ago to represent the high school in a May Day ceremony at Potomac State school, Keyser. She is one of the outstanding members of the "Teen Age" club here, and has been active in girls' 4-H club work.

Service clubs and other organizations have received entry blanks and contest rules and some will no doubt enter contestants.

Dates Announced For Vacation Bible School

The Rev. Luther L. Hare and the Rev. Denver C. Pickens, pastors of the St. Mark's Lutheran church and the St. Paul's Methodist church respectively, announce the Union Daily Vacation Bible school which is to be conducted at St. Paul's Methodist church for two weeks from June 14th to June 25th.

Sessions will be held each morning, Monday through Friday, from 9 o'clock to 11:30 with Mrs. C. Melvia Kight as the general director of the school. A staff of capable and devoted teachers will lead the class study.

Classes and courses of study will be offered as follows:

Pre-school age—"Happy Times in Our Church;" Grade 1—"Children of the Bible;"—Grade 2—"Our Daily Bread;" Grade 3—"Child Life in Bible Times;" Grade 4—"Learning From Jesus;" Grade 5—"Followers of Jesus—Part I;" Grade 6— "Followers of Jesus—Part II;" Grade 7—"Our Living Book."

The school is for all children of Oakland or nearby, according to Dr. Pickens, who says, "The average child will receive more religious training in these two weeks than it will receive in six months of Sunday School." Parents of all church groups are urged to cooperate by sending or bringing their children. The school will close with a picnic on the last day.

Teachers for the various classes will be announced next week.

Praises Scenery and Residents of Area

Archbishop Keough over the week-end praised the scenery of Western Maryland to Baltimoreans, describing this location as "a great scenic wonderland."

The prelate returned recently to Baltimore from a tour of Allegany, Garrett and Washington county communities. He advised motorists to go to Western Maryland and "see the garden spot of the East."

He also termed the people of Western Maryland "among the finest people I've ever met."

Begins New Job

James Lewis, employe of the A. D. Naylor and company for a number of years, began work the first of June as assistant water superintendent for the town of Oakland. He takes the place of Earl Moats, who recently resigned and who is now working in the mine fields. Mr. Lewis will assist James Compton, water superintendent.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARRANGE FOR COMMENCEMENTS

Speakers for Graduation Exercises Next Week Are Listed

The five high schools in the county have completed arrangements for graduation ceremonies which will take place during the coming week. Not only are the regular sermons and commencement exercises included in the plans, but also a number of picnics, class night programs and other meetings.

Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the College of Education, University of Maryland; Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell, superintendent of education and vocational guidance of the State Department of Education; and W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney, will deliver the addresses at the respective schools.

Oakland High School

Tomorrow, the seniors of Oakland high will attend an all-day picnic to be held at the Bittinger Recreation Area. The graduates will have their sermon at 8 o'clock p. m. at St. Paul's Methodist church with the sermon being delivered by Dr. Denver C. Pickens, assisted by Rev. Luther L. Hare.

Graduation exercises will be held in the Mt. Lake Park auditorium on Thursday, June 10, at 8:15 p. m. Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell will be the commencement speaker.

Friendsville High School

Rev. W. E. Wade, Methodist pastor in Friendsville, will deliver the sermon to the graduates on Sunday in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

The class night exercises will be presented on Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. A one-act play, "Ma Nosey and Pa Gossip," is to be given by the graduates.

Commencement will be held on Thursday at 8:30 with W. Dwight Stover speaking on "Problems Facing the Garrett County Youth." Presentation of diplomas and awards will be made. Mrs. Emma McOlvin, Accident, will be the soloist.

The class day picnic day will be on Wednesday, June 9.

Grantsville High School

Activities for the seniors of Grantsville high school will consist of a sermon on Sunday, June 6, by Rev. G. K. Ely, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church, with Rev. D. J. Combs assisting, at 11 o'clock.

Graduation exercises are scheduled for Thursday at 8:15 with the address by Dr. Harold Benjamin. C. O. Bender, member of the board of education, will award the diplomas.

Accident High School

On Sunday, June 6, at 8 o'clock, the sermon to the graduating class of Accident high school will be delivered by Rev. William Fickenscher, a graduate of Accident high school and at present a theological student at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri.

The graduates will present the annual class night program on Tuesday night. It will be nautical in theme.

Dr. Harold Benjamin will deliver the address at the graduating exercises on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The class of 1948 will be the twenty-fifth class which has been graduated from Accident and in recognition of this anniversary, B. O. Aiken, principal has extended invitations to all graduates and former students to be present.

Kitzmiller High School

The sermon to the graduating class of Kitzmiller high school will be given on Sunday, June 6 at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church with the Rev. Harold Kohl preaching. The graduation exercises on Friday will also take place in the Methodist church with Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell delivering the address.

Auxiliary Reorganizes

Ladies interested in golf had a reorganization meeting last evening at the club house of the Oakland Country club, and formed the Oakland Ladies' Golf association. Only members of the Oakland Golf club will be eligible as members of the group.

Officers were the same as those elected by the auxiliary two weeks ago: Mrs. Emroy Bolden, president; Mrs. Guy W. Hinebaugh, vice-president; Mrs. W. E. Dawson, secretary; Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, treasurer. Mrs. Robert Seefeld was made chairman of golf activities.

The Dionne quintuplets were 14 years old on May 28.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gower announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Virginia, to Mr. James Bucklew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bucklew, of Morgantown, W. Va.

The wedding will take place sometime in June.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. William Roth entertained on Sunday, May 2, 1948 in honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. Roth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roth. On account of the recent illness of one of the honorees, the celebration was held at the home of Mrs. Theta Roth Maxey near Silver Lake.

A chicken dinner was served buffet style. The dining table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Virginia Maier. A basket of roses and snapdragons were placed in the honoree's room and were presented by Ervin Roth. Due to Mr. Roth's recent illness the celebration was of a quiet nature. The guests were the children of the Roth family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carr, Kempton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maier and daughters, Sandra Kay, Sharon Faye and Linda May, Tunnelton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Roth and son, Howard, Deer Park; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wolfe and children Donald, Loretta and Helen, State Line; Mr. and Mrs. William Roth and children; Mrs. Theta Roth Maxey and sons, Sam and Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Ridder and son Paul Forrest, were present.
